PAVING WORK EXPECTED TO BEGIN THIS WEEK, ACCORDING TO ANNOUNCEMENT OF HIGHWAY ENGINEER.

Paving work on the new airport road from Erlanger to the new airport near Hebron is expected to begin this week, according to an announcement made by Marion Ross, Fifth District highway engineer.

An official work order on paving of the new road was received from Frankfort, Thursday and the go-ahead signal had been received at Frankfort from the War Production Board.

Work has been delayed on the road by WPB, due to use of some critical materials on the job.

The new road will be constructed of concrete, with a 22-foot roadway for the most part except for a small trip of the highway at Commonwealth Avenue, in Erlanger, where the paving will be 30 feet in width.

With the paving of the new road and work on the airport proceeding rapidly, it is believed that a great deal of the construction will be completed before winter weather slows up the project.

Donaldson Making Tour Of Second And Fourth Congressional Districts

Scoring his opponent's position on taxation which "promises relief from taxation and then increases appropriations, J. Lyter Donaldson entered the third week of his campaign with a tour of the second and fourth congressional districts.

Donaldson has already visited many central Kentucky cities and is speaking this week in the first congressional district, the "Gibraltar of Democracy."

Beginning Monday, October 12, the Democratic nominee is scheduled to visit 20 cities in the second and fourth districts. His itinerary calls for 10 speeches, three of which are to be broadcast. Eight of the rallies are to be held in the fourth district, the remainder in the second district.

Democratic candidates for other offices on the state ticket are active and have been in every congressional district in the state.

Florence Youth Reported Killed In North Africa Area

Sgt. Albert Joseph Rosenstiel, Jr., of Florence, has been reported killed in action in the North African theater of war, according to an announcement by the War Department.

A. J. Rosenstiel, father of the youth, was notified of the casualty but has received no details.

Sgt. Rosenstiel is a graduate of Florence high school and prior to entering the service Sept. 11, 1942, was connected with the Southern railroad.

WAR FUND DRIVE OPENS OCTOBER 15

BOONE COUNTY QUOTA SET AT $3,023.11, ACCORDING TO FUND COMMITTEE—CITIZENS ASKED TO COOPERATE.

During the weeks just passed, the people of the United States have been exhorted to LEND a part of their money at interest for the purpose of paying for ships, planes, tanks, guns and munitions of war. These are the "big" things that are absolutely necessary for the successful prosecution of the war.

However, in addition to these absolutely necessary expenditures, the morale and comfort of our fighting forces, must be maintained by what may be termed the "little" things. In a way these are just as essential as the "big" things. Likewise, our prisoners of war and those of the occupied territories of some of the allied nations, need and must have some relief to prevent the sufferings of hunger, and some of them must have medicines, especially the very old and the little children.

Much has been said and more will be said over the radio in the next two weeks about this request to GIVE, so we shall not deal with the world-wide scope of the National War Fund Drive, but deal solely with our local Boone County situation.

Based upon the same method of allocation of quotas as has prevailed in the bond drives, Boone County's quota of this National fund is $3,023.11, and using the same basis, the quotas for the various precincts and the various precinct chairman are as follows:

Beaver, Mrs. Ruth Green, chairman $116.55.
Belleview, R. S. Hensley, chairman $119.16.
Burlington, J. K. Cropper, chairman $414.07.
Carlton, Reuben Kirtley, chairman, $108.32.
Constance, Mrs. George Kottmyer, chairman $168.90.
Florence, W. R. Davis, chairman, $681.23.
Hamilton, Wm. W. Allen, chairman. $100.60.
Petersburg, Mrs. Justin Dolph, chairman, $166.08.
Union, Mrs. Martha Huey, chairman, $245.29.
Verona, Fred Hamilton, chairman $149.16.
Walton, Clinton F. Cleek, chairman, $484.87.

Every person in Boone County should contribute something to this quota. Inability to buy war bonds, does not prevent anyone from contributing at least a dollar.

We cannot and must not fail to have $3,023.11 ready by October 30 —Why not make it $5,000.00?

When you are interviewed by a solicitor, be a co-solicitor. Everyone has a chance to help some, and we know that all will.

Boone County never failed in a single instance in World War No. 1 to meet every quota and has never failed in any quota in this war. WE MUST NOT FAIL IN THIS!

The Boone County War Fund Committee is composed of the following: John L. Vest, chairman; C. D. Benson, secretary; A. E. Stephens, publicity agent; Wm. W. Jarrell, publicity agent; and A. B. Renaker, treasurer.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR DAIRY ASS'N.

LOCAL MAN NAMED SECRETARY TREASURER—MEETING HELD AT WILLIAMSTOWN, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2.

The Northern Kentucky Dairy Herd Improvement Association held the annual meeting of members at Williamstown on last Saturday afternoon. October 2nd, according to Grant Maddox, secretary. Members from Boone, Kenton, Campbell, and Grant Counties were represented at the meeting.

Boone County members attending the meeting were Dr. R. C. Garrison, Burlington; Oryille Kelly, Rabbit Hash; Grant Maddox, Florence; Walter King, Verona; and O. D. Perkinson, Assistant County Agent.

Officers of the association, elected for the coming year are: Henry Heringer, Campbell County, President; E. J. Blackburn, Grant County, Vice President; Grant Maddox, Boone County, Secretary-Treasurer.

AGENT EXPLAINS FARM WAR UNITS

FARMERS FACED WITH LABOR SHORTAGE REQUEST INFORMATION ON WHAT COMPOSES A FARM UNIT.

Farmers faced with farm labor shortages and with prospects for further shortages due to increased military demands are making many requests for information on what is a farm war unit, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Below is a partial list of war units in food production. The figures are given in the equivalent of one unit.

A. Livestock on hand: 1 milk cow; 10 beef cattle (all cattle, including calves, other than milk cows and cattle in feed lot); 30 breeding ewes; 3 brood sows; 75 laying hens; 40 turkey or geese.

B. Estimated production of livestock for market: 29 cattle (in feed lot) per year; 160 lambs (in feed lot) per year; 30 feeder pigs per year; 250 chickens (not broilers) per year; 600 chickens (broilers) per year; 125 turkeys or geese per year.

C. Crops: ½ acre tobacco; 5 acres corn; 1 acre truck crops (garden) (same exception); 10 acres hay; 20 acres wheat.

COUNTY WAR BOND QUOTA IS EXCEEDED

ONE THOUSAND SIX HUNDRED EIGHTY-FOUR SUBSCRIBERS PURCHASE $933,235.95 IN WAR BOND CAMPAIGN.

Boone County goes "over the top" in the Third War Loan drive for a total of $933,235.95, oversubscribing its quota of $732,900.00 by more than $200,000.00.

Every precinct in the county oversubscribed its quota except two. The heavy oversubscription of the other precincts made possible this large total for the County.

Up until a week before the drive closed, last Saturday night, it looked as though Boone County would not raise its quota, but due to the loyal, patriotic and public spirited citizens of the County who said, "Boone County shall not fail," this large amount of money has been raised.

One thousand six hundred eighty-four subscriptions were made in this drive. This is not as large a number of subscribers as required from a population of 10,000 people in Boone County, which caused a few people to subscribe for large blocks of bonds in orders to put the drive over.

The above amount is more than double the money raised in the largest drive in World War I.

Precinct chairmen and their workers are to be complimented on the splendid job they performed, and the County Chairman desires to express his appreciation for the splendid cooperation and effort of everyone in this drive.

Directors Elected Monday By Farmers' Mutual Of Boone

At a meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of Boone County, held at the office, Burlington, Monday, six directors were elected to serve for a period of two years. They are as follows: Burlington, F. H. Rouse; Bullittsville, H. L. McGlasson; Carlton, Hugh Stephens; Florence, N. A. Zimmerman; Petersburg, B. H. Berkshire; Walton, O. W. Cleek.

Two claims were paid during the meeting, one to Geo. Colson loss on dwelling $800.00 and J. L. Rich, Jr., loss of dwelling $400.00.

Cpl. W. G. Kirkpatrick, of Ft. Bragg, N. C., has been honorably discharged from the army, and at present is making his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kirkpatrick.

CORN FODDER VALUABLE FEED

FARMERS SHOULD TAKE FULL ADVANTAGE OF CORN STOVER AT EARLY DATE, SAYS COUNTY AGENT.

Boone County farmers are faced with high priced hay and grain feed this winter. They should make every effort to take full advantage of all corn stover or fodder at an early date, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. With hay selling from $17 to $25 per ton and grain at prices much higher in proportion, all available feed should be saved.

Leaves from fodder are equal to timothy hay in feeding value. The husks and stalks while of less feeding value are far too valuable to waste. A shock of fodder usually weighs around 200 pounds and at the normal price of 25 cents per shock fodder would cost around $2.50 per ton. Comparing the feeding values in relation to hay prices, fodder is worth many times this price.

Below are a few important pointers farmers should follow in feeding corn fodder this year.

1. Rains leach out more than half the feeding value before the first of the year. This means that the earlier it is fed the better.

2. Shredding if possible is highly recommended. Don't shred until after the first freeze. Use the refuse stover for bedding. There is no finer bedding and again the corn borers are killed by this process.

3. It is low in protein and vitamin A. Feed some protein feed with the stoved, feed while winter pasture is still available and allow access to plenty salt and ground limestone.

4. If silage is made, add enough water as the cut stover is put in the silo so that a man can squeeze out a drop or two of water from a double handful of material.

5. Do not ensile stover that has appreciably weathered or molded.

REVERENCE FOR GOD

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:3-7; Matthew 4:10; 6:9; John 4:23, 24.

GOLDEN TEXT—God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.—John 4:24.

The first three commandments bring man into the presence of God, where he is taught how to worship God in spirit and in truth.

"The first commandment (Exod. 20:3) bids us worship God exclusively; the second (vv. 4-6) bids us worship Him spiritually. The first commandment forbids us to worship false gods; the second forbids us to worship the true God under false forms" (Farrar). The third commandment (v. 7) indicates that true worship will deal reverently with the name of God.

Israel had lived among the Egyptians, a people known for their worship of images, and were about to enter into Canaan where there were many false gods. The Lord was therefore careful not only to forbid the worship of other gods, but also to forbid the making of images of any kind, whether they represented the many gods of heathendom, or were attempts to symbolize the true God.

I. The Command to Worship (Exod. 20:3-7).

God first claims the entire devotion of man. If He is Jehovah, the Lord God, it is obvious that there can be no other god before Him. He is a personal God (v. 2) with whom it is possible for man to have fellowship. He must come first in our thought and our love.

The second commandment expressly forbids idolatry in any form. The injunction is twofold. (1) Men are forbidden to make any material likeness which to them represents a being to be worshiped. It matters not whether it be an image or what men believe God to be like, or the image of an angelic being, a heavenly body, in fact, "anything that is in the heaven above," or on the earth—such as a man or animal; or under the water—such as a fish. (2) If such objects have been made either by ourselves or others we may not bow down to them, nor render any service to them. Let us all examine our religious ceremonies and practices in the light of God's commandment.

Observe that obedience to this command brings rich blessing to "thousands" (v. 6), whereas disobedience is a curse not only to the man who disobeys, but also to his descendants.

The careless, vain or irreverent use of God's name is forbidden (v. 7). How common that practice is today, even among Christian people. If we do not actually use His name, we use some slang expression which stands for His name.

Now we turn to two passages from the Gospel of Matthew to see how Jesus practiced these commandments.

II. The Example of Christ (Matt. 4:10; 6:9).

To the temptation of Satan, offering rich reward for an act of worship to himself, Jesus gave prompt and effective reply by quoting Deuteronomy 6:13. Thus He gave His approval to the command that all our worship and service is to be given to God.

This spirit shows itself in the reverent devotion of the prayer (6:9) which Jesus taught His disciples. The name of God is to be hallowed—that is, to be regarded as holy. No one set a higher example of that than our Lord. Himself God, He was obedient to the Father, even unto death, always doing those things which pleased Him and honored His name (John 8:29; Phil. 2:8).

III. The Manner of True Worship (John 4:23, 24).

God is to be worshiped in spirit and in truth, not in dead formalism or by empty ritual. There must be reality in such devotion.

One would suppose that a truth so obvious and vital would long since have completely saturated the life of the church as well as of the individual believer. "God is a Spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Even today, countless men and women still believe that worship has something to do with place (vv. 20, 21) or race (v. 22) or some other external device or formula. What a pity, when the gracious and delightful way to worship is through personal spiritual communion between God and man.

Deadening formalism is not our only enemy. There is the powerless preachment of modernism—and in all honesty must we not admit that even some so-called fundamentalism has in many respects lost the true spirit of the faith for which it rightly contends.

We see then that the commandment of God regarding reverence is not just a law on a faded page in an ancient manuscript. It is a living, vital reality, operative today.

Wartime Lighting Suggestions

HOW TO GET MORE LIGHT FROM YOUR PRESENT EQUIPMENT

Keep Bulbs, Diffusing Bowls and Enclosing Globes Clean

You're paying for light you're not getting when dust and dirt accumulate on lighting equipment. Light meter tests show that simply by cleaning bulbs, diffusing bowls and enclosing globes you can increase light output as much as 30 to 50 per cent. Unscrew bulbs and wipe them off with a damp cloth. Remove diffusing bowls, enclosing globes and other lighting glassware and wash in warm, soapy water. Be sure to dry all lighting equipment thoroughly before using again.

OTHER WAYS TO CONSERVE LIGHT

1. Keep shade linings light. Clean or brush regularly. Repaint or refine dark-colored paper or parchment shades.
2. Sit close enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes.
3. Avoid direct glare from lamp bulbs by using shades deep enough and wide enough.
4. Arrange furniture so one lamp can serve two people. But be sure lamp is not too far away from either person.
5. Have eyes examined regularly by a competent eyesight specialist.
6. Turn off lamps not in use. Lamp bulbs use critical materials... Make them last longer.

Electricity ..is vital to war production. Use all you need but don't waste it just because it's cheap and isn't rationed.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of my dear husband, Bernard Jones, who passed away Oct. 3rd, 1939.

Gone is the face I loved so dear,
Silent is the voice I loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far, for thoughts to reach.
Sweet to remember him who once was here,
And who, though absent is just as dear.
Sadly missed by his loving wife
Lottie.

"OVER THE TOP"

The patriotic citizens of Boone County oversubscribed the County quota of $732,900.00 by more than $200,000.00 in the Third War Loan Drive.

We are proud to have had a part in this large undertaking, not by way of a subscription because we were not permitted to subscribe, but by way of handling subscriptions.

This bank handled 312 subscriptions for a total of $267,825.00.

Kiger Home Will Be Sold At Auction Oct. 9

A record crowd is anticipated at the auction sale of the Kiger summer home at Devon, Saturday, October 9, 10 a. m., due to the wide publicity given the event by press and radio the past week.

As is generally known, this was the scene of a double murder last August 17, when Carl C. Kiger, Covington Vice Mayor, and son Jerry, 6, were shot to death, and the wife and mother, Mrs. Jennie Kiger, 49, was wounded. The crime still remains a mystery. Miss Joan Kiger, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kiger, is at liberty under $25,000 bond pending investigation of murder charges against her by the Boone County grand ury in December.

Included in the sale is a 20-acre farm, on which the modern home stands, on the Dixie Highway (U. S. 25), about 12 miles from Covington. Seldom has a public sale offer such a great variety of interesting and useful articles, some of which are mentioned in an advertisement in this issue of The Recorder, in which there is also a picture of the residence.

The sale will be conducted by Rel C. Wayman, 623 Washington Street, Covington, with the well-known auctioneers participating—Lute Bradford, Mitchell Hiles and Earl Garton.

RADICAL REDUCTION MADE IN PRICE OF UTILITY FARM CARTS

To close out the few carts left, the price has been reduced from $14.95 to $9.95.

"KENTUCKY WILL PROFIT BY ITS ERROR OF 1919

by electing in 1943 a DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET to cooperate with and give aid to our PRESIDENT and Commander-in-chief, as he plots the course to assure the objective for which we now fight."

VOTE THE STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC TICKET • • TUESDAY, NOV. 2, 1943

- Only two states—Kentucky and New Jersey—will elect officials this year.
- The Nation, and all of its Allies, are vitally interested in the outcome in each state because the result will indicate trend of the public mind in supporting the war effort and in approaching proper solutions of the post-war problems.
- By voting the straight Democratic ticket in Kentucky November 2, you have an opportunity to say to the world that Kentuckians are backing the men in arms, supporting the war leadership and are concerned in the welfare of the fighting men and women to the extent that a constructive post-war program is adopted.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

A surprise birthday dinner was given for J. C. Acra at his home Sunday, September 19. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Engle and daughter Jane of Newton, O., Mr. and Mrs. Renick Hostetter and daughter Betty, of Norwood, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. George Hulette and daughter Orma Jean, of Camp Dennison, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Al Engle and son Tommy, of Rossmoyne, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. William S. Engle, of Norwood, Ohio. Many nice presents were received and the day was enjoyed by everyone.

Wartime sewing was stimulated in Carroll county when 200 women attended an exhibit of finished garments made by homemakers' club members.

In Union county, people wanting fruits and vegetables are advised of surpluses through the office of the home demonstration agent.

SAVE THE SOIL

What would our food production be now, if during the last few years, soil improvement practices had not been emphasized, says C. Liston Hempfling, chairman of the Boone County Soil Conservation Service.

Save the soil not only to grow another bumper crop, but that we may have a more abundant living after the war.

The biggest soil saving practice we can now take part in is sowing cover crops. If at all possible sow all cultivated land to a cover crop. There are several good small grains to sow, but it is beginning to get late and it might be best to sow Balbo rye and wheat as first choice, or common rye and barley as second choice.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Pond digging is in full sway at the present time, says J. C. Acree, Assistant Soil Conservationist for Boone County. Three different companies are now working in the County and a fourth is expected to start soon. The Soil Conservation Service will assist in selecting pond sites for farmers.

In selecting a pond or reservoir site, several things should be considered: First, ample drainage or feeding area; second type of soil; third location as to convenience; fourth, free from sewage or barnyard manure, etc.

In building the pond or reservoir, again we must be careful all washed-in top soil must be removed down to good clay and then must be made to take care of excess water. Then again, if the pond is to be used for fish the banks should be fairly steep so the water will not be shallow. By all means build a deep pond rather than a large shallow one.

If you are interested in having a pond or reservoir dug, get in touch with the Soil Conservation Service, County Agent's office or by contacting the contractor himself.

Storm windows and storms doors should be installed earlier than usual this year to prevent heat loss during those first cold days that come without warning.

FOOT TEST

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Usually the first sign of foot trouble is the running over of the heels of shoes.

In a strong healthy human foot the 26 bones are held together to form a substantial support for the weight of the body and they are held together in place by strong ligaments, tendons, and muscles. These bones are so arranged that they form four separate and natural arches.

The heel bone and ankle bone lean out of position more or less in almost every kind of foot trouble. The cause, is that ligaments, muscles and tendons which hold the heel bone and ankle bone in place, become weakened, and are not strong enough to hold these bones in their normal position.

Backaches, headaches and many body ills may be traced to feet. Even symptoms like those of rheumatism and arthritis now are being banished with proper shoes. Also nervous indigestion, sleepless nights, etc.—Adv.

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED--DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contans 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Dahlenburg's Drug Store, Erlanger.

AT THE Gayety Theatre

SATURDAY

Every Roy Rogers deluxe western picture has a large dash of comedy to leaven the excitement of the thrilling story. For the first time, however, this comedy role is being played by a feminine character, Arline Judge. In Republic's "Song of Texas," Miss Judge in the role of Sheila Ryan's girl friend and companion, carries the comedy.

Also appearing in "Song of Texas" are Barton MacLane, William Haade, Harry Shannon, and The Sons of the Pioneers.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

"From rags to riches" is the slogan "Rags" Ragland has adopted now that he's signed a new long-term contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The new term deal came on the heels of his success in "Du Barry Was a Lady," the Technicolor musical comedy coming to the Gayety.

"Rags" began his career as a burlesque comic and won fame for his role in Broadway's "Panama Hattie" when M-G-M signed him for the same part in the screen version of the stage success.

TUES., WED., and THURSDAY

"Action in the North Atlantic," Warner Bros.' story of the heroic deeds of the men of our Merchant Marine, is coming to the Gayety. Humphrey Bogart, Raymond Massey and Alan Hale are starred in the film. Julie Bishop, Dane Clark, Ruth Gordon and Sam Levene head the supporting cast.

If home radiators have adjustable directional grilles, slant them downward so the heat will pour out over the lower part of the room before it rises.

VERONA MAN IS COMMENDED

FOR OUTSTANDING CONDUCT IN SOUTH PACIFIC AREA—PERFORMED MANY AND VARIED DUTIES.

U. S. Army Headquarters in the South Pacific — Commendations were recently issued by Lt. General Millard F. Harmon, commanding U. S. Army Forces in the South Pacific area, citing officers and enlisted men for outstanding services. Among those receiving commendations was Sgt. Benjamin B. Kannady, Verona, Ky.

Many of the men commended were cited for bravery under enemy fire, or other heroic acts. Others were cited for excellent service in organization work and the task of maintaining a constant flow of supplies to the front line.

The commendation follows:

"Your performance of outstanding services has been noted by the Commanding General, United States Army Forces in the South Pacific Area, and the following commendation is extended in official recognition thereof:

"COMMENDATION: Sergeant Benjamin B. Kannady, 20507412, Infantry, United States Army, for outstanding conduct in the South Pacific Area during the period from March, 1942 to May, 1943. He successfully performed the many and varied duties assigned to him, was a key man in many of the projects undertaken by his organization, and contributed ably to various construction jobs. In addition, he designed several weapons ranges for his regiment, and in every bivouac took the lead in clearing and improving areas to provide the most healthful and comfortable conditions possible for his fellow-soldiers. When his regiment was engaged in combat operations his service in leading an ammunition and pioneer platoon over the hazardous jungle terrain was both courageous and invaluable."

Joseph L. Faulconer To Conduct Meeting At Bullittsville Church

Revival services will begin at Bullittsville Christian Church, Monday, Oct. 18, closing October 29. Services will begin each evening at 8:00 p. m.

The evangelist, Rev. Joseph L. Faulconer, of First Christian Church, Ashland, Ky., will bring the messages each evening. He is a former pastor of Louisville. He and his brother James have traveled extensively in Europe and the holy land.

Everyone invited to attend.

4-H CHAMPIONS ARE SELECTED

TO REPRESENT BOONE COUNTY AT DISTRICT ACHIEVEMENT MEETING TO BE HELD IN WILLIAMSTOWN, OCTOBER 16.

Seven 4-H county champions will represent Boone at the District Achievement meeting in Williamstown, Saturday, October 16th. A very attractive program has been arranged by the state 4-H club office for each of the 13 Kentucky districts in which achievement meetings will be held in October. Only county champions, county agents, and one 4-H leader will attend in Williamstown. Since Junior Week was cancelled this year, District champions will be selected at these achievement meetings.

County champions selected to represent Boone are David King, Verona, garden; Robert Rouse, Burlington, dairy; Thomas Daley, Burlington, dairy; H. R. Forkner, Jr., Burlington, sheep; Bernice Sebree, Florence, clothing; Barbara Lutes, Florence, foods; and Jewell Vice, Burlington, canning. The girls will have a team demonstration to enter the dairy food demonstration contest.

Dr. Herman Donovan, president of the University of Kentucky, will be the guest speaker. The general program will consist of roll call and county reports, inspiration talks, singing, recognition of all champions and a Victory dress revue. Each county project champion will receive a ribbon; while each District project champion will be given a $5.00 book of war stamps, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Youth's Body Found In River At Petersburg

A body taken from the Ohio River at Petersburg, Sunday apparently is that of Ernest Ross Higgs, 14 years old, Knoxville, Tenn., who has been missing from his home since August, 1942.

Identification was made from a pay stub found in a pocket. Records in Cincinnati show that officials of the Commercial Barge Lines reported the boy missing from their towboat, the Delmar Travie, October 5. He was missed as the boat went through Dam 37 on an up-river trip. While he was believed to have fallen into the river, no one saw him swim.

The youth's father arrived late Sunday and identified the body. The remains were shipped to Knoxville Monday for burial.

Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of arrangements.

FRANK WALTON FARM SOLD

Frank M. Walton sold his farm of 56 acres about 3½ miles from Florence, known as the Ira Tanner farm, to J. E. Chetwood, of Ludlow, last week. The sale was made by Frank Worthington through A. B Renaker.

METHODISTS PLAN DEDICATION OCT. 31

R. R. ROSE, FORMER PASTOR OF CHURCH WILL BRING DEDICATORY SERMON—BISHOP TO SPEAK IN AFTERNOON.

Florence Methodists are planning dedication services of the church building, Sunday, October 31st, according to an announcement made this week.

Rev. R. R. Rose, under whose leadership the building was erected, is to bring the dedicatory sermon at 11 o'clock. Bishop Darlington will be present in the afternoon, to dedicate the building, and to preach at 2 p. m.

Church School will be held at the usual time, 10::00 a. m. Basket lunch will be served in the basement at 12::30.

In accordance with the laws of the church, Bishop Darlington will be retired in the spring, so this may be his last official visit to the church, and probably will be the last opportunity for the public to hear him preach.

A special invitation is extended to the public to hear both the Bishop and Bro. Rose, and to enjoy the day at the church with its members.

Charles Hopperton

Funeral services for Charles C. Hopperton, of Walton, retired farmer were conducted from the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home on Tuesday, October 12 at 2 p. m. Burial was in Walton Cemetery.

Mr. Hopperton passed away late Saturday, following a long illness.

He is survived by two brothers, James, of Verona and George of Iowa; one sister, Mrs. Hattie Lambert, Chicago, Ill.; one daughter, Mrs. Callie Beach, Mt. Zion, Ky.; eight sons, Eddie Hopperton, Crittenden, Lonnie Hopperton, Walton, Joe Hopperton, Covington, Andrew Hopperton, Ludlow, Harvey Hopperton, Dry Ridge, Jesse Hopperton, and Hines Hopperton, both of Walton.

Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of arrangements.

Large Crowds Attend Florence Revival

Large crowds have been attending the revival meeting that is now in progress at the Florence Baptist Church. The spirit has been fine. The people have been stirred deeply under the preaching of evangelist Marion Beene of McAlester, Okla. The meeting will continue on through Sunday, Oct. 17th, closing with a big day Sunday and Sunday night. Mr. Beene's subjects for the remainder of the meeting are:

Thursday night, "The Present Battle Compared to the Battle of Armageddon."

Friday Night, "What Will Hitler Say When He Stands Alone With God—or Weighed in the Balances and Found Wanting."

Saturday night, "Five Ways to Commit a Sin that God Calls Unpardonable."

Sunday morning, "Five Reasons Why I Believe in The Eternity of Heaven."

Sunday night, "1000 Reasons Why Christ Should Come—1000 Reasons Why Christ Could Come."

WEED REFERENDUM SET FOR OCT. 23RD

GROWERS MAY VOTE ON ONE OF THREE QUESTIONS—20 PER-CENT INCREASE IN TOBACCO ALLOTMENTS APPROVED.

A burley tobacco referendum has been announced for Saturday, October 23, 1943, it was announced this week.

Tobacco growers may vote on one of three questions: (1) Are you in favor of Marketing Quotas for 3 years; (2) Are you opposed to Marketing Quotas for 3 years, but favor a quota for 1 year; (3) Are you opposed to quotas. A two-third majority of eligible votes cast is necessary to have quotas, as was the case in the last referendum.

An eligible voter is any owner, tenant or share cropper, who shares in the 1943 tobacco crop.

If Marketing Quotas are in effect supplies of tobacco should not be burdensome and production can be maintained in line with demands. Land and labor, which otherwise, would be used for excessive production of tobacco will be available for the production of war crops, also prices will be supported at 90 percent of parity, which is about 30c per pound.

A 20 percent increase in tobacco allotments for 1944, above the 1943 marketing quota allotments has already been approved for burley tobacco growers.

An instruction meeting of the referendum committee was held at the county office on Wednesday, October 13th.

All burley tobacco growers will be notified of the time and place for holding the referendum, and they are urged to vote on this important question.

Shower Given In Honor Of Dorothy Nell Furnish

Thursday afternoon a shower was held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Renaker, honoring Miss Dorothy Nell Furnish, bride-elect of Lt. T. O. Harrison, Chaplain in the Army of the United States. Approximately eighty persons were present.

Bouquets of autumn flowers were placed throughout the house, and a color scheme of pink and white was carried out on the refreshment table, where Mrs. Milburn Mills served punch and cookies to the guests. To symbolize the "shower," pink crepe paper umbrellas were used as decorations.

Others assisting Mrs. Renaker and her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Townsend, in the entertaining were Miss Elizabeth Lowry, Mrs. William Rudicill and Mrs. Charles Meyer.

The marriage of Miss Furnish and Lt. Harrison will be an event of the near future, after which they will make their home in Paterson, New Jersey, where Lt. Harrison is stationed with a Coast Artillery unit.

Bessie Oder

Funeral services for Mrs. Bessie Oder, 143 Kenton St., Elsmere, were held at the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger at 2 p. m. Tuesday, with Rev. C. B. Coots, pastor of Elsmere Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Florence Cemetery. She was 64.

Mrs. Oder died early Sunday at Booth Hospital after having been injured in an auto accident September 19th. Coroner James P. Riffe, who returned a verdict of accidental death, said Mrs. Oder suffered a broken hip, rib fractures and arm and leg injuries.

Her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Jennings, who was injured in the same accident, has recovered. Mrs. Oder was a member of the Elsmere Baptist Church.

She leaves her husband, Alonzo Oder; one son, William Earl Oder; six other daughters, Mrs. Charles White, Mrs. Miller Kleine, Mrs. Clem Stallo, Mrs. Clifford Highhouse, Mrs. Earl Tanner and Miss Lucy Oder; one sister, Mrs. Charles M. Kinley, and five grandchildren.

Philip Taliaferro, Erlanger funeral director was in charge of arrangements.

SCHOOL CLUB TO MEET

The Belleview School Club will meet at the school house Thursday night, October 14 at 8:30 p. m. After the business meeting a kitchen shower will be held for the purpose of starting a school lunchroom. All members and friends are invited to attend.

Harold Gaines, of California, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gaines.

Revival Services Will Be Held At Petersburg Methodist Church

Rev. Oliver B. Thomas

Special revival services will begin at the Petersburg Methodist Church Monday night, October 18th, and will continue through Sunday, Oct. 31st. Services will begin at 7:30 each evening.

The pastor, Rev. Oliver B. Thomas, who has recently come to the Burlington charge, will be the preacher for this series of services

Rev. Thomas extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend these services, and your interest and prayers will be deeply appreciated.

Services will be held at the church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., Rev. Thomas announced.

Immediately following the series of services at Petersburg revival services will begin November 7th at the Burlington Methodist Church and will continue for two weeks.

Walter Benson

Funeral services for Walter Benson, of Piner, were held at the Wilmington Baptist Church, Fiskburg, at 2:30 p. m. Friday, with Rev. A. K. Johnson, of Walton officiating. Burial was in New Bethel Cemetery, Verona.

He is survived by his widow Mrs. Nora Benson; one son, Willard Benson; two brothers, K. L. Benson and Less Benson; seven sisters, Mrs. Kate King, Mrs. Maxie Webster, Mrs. Butler Alexander, Mrs. J. L. Powers, Mrs. Emma Alexander, Mrs. Bert Massie and Mrs. L. F. Chapman, and two grandchildren.

The Hamilton funeral home, of Verona was in charge of arrangements.

Shredding Fodder Increases Feeding Values, Says Agent

Shredding of fodder (stover) increases the total feeding value, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Farmers who are likely to experience any hay shortage should seriously consider the use of shredded fodder for the young stock and cattle that are to be roughed through the winter.

While the shredding of fodder under normal times may be questionable as to a profitable practice it may pay well under present conditions, especially when the refuse may take the place of straw that has been selling at around $20.00 per ton. The use of shredded fodder also gives one of the most effective control for European corn borer.

A survey of the available corn shredders in the county was made the past week by Rev. Will Smith, farm labor assistant. The survey shows that there are at least five shredders in the county. They are owned by E. A. Martin of Idlewild, Harold Crigler of Hebron, C. G. Crisler farm of North Bend Bottoms, Orville Kelly of Rabbit Hash and Val B. Dolwick of Limaburg.

Mr. Martin is the only operator who on Monday of this week had said he would definitely do custom work. He states he has a good outfit and will charge 25c per shock for shredding. Other operators will also plan to do custom work.

Fodder should be shredded as early as possible after the first freeze. Fodder left in the field util January first has usually lost more than fifty percent of its feeding value.

The baling of fodder is another practice to save the feeding value of the corn crop. Where the fodder can be baled and put in the dry it will prove a profitable practice on many farms. The use of silo fillers in the place of corn shredders will also prove a valuable aid where the latter equipment is not available.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD OCTOBER 5

BY BOONE COUNTY HOMEMAKERS AT FLORENCE METHODIST CHURCH—MANY INTERESTING REPORTS GIVEN.

"Women on the Home Front" was the theme of the 8th annual meeting of the Boone County Homemakers, which was held at the Florence Methodist Church, Tuesday, October 6th. Mrs. Alan Gaines, Walton, president, called the meeting to order at 10:30 (C..W. T.)

The audience sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and gave the Salute to the Flag. A prayer for our service men and those on the front was given by Rev. Elmer Kidwell, minister of the Florence Methodist Church.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson set the theme for the program when she sang "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise." The importance of women serving on the home front was stressed by Mrs. Gaines in her greetings. She stated that Homemakers serving on the Home Front were just as an important factor towards our national goal of total victory as those serving in defense plants.

The reports of women serving on the Home Front was introduced by Mrs. Gaines who asked each county chairman to give her a password and then a report of work done in her respective project during the past year. County chairmen passing the "test" were allowed to sit in a special section reserved for the inner circle of leaders.

Mrs. Roscoe Garrison, Burlington reading chairman, stressed the importance of reading all types of literature as a means of self education. Mrs. John Boyer, Verona, in her citizenship report, stated that Boone County women have been very active on the Home Front during the past year, doing farm labor for a total of 8172 days, 342 days spent on the Red Cross and bond drive. Nine hundred pounds of grease were sold for salvage. Mrs. Vernon Pope, Burlington, chairman of the Blood Bank for Boone County, announced that over 200 pints of blood had been given by 125 Boone Countians since last spring. Seventy-eight pieces of shuckcraft were made during the year, according to Mrs. Albert Willis, handicraft chairman. Mrs. Willis also told about the meeting of the Bluegrass District Federation of Homemakers meeting held at Lexington. Twenty-four new names were added to the county membership the past year, according to Miss Johnna Mae Terrill, Petersburg, vice president and membership chairman. Mrs. John L. Vest, Walton, reported that Homemakers had taken advantage of lessons on clothing. One result was an estimated saving of $1,614 on sewing for the year. The theme of the Farm and Home Week program was told by Mrs. A. W. Rogers, Hebron.

Mrs. Garnett Tolin, Burlington, stated that homemakers are making excellent plans on paper for tree and flower plantings after the war. Women on the Home Front are not able to give their lawns as much care as previously.

Mrs. A. I. Pfalzgraf, Bullittsville, presented a clipping booklet of county publicity to Mrs. Gaines, 133 articles were written by homemakers during the year.

Homemakers are caring for their home equipment more than ever, according to Mrs. Earl Morehead, Taylorsport. Mrs. Morehead told about buying the parts and repairing her washing machine.

The Homemaker has a great responsibility in feeding her family nutritious meals during this period of rush and points," said Mrs. Joe Berkshire, Nutrition Chairman.

The 4-H report was given by Mrs. George Morith, Florence. She stated that there were 289 club girls in ten clubs enrolled in canning, foods and clothing. She presented Bernice Sebree of Florence, Corinne Walton, Burlington, and Nina Joyce and Norma Jean Easton, of Verona, who wore their costumes made in club work.

H. R. Forkner, County Agent, commended the Homemakers for their part in the program to increase the farm food supply. He reported that sixty families had grown table soybeans for the first time this year.

"Conservation for Victory" will be the subject studied by Homemakers 1943-44, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

A letter of greetings was read from Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, former Home Demonstration Agent.

The report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Vernon Pope. The following ticket was unanimously voted to serve for the following year: Mrs. Leo Flynn, Walton, president; Mrs. Courtney Kelly, Burlington, vice president; and Mrs. Albert Willis, Bullittsville, secretary and treasurer.

A plate lunch was served by the women of the Florence Methodist Church.

The afternoon program was opened with a concert presented by the Boone County School Band, under the direction of Dean Bloss. All were thrilled by the band. Mrs. Walter Scott Worthington played two selections on the violin.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women, University of Kentucky, was persented by Mrs. Gaines. Mrs. Holmes discussed the problems of women serving on the Home Front. She urged women to be mindful of their many fold duties in the home and community during the war period. Women will have a great responsibility in the period immediately following the war.

Mrs. Alan Gaines, president for the last two years, thanked the homemakers for their cooperation.

BOONE CHAIRMAN NAMED BY VINCENT

TO AID IN CAMPAIGN OF J. LYTER DONALDSON AND ENTIRE DEMOCRATIC TICKET—URGES CITIZENS TO VOTE.

Louisville, Ky. — Raymond L. Vincent, chairman of transportation of the State Democratic committee, announced today the appointment of a district chairman in each of Kentucky's nine congressional districts. A county chairman and three or more members were also named by the state chairman in each of the state's 120 counties.

R. L. Vincent, Williamstown was appointed chairman of the fifth congressional district.

The Boone County transportation committee is headed by C. D. Gaines, of Burlington, R. 1, chairman; and Robert Eades, Florence, Ben Zimmer, Jr., Florence, and Robert Brugh, Walton, committee members.

State Chairman Vincent, in a letter to all members of transportation committees throughout the state, pointed out the importance of the transportation committee in the oncoming election and announced that the county committees would assist those persons who expected to haul voters to the polls on election day to arrange for special gasoline. The OPA has ruled that gasoline will be available for such purposes.

"It is necessary in a democracy," Mr. Vincent said, "that people participate in elections by casting their ballots. Because of the rationing program and other wartime restrictions that have a normal tendency to keep people away from the polls, the Democratic committee in Kentucky is exerting every effort to assist the people by providing convenient transportation.

John W. Taliaferro

John William Taliaferro, of Erlanger, retired real estate broker and father of Philip Taliaferro, Erlanger funeral director, passed away at his home Tuesday of last week at the age of 83.

Besides his son he is survived by two daughters, Miss Ella Taliaferro and Mrs. Edwin O. Victor, both of Erlanger.

Funeral services were conducted at the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger, at 10:30 a. m. Friday.

79 ATTEND VICTORY BANQUET FRIDAY

BOONE COUNTY CITIZENS AND CAMPAIGN WORKERS PRAISED BY CHAIRMAN AND CO-CHAIRMAN.

Seventy-nine persons sat down to a dinner at Doc's Place near Florence, on the Dixie Highway last Friday evening at seven o'clock, in celebration of the large oversubscription of over $200,000.00 on Boone County's quota of $732,900.00 in the Third War Loan Drive. This dinner was for the precinct chairmen and members of the Five Thousand Club. When this dinner was being planned it was found that there were no available funds to pay for it, as the Government does not pay any expenses of these drives in Boone County. The officers of the Carrollton Tobacco Warehouse Company, which company is 50 percent owned by George Baker, John L. Vest and Walter Vest, learning of this fact, volunteered to sponsor the dinner. which was much appreciated by everyone and they were given a rising vote of thanks for their kindness. The other half owners of this warehouse Company are Ralph Barker of Carrollton and Robert Green, of Owenton.

County Chairman, A. B. Renaker and Co-Chairman A. D. Yelton, praised those present and Boone County people in general for their liberal subscriptions and hard work in making the Third War Loan Drive such a success.

E. A. Vosmer, President of the first National Bank, Covington, Ky., and Chairman of this district in the drive was present and complimented the workers for what they had accomplished in putting Boone County "over the top."

Albert Reik, Assistant Vice President, of the Fifth-Third Union Trust Company of Cincinnati was also present and made a talk.

John L. Vest, Chairman of the National War Fund for Boone County was present and an opportunity was given him to launch his campaign to raise $3023.11 in the County as Boone County's quota. Mr. Vest explained in detail what was expected of every precinct between now and October 30th. His precinct chairman were present and they were urged by Mr. Vest to get their precinct organizations in working order and begin their solicitation promptly on the 15th of this month.

Mr. Vosmer and Mr. Reik volunteered to be the first to write a check on Boone County's quota and handed the treasurer their check for $23.11, leaving even $3000 for Boone County people to raise. The kindness and interest in Boone County affairs by these two gentlemen is appreciated.

Walter D. Vest, who had been in camp for ten months told how these various War Services benefitted the soldiers in camp.

DAIRY FEED MEETING SET

SCHOOL WILL BE HELD AT FLORENCE TOWN HALL, FRIDAY OCTOBER 15—SPECIALIST WILL SPEAK.

A dairy feeding school and meeting to discuss the 1943-44 winter feeding problems will be held at the Town Hall in Florence on this Friday, October 15th at 1:00 p. m. according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Lynn Copeland, dairy specialist from the College of Agriculture will be the principal speaker on the program.

Dairymen this winter are faced with the most serious feed problem on record. The problem involves not only the finding of protein supplements but one to make more efficient use of the feeds produced on the farm.

Local dairymen will lead the discussions on the first half of the program. Local speakers on the program are Grant Maddox of Florence; Jesse Wilson, Verona; W. G. Kite, Waterloo; Robert Youell, of Hebron; and T. P. Dunlap, of Walton. Lynn Copeland will lead the discussions on the last half of the program with a discussion on the subject "New Methods in Meeting the 1943 Feed Problem." This will be Mr. Copeland's first meeting in the county and his discussion on the important feed problem is looked forward to with interest by local dairymen. Everyone interested in dairy work is invited to attend the meeting.

MUCH BETTER

It's much better, we think, to maintain our own private display room, wherein those we serve may make their selections in complete privacy, and at any time that meets the family's convenience. The alternative, of course, is a manufacturer's public display room.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS AND THE SABBATH

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:8-11; Isaiah 58:13, 14; Mark 2:23-3:6.

GOLDEN TEXT—And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath.—Mark 2:27.

The sabbath was essentially a day of rest and worship; hence the principles which surrounded it and directed its life may be applied to our day of rest, which is the first day of the week—the Lord's day.

That word "rest" sounds a little strange in this busy world of ours, and yet it is an important one. It means quiet for the struggling one, calm for the troubled, repose for the weary, tranquility for the disturbed, cessation of labor for the worn-out one.

God in His infinite wisdom saw that without rest man would soon destroy himself, and He made provision for one day in seven when labor should cease and man should be free for that recreation of soul and body which should fit him for the labor of the week.

Our lesson answers two important questions about our rest day, namely, Why? and How?

I. Why We Keep a Day of Rest (Exod. 20:8-11; Isa. 58:13, 14).

The chief reason is that God commands it. One day out of seven is for our re-creation by rest and worship. That should be sufficient to cause His people to "remember" the day "to keep it holy."

Doubtless it is true that essential war work and related activities must be carried on, even on Sunday. God did not forbid works of necessity. But even though there is this need, who will deny that many use Sunday for work that is not essential—and countless others devote it to godless pleasure.

Notice that the day of rest was to be not only for the family, but also for servants and for visitors. The employer who unnecessarily operates his factory or office on Sunday violates this commandment. Note also that the man who is to rest on the seventh day is supposed to work on the six days.

The precept of Exodus 20 is enforced by the promise of Isaiah 58. The man who delights in keeping God's commandment regarding the day of rest, will find that God delights in and honors him. Both men and nations have found this to be true.

II. How We Keep a Day of Rest (Mark 2:23-3:6).

The formalists of Christ's day, the Pharisees, had overlooked the heart of God's law and the holy living which it was intended to produce, and had bound up even the observance of the sabbath (which was intended to be a day of rest and gladness) in such a mass of technical "thou shalt nots" that it was a day of fear. They had a false outward profession of worship and had entirely missed the true spirituality of God's law, a fact which drew upon their heads the anger and rebuke of our Lord.

The two incidents in this portion of our lesson reveal that under the cloak of earnestly observing the law of the sabbath, the Pharisees were actually covering their own hypocrisy and their hatred for Christ.

The accusations against the disciples because they had taken and eaten grain was not on the ground that they had stolen, for the law (Deut. 23:25) guaranteed that right to the one who passed through his neighbor's field. The Pharisees contended, however, that the disciples had worked on the sabbath in picking and hulling the grain.

The healing of the man with the withered arm revealed that back of their professed concern for the sabbath was a real hatred for Christ. It is an appalling thing that in the house of worship on the very sabbath day, these men, outwardly so religious, were plotting against our Lord.

"They watched him," and even so the enemies of the Cross watch us who are His followers. They are not concerned that the man with the withered arm, or with the withered soul may be helped, but only that they may find something to condemn.

Jesus cuts across human hypocrisy and hatred to declare that the true keeping of the sabbath is to do the work of God. No work of necessity (like plucking the grain) or of mercy (like healing the withered arm) is ever out of place on the day of rest.

A word of caution is needed, for some have sought to interpret this Scripture as providing biblical ground for doing all sorts of things on their day of rest. That day is for man's good, not for his destruction. His greatest good is served by rest, worship, spiritual development, Christian fellowship, and the doing of deeds of necessity and mercy.

The desecration of the Lord's Day in our time is a serious matter. Let us not contribute to its deterioration. America needs Sunday as a day of rest and worship.

PROHIBITION DOES PROHIBIT

W. Fred Kendall, Elizabethtown, Ky.

Since Hardin County voted legal liquor out and due to the widespread interest in that election, there have been numerous inquiries as to the effectiveness of this local option law in this strategic military area. It is now the happy privilege of the writer to pass on to the public this brief survey after the passing of almost six months since the closing of the liquor stores.

Drunkenness Almost Gone

Public drunkenness has all but disappeared. One used to see as many as six or eight drunks at one time. They had to be taken from yards and front porches all over town. Many Saturday nights and nights before holidays there were as many as fifty or sixty drunk soldiers in town. Since last November 23rd this writer has seen two drunks in public and he has not seen a single drunk soldier on the streets of Elizabethtown.

Drinking in public has also disappeared. It was not unusual a year ago to see men stand on the sidewalk anywhere in town and take out a bottle and drink from it as they would drink water. This writer has seen four or five take a bottle and pass it all around. The back yard of the Baptist church was a favorite place for drinking, and as many as sixteen empty bottles have been picked up there on one Sunday morning. In almost six months there have been five bottles found there. The janitor at the courthouse showed this writer enough empty bottles to fill a large truck taken from the public rest rooms in the courthouse in just a few days' time Since last November 23rd there has been about a wheelbarrow full taken from the same rooms.

Drinking in cafes and hotel dining rooms was as common as drinking coffee. This is now entirely gone. Bottles formerly covered the shoulders on two highways leading through the county. Now few bottles are seen there. A year ago there were wild drinking parties in the roadhouses, in hotels, in private homes, and in other public gathering places. Hotel proprietors have stated that the improvement of conditions here is almost beyond belief—few empty bottles are found in rooms and disturbances from drinking are entirely gone.

Crime Greatly Decreased

What about the criminal conditions? These, too, have shown such a radical decrease that it is hard to believe. Arrests for all causes arising from drinking have been so reduced as to be almost eliminated. Criminal fines were reduced from October through February from $6,000 in 1941-42 to $2,000 for 1942-43. This is a two-third reduction in spite of the fact that during October whiskey was sold. City court records show a tremendous decrease in fines and arrests. The jail population is only a fraction of that last year. During August last year there were fifty-nine placed in jail one day.

Several of the largest roadhouses have closed. One former liquor store is now a headquarters for Military Police. Three others are now comfortable residences for families of soldiers. Two roadhouses have burned down. All roadhouses now in operation are small and reach very few people.

The law has been wonderfully enforced by a splendid group of enforcement officers and highway patrolmen. There has been some bootlegging but only a fraction of what was anticipated. Two automobiles were confiscated and sold due to bootlegging. One roadhouse had its license taken away and was closed for bootlegging. Bootleggers have all been convicted and practically everyone was given the maximum sentence of $100.00 fine and thirty days in jail. Bootlegging at the present time seems to have been practically eliminated. Wets still claim there is plenty of liquor sold here but who drinks it and where? There is absolutely no evidence of this fact.

Mayor Frank Joplin just gave me this information: In the city courts of Elizabethtown last April the fines amounted to more than $1,200 but this year they were only $65.00 and the last two weeks in April there were no arrests in the city of Elizabethtown. Last August there were 59 arrested one day.

Another very important matter is the fact that the Military Police office which had to be maintained here is now found no longer necessary and they are moving it away. No soldiers are now getting drunk here and therefore they need no military police here to arrest them when they get unruly.

Wet Propaganda Branded

Here are some other startling things. Wet advertising makes an interesting study after six months. Notice some of their claims during the election. They claimed that taxes would be greatly increased if Hardin County voted out the legal sale of liquor. Special letters were sent to the citizens of Elizabethtown warning them that their assessments would be higher and that taxes would be terrific in the city. But what happened? According to the Elizabethtown News, Elizabethtown is one of the few cities in the United States where taxes have actually been reduced for 1943. This is a fact and assessments are lower rather than higher. They also stated in their advertising that business would almost collapse. They said people would trade elsewhere, people would move away, soldiers would not come to Elizabethtown. More money is now on deposit in the banks in Hardin county than at any other time in its history. In a recent publication in the listing of 15,000 banks in the United States, the First-Hardin National Bank of Elizabethtown ranked 1376th.

By an actual survey the U. S. O. and other agencies found that more soldiers are now coming to Elizabethtown and more live here than at any time since the war began. These men are the finest in the army. The low, drunken type now go elsewhere and their loss is mighty gain for the moral life of the community.

We were told that many who worked at Fort Knox would probably lose their jobs if the county went dry, work there would have to stop if taxes were lost. This was too absurd to consider but let it be said that many who formerly stayed too drunk to work now have jobs. No one has lost his job and there is no evidence that any work has had to shut down due to the loss of taxes.

What Army Men Say

This writer has interviewed officers and chaplains who have come from other areas and they all have agreed unanimously that conditions here are really wonderful compared with other areas where liquor flows freely—the O. W. I. report notwithstanding. An army officer stationed here in 1940, but later transferred to another post, recently returned to Elizabethtown to live. He told this writer he could hardly believe this was the same town.

Yes, prohibition does prohibit. It has brought untold blessings to our country. Liquor is gone from sight in the drug store windows, and the neon signs have gone. It would be impossible to tell of the far-reaching results that have been obtained already. God has already rewarded us richly in every way. It will bring untold blessing to any county that will vote liquor out and enforce the laws when it is gone. If this report has sounded too optimistic we would invite anyone to interview the sheriff, the hotel proprietors, the jailor, or any other reliable citizen of this county. Our dry organization is still intact and will keep functioning educating the youth of our schools, aiding in enforcing the law, seeing that dry and honest officers are elected to fill our county offices.—Reprint from Western Recorder. —Adv.

Bargains
cost more TOMORROW !

A Bargain is a temporary advantage in price, which you pay for TWICE ... now and later.

Quality is a long-term advantage in service, which you pay for ONCE ... at the moment of purchase.

The important thing about Quality is, not only that it ensures longer wear, but that it is the only thing that can give permanence to Style.

★ Good-looking clothes are a trinity of good fabrics, good workmanship and good fashion, and the extra satisfaction you get out of them more than pays for the little extra you put into them.

At the same time, low prices are plentiful in this store but ... we simply want to point out that they are never so low as to endanger the quality, the character, and the conscience we put into the merchandise we sell.

We believe that Quality is the Truest Service.

And we also believe in saving you money, but we do not believe in sacrificing Quality, which might get us more business today but would certainly cost us more business tomorrow.

Wartime Lighting Suggestions
HOW TO GET MORE LIGHT FROM YOUR PRESENT EQUIPMENT

Place Lamps to Utilize Light Output Most Efficiently

The amount of useful light you get from a lamp decreases rapidly as the lamp is moved away from the area to be lighted. Conversely, the useful light increases greatly as the light source is moved toward the working area. In the above example, merely by moving the end table lamp eight inches from the far to the near side of the table, the amount of useful light for reading or sewing was more than doubled. Remember this important point and always place chairs close to lamps. You'll not only get more light for your money, but you'll prevent needless eyestrain.

OTHER WAYS TO CONSERVE LIGHT

1. Remove and clean lamp bulbs and lamp bowls regularly. Dry thoroughly before using again.
2. Keep shade linings light. Clean or brush regularly. Repaint or reline dark-colored paper or parchment shades.
3. Sit close enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes.
4. Avoid direct glare from lamp bulbs by using shades deep enough and wide enough.
5. Arrange furniture so one lamp can serve two people. But be sure lamp is not too far away from either person.
6. Turn off lamps not in use. Lamp bulbs use critical materials... Make them last longer.

Electricity ...is vital to war production. Use all you need but don't waste it just because it's cheap and isn't rationed.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Pvt. J. D. Riddle, stationed somewhere in Alaska, writes the following letter:

"I am ashamed to admit it, but it has taken me seven months to write you and thank you for The Recorder. No one knows any better than us boys overseas how much news there really is in The Recorder. We read it from cover to cover and hardly miss a word. There are two fellows in my hut from California and they look forward to reading The Recorder almost as much as myself, and they never heard of Boone County, Ky.

"We never know when we are going to receive mail up here, and when we get it we really appreciate it. I received two Recorders and twelve letters last night.

"I have been transferred from the Infantry to the Coast Artillery. I am working as an electrician ten hours a day, seven days a week. I like it a lot better than the hikes every day in the infantry.

"We have three shows every week in our mess hall. That has to take the place of going to town to shows, as there are no towns near where I am located. There are no women with exception of a few nurses in the hospital.

"I am getting better food than I had in the States, except milk. All of our milk is powdered. It's O. K. on cereal, but it's not so good to drink. We also have powdered eggs for breakfast once in a while.

"We have good huts and beds and plenty of warm and water repellent clothes. I think Uncle Sam is taking pretty good care of us. I know some of the boys are having it pretty tough, but we hope and pray it will all be over soon.

"Once again Pete, thanks a million for The Recorder, and keep them coming."

THE SOLDIER'S PRAYER

Each morning and each night
A soldier breathes a prayer;
Dear Lord, my home and family
I place them in Your care;
They are my earthly treasure,
Something that is dear,
I hope to be back with them
Before another year
Protect my precious mother,
And bless my dear old dad,
They are the dearest parents
A soldier ever had.
May they never have our sorrow
Our headaches and our pain;
Least and last, Dear Lord,
Let not this conflict be fought in vain.

LEARN THE REAL CAUSE

Many persons have discomfort due to minor eye defects — headaches, dizziness, pains above eyes, lassitude, etc.—but never suspect the REAL cause of their trouble.

Only a scientific eye examination will reveal the cause. We offer expert optical service and have adequate facilities for fitting and grinding eye glasses to meet your requirements.

PETERSBURG 4-H CLUB

Our regular meeting was held at the Petersburg schoolhouse at 2:00 Monday afternoon. We opened our meeting by standing and repeating the club pledge, followed by singing "America." The secretary called the roll and 13 girls and 7 boys answered present. The minutes of last meeting were read, which was held April 20.

We were glad to see Miss Gillaspie and we know she is glad to be back with us. Blanks were filled out to show what we have done this year, after which we decided about our program for next month. We hope to have some adult leaders present next meeting.

A motion was made and seconded that we adjourn, which followed by giving some club yells.

HISTORY—Mrs. G. E. M. suffered headaches and neckaches. Her neck ached so intensely at the base of the skull she could hardly see. Days at a time she could not get out of bed because of the severity of the pains. She read one of our ads., telling of the good work we were doing, and decided to see what we could do for her. After a very short time wearing surgical shoes, pain in the head and neck lessened till finally it disappeared entirely and she is well and happy. It is now possible for her to do her own work even when it is necessary for her to climb stepladders. Surgical shoes seemingly worked miracles for her.

COMMENT — Strain on ligaments and tendons naturally has a weakening effect upon muscles. Continued neglect of these conditions may be the cause of your aches and pains in the neck and back and you have been unable to get relief, come in and let us see what we can do for you.

If your ankles are weak and you are constantly rolling them, surgical shoes are definitely the answer to your problem.—Adv.

More Conservation Measures Put To Use

More conservation measures have been put on the land by the farmers of Boone County so far this year than during any previous period. The Boone County Soil Conservation District, cooperating with the War Board and other agricultural agencies, stressed conservation measures as a way of increasing crop production in our war effort and according to Boone County farmers it has paid good dividends.

An analysis of this year's program made by D. W. Orcutt, District Conservationist for 12 counties in northern Kentucky, show that Boone County farms have at least 500 acres of row crops laid out and planted on the level or contour; 155 acres of bottom land along Ohio River was improved by drainage; 12 acres have been terraced and 75 more acres protected by diversion terraces. Nearly 1200 acres of pasture land were improved either by reseeding, treatment of lime and phosphate, cutting bushes, mowing or rotational grazing; 998 acres were seeded to alfalfa, grass or pasture mixtures; over 100 ponds have been built; and assistance was given many Boone county farmers in selecting fields for war and cultivated crops.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

The inhuman efficiency of the Gestapo is realistically shown in 20th Century-Fox's thrilling new picture "Bomber's Moon," which co-stars George Montgomery and Annabella.

In the film, Montgomery plays the part of a Yank flyer, downed and taken prisoner by the Nazis. Annabella is seen as a young girl Russian Medical lieutenant, also a prisoner.

How the Gestapo manages to gain the unsuspecting girl's confidence and their brutal attempts to force her to reveal the identity of her friends in the underground movement are striking highlights of the action-filled story.

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

The most valuable piece of property on the set of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Youngest Profession" was an autograph album carried by Virginia Weidler.

In her role of a teen-age movie fan and autograph collector, Virginia hunts down celebrities to obtain their "precious" signatures.

When the young star learned that such stellar film personalities as Lana Turner, William Powell, Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon and Robert Taylor would guest-star in the picture and appear as themselves, she volunteered to use her own autograph album.

"I'm as avid an autograph hunter as the girl I portray in the picture," Virginia admitted. "Mr. Powell's signature is one I've been after for a long time."

LOCAL 4-H'ERS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

BOONE COUNTY TAKES HONORS AT DISTRICT MEETING HELD AT WILLIAMSTOWN SATURDAY.

Three Boone county 4-H Club members were awarded the District championship honors at Williamstown on last Saturday, according to the County Agent's office. Ten northern Kentucky counties competed for the district honors in which county champions in the various 4-H projects competed.

Robert Smith of the New Haven Boosters 4-H Club received the district swine championship award; Jewell Vice of Burlington Blue Ribbon 4-H Club the canning championship; and Barbara Lutes of Florence X-LI All 4-H Club the foods championship. The other 4-H champions who received high honors in the district were: Bernice Sebree, Florence, in clothnig; David King, Verona, in gardening; H. R. Forkner, Burlington, in sheep; Robert Rouse of Burlington in dairying and James Tupman, of Burlington.

The awards were made at a banquet held at the hotel in Williamstown. The scoring of the champions was done by the state 4-H Club department. H. L. Donovan, president of the University of Kentucky was the principal speaker on the award program.

Two Farms Sold During Past Week

Mrs. Herman Buckler and son Joe, sold their farm of 165 acres, 1½ miles out on the Burlington-Belleview pike to Ernest Gadd, of near Verona last Saturday. This farm is known as the Buchert farm and was purchased by Mrs. Buckler and son from G. N. Hardy last Spring.

Albert A. Schwaller sold his farm of 103 acres about 3½ miles from Burlington to John Crigler, of Hebron, last Monday. This farm is located in the rear of the George Dennler farm out the East Bend Road, and known as the Hunter farm. Mr. Schwaller had purchased this farm from Orville Hunter several years ago.

Both sales were handled through A. B. Renaker, local real estate dealer.

Dairy Specialist Will Address Utopia Club

Lynn Copeland, dairy specialist of the College of Agriculture will address the Boone County Utopia Club Thursday evening, October 21st on the subject "What is New in Livestock Feeding." Mary Hood Gillaspie, home demonstration agent will also address the club on the subject "War Time Economy in the Home."

The Utopia Club meeting will be held at Burlington courthouse at 7:30 p. m. (CWT). The club extends a hearty invitation to all who are interested in older boys and girls club work.

FEED PROBLEM IS CONSIDERED

BY BOONE DAIRYMEN—FACING MOST SERIOUS FEED PROBLEM IN YEARS, ACCORDING TO REPORTS.

Dairymen this winter are facing the most serious feed problem in years, according to the reports of twenty leading dairymen who attended the dairy feeding school at the Town Hall in Florence on last Friday. Feed prices have advanced to the point where the average dairyman who purchases both his hay and grain feeds can hardly expect a profit this winter.

Lynn Copeland, dairy specialist of the College of Agriculture advised dairymen to feed their cows well so that they would not deplete their bodies of important body minerals. Once the cow's body has been depleted thru lack of feed, her efficiency is lowered and considerable feed must be used to bring her back into profitable production He urged that farmers immediately make most efficient use of all available corn fodder thru early feeding, shredding or making of silage in order that sufficient roughages be available for the winter feeding program. The use of winter cover crop pastures were recommended as the cheapest source of protein and vitamins.

Copeland pointed out that the high producing cows always make the most efficient use of the grain feed. A Holstein cow full fed the best quality legume hay can produce from 15 to 18 pounds of milk and meet all her needed feed requirements. A Jersey can produce from 10 to 12 pounds of milk daily under the above conditions and meet her feed requirements. Cows producing above this amount should have one pound of grain feed to reach 2½ to 3 pounds of extra milk produced. This means the high producing cows should receive the grain feed that is available. Where farmers have poor producers and are short of feed they should cull the low producers and give the total supply of feed to the better cows.

The milk subsidy program starting with October 1st production proposes to pay dairymen 35 cents per hundred pounds on whole milk sales and 4 cents per pound on butterfat.

Plans were made to hold another meeting during the winter months to further study the dairy production problem.

Jon Frances, a Cincinnati business man made a short talk at the close of the meeting. He stated he had visited the meeting with the sole purpose of learning why the rich farmers were complaining about their feed costs in relation to milk prices. He stated that he was of the opinion that every consumer would have a greater appreciation of the farmers' problem if he had a true picture of the problems the dairyman was encountering.

REGULATIONS ARE AMENDED

REGARDING SELECTIVE SERVICE DELINQUENTS, ACCORDING TO COLONEL FRANK D. RASH, STATE DIRECTOR.

Colonel Frank D. Rash, State Director for Selective Service for the Commonwealth of Kentucky, in a statement made Friday said that Selective Service regulations relative to delinquents have recently been amended by National Headquarters of the Selective Service System. The changes in regulations created by the new amendments go into effect November 1, 1943 and in compliance therewith, all local boards will classify or reclassify all delinquents, 18 through 44 years of age, in IA, IAO or IVE as the case may be and all delinquents 18 through 37 years of age ordered to report for induction or for work of national importance as the circumstances of the individual cases justify. Prosecution will be commenced immediately upon the failure of any of said delinquents to answer the summons contained in their order to report for induction, as well as against all delinquents who have been previously ordered to report for induction and have failed to do so.

In further commenting on the above procedure, Colonel Rash stated that Kentucky State Headquarters will put forth every effort to comply with and to put into effect and operation all of the new regulations and amendments thereto pertaining to the processing of cases of delinquents and the Courts, Officers of the Courts and the facilities of all law enforcing agencies available to the use of the Selective Service System will be utilized in this effort to locate and induct all delinquents who have so far succeeded in escaping service in the armed forces or being inducted for work of National importance.

Residents of Kentucky or elsewhere knowing the whereabouts of any delinquent registrants or having information that may be helpful in apprehending any of such delinquents can contribute valuable assistance to the war effort by furnishing such information to the Louisville office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation or Kentucky State Headquarters for Selective Service, Louisville, Ky.

Furnish-Harrison

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Nell Furnish and Chaplain (First Lieutenant) Thomas Olsen Harrison was solemnized at eight o'clock, Tuesday night, October 19, 1943, in the Burlington Methodist Church. Dr. W. E. Harrison, father of the groom, read the impressive single ring ceremony. Only the immediate families were present.

Preceding the ceremony, appropriate selections were rendered on the piano by Miss Faith Harrison, sister of the groom.

The bride was lovely, attired in a dress of dusty aqua crepe, with which she wore black accessories. She carried a white testament covered with white roses and stephanotis. The groom wore the dress uniform of officers of the Army of the United States. There were no attendants.

The beauty of the little church was enhanced by bouquets of white chrysanthemums and white candles around the altar. On one side of the chancel was the flag of the Church, and on the other the flag of the United States.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the wedding guests at the home of Miss Nell Martin, aunt of the bride.

After a brief honeymoon, Chaplain and Mrs. Harrison will make their home in Paterson, New Jersey, where Chaplain Harrison is stationed with a Coast Artillery Unit.

Mrs. Harrison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Furnish of Burlington and Lexington. She was graduated from the Golden Pond, Kentucky High School and attended Murray State Teachers College, Murray, Ky.

Chaplain Harrison is the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Harrison of Bardstown, Ky. He was graduated from Winchester High School, Asbury College and Asbury Theological Seminary. He was pastor of the Burlington Methodist Church for three and a half years preceding his enlistment in the Army in January 1943.

Rev. R. A. Johnson, Rev. George Bond, Rev. O. B. Thomas, Albert Wm. Weaver and Miss Audrey Rouse were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Beemon.

Food And Home Notes

Practical, nutritious, and appetizing meals are welcomed by the whole family today, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent, The United States Department of Agriculture makes the following suggestions for homemakers:

"Eat more cereals and don't worry about the waistline," says Dr. Henry C. Sherman, Chief of Bureau of Human Nutrition. About one-fourth more cereal food with more fruits and vegetables can well be used in American wartime meals to offset reduced quantities of meat, fats, and sweets.

Christmas Gifts

Food gifts this Christmas will be appreciated by every one. When the thank-you letters say, "you couldn't have pleased us more" they will be truthful. Putting up extra jars of fruits or vegetables is right in line with the War Food Administration policy of saving every particle of fighting food with the least strain on transportation. Food giving for Christmas 1943 is in the spirit both of Christmas and of the whole food front policy —"a sharing of the food."

Slow Bake Saves Food From Pests

At the first suspicion of insect attack, it is better to put dried foods in the oven. Packaged food may be put in the oven in its original container, sealed or open. Beans, whole grains, dried peppers or nut meats may be spread out in a shallow pan for heating. Twenty minutes in a slow oven at 150 F. will save food from meal moths, brown beetles, bean weevils, and other pantry pests. To prevent scorching the food, prop the oven door open a few inches. Dried food kept in tight containers like screw-top jars, tightly covered tins, of moisture proof sealed paper cartons is safe from insects.

Honey In Cooking

Three points to keep in mind when cooking with honey: First bake at low temperatures because honey burns easily. Second, don't boil honey mixtures longer than necessary. When honey is heated too much, the aromatic oils evaporate and the delicate flavor is lost. And, third, remember that honey not only contains water, but it also takes moisture from the air. That is why cakes and cookies baked with honey stay moist a long time.

If honey crystallizes, place the container in a pan of mederately hot water. Keep the water considerably below boiling.

Time Check Your Pressure Cooker

Time To Check Your Pressure Cooker

Steam pressure canners or cookers are likely to need an end-of-the-season cleaning: Stains removed with whiting and water, pet cock and safety valve taken off and soaked in vinegar, ball-and-socket safety valve cleaned with silver polish, and the rubber gasket scrubbed free of grease. New or old, the canner must be cleaned before storing. Leave no food or salt deposits on a canner which may pit aluminum, injure the gage on porcelain enamel, or cause tinned steel to rust. Crumple newspaper inside kettle to absorb moisture and odors. Wrap cover in paper to keep dust out of gauge and valve opening and to protect cover edge. Store canner where it will not be bumped or banged.

Change In Services Announced For Burlington Church

Evening services will not be held at Burlington Methodist Church Sunday, due to the revival being conducted at the Petersburg Methodist Church, by the pastor, Rev. Oliver B. Thomas.

Sunday morning services will be conducted at the regular hour, Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. and morning worship at 11:00 a. m.

"Keeping Tools Fit" Subject To Be Discussed At Meeting Oct. 26

Local women in Home Management will attend a training class on "Keeping Tools Fit" on next Tuesday, October 26th. The meeting will be held at 10:30 a. m. C. W. T.) at the courthouse in Burlington, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. This lesson is a series of major project lessons for Homemakers on "Conservation for Victory."

The class will be conducted by Miss Ida C. Hagman, specialist in home management, University of Kentucky. Women are asked to bring kitchen tools to be sharpened. Each leader will make a silver polish cloth and silver cream.

Band Party Scheduled For Monday, Oct. 24

Climaxing a very busy and successful spring and summer season, the Boone County Band will hold a party at Burlington school gym, Monday, October 24th at 7:30 p. m. All pupils of Mr. Bloss are invited to attend, and parents who helped in the minstrel show. Band girls are providing sandwiches and cake while the boys are furnishing soft drinks.

Summer activities included several spring concerts, Four-H Fair, three minstrel shows, Aurora Street Fair and Homemakers' Convention. The band is fast growing a reputation which the entire county is to be proud.

Each individual band is increasing its enrollment this fall.

Mrs. Charity Brewster

Funeral services for Mrs. Charity Brewster of Walton were conducted from the Baptist Church, Tuesday at 2 p. m. with Rev. C. J. Alford, pastor in charge. Burial was in Indepenednce cemetery.

Mrs. Brewster died early Sunday at her residence, following a long illness.

She is survived by her husband, James Brewster; two sons Raymond of Walton and Thomas, stationed somewhere overseas; four sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Holland, Burning Springs, Ky., Mrs. Alice Keith, of Burning Springs, Mrs. Sarah Noel, of Walton, Mrs. Lawrence Morgan, of Cincinnati; four brothers, Jesse Morgan, Wahins Creek, Ky., Chas. Bill stopped in Burlington long enough to shake hands with old friends and schoolmates. Sunday, he, Russell, Ernest, Russell, Jr., and Joyce Finn visited Mrs. Lena Grant and W. O. Rector and family for a short time.

Local Revival Closed Sunday With Seventeen Additions

The two-week revival meeting at the Burlington Baptist Church closed Sunday, October 17th with seventeen additions being made to the church membership, ten coming by letter and seven for baptism.

Baptismal services will be conducted at the Erlanger Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon, October 24th at 2.30 p. m. (CWT).

The revival was a success in every way, and everyone cooperated in a splendid manner. Fine messages were brought each evening by Rev. W. G. Bond and Mike and Rachel Acree, singers.

Two Truck Drivers Fined On Reckless Driving Charge Mon.

Two men, giving their names as Willis Bell and Roy Carter were brought before Judge C. L. Cropper Monday on a charge of reckless driving and were each fined $15.00 and costs.

Both men were employed at the airport and have been hauling gravel from the gravel pit to the airport site.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Edwards and son Claude visited Mrs. Russell Finn, Sunday morning. Jake is enjoying a 10-day furlough.

SCRAP DRIVE TO CLOSE OCTOBER 22

CHILDREN ASKED TO JOIN IN DRIVE TO COLLECT METAL AND SCRAP DRIVE—DELIVERY TO BE MADE AT SCHOOLS.

Again schools of the county have been called upon to collect scrap metal and paper, which is now badly needed in the war effort. Schools of the county will be closed Friday October 22 for the purpose of collecting as much of this material as possible.

Boone County has done her part in every war drive—let's get in the "scrap" Friday.

Schools principals have been asked to organize both the pupils and the teachers during the week so that maximum amount of scrap may be collected during the day. All teachers and pupils have been asked to help with this important task.

During the last drive no paper was collected, but this time all available paper is wanted. Paper should be tied in bundles.

Delivery of scrap material collected by the children in various communities will be delivered to their respective school.

Cooperation of farmers, business men and townspeople is requested and will be appreciated in this scrap drive." Let's all get in the scrap campaign.

Hallowe'en Party To Be Held At Hamilton School

A Hallowe'en party will be held at the Hamilton school house on Friday night, October 29th at 7:00 (CWT), under the supervision or the P.-T. A., it was announced this week.

The evenings entertainment will consist of amateur contest, pie supper, and spelling bee. All persons are requested to come masked or pay the penalty.

Each woman attending is required bring a pie. The public is cordially invited to attend this evening of merriment.

Local Fair Grounds Donations Continue

E. J. Piatt of Florence sent a check the past week for $10.00 to John L. Conner, treasurer of the Boone County 4-H and Utopia Council as a contribution of the fair grounds building program.

Mr. Piatt is a grandson of one of Boone County's first pioneers. He states that he wishes to make another permanent contribution in the form of gate entrance or other permanent improvement that will commemorate the early pioneer family.

Many splendid contributions have been made to the grounds in recent months. All these contributions are greatly appreciated in the effort to build a permanent site for the holding of a county fair, picnics and other worthwhile recreational events.

REGISTRATION SET OCTOBER 25

FOR WAR RATION BOOK NO. 4—APPLICANTS MUST PRESENT RATION BOOK THREE BEFORE REGISTERING.

Residents of Boone County will register for Book No. 4, beginning October 25th, in some of the schools. Study the time and dates given below, at each school, and go to your nearest school and register on the dates given for that school.

Persons who do not register during this time will be unable to register until another registration date is set and you will then be required to appear before the War Price and Ration Board to register.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 24

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

HONORING OUR PARENTS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:12; Luke 2:48-51; Mark 7:6-13; John 19:25-27.

Right relations between children and parents have much to do with the peace and prosperity of a community and a nation. Experience has demonstrated that to be true, but even more basic is the fact that it is in accord with the promise of God.

One of the bad breakdowns in modern life is that of proper honor and obedience to parents by children. In all too many homes God's order has been reversed and instead of honoring and obeying their parents, children (both young and old) have taken the place of "boss," and mother and father must obey if they want peace and rest.

The need for our lesson of today is both great and acute. The future happiness of hundreds of thousands of children and the present welfare of thousands of neglected and boss-ridden parents will depend on the intelligence and faithfulness with which this lesson is taught in our churches, and the honesty of heart with which we all receive its truth.

I. The Command and Promise (Exod. 20:12).

We are told by Paul that this is the "first commandment with promise" (Eph. 6:1-3). The Lord was not making a bargain with man, or seeking to draw out obedience by a prize, but there is obviously a great reward in the observing of this commandment.

Then, too, as the children of God (if we are such) through Jesus Christ, the first and most important consideration to come before us is, What is the mind and will of the Maker of us all regarding this matter of the relation between parents and children? His words are plain—we are to "honor" our fathers and our mothers.

The word "honor" carries with it a great many things, but perhaps the three outstanding elements are respect, obedience, and affection.

Our Lord Jesus Christ, who is the Saviour and then the Example of believers, presents a beautiful pattern of true obedience to this commandment.

II. Willing Obedience (Luke 2:48-51; John 19:25-27).

The fact that Jesus was God manifest in the flesh only enhanced His conduct. He who is divine presents an example of obedience and consideration both as boy and man which we do well to emulate.

1. As a Boy (Luke 2:48-51). The boy Jesus, increasing "in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man" (v. 52), had come to His twelfth year and with His parents had gone up to Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover.

There moved in His heart the conviction that He must now be about His Father's business—an altogether proper and commendable purpose, but one which resulted for the moment in separation from His parents. This was far more serious than a physical separation, for we read that they did not understand Him (v. 50).

Tragic indeed are the consequences of our failure to understand our children. Notice, however, that Jesus did not withdraw Himself from their watchful care, nor refuse to obey them even though they failed to understand Him. Equally tragic are the results of hasty and bitter separations brought about by the disobedience of children.

2. As a Man (John 19:25-27). The value of our lesson will be greatly reduced if we see only the responsibility of children while they are young. We are the children of our parents as long as we and they live.

One marvels at the carelessness and hardness of heart that will permit men and women who have time and money for everything else, to neglect their aged parents and even shunt them off into a public institution for care.

III. Hypocritical Disobedience (Mark 7:6-13).

Such an important commandment naturally held a high place in the thinking of the community. To violate it involved a measure of shame which men sought to avoid. So the Jews of Christ's day devised a scheme which made it possible for a man to appear to be very religious even as he deprived his parents of the honor and help to which they were entitled by the law of God.

The man who was so avaricious that he did not wish to support his aged and needy parents could entirely evade that God-given responsibility by declaring that his property was "Corban," that is, dedicated by a vow to God. Thereafter no matter how great was the need of his parents they could receive nothing.

Thus do men make "the word of God of none effect" (v. 13) through their traditions. The method differs but the spirit persists even in our day.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

The following letter was received from Chester Tinkelenberg, F. C. S. Co. 1726, U. S. N. T. S., Newport, R. I:

"I've been receiving The Recorder now for a little more than a month, and it sure is swell. I really didn't know how much Boone County or The Recorder really meant to me, but now I sure do. Believe you me, I read every word in The Recorder and that means even down to the want ads.

"A week or so ago you said Percy Ryle returned to his station in Rhode Island. Could you tell me what his station is? Maybe I could look him up.

"Jake noticed a letter from J. D. Jarrell. Yes, I suppose he wishes he could be at home to tell you folks the Cards were going to win the series. But I don't believe so, J. D.

"I am swell, and I really like the Navy. I am attending Fire Control school here in Newport. Although the course is pretty tought, is is very interesting.

"Please tell everyone in Burlington, Belleview, and all of Boone County, I said hello, and I'm waiting for the day I can return and say hello to all my pals.

"Thanks a million for The Recorder, it is sure swell of you to send it to all the fellows in the service."

Ed. Note—We are sorry to report that Percy Ryle has been moved to Gulfport, Miss.

Pfc. Benjamin J. Michels of U. S. Marine Corps, stationed at San Diego, Calif., is enjoying a fifteen-day furlough at home with relatives and friends.

The following letter was received from Carl Rudicill, stationed in Iran with the U. S. Army:

"It has been my good fortune to receive another copy of The Recorder, for which I am very thankful. We, the boys in the service can not express our thanks to you for the county news. Orville Frodge, who is stationed near me, and I read the paper, then trade comments on the news, this being our last tie, besides our correspondence, with the world we left behind.

"The temperature here has dropped quite a bit, the nights being very cool, for which we are all very glad. The men in this command have done a very good job in helping keep Uncle Joe supplied, besides numerous buildings that have been completed.

"I have received a bit of correspondence through the courtesy of your printing my address in the news and I thank both you and all the friends for the letters I have received.

"Last week I stumbled on a story every redblooded American should hear. It happened that one of our liberty ships loaded with war supplies lay at anchor in the harbor waiting for a First Engineer. Now, (Uncle Bill) Kleyenstever, now seventy-three years old wandered into the union office to hear this startling news. Uncle Bill a merchant seaman who was through World War I had retired to a cozy home on the seashore near Newport News, Va. In 1941 after hearing this news, Uncle Bill, very much troubled spent a very restless night. Next morning he shined his shoes, brushed his uniform and proceeded to the Union Hall once more to sign on as Engineer of the Liberty ship. Arriving at a port here, the job well done, Uncle Bill collapsed, only to be sent to the hospital where he was given rest and treatment. Now Uncle Bill is on his way home again, and may God bless him and all Americans of his will and determination to make our country a better place to live.

"This is only one of the truly marvelous things being done by civilians at home, but I am sure that no one regrets the sacrifices they have made to save their son or neighbor's son from the death now being handed out by the Axis in Europe.

"In closing I would like to say hello to all the friends and I hope to be seeing them soon."

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pvt. Kenneth S. Ratcliff 35873809, D. 34, AARTB, Camp Wallace, Texas:

"Will you please send me The Boone County Recorder? I heard that you would send it to any man from Boone that was in the service. I would enjoy getting it.

"There are three other fellows from Boone here. They are Joe Myers, Marvin Mulligan, and Herbert Scott. We are in the anti-aircraft, a part of the coast artillery. We will receive about 22 weeks of training.

"Thanks for sending me The Recorder."

The following letter was received from Pfc. Wm. J. Brown 35680706 3526th Ord. M. A. M. Co., 199 Ord. Bn., APO 184, care Postmaster, Los Angeles, Calif:

"Here I am at a new camp again. Just about the time I should be getting my paper, I have to move. We are somewhere on the desert of Arizona now. It's only a few miles from California and Mexico. About all we see is sand, snakes and lizards, in fact the lizards come right in our tents, but they are harmless, so we don't bother them.

"I am really going to appreciate that paper way out here, where there is no way to get any other paper or to even get into town."

Sgt. John Sebastian writes the following letter:

"I again want to thank you for sending me The Boone County Recorder. It certainly is similar to meeting an old friend who's been home since I've left. It gives me news that I fail to get in the letters I receive from home. I guess most of the boys feel as I do, as I read every line of the paper with relish, especially the column 'With Our Boys in the Service.' I think that the reason this column appeals so much to me is that being in the service gives each fellow a feeling of kindredship.

"My new address is Hqs. Co. 54, Armd. Inf. Bn., APO No. 260, Camp Gordon, Ga. This camp is better by far than Fort Benning, but not so good as Fort Knox. I would have liked to spend the rest of my service there but guess I'm needed more elsewhere.

"Sgt. Walter Vest is here somewhere, but I've been unable to contact him so far. All of our division has been reformed and I can't learn of his new outfit. Could you help me in this search?

"Thanks again, and I hope to see all my friends soon. That is, if the news continues to be as good as it is now."

Ed. Note—Sgt. Walter Vest of Walton, Ky., has been honorably discharged from service and has returned to his former law practice of Vest and Vest at Walton.

QUALITY SAMPLE TO CLOSE ON THURSDAY EVENINGS

Due to wartime conditions involving merchandise, conservation of power for armed forces, and shortage of experienced help, the management of the Quality Sample Shoe Store, 627 Madison Ave., Covington has decided to close their store on Thursday evenings for the duration. At the present time, a complete stock of pre-war shoes are on hand and every effort is being made to continue to give Northern Kentucky Shoppers Quality Shoes at economical prices.

BELLEVIEW CHURCH OF CHRIST

Sam Hamilton, Minister

Bible School 10:00 a. m. (CWT) Tommie Stevens, Supt.

Worship Service 11:00.

The young people's class of the Bible school are beginning work in an entirely new course under the able direction of their teacher, Jack Purdy. The next book of the course, is the brand new work book of Christian Doctrine, by Joseph Dampier, who by the way, is an acquaintance of this writer and one time minister of the Church of Christ at Lawrenceburg Indiana, now with the church at Johnson City, Tenn. The text is arranged in the same form as the work books now used in so many of our high school studies, and promises to be very interesting and enlightening to all who apply themselves to the course. From the stand point of the material being used in the Bible school, ours is unique, in the experience of this writer. The primary department, under Mrs. Purdy, has a special course in the four Gospels, the junior department under Mrs. Wolfe studies the old and new testament course, called "Thru the Bible in a Year" the young people's class the excellent course above mentioned and both the adult classes are now beginning their third year of study in the book of Romans, while the whole school undergoes a fifteen-minute study of the book of Genesis each week. If you have any desire to learn of the Book of Books, our Bible school is the place to do it.

The church was happy to receive Julia Kruse two weeks ago, by statement, and were again thrilled last week when the Misses Priscilla Hamilton and Nellie Jo Purdy made the good confession and were buried with their Lord in Christian baptism. With Mrs. Addie Ryle, whom we baptized at Erlanger, this makes four additions in the last few weeks. It has also been the privilege of this writer to receive the confessions of two at Florence, Ind., and to immerse one at Rising Sun, during the same period of time. "The Kingdom comes."

The Bible School socials will start the season with a Hallowe'en festival at the home of the Holbrooks at Burlington, Saturday night, Oct. 30. Mrs. Jack Purdy, Mrs. Irmel White and Mrs. Hamilton compose the committee. Put that one on your calendar, and prepare for the time of your life.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Sunday, October 17th relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson and surprised Mrs. Wilson on her birthday. All gathered at 11::30, with lots of good things to eat and several nice gifts.

The day before, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson's son, Jim Bob, wife and baby arrived home from Randolph Field, Texas for a furlough.

Those enjoying the day were: Sgt. and Mrs. James R. Wilson and Nancy Lynne of Texas; Mr. and Mrs, Harmon Jones and Tommy, of Crittenden; Iva Jones, of Florence; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rice, Mrs. Belle Jones, Anna Mae Snyder, Mrs. Mae Snyder and Bob Wilson, of Petersburg; Mrs. Ed Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Lottie Jones, of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Scott Jones and Jimmy and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson and Neda Jo of Covington; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Holzworth, Mr. and Mrs. Lute Bradford and Lucian, Jim Arrasmith, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Aylor and Betty of Union; and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

At a late hour all left wishing Mrs. Wilson many more happy birthdays and hoping to be together again in the near future.

BELLEVIEW W. M. S.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Belleview Baptist Church, met Wednesday, Sept. 29th for an all-day meeting for the program in Royal Service and to observe the Week of Prayer for State Missions.

The program in Royal Service was given in the morning. This being the last of September we had our program which we generally conduct in October and combined it with our Week of Prayer program which always comes in September. The ladies had lunch at the noon hour, and went into session in the afternoon.

There were 15 members present and a nice sum was reported by our treasurer, Mrs. Etna McNeely, given for State Missions.

The ladies of the Church are requested to bring their canned goods to Hensley's store to be sent to the Louisville Orphan's Home, before bad weather.

Missouri Rice, Reporter.

VERONA

This community was visited with a frost and light freeze two nights but not much damage was done.

Rev. Spahr filled his appointment on Sunday, and he and his family were entertained in the Renaker home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stewart visited her sister, Mrs. Arch Noel and Mr. Noel, Saturday night.

Mrs. Mattie Whitson who had the misfortune to fall and crack her hip last week is in Christ Hospital.

Mrs. W. B. Copley, of Wood River, Ill., and Mrs. C. W. Fulton, of Zion City, Ill., who have been visiting their brother Arch Noel have returned to their respective homes.

Miss Mildred King spent a few days recently visiting friends in and around St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton are preparing to move into the house recently vacated by Mrs. Emma Alexander, who has moved to Erlanger to live with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ryan and children visited her sister, Mrs. Cecil Thorpe and daughter of near Eminence, Ky., Sunday.

CARLISLE FARMERS MAKES COWS PAY

Lloyd Samples of the Milburn community in Carlisle county has 12 registered Jersey cows which he reports have given him a monthly income of more than $200 since the first of the year. One of the two registered Jersey bulls owned by the Illinois Central railroad, and kept in the county, is on Mr. Samples' farm. County Agent John B. Watts reports that about 25 registered Jersey cows and heifers have been added to Milburn herds in the past two years.

KITCHEN GADGETS HELP HOMEMAKERS

Thirty-two dozen pieces of small kitchen equipment have been purchased this summer by homemakers' club members in Franklin county. The saving of time and effort by the use of these handy gadgets was the deciding factor in their purchase. Especially important is the food mill which, Home Agent Frances Soper says, homemakers are using as they make tomato juice in a quantity never before equaled in the county. A flour sifter which may be operated with one hand, a special fork for speedy creaming or blending of flour with fat or liquid, and a chopper for fruits and vegetables, are the other items.

BURLINGTON LADY SPIT UP ACID LIQUIDS FOR HOURS AFTER EATING

Four hours after every meal, a Burlington lady used to spit up a strong, acidulous liquid mixed with pieces of half-digested food. She says it was awful. At times she would nearly strangle. She had stomach bloat, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Today, this lady eats her meals and enjoys them. And she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her food agrees with her. No. gas, bloat or spitting up after eating. She is also free of headaches now, and bowels are regular, thanks to this Remarkable New Compound.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Dahlenburg's Drug Store, Erlanger.

Wartime Lighting Suggestions
HOW TO GET MORE LIGHT FROM YOUR PRESENT EQUIPMENT

Use One Large Bulb Instead of Several Smaller Ones

Offhand it would seem that four 25-watt bulbs would produce the same amount of light as one 100-watt bulb. But such is not the case. A 100-watt bulb produces as much light as SIX 25-watt bulbs, yet uses one-third less current. Therefore, when practical, always use one large bulb instead of several smaller ones of same total wattage and you'll get more light for your money.

OTHER WAYS TO CONSERVE LIGHT

1. Remove and clean lamp bulbs and lamp bowls regularly. Dry thoroughly before using again.
2. Keep shade linings light. Clean or brush regularly. Repaint or reline dark-colored paper or parchment shades.
3. Sit close enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes.
4. Avoid direct glare from lamp bulbs by using shades deep enough and wide enough.
5. Arrange furniture so one lamp can serve two people. But be sure lamp is not too far away from either person.
6. Turn off lamps not in use. Lamp bulbs use critical materials... Make them last longer.

Electricity ..is vital to war production. Use all you need but don't waste it just because it's cheap and isn't rationed.

It's HIGH TIME to Change in Kentucky!

For 12 years now, state administration has been in the hands of a gang!

In spite of changes in outward leadership, the gang has remained unchanged. Its policy, from first to last, has been to keep itself in power.

And so we have seen the waste of money and the abuse of trust. We have seen sleepers on the payroll and leeches on the public purse. We have heard of deals and bargains and conspiracies against the general interest. We have read of political assessments against state employees and illegal contributions to campaign funds. We have seen the public service degraded and standards of honor cast aside. We have borne a heavier and heavier burden of taxation.

By these means, the machine has fattened and grown strong, until now we can free ourselves from it only by united and resolute action.

YOU can help save Kentucky

The Republican party, by nominating nine independent and able citizens pledged to the elimination of political gangsterism, offers the opportunity for freedom and good government. By supporting them, we strike a blow for liberty and take sides against dishonor.

Vote Republican!

Foot Health In Relation To Mental Health

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

When you suffer from flat feet, your muscular system is taxed and irritates the nerves of the foot, simultaneously affecting the entire delicate nervous system, causing it to function at less their normal capacity. The result of this whole action is generalized irritability and unrest in the individual.

Ordinarily the body can overcome the irritations of its various sick parts, and is capable of removing the effects of the disease. The disturbances of the foot, however, are often subject to influences which the body has great difficulty in combatting.

The foot according to dictates of society should be housed in a protective leather or cloth covering, which must meet the aesthetic tastes of the prevailing fashion. Thus, if the fashion dictates that long thin shoes be worn, thousands of individuals with short wide feet will attempt to crowd them into long, thin, shoes, and visa versa.

The vagaries of fashion may thus make you comfortable one season and uncomfortable another. However, when we consider the permanent effects of this change of style, we realize that the foot which has a fairly permanent shape, has to respond like an elastic band. The harm wrought in one season does not disappear the next, but may rather be accentuated in some significant defect as for example the BUNION.

Once this defect is formed the foot is placed daily in what may be considered a vice or mold and the normal metabolis or growth activities of the foot is interferred with. The attempt of the body to overcome the irritation are frustrated and the physical ailments grows and become more pernicious. The mental effects of this constant irritant are such as to set up a continual hypersensttiveness in all behavior.—Adv.

TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

"Background to Danger," the Warner Bros. film at the Gayety, marks the fourth motion picture in which Sydney Greenstreet and Peter Lorre have appeared together. They were first seen in "The Maltese Falcon," then "Across the Pacific" and, most recently in "Casablanca." It was in "The Maltese Falcon" that they were cast as fellow conspirators; in "Background to Danger" they are deadly enemies. "The Fat Man" heads a group of ruthless Gestapo agents while Lorre is a Russian counter-espionage agent.

SATURDAY

Judy Canova's ambition to make people laugh dates back to her sixth birthday, when she literally fell off her seat laughing at the antics of a tent show buffoon. Judy now a Republic star, headlines the cast of "Chatterbox" along with Joe E. Brown at the Gayety, Saturday.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

After she finished making her current Universal production, "Hers To Hold," Deanna Durbin declared she could qualify as an experienced aircraft worker.

For scenes in the picture, in which Deanna goes to work in an aircraft factory, the star had to learn to handle an electric drill expertly. She learned in exactly two days—by drilling holes in sheets of scrap metal.

"Hers To Hold," in which Deanna is co-starred with Joseph Cotten, was directed by Frank Ryan.

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY
(Double Feature)

Columbia's latest action drama of the old West comes to town when "Robin Hood of the Range" opens at the Gayety. Starring two-fisted Charles Starrett in the role of a hard-riding cowboy, the picture also includes Kay Harris and Arthur (Arkansas) Hunnicutt in its cast.

Plus

Lew Landers, recently commissioned a Captain in the U. S. Marine Corps, had been practicing his military commands on the set of Columbia's "Readhead from Manhattan." When he wanted the chorus girls in the Columbia filmusical, which features Lupe Velez to take a few minutes rest, he would bellow, "At-Ease"

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS

The Homemakers' Training class met at the home of Mrs. Ann Conner, our genial pharmacist of Florence and, though it was her busy day, she played the hostess to perfection by letting us wait upon ourselves. The topic for the year is "Conservation for Victory" and this particular lesson was "Conservation of Time and Energy in the Home." Miss Ida C. Hagman was the teacher and that is equivalent to saying the lesson was expertly given.

As there were some newcomers in the class Miss Hagman had each one advise and give her own name and the name of the club she represented. She also made some excellent suggestions for keeping the interest of the persent members at a high pitch and for securing new members. We are to set our goals and then work to attain them.

We then returned to the kitchen where a demonstration of "how to do" and how not to do" our tasks was put on by Mrs. Courtney Kelly of Burlington as the efficient woman and Mrs. A. L. Rogers, of Hebron as the inefficient one. This was amusing but also very instructive. The importance of clearing away the meis after the completion of the job, sitting at your work, and the avoidance of nervous hurry were stressed.

Each woman had provided her own lunch but tea and coffee were served.

After lunch we were given a demonstration of complete relaxation which will all do well to remember, as well as methods of relaxing forehead, eyes, hands, and back. Miss Hagman had a simple pattern for dustless mitts and a formula for preparing them.

WEED GROWERS FAVOR QUOTAS

VOTE 741 TO 49 IN FAVOR OF CONTINUATION OF MARKETING QUOTAS—LARGEST MAJORITY EVER CAST IN COUNTY

Burley tobacco growers of Boone County voted 741 to 49 in favor of continuation of Marketing Quotas. Seven hundred eighteen votes were cast in favor of Marketing Quotas for three years, or 90.9 percent, while 53 votes were cast in favor of 1-year quotas or 2.9 percent. The total combined ballots cast for 3 and 1-year quotas were 741 or 93.8 percent. The total ballots cast opposing quotas were 49 or 6.2 percent.

Com.	3-Yr	1-Yr.	No. Q.
Beaver	55	2	2
Burlington	93	1	9
Florence	37	4	8
Grant	77	2	1
Hamilton	34	2	3
Rabbit Hash	42	3	2
Hebron	64	6	3
Petersburg	49	1	0
Union	74	2	15
Verona	97	0	1
Walton	96	1	5

This was the largest majority that was ever cast in Boone County in favor of Marketing Quotas. The State Office also reports that marketing quotas, carried on the basis of an incomplete return, showing tabulation for 90 counties, a majority of 96.3 percent in favor of marketing quotas. All states growing burley tobacco voted by more than a two-thirds majority as a whole, in favor of marketing quotas.

Federal Tobacco Graders Will Give Demonstrations

John Y. Steele, Federal tobacco grader, will give two stripping and grading demonstrations in the county on November 19th, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The location of the demonstration meetings will be announced in the near future.

The Federal Grading Service has been cooperating in these demonstrations for several years. This work is helping farmers secure a better understanding of their stripping and marketing problems. All growers are invited to attend.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Holladay announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Mayree Holladay to Sgt. Melvin Cecil Aylor, U. S. Air Forces. The wedding will be an event of November 6th at 8:00 in the Bullittsburg Baptist Church.

THURSDAY LAST DAY TO REGISTER

FOR WAR RATION BOOK 4 IN EIGHT OF COUNTY SCHOOLS—WALTON, VERONA TO RECEIVE APPLICANTS FRIDAY.

Boone County residents are warned not to forget that (Thursday) today, is the last day of registration for War Ration Book No. 4 in the Burlington, Florence, Hebron, Petersburg, New Haven, Belleview, Hamilton and Constance school districts. Residents of the Walton-Verona district can register Friday at either the Walton or Verona School.

Persons who fail to register during this period will be unable to register until another registration date is set, and you will then be required to appear before the War Price and Rationing Board to register.

Any member of the family can register for the entire group, it was announced by the Ration Board. However, applicants must present Ration Book No. 3 of each member of the family, complete with name, address, age and sex written on the face of the book in order to secure Ration Book 4.

Tonight, (Thursday), schools under the supervision of D. H. Norris will remain open until 8:00 p. m. in order that those persons unable to register during the regular hours of 2:30 to 5:00 will have an opportunity to apply for their ration book.

Applicants in the Walton district can register Thursday between the hours of 1:00 p. m. and 8:30 p. m., and from 1:00 p. m. until 4:00 p. m. at the Verona School. Hours Friday at the above schools will be from 1:00 p. m. until 4:00 p. m.

Two And One-Half Million Pounds Of Phosphate Used

Boone County farmers have used approximately two and one-half million pounds of phosphate for soil improvement purposes during the past 18 months, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. This is a splendid record.

The above phosphate represents 32 carloads secured as grant of aid through the Agricultural Conservation program. Several tons of additional phosphate and complete fertilizer has been purchased direct from dealers.

Phosphate and limestone as important soil improvement practices are past the demonstration stage. Practically every farmer in the county has seen its value.

Farmers are now faced with a golden opportunity. Supplemental Agricultural Conservation Program allowance, for the last half of the year have been increased to where they have been practically doubled. The term under which ACP supplies important fertilizer are most generous. Every farmer who has not already ordered 100 percent of his unused allowance in phosphate should do so immediately.

FARMERS ORGANIZE JERSEY BULL ASS'N.

WILL PROMOTE LONG TIME SUPERIOR BREEDING PROGRAM, ACCORDING TO H. R. FORKNER.

A Boone County Jersey Bull Association was organized on last Thursday afternoon, October 21st, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Members of the association are Robert Youell, Hebron; Jesse Wilson, Verona; Grant Maddox and Walter Scott, of Florence.

The association is organized to promote a long time superior breeding program. Members of the association, with the help of the dairy department of the college will carefully select four outstanding bulls. Each cow in the herd will be tested regularly through the Dairy Herd Improvement Association program. Daughter-dam production records will be compared. The blood of those bulls that prove outstanding will be multiplied and intensified in the herds to build up superior breeding stock.

The association began work last Thursday with the selection of four bulls, two from the Perry Gaines herd at Carrollton, one from the John Peterson herd in Southern Kentucky and one from the Jesse Wilson herd at Verona, sired by the old association proven bull Ada's Tormentor registration No. 345855.

Tipton-Ligon

Miss Lorraine Tipton, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tipton, and Mr. Hubert Ligon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ligon were quietly united in marriage, Saturday, October 23 at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Noble Lucas, of Petersburg.

The bride wore light blue dress with a corsage of white carnations. The groom wore dark blue with a pink rosebud in his lapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Clifford, of Idlewild were the only attendants.

The newlyweds returned to the home of the bride's parents for supper, then left for a brief honeymoon. The young couple will make their home with the bride's parents for the present.

Their friends wish them many years of happy married life.

Tuberculosis Meeting Will Be Held Nov. 1st

A meeting has been called to discuss plan for tuberculosis work in Boone County, according to Elizabeth Lowry, County Red Cross Nurse. The meeting will be held at the Town Hall, Florence, Monday, November 1st, 8:00 p. m.

Those who assisted with the X-ray Clinic and all members are urged to attend. All persons who are interested in prevention and cure of tuberculosis are invited to attend this meeting.

Plans are now under way for the sale of Christmas seals. This money is used for tuberculosis work entirely. None of it is used to pay salaries, but goes directly for prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sebree and Mr. and Mrs. Les Sebree, of Woolper were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sebree and son.

LYTER DONALDSON ADDRESSES VOTERS

OF BOONE COUNTY—CHARGES REPUBLICANS HAVE APPARENTLY ENTERED INTO CONSPIRACY TO BUILD UP VOTE.

Knowing that Kentucky is a better barometer for predicting the outcome of a National Presidential election, following a state race, than is the State of Maine, the "Republicans have apparently entered into a conspiracy" to build up the vote for Judge Simeon S. Willis without even attempting to give Kentucky a definite and specific program or a constructive administration." J. Lyter Donaldson, Democratic nominee for Governor, charged in his speech to Boone County voters, Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 p. m., at the courthouse.

To substantiate his statement, Donaldson pointed out that for election to seats in the Kentucky House of Representatives there are 39 unopposed Democrats from a total of 100 House seats; that the election of only 12 Democrats from the 43 seats in contest would give the Democratic party a constitutional majority in the House.

"Democratic majority is definitely assured," Donaldson asserted, "because in a large majority of the 43 districts where seats are in contest there is no question but these districts are predominately Democratic.

"The Republican failure to oppose Democrats for the legislative seats is a planned conspiracy," Donaldson declared, "to lull Democrats to sleep. By not offering Republican opposition they seek to quiet the Democratic candidates and their friends hoping that they might be less active in the interest of the Democratic ticket. This, the Republicans trust, would lower the Democratic vote and allow Willis to make a better showing."

Donaldson said that if the Republicans succeeded in electing Willis, or came close to it, they would claim an isolationist victory in Kentucky. "This news," Donaldson averred, "would then be heralded throughout the Nation as a repudiation of the National administration's efforts to win the war and a durable peace."

"This Republican conspiracy," Donaldson pointed out, "if successful in electing Willis, would result only in chaos in Kentucky because no matter how sincere were the members of the Democratic Legislature and a Republican Governor, it would be impossible for them to successfully work together because of fundamental differences on issues of party platform."

"It is necessary to have a Governor and a Legislature made up predominately of men who have campaigned together and who are members of the same party and in agreement on State and National issues. History has proved that this necessary cooperation between the executive and legislative branches always breaks down when the executive branch is of one party and the Legislature is dominated by members of another political faith."

Donaldson challenged his Republican opponent, Judge Willis, to state, "in the unlikely event of his election and knowing that he would have a Democratic Legislature which would enact into law most of the program that he was not advocating, if the would veto these constructive measures."

Donaldson charged Republicans from midwestern states, with destructionist and isolationist principles, with aiding Judge Willis and the Republican ticket hoping "to pave the way for National victory in 1944."

"These reactionaries," Donaldson said, "are leaving nothing undone to overthrow President Roosevelt and the National Democratic administration."

"It is a Republican conspiracy in any sense of the word—on State or National issues—that these reactionaries would seek destruction of a well planned, progressive program for improvement in State government and at the same time offer leadership that would only weaken the possibilities for an enduring peace after the war."

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Barlow, Miss Francis Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Volney Dickerson and Mr. and Mrs. Surface Barlow, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Rouse and family.

Born to Mr and Mrs. Virgil S. Vice, a 10¼ pound boy on Tuesday morning, October 26th. The new arrival has been named John Mark.

Four-H Girl Values Projects At $1093

Bernice Sebree, a member of the Florence XL-All 4-H Club, values her projects carried during seven years at $1093, according to records kept in her projects.

Three of the four Home Economics projects offered to girls has been carried by Bernice, besides carrying a poultry project. She values her projects as following: Clothing, $285; foods, $53; canning $500; and poultry $255; making a total of $1093.

Bernice has been very active in 4-H club work during her seven years as a member. The County Championship in the style revue for 4-H members at the 4-H and Utopia Fair was given to Bernice in August. She also was selected as County Clothing Champion and received a blue ribbon at the District Achievement meeting held recently in Williamstown.

Bernice served as Junior 4-H food leader in her local club during the past year, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Fifty Members Attend Band Party Monday

Approximately fifty members of the Boone County Band and a group of parents met at Burlington School Monday night, for a party to climax a busy summer season. The main attraction of the evening were ping-pong games and basketball. Another event was group singing in the club room.

Supper consisted of sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, and cookies brought by girls, and plenty of soft drinks contributed by the boys.

The band members and director wish to thank the parents who prepared and served the lunch in such a splendid manner. Thanks is especially extended to Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Poston, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Popham, and Mrs. Lou Williamson.

The band is fast increasing both in quantity and quality.

PASTOR OF WALTON BAPTIST RESIGNS

REV. C. J. ALFORD TO TAKE UP PASTORATE AT DEHAVEN MEMORIAL BAPTIST CHURCH, LAGRANGE, KY.

Rev. C. J. Alford, pastor of First Baptist Church, Walton, resigned Sunday, October 17th, after a fruitful ministry of seven years on this field.

He begins his pastorate at the DeHaven Memorial Baptist church, LaGrange, Ky., on November 1st.

Some of the accomplishments during his ministry here are: Redecoration of the church, purchase of new Hymnals and four pianos, establishment of a fully graded Baptist Training Union, a Library of approximately 350 books, a weekly church bulletin, a parsonage fund of $2,775.00 and there is a balance of $791.00 in the treasury.

There have been over three hundred persons added to the church membership and each year a Daily Vacation Bible School of two weeks has been held.

Mrs. Alford has proven herself efficient, capable and faithful in all phases of the church work.

The church feels deeply the loss of this fine couple, but as they are entering a larger field of service, we bid them Godspeed.

Brother Alford expressed himself thus in his resignation Sunday:

"It is with a deep feeling of mingled emotions that I submit my resignation as pastor of this church to accept the pastorate of the DeHaven Memorial Church, at LaGrange(beginning my ministry there November 1st.

"I am thankful for the cooperation I have had and for the development I have seen in many lives. The ties that bind us together are strong and permanent. With many of you I have stood by the open grave and said the last rites over the form of your departed loved ones. With others, I have stood at the marriage altar and before God, joined you together as man and wife. Many of you have accepted Christ as your Saviour under my ministry, and it was my pleasure to bury you with Him in beautiful baptism. We have visited and prayed with the sick, and shared in the hospitality of your homes. Nothing but the will of God could take us from you, but His will is best for us all.

"I, therefore surrender my ministry with a clear conviction that I have helped, and in the spirit of goodwill toward every member of the church."

MRS. EMMA BROWN SUCCUMBS AT 74

HAD BEEN IN ILL HEALTH FOR SEVERAL YEARS—SERVICES HELD MONDAY AFTERNOON AT RESIDENCE.

Mrs. Emma Brown, well known Burlington lady passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carroll Cropper, early Saturday morning, after an illness of six years. She was 74. She was a daughter of the late R. A. Brady and Susan Duncan Brady.

Mrs. Brown was loved by all who had the pleasure of making her acquaintance, and will be greatly missed in this community. Although she had been in ill health for the past six years, she greeted her friends with a smile on all occasions. Her sunny disposition will live on indefintely in the hearts of her friends and relatives.

Besides her daughter she is survived by one son Walter Brown, Burlington; one brother, Hubert Brady, Burlington; one sister, Mrs. May Lassing, Burlington; three grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were conducted from the residence Monday afternoon at 2 p. m., with Rev. Roy A. Johnson officiating. Burial was in the Brady lot, Belleview Cemetery.

Chambers and Grubbs, Walton funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

Florence Youth Suffers Severe Burns

Chester Butler, Florence suffered severe body burns last Thursday afternoon, while attempting to start a truck on U. S. 25 near Bob & Gene's cafe.

According to witnesses, Butler was riding the fender of the truck as it had a bottle of gasoline in each hand. A spark from the truck ignited the gasoline which Butler attempted to throw from the truck, but the contents of the bottle completely covered Butler's body and clothing which ignited instantly. Workmen nearby aided in extinguishing the flames, but severe body burns were sustained by the victim before the flames were extinguished.

He was removed to Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, where his condition was reported as fair Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Butler is the 28-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler of near Union, and was employed by E. & W. Trucking Co., as chief mechanic, at the time of the accident.

November 6-14th Is 4-H Achievement Week

November 6th to 14th has been designated as National 4-H Achievement Week, according to O. D. Perkinson, Assistant County Agent. The observation of this week will attract new attention to the accomplishments of 4-H Club members. It will also provide an opportunity for 4-H Clubs to get set for 1944 in a more effective way than ever before. Above all else this week should give 4-H Club members an appreciation of what the combined effort of all, mean in helping to win the war through serving well in the home, on the farm and in the community.

The accomplishments of 560 4-H boys and girls in Boone County are such that every citizen in this county can be justly proud. Every boy and girl who has finished a project will receive an achievement certificate at their local 4-H club meeting in November. This will be in recognition of the fine job they have done in producing food and fiber to help win the war.

Home Of F. H. Rouse Damaged By Smoke Monday Morning

The home of F. H. Rouse, Burlington was damaged by smoke early Monday morning, which was discovered in time to prevent a serious fire.

Mr. Rouse reported that the damage was due to defective coal, which had been pulled into the furnace by a stoker, shoving the door of the furnace open. When the smoke was discovered by Mr. Rouse, the fire was lapping close to the ceiling of the basement and the entire house was thick with smoke.

Soot and smoke, damaged rugs, curtains, and furniture, Mr. Rouse said. He was unable to estimate his loss.

LABOR EXCHANGE SET UP IN COUNTY

LABOR WILL BE FARMER'S MAJOR PRODUCTION PROBLEM IN 1944, SAYS REV. W. M. SMITH, LABOR ASSISTANT.

A County Farm Labor Exchange and Landlord Tenant Exchange has been set up at the County Agent's office in Burlington, according to Rev. W. M. Smith, County Farm Labor Assistant.

Labor is going to be farmer's major production problem in 1944. No greater war time civilian service can be rendered than work in food production. It is hoped that then the County farm labor exchange service every farmer will be able to secure help needed to produce the harvest the maximum amount of food and fiber crops.

There are a few very important points every farmer and farm worker should seriously consider in his or her attempt to render the most efficient war service.

1. Landlords who have good tenants, and tenants who have good landlords should in every way possible plan to cooperate on the present farm. Moves are expensive. Every time there is a tenant or landlord change new help must be secured and the expense of moving and loss of labor is multiplied. There have been a large number of instances the past year when the farm labor assistant, has to the satisfaction of both landlord and tenants, or hired labor, adjusted differences in making future contracts. Remember, both good tenants and good landlords are hard to get.

2. The War Man Power Commission has in effect frozen agricultural labor. While labor may change from farm to farm it is most difficult to change from farm to industrial work.

3. Efficient help is practically not available from outside of the county sources. Farmers who plan to use outside help must plan to use patient and human consideration in training new help. Boone County is one of the most deficient farm labor counties in the state.

4. We are faced with a most difficult problem. It is our war time responsibility to face this job with the very best of our brains and ability.

Former Boone County Pastor Will Speak Over Station WCPO

Rev. Raymond Smith, former pastor of the Belleview Baptist Church, will speak over radio station WCPO as guest of the Calvary Baptist Church, Sunday morning, October 31st at five minutes past nine o'clock.

Rev. Smith's friends will be glad to have this opportunity of hearing him. He was pastor at Belleview over nine years, having left that church for the pastorate of the Highland Avenue Baptist Church, Elmwood Place, Cincinnati, in 1940.

FLORENCE FIRST TO RAISE QUOTA

IN NATIONAL WAR FUND DRIVE ACCORDING TO REPORT RECEIVED MONDAY—$809.00 SECURED BY WORKERS.

The people of Florence and those living in the two voting precincts of Florence have again manifested their magnificent spirit of patriotism and loyalty by contributing to the National War Fund Drive. Boone County's quota for this National War Fund drive was $3,023; Florence's part of this quota was $681.23.

A careful survey was made of the community by the field workers an dsolicitors and $809.00 has been secured. This fine gesture is merely a continuation of the magnificent spirit which has always prevailed. The drive will continue through October.

Florence was the first community to go over the top in the USO drive last year and the first this year to go over in the War Fund drive. The following people who acted in the capacity of field workers and solicitors deserve the credit for carrying on this worthy campaign: Louis Yelton, Ossie Lucas, Stanley Lucas, Robert Eades, C. F. Blankenbeker, Jane Scott, Frances Berkshire, Browne Tanner, Harold Martin, Ralph Stith, Ross Russ, V. P. Kearns, Louis Houston, Robert Becker, Alice Cody, Hattie Lee Cody, Guy Aylor, Ted Beall, Mrs. Beall, Lucille Scott, Cliff Coyle, Gene Schroder, F. E. Fulerton, and Mentor Martin.

Beaver, Mrs. Ruth Green, chairman, $116.55.

Belleview, R. S. Hensley chairman, $119.16.

Bullittsville and Hebron, Charles W. Riley, chairman, $268.88.

Burlington, J. K. Cropper, chairman, $414.07.

Carlton, Reuben Kirtley, chairman, $108.32.

Constance, Mrs. George Kottmyer, chairman, $168.90.

Florence, W. R. Davis, chairman, $681.23.

Hamilton, William W. Allen, chairman, $100.60.

Petersburg, Mrs. Justin Dolph, chairman, $166.08.

Union, Mrs. Martha Huey, chairman, $245.29.

Verona, Fred Hamilton chairman, $149.16.

Walton, Clinton F. Cleek chairman, $484.87.

Rev. C. E. Brown, of Crescent Springs, supplied the pulpit at the Burlington Baptist Church Sunday night in the absence of Rev. R. A. Johnson, who is holding a meeting at Crescent Springs.

SCHOOLS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

IN SALE OF WAR BONDS AND STAMPS—BURLINGTON LEADS IN NUMBER SOLD—TOTAL FOR ALL SCHOOLS IS $5685.30.

Boone County schools have been supporting the Bond and Stamps sales since school opened September 13th. In order to encourage thrift and patriotism among the children, one day each week is designated as Stamp and Bond day. Results of this effort has been very satisfactory in most of the schools of the county, according to D. H. Norris, Superintendent.

Totals for each school up to the week ending October 15 are listed below:

Burlington $1462.25.
Florence $1013.00.
Hebron $1185.10.
Hamilton $12.60.
New Haven $824.00.
Constance $601.55.
Belleview $646.80.
Petersburg, no report.

The grand total for all of the schools is $5685.30. This report includes stamps and bonds purchased by the pupils and teachers only.

The schools are to be commended for this splendid work.

BULLITTSVILLE HOMEMAKERS

On Thursday, October 21, Mrs. Albert Willis opened her hospitable home to the Bullittsville Homemakers' Club for an all-day meeting. Quite a few of our members were absent due to illness and employment. The usual business session was held during the morning hour.

After a most delicious luncheon we reassembled for another of our lessons in the series, "Conservation for Victory."

Our new project leaders for this year are Mrs. Anne Mikkelsen and Mrs. A. B. Ligon. Their presentation of this lesson, "Conservation of Time and Energy" was both hilarious and constructive, with their able demonstrations.

Many helpful and timely suggestions were presented, to help us perform our daily household tasks in an efficient way. One of these was repeating again and again, "Attack each task as though it were the only one you had to do, without using energy up by thinking too far ahead to the next job."

Visitors are always welcome, and a club day is never complete without the helpful presence of capable H. D. A., Miss Gillaspie. She gave us many excellent ideas and patterns for Christmas gift suggestions. Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Jonas Stevens.

HOWEVER BRIGHT THE CHILD—

progress in school is apt to be retarded if young eyes have been strained through failure to provide needed glasses. Before blaming the child, when marks fall below grade, have the eyes tested to determine if vision aid is necessary. An eye examination periodically is low cost eye health insurance, and is well worth while.

★ In war, the Quality of America's fighting equipment comes first and the Quality of America's domestic requirements comes second.

★ That doesn't mean that there is no more Quality around for you, but it does mean that Top Quality is sometimes harder to get.

★ We are still in the business of finding and selling the finest available merchandise at the lowest available price.

★ Obviously, if the second best is sometimes the best available, that's the best that we or anyone else can do.

But this in nowise changes our unchanging responsibility to the customer.

Anytime anything doesn't completely satisfy you, these three options await you:

- Exchange... Credit... or Refund.
- Only thing you won't get is an argument.
- The war is not an alibi in this store... It is only an incentive to work harder for you.

MUCH BETTER

It's much better, we think, to maintain our own private display room, wherein those we serve may make their selections in complete privacy, and at any time that meets the family's convenience. The alternative, of course, is a manufacturer's public display room.

These Are The Facts - - - This Is The Record . . .

BE IT REMEMBERED:

It was the REPUBLICAN party which gave the State the notorious administration of "Flim Flam Flem" Sampson with its pardons, school textbooks and cement plants and its record of plunging Kentucky $6,000,000 deeper into debt.

It was the REPUBLICAN isolationist, John M. Robsion, Kentucky's only GOP congressman, who voted against the Selective Service Act and for every isolationist measure that has come before Congress.

It was the REPUBLICAN Governor Edwin P. Morrow, who after declaring that the League of Nations was not an issue in his campaign for Governor, took the stump in 1920 to denounce and lead the campaign in the State against the League.

It was the REPUBLICAN party, state and national, which fought President Wilson's peace program and the League of Nations and is today threatening President Roosevelt's program for world peace.

It was the REPUBLICAN party which gave the Nation the Tea Pot Dome Scandal during the Harding administration which shook the very faith of the Nation in the integrity of its government.

It is the REPUBLICAN party which now offers the State its hand-picked candidate, Judge Simeon S. Willis, who owes his nomination without opposition to his party henchmen, Sampson, Robsion, twice-repudiated by Kentucky's electorate King Swope and the political trickster Robert H. Lucas.

"BY THEIR DEEDS SHALL YE KNOW THEM."

LEST WE FORGET:

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present Old Age Assistance Law under which monthly pensions are now being paid to more than 53,000 old persons in Kentucky.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which paid the huge State debt, amounting to more than $29,000,000 and has given the State a cash surplus of $11,000,000.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present Teachers Retirement Law and appropriated $650,000 a benefits are paid jobless Kentucky workers. Kentucky's jobless fund is the most solvent in the Nation.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which rehabilitated the long neglected State institutions and public buildings through expenditure of more than $4,500,000.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present Teachers Retierment Law and appropriated $650,000 a year to make it operate.

It was a Democratic administration which sponsored the amendment and enacted the necessary legislation providing for an educational equalization fund for the benefit of the poorer counties.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present law for aid of the needy blind and dependent children.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its rural electrification program which has mean so much to the farm folk of Kentucky.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which sponsored the TVA Enabling Act which makes available electric power produced by the TVA for use in Kentucky.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which sponsored the Soil Conservation Act.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present modern system of high-type roads, rural highways and ferry-replacing bridges, many of which are now toll-free and others shortly to be so.

Seattle, Wash.—On duty with the Transportation Corps, George T. Ford, 22, of Florence, Ky., has just been promoted from private to private first class, it was announced by the Seattle Port of Embarkation. Pfc. Ford was a farmer before entering the army in August of 1942.

In a letter received last week, Cpl. Willard E. Barnes states he arrived safely in Australia. He enjoyed the trip over with the exception of the second day out when he was seasick, after that day he was o. k.

He also states that the part of Australia in which he is stationed is very rough and hilly, but the weather is warm, as they are enjoying spring weather over there now.

Bud's address until further notice is: T/5 Willard E. Barnes, 35115286, 675 A.A.A. M. G. Btry, APO 4665, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

New recruits at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., are two Boone County men.

They are now receiving instruction in seamanship, military drill, and naval procedure. Soon, they will be given a series of aptitude tests for determining whether they will be assigned to one of the Navy's service school, or to immediate active duty at sea.

Upon completing their recruit training, these men will be home on a nine-day leave. They are Charles N. Poulos, 23, husband of Mrs. Mary B. Poulos, Route 1, Burlington; John R. Carter, 29, husband of Mrs. Vivian Carter, 11 Park Avenue, Florence.

The following letter was received from Pfc. Arthur Tanner, Jr., Co. B 715 Tank Bn., APO 263, ASN 15339-693, Camp Beale, Calif.:

"Have received four editions of The Recorder so suppose it is due time to write and thank you for sending it to me. I always look forward every week to receiving it. As a usual thing I receive the paper on Monday, so by that, the news isn't so old. It sure keeps us fellows well-informed on the happenings in the country, which of course, means a lot.

"Like it here in California very much. As a state, don't suppose it could be beat if they were to eliminate the state of Kentucky.

"Where this camp is located it is rather dry and barren during the summer months, though during this time of year it is rather the opposite for it rains quite a lot during the fall and winter months.

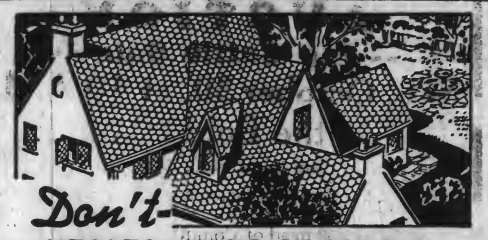
Trees are very scarce, except for the olive groves of which there are quite a few. This camp was built right in among one of the orchards, so we do have some shade, otherwise it is rather warm.

"Have visited quite a few of the large towns while here in the state. San Francisco I found is a great city and is actually all that people claim it is. Found the Pacific Ocean a very welcome pool of water though somewhat too large for a comfortable swimming pool.

"Sacramento is a very nice town, and what amazed me quite a lot was the state capitol. The park around it is most beautiful with its flowers and trees in bloom the year around, seems as though you are in Paradise.

"Have met several boys here in camp from Burlington and neighboring towns. In fact think this camp is made up of boys from the eastern states, so by all means am not alone.

"Get along with the officers fine and do a nifty job in keeping out of their sight. Guess that's the reason I get along with them so well.



"Read in last week's Recorder where the Burlington Band made a big hit over at Aurora Fair. Well I knew it could do it for that old school always did have the pride and glory in making a success of anything it took on hand..

"Is there going to be a basketball team this season? I am sure waiting for some good reports on it.

"Must close now as it is time to start back to work again. Have been writing you this letter on Uncle Sam's time anyway.

"Again I want to say thanks a million for the paper."

Ed. Note: Pfc. Tanner's address is given above for the convenience of his friends desiring to write him.

BIG BONE BAPTIST W. M. S.

Our society held their regular October meeting Thursday, Oct. 14 at the home of Mrs. Edith Sebree. After a bountiful feast at the noon hour our meeting was called to order by singing, "I Love To Tell The Story," and watchwords were repeated, with Mrs. Huff presiding, in the absence of Mrs. Gruelle, our president.

Devotional was brought by Mrs. Huff from Isa. 6:1-10; Jer. 1:1, 6-10 topic, "God's Spokesman."

Prayer by Mrs. Bettie Kirtley.

Mrs. Emerson Bunger, program chairman then took charge of the program from Royal Service, with topic of the month, "The Witness of the Word." Those taking part were Mrs. Alberta Love, Mrs. Marie Hensley, Mrs. Myrtle Marsh, Mrs. Frances Shinkle, Mrs. Baum, and Mrs. Bettie Kirtley.

Prayer by Mrs. B. Kirtley.

We then entered the business session with Mrs. Mary Edwards acting as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Ella Rouse. After roll call and paying of dues and reports of chairmen we were led in special prayer for shut-ins by Mrs. Huff.

We were happy to have as new members, Mrs. Maggie Abdon and Mrs. Bettie Kirtley. Visitors were Mrs. Frances Shinkle, Mrs. Betty Allen, Mrs. Alberta Love, Miss Alma Schwenke and Mrs. Marie Hensley.

We were dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Frances Shinkle, to meet at the home of Mrs. Bertha Huff for our November meeting.

Mrs. Huff, Pub. Chm'n.

Mrs. Louise Lowery of Lyon county, kept alfalfa from yellowing by spreading 4 pounds of borax to the acre.

LEWIS MACRANDER

Lewis Macrander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Macrander, formerly of Verona, but now of Patriot, Ind., and beloved husband of Elisabeth DeHart Macrander was born May 9, 1913 and passed away at his home at Patriot, Oct. 13, 1943 at the age of 30 years, 5 months, and 4 days. When but a small child his parents moved to a farm near Patriot, and there he attended the graded and high school and was a favorite among his schoolmates and teachers.

On New Years' Eve 1940 he was married to Miss Elizabeth DeHart of Rising Sun who survives him. Dear Lewis is no more, his spirit has taken its flight to Him who gave it. A brighter spirit never passed from earth to heaven. He was in ill health two years and bore his suffering with a bravery that was truly wonderful. All that loving hands could do was done to prolong his life but to no avail. None knew him but to love him.

During his life he was always thoughtful of his dear mother. He loved the beauties of nature and often on summer evenings at home with his arm around his mother he would say "Mother let's go look at the flowers." I am sure if he could speak to her now he would say, "Come on mother and look at God's beautiful flower garden." Anything he did was done well. He accomplished more in the short 30 years of his life than some people do in sixty years. He was an accomplished musician and after his graduation from Patriot High School with high honors, he passed Civil Service examination with high standing and was appointed Rural carrier from Patriot which position he held until ill health forced him to resign, after which his devoted wife took over the position.

His funeral took place from the Patriot Methodist Church of which he was a faithful member, after which he was laid to rest in the New Rising Sun Cemetery. The large crowd of friends and the numerous and beautiful floral pieces were tokens of esteem in which he was held by his many friends.

The Rev. Sutton, of Newberry, Ind., a close friend and at Lewis' request preached an appropriate funeral sermon. He was assisted by Rev. Lowe, Rev. Jeans and Rev. McNeeley, all of whom were close friends and old acquaintances.

Besides his parents and devoted wife, he leaves to mourn his death three brothers, Charles of Covington, Ben and James of Patriot; two nieces, 7 nephews and a host of other relatives and friends.

PETERSBURG HOMEMAKERS

The Petersburg Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Eva Carver, October 14th with ten members and Miss Gillaspie present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Gladys Klopp, followed by roll call and reading of minutes.

Miss Edna Berkshire gave the report on shrubbery. Mrs. Elisabeth Berkshire reported on Citizenship. Report of the annual meeting was given by members of the club.

The club donated $10.00 for floral hall at fair grounds.

After lunch, Miss Gillaspie explained the lesson "Conservation of Time and Energy in Home Management." This was followed by Christmas suggestions.

Mrs. Klopp, Reporter.

BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hollis and family entertained with a dinner in honor of her father, Mr. George H. Darby's birthday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Darby and family, John K. Darby and Miss Alice Darby, all of Sayler Park Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Ficke and son James Ficke and girl friend, Miss Marge Trutman, Mrs. Dora Godden, all of Sayler Park; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cummins and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Carpenter, Mr. William H. Weber, of Florence; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Darby, of Florence; Claude Rouse, George Allen Darby and Brice Darby.

Each one enjoyed the day, and all left at a late hour wishing Mr. Darby many happy birthdays. This was Mr. Darby's 77th birthday.

A PROFITABLE COMBINATION
FARM-MASTER MINERAL FEEDER
And FARM-MASTER MINERALS

By placing the minerals in this special feeder, the hogs will get the correct amount of essential minerals to balance their rations. At first the hogs will eat considerable to overcome the mineral deficiency in their bodies. In a short time they will eat only a normal supply of 2 to 4 ounces per day. This feeder is built strong for long service. It protects the minerals against rain, snow, etc. And the price is low—

Mineral Hog Feeder . . . $9.60

Every ingredient in Farm-Master Minerals plays an important part to help put your hogs, cattle, sheep and poultry in sturdy health for big weight gains and heavy production. And the cost is only a fraction of a cent per head per day. Come in and see the feeder and get additional information about Farm-Master Minerals.

Midshipman Newhall Home On Leave

Midshipman Wilbert J. Newhall, IV, First Classman, is spending leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert J. Newhall, III, of Hill Fair Farms on the East Bend Road.

Since he is in the last stage of his advanced training for a commission as a line officer of the United States Navy, this most probably will be his last leave before returning to sea.

The Navy is traditional with the Newhalls. Wilbert's great grandfather served as a senior officer with the United States Navy during the War Between The States, his father during the first World War.

Before entering the Naval Officers' Training some two and a half years ago to make Naval Officering a career, Wilbert attended Riverside Military Academy at Gainesville, Georgia.

Wilbert is a candidate for an A. B. degree in pre-law with a history major and is a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Farmers Interested In Improved Water Supply

Improved livestock water supply is receiving widespread interest from farmers, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. More than 100 ponds have already been built this fall and more than fifty applications for ponds or farm reservoirs construction service are now on file at the County Office.

Three operators have been working in the county. They are John G. Exterkamp & Sons, of Covington, George Vest, 2850 Minto Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio and Harper Construction Company.

A good farm water supply is just as important as good pasture and hay crops. J. C. Acree of the Soil Conservation Service, phone Burlington 680, has been rendering valuable service in assisting farmers to stake out suitable locations for pond construction. Farmers who have ponds built should give serious consideration as to the location and the size of the dam both at the base and at the top. Farmers should also be present when the dams are being built to make sure that the construction is according to plan with a clay core thru the center. Failure to carefully plan this work almost always costs the farmer more money than he planned and does not give as satisfactory a job. The contractor wants to do his work satisfactory but does not always know what the owner wants.

Potatoes, A Victory Food Selection

Irish potatoes are designated as a Victory Food Selection for the period October 21 through November 6, 1943, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. The largest fall crop of potatoes was raised this year—360 million bushels.

There is a serious storage problem. This year's bumper crops of other foodstuffs are already crowding our storage spaces. Extra sacks of potatoes stored in the home now, means that much food saved —that much storage space saved for some other food we'll need this winter.

Fresh Irish potatoes are relatively easy to store if housewives follow a few simple rules, such as:

1. Sort potatoes and segregate all badly bruised or cracked potatoes and use first.

2. Find a dark cool place, preferably one where the temperature does not rise much above 40 degrees, although in the fall a temperature as high as 60 degrees would be satisfactory for a month or six weeks. A cellar, closet or back porch, or even a barrel or pit in the back yard will do.

3. Potatoes should not be allowed to freeze.

During October 21st through November 6th housewives who do not have potatoes from their own garden are urged to purchase potatoes in quantities suitable for storing.

"Sheeny" Begins Boot Training

Craig was born in the county shortly after the time of the Great Commoner's campaign for President and because of the admiration of Mr. Craig for William Jennings Bryan, he named his new son after him.

Since 1918, Craig has been identified with a number of enterprises in the county. His trucks have plied every road in the service of his fellow countrymen. Many a work hour of his labors is memorialized in the rocks furnished to complete Dam No. 38.

When enlisting with the Seabees, Craig's experiences were recognized and he was promptly given a First Class Petty Officer's rating. Again when it came time for departure for the military end of the training, Craig was commissioned by the Naval officers to take charge of and deliver a group of other enlisted men to the training station.

The many of us in the county, who has daily seen Craig and his trucks plying here and there will miss his bantering talk about the current happenings of the day. Best of luck to you Sheeny! Help get it over and hurry back.

COMMUNITY SALE WILL BE HELD SATURDAY ON TAYLOR MILL ROAD

The first of what may be a series of Community Sales will be held next Saturday, October 30, 10 a. m., at the Bohi Farm, Taylor Mill Road, State Route 16.

This will be a stock sale, consisting of a lot of milk cows with calves, brood sows, pigs, about 100 head of community cattle, horses, sheep, etc.—no farm tools.

Rel C. Wayman, 623 Washington St., Covington, and Col. Lute Bradford, Boone County auctioneer, will conduct the sale, which is primarily for farmers who have only a small amount of livestock and for men who are being inducted in the armed forces and want to dispose of their stock. Farmers are invited to bring their stock to this sale.

LADY'S STOMACH WAS LIKE A GAS FACTORY; MEALS TURNED TO GAS

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory!" That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE of STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloat after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh! what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get Erb-Help?"

FREE JACKETS FOR GASOLINE COUPONS

If you would like a wallet, or "jacket" in which to keep your gasoline ration coupons, you can secure one free from your nearest Standard Oil dealer.

These jackets have proved so popular among motorists, in preserving their valuable but flimsy gas coupon sheets, that the first run of a million jackets was soon exhausted, and a new supply is now ready for distribution.

The new jacket provides two pockets instead of one. It will accommodate conveniently not only Basic and Supplementary Ration coupons, but also Tire Inspection Record and other incidental papers. There is also a space for a record of gasoline purchases—date, quantity and speedometer reading.

LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF EVERY BAG

Feed is precious today. No right-minded feeder wants any part of avoidable waste in wartime feeding programs. That is why we suggest:

1. USE PASTURES. They reduce the amount of feed you need to buy.
2. PRACTICE GOOD MANAGEMENT. Live, thrifty well-bred stock pays best returns.
3. HANDLE WITH CARE. Be sure your stock gets all that's in the bag.
4. FEED WITH CARE. Extract the fullest worth of every bag in meat, milk or eggs.
5. GET RID OF RATS. They cost you money, waste feed, spread disease.

Your WAYNE Feed Dealer urges you to look on every bag of feed as a potential producer of FIGHTING FOOD . . . needed for VICTORY!

Wartime Lighting Suggestions

HOW TO GET MORE LIGHT FROM YOUR PRESENT EQUIPMENT

Shade Bare Bulbs

Glare from bare bulbs wastes light by making the pupils of the eye contract—like facing bright headlights at night. When contracted the pupils admit less light, hence make seeing more difficult. Reflected glare is just as harmful as direct glare, causing squinting and blinking which indicate eyestrain. The cure is to equip bare bulbs with shades or diffusing bowls to break up harsh direct rays of light . . . provide restful, eye-easy illumination.

Electricity . . . is vital to war production. Use all you need but don't waste it just because it's cheap and isn't rationed.

BUY WAR BONDS

OTHER WAYS TO CONSERVE LIGHT

1. Remove and clean lamp bulb and lamp bowls regularly. Dry thoroughly before using again.
2. Keep shade linings light. Clean or brush regularly. Repaint or reline dark-colored paper or parchment shades.
3. Sit close enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes.
4. Avoid direct glare from lamp bulbs by using shades deep enough and wide enough.
5. Arrange furniture so one lamp can serve two people. But be sure lamp is not too far way from either person.
6. Turn off lamps not in use. Lamp bulbs use critical materials . . . Make them last longer.

SATURDAY

Six hundred and forty acres of rolling green meadows, a score of world-famous horses and a pack of American and English hounds were used to stage a spectacular fox hunt for scenes in Columbia's newest "Blondie" hit, "It's A Great Life."

The all-action comedy was filmed on location at an estate near Lake Sherwood, California. Among the blue-ribbon horses to be seen in the film are such well-known prize-winners as "Country Doctor" "Belle La Grande," "Lady Gay" and "Betty Blake."

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Airplane racing, an exciting form of sport seldom used as screen material, is seen at its best in "Spitfire," the new Samuel Goldwyn presentation starring Leslie Howard and David Niven. The races are those for the Schneider Trophy, held in the '20's and early '30's until the time when England, with three wins in three successive years, won the Trophy permanently.

"Spitfire" is the factual story of R. J. Mitchell, inventor of the deadly Spitfire fighting plane, his character being portrayed by Howard. Mitchell used the Schneider Trophy races as proving grounds for his then radical ideas of airplane design which resulted in the Spitfire. One hesitates to think what would have happened to England under bombardment by the Luftwaffe had not Mitchell perfected this formidable fighter.

The Great Toe

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

814-816 Madison, Covington

Do you know that the great toe supports the entire weight of the body for an instant, in the last act of walking?

The foot muscles acting upon the four lesser toes preserve the balance of the body by causing the toes to grip in the shoes, and in the last act of walking to give the final spring, or "take off." By their attachment the toes flex at their first (holongel) points and extend at their second and third joints, so that the ends of the toes are pressed upon and grip in standing so as to form powerful propelling levers as the body swings forward upon the toes.

Now, take off your shoes—and look at the bottom of your toes. In every case (there are few exceptions) you will see where the fleshy tissue on the bottom ends of the toes come to a point, from being forced tight together and in many cases the toes themselves lap over one another. This is positive evidence of ill fitted and ill shaped shoes. This continued distortion of toes in many cases leads to bunions, Hommar toes and other toe defects.

Lack of balance will cause you to walk incorrectly and create train in other parts of the body, inducing fatigue, pain and more misery, NOT ONLY in the feet, but even in the back of the neck and headaches. Resolve right now to correct this condition.

It costs you nothing for a thorough analysis of your foot problems and difficulties. Remember you can't be HAPPY with UNHAPPY FEET.—Adv.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS

The Florence Homemakers met on Friday, October 15th at the Town Hall with a better than usual attendance, and we are hoping this will increase with each meeting with our new President, Mrs. Ann Conner, presiding.

The meeting opened with the Salute to the Flag and reading the Collect. Business was soon disposed of and then the lesson on "Conservation of Time and Energy" was started by Mrs. Virginia Goodridge so that we might have the salad made by the demonstrators for dinner. Mrs. Kobman was the efficient woman and Mrs. Lillian Schram the inefficient one. Each of them did her part admirably though every once in a while Mrs. Schram's natural efficiency would show through.

After lunch the homemakers moved to the Methodist Church so that the cattle feeders might have the hall. The lesson was resumed and finished.

We had an excellent talk by Miss Gillaspie and wound up the afternoon with a rather noisy, but very funny game. The closing song "Sing Your Way Home" ended the meeting.

On Saturday morning we had a bake sale at the drug store and had no trouble in disposing of what was donated, for it was practically sold before we could lay it on the counter. We realized $16.50 from the sale, which goes toward paying for Floral Hall at the new fair ground.

EIGHT INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

SUNDAY IN BOONE COUNTY—FIVE INJURED IN WRECK NEAR UNION—BEN ZIMMER, JR., SUFFERS BROKEN LEG.

Five persons suffered injuries in a head-on collision Sunday on U. S. Highway 42 near Union, according to Sgt. Melvin Huff of the Kentucky Highway Patrol. The automobiles were driven by Lou's Hon, 23 years old, soldier stationed at Flora, Miss., and Mrs. Hazel Woodruff Klug, 28, Cincinnati.

Hon, suffered head and internal injuries. He was removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital, then to the Army post hospital at Fort Thomas. Riding with Hon were Lucille Rich, 16, Glencoe, who received a skull fracture and cuts on the left leg; Dawson Courtney, 26, Covington, cuts on the face and nose, and his sister, Mrs. Billie Brewer, 35, Covington, back injuries and cuts on the left leg.

Three other persons riding in the car with Hon, Ernest Hodge, Edmond Alexander and Juanita West, escaped injury. The car driven by Hon was traveling north.

Mrs. Klug suffered a bruise on the eye, but refused medical treatment. Mrs. Virginia Kenner Lanter 25, of Cincinnati, who was riding with Mrs. Klug escaped injury.

Mitchell Corso, and his wife, Mrs. Ann Corso, Louisville, suffered cuts and bruises on the face and body when their automobile failed to make a turn on Highway 42 south of Florence and ran off the road. They were treated at the hospital Mrs. Corso reported she lost a $750 diamond wrist watch and a $250 charm bracelet in the accident.

Ben Zimmer, Jr., Florence, suffered a leg fracture when the car he was driving turned over on the Dixie Highway north of Erlanger. He was removed to the hospital. His wife, Mrs. Jean Zimmer, 23, Elmer Stien, 18 and Mildred Hegge 17, both of Erlanger who were riding with him escaped injury.

Zimmer stated he fell asleep and lost control of the automobile.

Contractor Will Move Equipment To County This Week

John H. Harper, of Cincinnati, completed plans to move a bulldozer tractor in the county for pond construction on Tuesday of this week, according to the County Agent's office. Harper's outfit will work for $7.00 per hour with a five hour minimum job. A scraper with the tractor will also be available for $8.50 per hour.

The new outfit is starting work at the farm of Grant Maddox of near Devon and will cover Burlington and Hebron communities in respective order. Farmers in these communities should keep in touch with operations or notify the county agent's office or J. C. Acree at the Soil Conservation Service Office.

There are now three pond building contractors operating in the county. They are Harper's, John Exterkamp and Sons, of Covington and George Vest, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DIES AT AGE OF 99

WAS LIFELONG RESIDENT OF BOONE COUNTY — SERVICES HELD SATURDAY AT BIG BONE CHURCH.

John Jefferson Glore, 99 years old, Civil War Veteran, passed away at his home at Big Bone Wednesday, following a short illness.

Mr. Glore was a retired farmer and was a lifelong resident of Boone County. He was probably the oldest man in the county at the time of his death.

He is survived by two sisters, Miss Emma Glore, with whom he made his home, and Mrs. Sally Allen, Big Bone; several nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were conducted from the Big Bone Baptist Church Saturday afternoon at two o'clock with Rev. Branham and Rev. Roy Johnson, officiating. Burial was in the family lot at Big Bone Cemetery.

Chambers and Grubbs, Walton funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

44 Percent All Dairy Bulls Lower Production

Forty-four percent of all dairy bulls lower milk production thru their daughters, compared with their dams, according to O. D. Perkinson, Assistant County Agent. Fifty-six percent of the bulls either maintain production or gave an increase.

The above figures were collected by the dairy department of the U. S. Department of Agriculture from all the Dairy Herd Improvement Associations over the country.

The above information makes it more important for dairymen who raise their own herds to select herd sires carefully. The following points are given by Mr. Perkinson as of much importance in the selection of a herd sire.

1. Buy from a breeder that has a reputation for honest.
2. Buy the bull subject to the Bang's and T. B. test.
3. Buy only bulls from tested dams.
4. If possible, study records made by sisters and half-sisters.
5. The prospective herd sire should have dairy type to such an extent that he should be able to improve type in the herd.
6. It is good practice to not use a young bull too extensively until a few of his daughters have been tested.

FLORENCE WILL ENTERTAIN G. R.'S

NORTHERN KENTUCKY CONFERENCE SET FOR NOVEMBER 6—INTERESTING PROGRAM IS ARRANGED.

The Florence Girl Reserve Club is very happy to entertain the Northern Kentucky Girl Reserve Conference which will be held November 6 at Florence. An interesting program has been arranged.

The theme of the program for the conference is "We can! We will! We must!" One of the outstanding features of the conference will be the presence of the Y. W. C. A. Executive Secretary, Miss Betcher.

On account of war conditions and rationing of food, the executive committee decided to have the conference for only one day. The meeting will begin with registration at 9:00 a. m. (CWT). Registration fee of twenty-five cents is to be paid by all advisers and girls who attend. This fee goes to the National headquarters.

It is hoped that each club will send delegates, and each will get new ideas to carry on its work in the future.

The committee has received 102 reservations for the luncheon, which will be served by the Florence P.-T. A. Luncheon tickets are seventy-five cents.

The conference program is as follows:

9:00-9:30 Registration.
9:30-9:45 Group Singing.
9:45-10:15 Opening Worship. Special Music(Florence).

N. C. A. TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

AT WILLIAMSTOWN NOVEMBER 12TH—HONOR WILL BE PAID ORIGINAL INCORPORATORS, IS WORD.

The tenth anniversary meeting of the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association will be held on November 12, 1943, announces A. Threlkeld, president, following meeting of the Board of Directors of the association.

The meeting will begin at 1:00 p. m. and will be held in the Idle Hour Theater at Williamstown. There will be only an afternoon session this year as no luncheon will be served, as an economy measure. It, however, is important that each member attend this meeting.

The board decided to hold the meeting several weeks earlier than was the custom for many years to avoid having the meeting come when applications for loans were heaviest. Completion of ten years of cooperative credit service to farmers in Boone, Campbell, Carroll, Gallatin, Grant, Kenton, Owen and Pendleton Counties is a theme that is expected to make this the association's most important annual session of its stockholders.

As a special feature we will honor the farm leaders who were the original incorporators ten years ago. It was through their vision and foresight that farmers were able to develop their own cooperative credit organization," A Threlkeld said. These incorporators were G. M. Bennett, H. W. Webb, O. B. Bracht, Chas. A. Pettit, R. C. Sechrest and A. Threlkeld, of Williamstown; S. W. Durr, Walton; Wm. E. Ihrig, Alexandria; C. A. Kelly, Fred C. Hafer, Demossville; R. H. Proctor, Owenton; Fred Neihoff, Morning View; Guy W. Collins, Crittenden; R. C. Tucker, L. D. Richards, Warsaw; Ben F. Wilson, Sparta; R. W. Davis, Glencoe; H. E. Ducker, Butler, and George W. Berger, Falmouth.

Dr. H. B. Price, Professor of Economics, University of Kentucky, will bring the main address, his subject being "What's Ahead for Kentucky Farmers." This address will be of great interest to all the farmers and a large crowd is expected. Dr. Price is as well qualified as any individual in the state to discuss this all important topic.

The members will elect one director to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of A. Threlkeld.

Miss Artie Ryle

Miss Artie Ryle, age 66 years, died suddenly at her home in Petersburg, Saturday afternoon.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning at 11:00 a. m. at the Petersburg Baptist Church, with Rev. Ferguson, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Belleview Cemetery.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Hubert Gaines, of Petersburg, with whom she made her home, and Mrs. Bernard Rogers, of Belleview; one brother Ira Ryle, of Indiana, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Miss Ryle was well known thruout the county, having been one of the county's most prominent private nurses for a number of years.

Rationing Board Announce Office Hours

From this date until further notice, the Boone County War Price and Rationing Board will be open from 9 a. m. (CWT) until 4 p. m. (CWT) during week-days except Wednesday. On Wednesday and Saturday the office will close at 12 noon (CWT). It is necessary this change be made due to the excessive office work.

Rabbit Hash Homemakers To Reorganize Tuesday

Local women of the Rabbit Hash neighborhood will meet next Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 10:30 a. m. (CWT) at the home of Mrs. Ada Wilson, to reorganize their Homemakers' Club. All women of the community are invited to attend the meeting.

A lesson on "Bringing Clothing Up-to-date" will be brought to the group by Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. A minor lesson on Christmas gift suggestions will be given during the day. Each person is asked to bring a garment that needs remodeling, scissors, wrapping paper, and a "covered dish."

Program Announced For November

Homemakers will have an opportunity to sharpen their kitchen equipment in the local clubs in November, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. The major project for the month is "Conservation of Tools." All types of sharpening equipment will be available at the meeting for sharpening knives and scissors. Two local leaders from each club who attended the county training class will assist homemakers in learning the proper techniques to be used in sharpening kitchen equipment.

Homemakers are asked to bring questions on meat canning to their meetings, since a canning clinic will be conducted by the Agent.

Committee Chairmen on reading, citizenship, and exterior beautification will give reports of the activities under each committee.

Nov. 3, Constance, Mrs. Gilbert Dolwick, 10:30 a. m.
Nov. 4, Burlington, courthouse, at 10:30 a. m.
Nov. 10, Hebron, Mrs. Joe Hogan, 10:30 a. m.
Nov. 10, Rabbit Hash, Mrs. Ada Wilson, 10:30 a. m.
Nov. 11, Petersburg, Mrs. Raymond Witham, 10:30 a. m.
Nov. 12, Walton, Mrs. Ora Fry, 11:00 a. m.
Nov. 16, New Haven, Mrs. Geo. Baker, 10:30 a. m.
Nov. 17, Taylorsport, Mrs. Harry Humphrey, 10:30 a. m.
Nov. 18, Bullittsville, Mrs. Jonas Stevens, 10:30 a. m.
Nov. 19, Florence, Town Hall, at 10:30 a. m.

Missionary To Speak At Bullittsville - Christian Church

Mrs. T. A. Young, who spent some 30 years as a missionary in Japan will speak at the Bullittsville Christian Church, Monday night, November 8th at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Young and her husband conducted a Mission School in and near Tokyo. They left there in March of 1941 before the attack on Pearl Harbor. Mrs. Young is a life-long friend of Misses Nora and Lucille Rucker, who reside near Hebron.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

Charles Benson and Harry Scroggins left Friday for San Diego, Calif., where they will begin their training in the Marine Corps.

DAIRYMEN WILL RECEIVE GRANT

OF THIRTY-FIVE CENTS PER HUNDRED WEIGHT OF WHOLE MILK OR 4 CENTS POUND OF BUTTERFAT.

The War Food Administration has announced that a dairy feed payment of 35 cents per hundred weight of whole milk sold or 4 cents per pound of butterfat sold will be made to Kentucky dairy farmers, regardless of the cost price that is being paid in any particular case for dairy feed. The rate of payment has been determined primarily on the basis of changes in the price of dairy feed since September 1942, adjusted for relative increases in the price of whole milk since 1938-40, and the average proportion of dairy feed purchased. The first payments will cover October sales, according to John E. Crigler, Secretary of the AAA.

Dairy feed payments will be started as soon as the necessary forms and instructions are received. The payments will be made directly to the producer by the County AAA Committee.

Persons selling cream for consumption as such, or butter will also receive a dairy feed payment. It is necessary to file an application for payment with the AAA Committee, not later than November 30, 1943 with respect to October operations, and not later than January 1, 1944 with respect to November and December operations.

All producers are urged to keep accurate records of all sales of milk, butterfat, butter and whole cream sales, beginning October 1st. Producers will be notified as soon as the County AAA office is ready to receive these records and make up the applications for payment.

DEDICATION SERVICES HELD

SUNDAY AT FLORENCE METHODIST CHURCH—BISHOP U. V. W. DARLINGTON PRESENT FOR ACTIVITIES.

Sunday, October 31, was a day never to be forgotten by the pastor, Rev. Elmer Kidwell, and the members and friends of Florence Methodist Church, when their church was dedicated to the worship of God by Bishop U. V. W. Darlington, Huntington, W. Va., bishop of the Louisville area. This day marked the cudmination of many hopes and efforts. The building was started in 1936 and the debt was completely paid August 30, 1943, so this day was a great day in the history of the church.

The program opened with Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. This was followed with worship services at 11:00 a. m. "Hymns, "Faith of Our Fathers" and "Saviour More Than Life to Me" were sung by congregation, and prayer was given by Rev. W. H. Cardwell, of Visalia, concluding with the Lord's prayer by all.

A duet, "He Will Not Slumber" was sung by Mrs. Virgil Grayson, of Somerset and Mrs. Mortimer Moss.

The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. R. R. Rose, of Paintsville, under whose ministry and able leadership the building was erected. Benediction was given by Rev. C. C. Tanner, Saltwell.

The noon hour was spent enjoying fellowship and very tempting and attractive basket lunch, supervised by the ladies of the church in the basement.

In the afternoon dedication services were opened with the singing of the hymn "Holy, Holy, Holy," by congregation, followed by ritual of dedication by Bishop and congregation. Lesson from the New Testament was read by Dr. S. C. Rice, Covington District Superintendent. Prayer was by Dr. W. P. Fryman, Ft. Thomas. "Awakening Chorus" was sung by choir.

Recognition and instruction of visitors was made by the pastor, Rev. Elmer Kidwell. An offering for parsonage fund was taken amounting to nearly $1100.00. The striking of the match to burn the mortgage was by Mrs. Mortimer Moss, who worked so faithfully and zealously with the pastor in paying of the debt the past year. Formal dedication of the building by Bishop Darlington, followed, with benediction by Rev. R. R. Rose.

Visiting ministers were: Dr. S. C. Rice, Ft. Thomas; Rev. R. R. Rose, Paintsville; Dr. W. P. Fryman, Ft. Thomas; Rev W. H. Cardwell, Visalia; Rev W. E. Garriott, Erlanger; Rev. W. S. Mitchell, Alexandria; Rev. C. G. Dearing, Walton; Rev. C. C. Tanner, Saltwell; Rev. Oliver Thomas, Burlington; Rev. W. A. Wells, Covington; Rev. M. C. White, Covington; and Rev. Raymond Smith, Elwood Place Baptist Church, Cincinnati, O.

Government Issues Explanation On Slaughter Permits

A farmer or other producers of livestock may slaughter without a license or permit and consume meat without giving up ration points, if he qualifies under the following OPA regulations: (1) Raised livestock from birth or (2) for 60 days before slaughter or (3) the weight has increased 35 percent between time acquired and time of slaughter.

In addition, a person must have resided more than six months of each year on a farm he operates, or have visited the farm to give his personal supervision to the raising of livestock for at least a third of the time during the period (one of those listed in the foregoing) on which he bases his claim to the right to consume meat point-free. If a person has his livestock custom-slaughtered, he must meet these same conditions and give the slaughterer a certificate showing he is eligible to consume the meat point-free.

Mrs. Lutie F. Gardner

Funeral services for Mrs. Lutie F. Gardner, former Erlanger resident, who died Monday in Baltimore, Md., were held at the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Burial was in Highland Cemetery. She was 79.

Besides her daughter, she leaves one son, Carl Gardner; one brother, J. E. Faulkner, Lexington, and one grandson, Gayle W. Arnold, Jr.

FIRE DEPARTMENT SEEKING PUMPER

Members of the Burlington Fire Department are making an effort to procure one of the 16 pumpers being allotted Kenton and Boone County through the Civilian Defense Corps.

Last week it was announced by August Hehemann, executive and property officer of the Kenton County Civilian Defense Corps, that 16 pieces of auxiliary fire equipment will be distributed in Kenton and Boone Counties.

The equipment will include sixteen pumpers of 500-gallon capacity, hose, gas masks, ladders and boots. Each unit is valued at $3,000 it was announced.

Members of the Burlington department have contacted officials of the Civilian Defense and believe that Burlington has a chance of receiving one of these units, due to the fact that a department has been organized here, but has been delayed due to difficulty in procuring equipment.

If this grant is made the Burlington firemen, the department will be completed within a short time and will be ready to serve this section of the county.

Most of the pumpers which have been allotted were assigned to communities which now have fire department protection.

Burlington's fire department would be well equipped if it is possible to obtain one of the Civilian Defense Units, and would be capable of caring for a wide area in and around Burlington.

Demonstration, Free Display At Morris Department Store

Friday and Saturday, November 5 and 6th, are MUST days on the calendar for the ladies of this community who like to make beautiful things for their homes.

On these two days a factory representative from the Lily Mills will be in the Morris Dept. Store with a beautiful display of sample rugs made in the new easy and quick way with Lily Rug Yarns. He will be glad to show everyone how to make these gorgeous rugs and will give free leaflets and instructions.

These rugs are truly beautiful and with the Lily Pom and Tuft Form are exceedinly easy to make. The thick, rich-hued yarns come in thirty-three shades so that the rugs can be made to match any color scheme.

It is not necessary to make a purchase, everyone is welcome to come to Morris' Dept. Store next Friday and Saturday, Novmber 5 and 6th, and see the beautiful display, watch the demonstrations and secure leaflets and instructions FREE.

LLOYD SOCIETY WILL MEET

The Lloyd Society will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Town Hall, Saturday, November 6. All members are urged to attend this meeting.

MAJORITY OF 620 GIVEN DONALDSON

IN BOONE COUNTY—CARROLLTON MAN LEADING REPUBLICAN OPPONENT BY SMALL MAJORITY.

Boone County's seventeen precincts, counted Tuesday night, gave J. Lyter Donaldson a majority of 620 votes over his Republican opponent Simeon Willis. The total vote for Boone County was: Donaldson 1359, Willis 739. Only one precinct in the county went to the Republicans, that being Constance.

Unofficial returns from approximately one-half of the state's precincts gave Donaldson a majority of approximately 11,000 votes over Willis. This report was given at 9:30 Wednesday morning.

With many large precincts yet to be counted Both Democratic and Republican leaders said the total vote might reach 450,000. Both parties claimed victory. The Democrats said their majority would be 50,000 to 60,000 votes. The Republicans estimated they would win by 40,000.

Judge C. L. Cropper and R. M. Hall were unopposed, each receiving approximately 1500 votes each.

Lee Shears, running on the Citizens' Ticket for Town Marshal for the town of Florence defeated his opponent Lawrence Thompson by 17 votes. The total count was Shears 125, Thompson 108. The Trustees on the Citizens' ticket were elected without opposition. They were E. A. Beall, Alfred Becker, Clifford Coyle, Robert G. Eades, and A. M. Yealey.

Constance Man To Marry Film Star

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for November 7

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE SACREDNESS OF HUMAN LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:13; Matthew 5:21-26, 38-45.

Human life is sacred—and there is a very important reason why that is true. It is not because of any law of man, but finds its foundation in the fact that God created man in His own likeness and image. Because that is true, no man has any right to take the life of another for any cause except at the direct command of God. Only by the orderly process of law for the protection of society and in accordance with the Word of God may there be any such action by man toward man.

Both of these truths are declared in Scripture in God's covenant with Noah (Gen. 9:5, 6), which was made possibly a thousand years before the Ten Commandments were given to Moses.

One cannot deny that human life is held rather cheaply in many places today. War helps to create that attitude on the part of nations which makes them count boys and girls, yes, mere babies, as "war material."

But not only in war is life carelessly destroyed. We decry the "slaughter of innocents" on the highway, unnecessary death in industry, yes, even in the home.

I. The Prohibition of Murder (Exod. 20:13).

The word "kill" in this commandment is one which means a violent and unauthorized taking of life, and is therefore more properly translated "murder."

Not all killing is murder. A man may kill another entirely accidentally, or he may be the duly constituted legal officer carrying out the law of the land in taking the life of one who has forfeited his right to live because he has slain another.

There is also the right of self-defense, be it individual or collective as in war. But these are the only exceptions; let us not attempt to justify any other.

Murder is more prevalent than most of us suppose. Some years ago we were told that there was a murder every forty minutes in our land. With the general increase of crime, and of drunkenness (which so often incites murder), the current figures would probably show an increase.

Do not forget the deaths, the destruction of life, by avoidable automobile accidents. Some of these were really murder because the one responsible drove with defective brakes, dangerous tires, or while he was intoxicated. Add to these the deaths in industry caused by failure to provide proper safeguards or healthy working conditions, and by the exploitation of child labor, and we say that we should cry aloud, "Thou shalt do no murder."

II. The Provocation to Murder (Matt. 5:21,22).

Murder finds its provoking cause in the heart of man. Our Lord was concerned about correcting the desires rather than to apprehend the offender after the act had been committed. It is the better way, and the more effective one.

In this matter of murder, Jesus cut right through the outward aspects of the matter and pointed out that an angry hatred in the heart is the root of all murder. If we hate, we have murder in our hearts. Circumstances may hinder its fulfillment, but the danger is always there until we remove the cause.

Just being angry—calling our brother "raca" (the modern equivalent of which is "nobody there"), and calling him "thou fool," which classifies him as "morally worthless"—these are the three dreadful downward steps to murder. And they begin in anger.

May God help those of us who have strong feelings that we may not yield them to the devil in such anger against our brother!

III. The Prevention of Murder (Matt. 5:23-26, 38-45).

Prevention with God means more than putting up a barrier to keep us from killing. He deals with the heart, and thus puts the whole life right. It is not even a question of how we may feel against our brother. If he has aught against us we are to do all we can to win him. He may be unreasonable, grasping, and unfair. However, the spirit that will win him is not that of retaliation or sullen submission to the inevitable, but rather a free and willing going even beyond what is required.

It is clear from other scriptures that our Lord does not mean that wicked and unscrupulous men are to be permitted to defraud and destroy God's people. At the same time, we must be careful not to explain away the heart of our Lord's interpretation of this great commandment.

We who believe in Christ are to be in deed as well as word the sons of our heavenly Father (v. 45), loving not only those who are kind to us, but even our enemies.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hankinson on the 27th a fine baby boy.

The little baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dameron has been named Linda Lou. Miss Agnes Poole returned home after a two weeks' stay with them.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Wadsworth Oct. 26th, a baby girl, weighing 12 pounds and 2 ounces. She has been named Wilma Frances Sorry to hear of the death of Miss Artie Ryle at her home in Petersburg. Her relatives have our sincere sympathy.

Mrs. Stella Ryle was called to the home of her mother, Mrs. Mayme Stephens, who is very ill.

Mrs. Myra Ryle had the misfortune to break her arm when she fell at her home last Thursday. She was removed to Christ Hospital by Dr. M. A. Yelton for treatment, and then returned home, where she is doing nicely.

Quite a few from here attended the Hallowe'en party at Hamilton last Friday night.

Howard Ryle, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Ryle, of Rising Sun, Ind., who is stationed in California with the U. S. Navy, returned home last Saturday for a brief furlough.

Sunday eighty-four guests were present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Clore and son to help celebrate Mrs. Clore's birthday, she being 57. A bountiful dinner was served, and many nice gifts were received by the honor guest.

Wm. Delph and family, Mrs. Dora Delph and Mrs. Hazel Braden attended the birthday celebration of Mr. and Mrs. James Feeley at their home, Sunday, October 31st.

Mrs. Minnie Stephens spent the week-end with Mrs. Mary Williamson and husband in Waterloo.

Mrs. Mellie Wingate spent Thursday with Joe Stephens and wife.

Word was received here last week that Pvt. A. E. Blythe has received an honorable discharge from the U. S. Army and is now at his home in Colorado.

Mrs. Nellie Ryle celebrated her birthday last Thursday. We wish her many more happy birthdays.

HEBRON HOMEMAKERS

The Hebron Homemakers met for their October meeting at the Masonic Hall with fourteen members and Miss Gillaspie, present.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. Sue Rogers and the morning session was devoted to business.

After lunch the roll call was answered by Christmas gift suggestions and Miss Gillaspie showed several attractive aprons made from men's worn shirts. The lesson was on "Conservation of Energy" given by Mrs. Rogers. More demands are made on the energy of homemakers and unless she learns how to conserve her energy she will be unable to do her work effectively.

We were also given a pattern and formula for making dustless dust mitts which is another way to conserve our energy.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Hogan and the roll call will be answered by "What I have to be thankful for." All members are asked to be present and visitors are always welcome.

SERVICE BOARD TO BE BROUGHT UP-TO-DATE

The P.-T. A. members in charge of the Service Board in Florence are very anxious to bring the board up-to-date.

The draft board is very busy and cannot give us a list of the Florence boys at the present time, so we will appreciate it very much if anyone knowing the name of a boy going in the service this month, or one already in, whose name does not appear on the board, will send a card to Mrs. George Morith or Mrs. Bill Loftin.

We have missed some names in the past, and we don't want it to happen again, so please send us all the boys' names you know.

The blue stars on the board are to indicate the boys with honorable discharges. The gold stars speak for themselves.

—Committee.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

The following letter was received from Cpl. Edw. F. Helms, stationed in England:

"Now that I feel that I am at last settled for a while, will send you my new APO number as you can forward The Recorder on to me. I haven't seen a copy since I left Ft. Devens, Mass., in August and certainly have missed it.

"How I wish that all my friends could see England, for it's a very beautiful country and truly an Artist's Paradise. The old homes and farm houses with thatched roofs and beautiful flower gardens in front are really a work of art.

"The British people are very friendly and try to help us all they can and it seems to be the children's delight to walk down the street holding a Yank's hand. Of course we give them gum and candy when we have it and it's getting so as soon as they see one of us coming, they yell 'say Mr. have you any gum.'

"The most surprising and best thing of all is the theaters showing American pictures and our American broadcast. We can go to a show and really forget we are so far away or at night we can listen to the radio and dream we are back in the States.

"Take it all in all, we like it very much and are very thankful that we are trying to do our part.

"Thanks for your kindness and you will never know how much we appreciate the paper."

Pfc. Robert A. Zimmerman, 438th Fighter Squadron, Ft. Myers Army Air Field, Ft. Myers, Fla., writes:

"Just a few lines to thank you again for sending me The Recorder, I really enjoy reading it every week, reaching me every Sunday. I sure am glad to get it.

"I just returned to camp after a 15-day furlough with my family and friends. I sure had a swell time. When I returned to camp I learned that I had been promoted to Private First Class, to my surprise.

The Sergeant over me is in the hospital and two of the fellows have left for school, and this sure has left a lot of work for me, but I have been doing alright so far, but it sure is a headache.

"I will say so-long for this time. Tell all my friends hello for me, and thanks a lot for The Boone County Recorder."

Lt. James L. Aylor, 33rd Bn., 6th I. T. R., Camp Croft, S. C., writes.

"I have been intending to write you for sometime. However, I put it off until I found out if I was going to stay here or go to another post.

"I am now assigned here and will likely be here for sometime. My wife is with me and we find Spartanburg a nice, clean town.

"I don't know if I will have to go across again or not, but if I do I am ready.

"In this last War Bond Drive there was quite a bit of competition between Battalions here, but ours won with a total of $28,000. That is pretty good for one Battalion. Our Battallon Commander bought $20,000 worth of bonds, though, which explains why we went over the top. Every officer in our Battalion is buying at least a $25.00 War Bond every month This may sound like I'm a Bond salesman, but I'm not. However, it would be a good job, don't you think?

"I want to thank you again for sending me The Recorder. It has followed me to Iceland and back and it is surely a welcomed paper, always.

"Well, I had better close, wishing you the best of success, always."

Lester L. Griggs, stationed in New Guinea, writes:

"Just a few lines to thank you for the paper. I am receiving it each week and enjoy it very much. There are three of us that read it, E. H. Rosenfeld, of Ft. Mitchell and the other from Warsaw. It lets us know what is going on at home. We all would like to be there. We gets lots of enjoyment from reading it, so keep it coming and we will do our part here.

"The weather is very hot and it rains every day, but we work just the same, trying to win the war so we all can return home, and I hope it won't be long.

Pvt. Robert S. McNeely, Field Signal Battalion M. C. B., T. C., 13 B-9, Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., writes: "Just a few lines to let you know my new address and to thank you for The Recorder. I just finished training in communications and find it very interesting. Really enjoy reading the news of my former home. Thanks again Pete, for The Recorder . . . California is O. K., but Kentucky is still better."

Sgt. David M. Setters, Btry D. 2nd Bn., D., Ft. Eustis, Va., is spending an eight-day furlough with his wife, Mrs. Faye Setters and parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Setters and other relatives and friends.

In a letter to his mother Cpl. Samuel B. Walton, A. T. Co. 10th Inf., U. S. Army, APO 5, care Postmaster, New York, N Y., writes he is fine and in good health, and requested his mother to say hello to all his friends and relatives. He is enjoying his first furlough in England, the first he has received since entering the Army three years ago.

His only brother Pvt. William R. Walton, Serv. Btry, 56 F. A. Bn., APO 18, Camp Forrest, Tenn., returned to camp after spending a 12-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Feldhaus and other relatives and friends.

Soldiers' Dependents Should Fill Out New Certificate

Soldiers' depenednts must fill out and return a new, one-sheet dependency certificate to benefit by new rates provided by recent servicemen's allowance legislation, the War Department announced. All dependents now receiving family allowances are being sent copies of the new form. These should be filled out, witnessed, and returned to the Office of Dependency Benefits as soon as practicable to avoid possible discontinuance of allowances. Until new accounts can be set up, dependents now receiving family allowances will continue to receive their checks in the old amounts. After an account is converted, any sums accrued as a result of an increase in allowances will be included in the first check. The conversion from old to new accounts will take several months.

FOOT TEST

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Usually the first sign of foot trouble is the running over of the heels of shoes.

In a strong healthy human foot the 26 bones are held together to form a substantial support for the weight of the body and they are held together in place by strong ligaments, tendons, and muscles. These bones are so arranged that they form four separate and natural arches.

The heel bone and ankle bone lean out of position more or less in almost every kind of foot trouble. The cause, is that ligaments, muscles and tendons which hold the heel bone and ankle bone in place, become weakened, and are not strong enough to hold these bones in their normal position.

Backaches, headaches and many body ills may be traced to feet. Even symptoms like those of rheumatism and arthritis now are being banished with proper shoes. Also nervous indigestion, sleepless nights, etc.—Adv.

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR 10 YEARS

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and teribbly constipated. Recently he started taking ERB-HELP and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get ERB-HELP. Dahlenburg's Drug Store, Erlanger.

Feed is precious today. No right-minded feeder wants any part of avoidable waste in wartime feeding programs. That is why we suggest:

1. USE PASTURES. They reduce the amount of feed you need to buy.
2. PRACTICE GOOD MANAGEMENT. Live, thrifty well-bred stock pays best returns.
3. HANDLE WITH CARE. Be sure your stock gets all that's in the bag.
4. FEED WITH CARE. Extract the fullest worth of every bag in meat, milk or eggs.
5. GET RID OF RATS. They cost you money, waste feed, spread disease.

Your WAYNE Feed Dealer urges you to look on every bag of feed as a potential producer of FIGHTING FOOD . . . needed for VICTORY!

Wartime Lighting Suggestions

HOW TO GET MORE LIGHT FROM YOUR PRESENT EQUIPMENT

Eliminate Colored Bulbs

Amber-orange and flametint bulbs in round or flame shape give a mellow, amber lighting effect, but there is a considerable loss in light to obtain it. Replace them with inside-frosted lamps of the same wattage and you'll get a lot more light from the same amount of current. It's a good idea, too, to see that bulbs are equipped with shades to prevent glare and to direct light where it is needed. We'll gladly help you in any way we can to make the most of your lighting.

Electricity . . . is vital to war production. Use all you need but don't waste it just because it's cheap and isn't rationed.

BUY WAR BONDS

OTHER WAYS TO CONSERVE LIGHT

1. Remove and clean lamp bulbs and lamp bowls regularly. Dry thoroughly before using again.
2. Keep shade linings light. Clean or brush regularly. Repaint or reline dark-colored paper or parchment shades.
3. Sit close enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes.
4. Avoid direct glare from lamp bulbs by using shades deep enough and wide enough.
5. Arrange furniture so one lamp can serve two people. But be sure lamp is not too far away from either person.
6. Turn off lamps not in use. Lamp bulbs use critical materials. Make them last longer.

HELP REDUCE WASTE LINE

IN AMERICA, URGES BOONE COUNTY NUTRITION COMMITTEE—EVERYONE ASKED TO COOPERATE.

This article, and following articles we hope will help to solve many of the arguments and discussions on the food question of today.

Your Uncle Sam, after 20 years of wrestling with food surpluses, is now asking each and every one of us to get behind a campaign to save food. Why?—

Despite shortage of farm machinery and farm labor, American farmers for the past 3 years have answered the Department of Agriculture's call for more food by progressively stepping up food production. In 1942, aided by favorable weather, they produced an all-time record crop—27 percent more food than the average for the pre-war years 1935-39. In 1943 even this record was pushed still higher, despite a wet, cold spring, floods, and a summer drouth. Why hasn't this been enough?

The answer is that production alone is not enough. No matter how much food the nation's farmers are producing, the demand grows more rapidly than the supply.

The increased demand has come in three main categories: military, civilian and lend-lease. Our armed forces by the end of 1943 will approximate 10 million men. Many of these men went into the army from food-producing, food-processing, or food-distributing jobs. All of them eat more in the armed forces than they did as civilians. Men in service get about 5 pounds of food a day; civilians average 3½ pounds. We all recognize that our soldiers need more. And with more of our troops overseas, in all corners of the globe, supply lines must be extended. This calls for increased shipments, larger reserves.

At the same time the needs of our fighting Allies have increased. While the English were fighting off the German blitz attacks of 1940 and 1941, they were increasing the amount of food they raised and cutting down the amount they ate. By planting gardens in bombed-out city blocks and in the grounds of Buckingham Palace, by draining swamp lands and plowing up pastures, the British increased the proportion of their food which they raised themselves from one-third to two-thirds. On the other hand their armies have also expanded and their food needs likewise.

Soviet Russia which has suffered greater casualties than any of the United Nations has also suffered most heavily in productive capacity. In the first year of Nazi attack Russia lost her "bread basket"—the Ukraine—and other areas which produced 40 percent of her peacetime food. She suffered the same problems of farm manpower as we, as her armies swelled to hole back the Nazi flood. Although all Russia has been cheered by the successes of the Red Army in rolling back the Nazis in 1943, American observers report that this winter food rations will be lower than ever and many civilians will go hungry until the reconquered lands can be restored to production. We can ill deny these fighting Allies the food they desperately need.

To Russia and England combined we sent only 6 percent of our 1942 production. In 1943 it is more, but still amounts to only about 12 percent of our total supplies. Realizing that every support we can give our Allies reduces the amount of fighting our own soldiers will have to do—and that, despite rationing, our food allowances are still far higher than our Allies'—most Americans will take it with the same "thumbs up" as the British, and with the same grim determination as the Russians: "Nichevo"—"what does it matter?"

Nor can we forget the starving people of Athens and Warsaw, of Czechoslovakia and France, or Norway and Yugoslavia. These people have borne the horrors of total war for four years. It is not only good humanitarianism to store up food so that at the first opportunity we can send it to them. It is good military and political strategy as well. As these nations are liberated, one by one, we want them to become effective fighters on our side. Until that time, nothing else can so inspire their will-to-resist as the assurance that day of liberation will bring American ships and trucks loaded with food. To make good on such a promise of food is up to us civilians here at home. When we realize that food saved will mean the saving of lives of our soldiers who must clamber out of landing barges to storm the guns of Hitler's fortress of Europe, we shall make good!

The greatest increase in demand for food, however, has come from our own civilian population. Civilians are eating more, as a group, than they ever have before, although with rationing, upper income families are eating less. Despite rationing, higher prices, and temporary shortages, most American families have been buying more and more food. In 1942 less than 13 percent of the food we produced went to either our own armed forces or for Lend-Lease shipments. With a 27 percent increase in production over the period 1935-39, that meant that our own domestic consumption had increased 14 percent. In 1941 and 1942 American civilians ate more food per capita than ever recorded before, and current estimates indicate that for 1943 our per capita food consumption will exceed that of any year during the 1920's or 1930's.

More people were working. Our unemployed shrank from around 8 million to about 1 million. More people had more money to spend. Higher hourly wage rates, longer hours, and steadier employment swelled weekly and annual earnings. At the same time, there were fewer things to buy. The goods civilians normally would have purchased (automobiles, radios, refrigerators, furniture) were disappearing from the market. Billions of dollars of their income went into war bonds, savings, and the payment of debts—but not nearly enough to make the difference between the 65 billion dollar national income in 1936 and the 116 billion dollar income in 1942. Higher prices took their share of the remaining margin. But there was still a large amount of excess earnings available and food was the most plentiful of the consumer goods left to absorb them. Legitimate merchants all over the country felt the pressure of greatly increase demand. More people started eating in restaurants. And when rationining finally became necessary, black markets arose to supply people who valued their appetites above their country. Through all these channels an unprecedented amount of food went to civilians.

It is clear that if we are to have enough food to meet all our needs—military, civilians, and allied—rationing is necessary. But there is another resource we have not yet tapped. Twenty to thirty percent of the food we produce appears to be wasted! The big and little dribbles all along the line, from farm to garbage can, constitute our biggest reserve of food today. This seems incredible but it is so!

In our next article we will endeavor to show you how even you, Mr. and Mrs. America, and your children, are committing a crime in food wastage.

BELLEVIEW CHURCH OF CHRIST
Sam Hamilton, Minister

Bible School 10.00 a. m. C. W. T. Tommie Stevens, Supt.

Worship Service 11:00.

We are endeavouring to stimulate Bible reading by the introduction of a new plan. Each person is requested to read the assigned portion of some book of the Bible each week, to write out any questions that may arise in connection with such study and deposit them in the collection plates on Lord's Day morning with the regular offering. Such questions will be considered and answered from the pulpit, during the service The minister will base his sermon on some portion of the assigned scripture reading, each week. We are of the opinion that this is an excellent plan, and ought to produce some tangible results.

The monthly Bible School social, which was a Hallowe'en festival, held at the home of the John Holbrooks, Burlington, was very much a success. Some fifty-six were in attendance and enjoyed a grand time. Special entertainment was provided for the youngsters, under the supervision of Mrs. Jack Purdy, while the young people and oldsters were treated to a treasure hunt that took them over a large part of Burlington. Some of the young folk claim that they met a redheaded spook on the way, but we are always doubtful of such phenomena, particularly the redheaded variety. Other games and entertainments were provided for all. Refreshments consisting of gingerbread garnished with whipped cream, and coffee and cocoa were served by the ladies. The affair broke up with a song tribute to the boys in service.

GASBURG

Mrs. Alvin Buffington, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Rogers for the past week, returned to her home in Sayler Park, Friday. Her son Gene spent the day and she returned home with him.

Mrs. Maggie Glacken spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Northcutt, of Florence, and attended church there Sunday.

Lack of pasture and scarcity of water caused some Grant county farmers to go out of the sheep business.

BOONE UTOPIA CLUB

The Boone County Utopia Club met at the courthouse, October 22, for their regular bi-monthly meeting.

We were indeed fortunate in having Mr. Carl W. Jones, our State Utopia leader, and Lynn Copeland, State Dairy Specialist, meet with us.

Mr. Copeland addressed the club on the dairy feed proposition and the dairy outlook for 1944.

Mr. Jones gave us a few facts on the labor situation in Kentucky which is a very serious problem these days.

Election of officers was held and the following were elected for the ensuing year. Lucian Bradford, President; Wilton Stephens, Vice President; Mrs. Lou Pope, Secretary; Elva Akin, Reporter; and B. C. Stephens, Syphogrant.

We are looking forward to our next meeting, which will be our Christmas party, December 16.

—Club Reporter.

Says County Agent Raymond E. Nute of Lewis county: "Approximately $200,000 worth of timber was produced in this county in the past 12 months. This is only about half the potential annual output, but better cutting practices and fire control will have to be put into effect to get maximum yields."

ACCIDENT FATAL TO BOONE WOMAN

STRUCK BY CAR SUNDAY NIGHT WHEN WALKING ON HIGHWAY 42 NEAR DUCK HEAD INN.

Mrs. Lou Allphin, died early Monday, a few hours after being struck by an automobile on Highway 42, fifteen miles south of Florence, near Duck Head Inn.

Mrs. Allphin, who was 55 years old, resided with a friend, Mrs. Mattie Griffith, on Richwood Road. Mrs. Allphin was walking to a bus stop following a birthday party at the home of a sister, Mrs. Mary Markesbery, when she was struck by the car.

She was removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, where she died a few hours later.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith, 22, of Columbus was driving the car at the time of the accident, according to Sheriff J. T. Williams. She was brought to Burlington and held until relatives of Mrs. Allphin requested that no charge be placed against her.

She is survived by two brothers, Willis Markesbery and Charles Markesbery and one sister Mary Markesbery.

Funeral services were held at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Big Bone Baptist Church, with burial in Big Bone Cemetery.

The Hamilton funeral home, Verona, was in charge of arrangements.

Yelton-Pierce

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Yelton, of Florence, announce the marriage of their eldest daughter, Betty, to Private John Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce, of Hebron, Ky.

The wedding vows were read by Rev. C. W. Cantrell at the Lovely Methodist Church in Portales, N. M. at 7:30 on Saturday evening, October 23rd.

The couple was attended by Miss Nellie McCarty, of Erlanger as bridesmaid and Pvt. Jack E. Fleming of Dayton, O., as best man.

The bride was very attractive in a dress of winter white with accessories of black and a corsage of pink roses. Miss McCarty chose a blue dress with matching accessories and corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was given by Pvt. and Mrs. O. C. Hinton, of Clovis, New Mexico, friends of the groom.

Both Pvt. and Mrs. Pierce are graduates of the Florence High School. Mrs. Pierce was formerly employed as cashier at the Jobbers Outlet in Covington. Before entering the service, Pvt. Pierce was employed by the Southern Railway Co.

The couple will make their home in Clovis, New Mexico, where the bridegroom is stationed.

4-H MEMBERS HEARD ON WLW

RADIO PROGRAM SATURDAY—NINE HUNDRED SIXTY-FOUR WARTIME 4-H PROJECTS COMPLETED BY 631 MEMBERS.

Robert Smith of the New Haven Boosters 4-H club and Bernice Sebree of the Florence XL All 4-H club spoke over the National 4-H Club Achiement Day program over radio station WLW at 12:30 p. m. last Saturday. Ohio and Indiana 4-H clubs also had representatives on the program.

Six hundred thirty-one Boone County 4-H club members have completed 964 war time 4-H projects, according to O. D. Perkinson, Assistant County Agent. Enrollment in Kentucky the past year increased 122 percent from 47,000 to 108,000 members.

Members who complete their war time projects are receiving special 4-H victory achievement certificates. Smith and Sebree represented both the county and the state in Saturday's achievement day broadcast.

Griffith Farm Sold To William Rudicill

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Griffith sold their 57-acre farm one-half mile out on Burlington-Belleview pike to Mr. and Mrs. William Rudicill, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Rudicill, have been living on an adjoining farm, the J. W. Goodridge estate for several years. They expect to move to their new home sometime between now and next spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith purchased this farm 15 years ago from Chas. Birkle. We regret to lose these good citizens from our community.

Negotiations were handled thru A. B. Renaker.

New Tobacco Variety Produces Good Crop

Experiment Station No. 41 A, a new root rot resistant tobacco having few suckers has produced an excellent crop on the farms of John Burns and Lloyd Siekman of Petersburg, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

41 A this year proved root rot resistant, a heavier yielder than No. 16, producing a larger leaf of fine quality. This variety on the above farms was grown along with Experiment Station No. 16 and No. 33 varieties. Both Nos. 16 and 41 A were subject in seven bottoms to Fusarium Wilt. No. 33 was practically 100 percent resistant to wilt and produced excellent quality leaf.

Legionnaires of Boone County Post No. 4 are urged to attended special services in honor of the Post and members at Hopeful Lutheran Church, Sunday morning at 11:00. Rev. H. M. Hauter, pastor of the church will bring the message.

Members of the Post are asked to wear their Legion caps at this service.

Mrs. Mayme Stephens

Mrs. Mayme Stephens, 68, passed away Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. K. W. Ryle, Burlington, after an extended illness. She was a native of Boone County, but was a resident of Rising Sun at the time of her death.

Mrs. Stephens is survived by two daughters, Mrs. K. W. Ryle, Burlington and Mrs. John Ryle, of East Bend; two sons Lavin Stephens, of East Bend and Russell Stephens, of Carrollton; three sisters, Ellen North and Esther Ryle, of Aurora and Myrtle Winkate, of Rising Sun; and a number of grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2:00 p. m. at the East Bend Methodist Church, with Rev. Elmer Kidwell, pastor of Florence Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in East Bend Cemetery.

A bazaar will be given on Wednesday, November 24th at the courthouse beginning at 10:30 a. m. by the ladies of the Burlington M. E. Church. Further details will be carried next week in this paper.

OFFICERS NAMED AT MEETING NOV. 1

OF TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION HELD AT FLORENCE TOWN HALL, NOVEMBER 1—LENTS NAMED EXECUTIVE SEC'Y.

The Boone County Tuberculosis Association met at the Town Hall in Florence, Monday, November 1 to elect officers and to appoint committees. R. V. Lents, principal of the Constance School was elected executive secretary and will have charge of the Christmas seal sale; Mrs. Justin Dolph, of Petersburg was elected recording secretary; and Miss Mary Bess Cropper, of Hebron, treasurer.

A committee was appointed to report all cases of tuberculosis in their communities and to keep the executive committee informed of the patients' needs. This committee is composed of Mrs. John L. Vest, Walton; Mrs. Jesse Hamilton, Verona; Mrs. Louis Houston, Florence; Mrs. Lawrence Rodamer, Constance; C. D. Benson, Burlington; Mrs. Hugh McArthur, Grant; Mrs. James Aylor, Hebron; Mr. Everett Jones, Hamilton; Mrs. Geo. Baker, Beaver Lick; and Mrs. Raymond Newman, Union. All those appointed have not been contacted, but it is assumed that all will accept their responsibilities.

It is the purpose of the Boone County Tuberculosis Association to aid every tubercular that is not financially able to aid himself. Mr. Lents stated to a reporter of this paper that many cases have been aided, but due to financial limitations outside aid has been called upon to aid in some cases. He also said that by having a committee representing every community in the county every needy patient will receive some aid from the organization.

Boone County Exceeds Quota In War Fund Drive

Boone County has gone over the top again in the War Fund Drive which was recently completed, according to John L. Vest, chairman of the Ward Fund Drive.

According to Mr. Vest, our goal for the entire county was $3,023.00, and reports indicate that we will reach approximately $3,300.00 when all precincts are fully accounted for, and a complete count made for the entire county.

A complete listing of all precincts will be published in our November 18th issue.

Man Injured By Hit-Skip Driver At Florence

Joe Baker, 46, Berea, Ky., was struck by a hit-skip driver on Highway 25 near the Stegner Rainbow Tourist Cabins, Florence, early Sunday.

Condition Of Woman Shot By Husband Said To Be Satisfactory

The condition of Mrs. Edith Portwood, 22 years old, 323 Crescent Avenue, Covington, who was shot by her husband in the yard of their home Thursday night, was described as "satisfactory" by attendants at Booth Memorial Hospital.

Following the shooting her husband Jesse Portwood, formerly of near Union, killed himself with the shotgun he had used in wounding his wife. The tragedy, was the result of domestic trouble, according to police.

Services for Portwood were held at 9 o'clock Monday morning in Covington. Burial was in Big Bone Cemetery.

Livestock Notes Timely, Important

Feed continues to be a major livestock production problem. Government feed wheat is still one of the best market buys at $1.12½ per bushel f. o. b. Lawrenceburg, Ind., or around $1.25 per bushel delivered. Recent information states sales are being limited to fifty bushels per customer.

New corn has been reported selling at $1.12 per bushel delivered at Burlington.

Vitamins are not a livestock feeding problem where stock is getting sunshine and green feed. They do become important when animals are confined to dry lots and away from sunshine. Green hays and forage crops are fairly rich in vitamins.

Sheep

Breeding ewes are now facing a period when both the grass and grain feed is short. Ewes should be kept gaining in weight up to lambing time. Corn stover and silage makes good sheep feed. Now is a good time to treat sheep with Phenothiaine for control of worms Do not dose ewes closer than six weeks before lambing time.

Hogs

Farmers can still feed $1.12 per bushel for corn to healthy hogs and make some money.

Crops

An acre of good small grains' pasture is worth around $9.00 per month for a period of around six weeks.

Corn fodder is a good roughage —save by feeding early or by baling or shredding and putting under cover.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A Hallowe'en party was given Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loftin for the freshmen of Florence High School, their friends and teachers with Billy and Jimmy Loftin as hosts.

The barn was the scene of the affair and was decorated with the usual Hallowe'en colors. Benches were placed around the walls to make seating space for the forty or more who attended.

The evening was spent playing games and contests. Among those winning prizes were Jean Rose Baker, John Martin, Margaret Fields, Delzie Caudill, Jack Fish and Perry Renaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Loftin were glad to see so many turn out for the party and were especially pleased with the behavior of this group of young people.

LABOR PROBLEM TO BE CRITICAL

DURING COMING YEAR, ACCORDING TO REV. W. M. SMITH, COUNTY LABOR ASSISTANT.

The year 1944 will present a more critical farm labor shortage than in 1943, according to W. M. Smith, county farm labor assistant. Farmers will be called upon again next year to produce abundantly for the war effort.

Many farmers can go along ways towards solving their next year's labor production needs by contracting early between both tenants and landlords or through the employing of full time help.

Both landlords and tenants are quite often short sighted in wanting to change partnerships. One good farmer the past week estimated that it cost him $300.00 in tools, equipment and other losses every time he was forced to change tenants. It probably cost the tenant a like sum, so both were losers and food production was probably reduced. Landlords, tenants and hired help are urged to cooperate more than ever before to see that the fewest changes possible are made. An attitude on all parties to give and take, and work together should be followed.

All farmers whether landlords, tenants or hired help who must make changes, secure additional help or secure use of custom machinery and need help in such activities should contact the County Agent's office in Burlington. All activities should be geared to the maximum food production most needed now by our country.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

James Feeley Sr., celebrated his 62nd birthday, Sunday, October 31 with a basket dinner at his home in Petersburg.

Those attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. James Feeley, Jr., and daughter Rosie and girl friend, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Merrick and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Delph and daughter, Mrs. Maggie Dinn, Mrs Dora Delph, Mrs. Sophia Feeley, Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson and daughter, Mrs. Hazel Braden and son, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Fleek and son, Lee Master, Sol Winkle, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Black and son, Mr. and Mrs. Amuel Hensley, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Craddock and children. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Barnes, Mrs. Mary Jane Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Acra and family, Mrs. Russell Smith and daughter, Mrs. Mary Eggleston and son and Mrs. Avilda Fogle.

Mr. Feeley received many useful gifts. All left wishing him many more happy birthdays.

How To Measure Corn In Crib Given By County Agent

Many farmers are calling at the County Agent's office for information on measuring wagon beds and corn cribs to find the number of bushels of corn the bin will hold.

A bushel of ear corn, measures two and one-half (2½) cubic feet, according to the Kentucky rule. A simple method of figuring is to find the number of cubic feet, divide the cubic feet by five (5) and multiply by two (2).

A bushel of ear corn is twice the capacity of a bushel of shelled corn. A bushel of shelled corn measures 1¼ cubic feet per bushel.

A bushel of good ear corn will quite often shell from 58 to 60 pounds.

HEBRON LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. H. M. Hauter, Pastor

Sunday, Nov. 14, Bible School at 10:00 a. m. Mr. Woodford Crigler, Supt.

Shinkle-Craddock

Miss Bernice Shinkle, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grayson "Fritz" Shinkle of Idlewild and Mr. Arnold Lynn Craddock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Craddock, of Hebron were united in marriage by Rev. Roy A. Johnson at the Burlington Baptist Church, Saturday, November 6th at 6 p. m.

The only attendants were Miss Mary Ann, sister of the groom, and Robert Hays.

We join their many friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous married life. They are at home to their many friends in Hebron, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jarrell and daughter of Walton, were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maurer.

Revival In Progress At Burlington Church

Revival services are now in progress at the Burlington Methodist Church and will continue through November 21, with services each evening at 7:30. Brief prayer services are held at the home of Mrs. Duncan opposite the church from 7:15 to 7:30.

Rev. O. B. Thomas, pastor is bringing the messages each evening. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

"Your cooperation and prayers will make this a great revival," Rev. Thomas said.

Kentucky Reaches $1,000,000 In USO Drive

"Kentucky's goal of $1,419,300.00 in the current drive for USO, War Prisoners Aid, Seaman's Service and refugee relief had almost a million today," Dr. Frank L. McVey, campaign chairman, announced.

"Kentucky has raised $957,012.00 so far," Dr. McVey said, "with twenty-two counties over the top." Pointing out that it is essential that nearly all of the counties of the state go over their quotas if the Kentucky War Fund reaches its objective, the chairman said that many counties are opening their drives this month, due to local conditions which prevented their acceptance of the original campaign dates.

"The success of the drive in all of those counties now campaigning points a lesson to all of us by showing what can be accomplished by joint action and co-operation," Dr. McVey said. "The results of what is done in each county that goes over the top will be a great stimulus to other counties."

Lower Protein Feeds Will Show Good Production, Is Word

Farmers can feed lower protein feeds and get good production in all classes of livestock, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The lower protein feeds should be made up of the best quality feeds available. Protein supplements are the most difficult feeds to secure on the market today.

Corn is the foundation of all good grain concentrate feed. Boone County being in a deficit feed area should be an active competitor for the present surplus corn in other areas. Local truck men are delivering the new crop corn at around $1.12 to $1.15 per bushel. Farmers who must buy corn to feed their livestock should probably consider their winter needs now.

Good substantial producing grain rations for our livestock can be made by feeding corn and a limited amount of protein supplements. The county agent's office will be glad to advise with farmers on their livestock feeding problems.

BELLEVIEW W. M. S. MEETING

The W. M. S. of Belleview Baptist Church met Wednesday, Nov. 3 with Mrs. Bertha Rice for their regular meeting.

The president, Mrs. Helen Rogers opened the meeting with a song, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" followed by a prayer and the watchwords. She then turned the program over to Mrs. Laura Clore.

Topic for month was "Paganism a Challenge to the Christian Witness." Isa. 45:20, 22, 23. Bible study on "Friends of Paul" by Mrs. Florence McArthur.

Those having parts from Royal Service were: Mrs. Bess Ryle, Mrs. Missouri Rice, Miss Anna Cason Mrs. Laura Rogers and Mrs. Bertha Rice.

Mrs. Isabella Smith and Mrs. Irene Walton told us about the program at our Regional meeting in Covington. We had a prayer by Mrs. Isabella Smith.

Our president took charge of the business of society after which Mrs. McArthur dismissed us with prayer.

The next meeting will be held December 1st and we will observe the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions. This is also our annual meeting for election of officers, so we want as many as can to attend this meeting at the home of Mrs. Missouri Rice.

Mrs. Missouri Rice, Reporter.

Mr. O. E. Senour, of Erlanger returned last week to make his home here with his daughter, Mrs. Galen Kelly.

The W. M. U. of the Burlington Baptist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Lee Huey at two o'clock, Thursday, of this week.

TWO STATE POSTS GO TO DEMOCRATS

IN UNOFFICIAL TABULATION OF TUESDAY'S ELECTION—WILLIS HAS MAJORITY OF 8303 VOTES IN STATE.

The Democratic party retained two state offices, the attorney generalship and clerk of the Court of Appeals, in Tuesday's general election, a complete but unofficial tabulation of the balloting established Saturday.

A. E. Funk, Democrat, of Shepherdsville, defeated Eldson S. Dummit, Republican, of Lexington, 261,868 to 259,787, to be elected Kentucky's next attorney general.

Final count in the clerk of the Court of Appeals race was 261,310 for Mr. Hargrove and 261,259 for Mr. Hughes.

The final count placed the majority by which Judge S. S. Willis, of Ashland, Republican nominee, won the governorship at 8303 votes. He received 278,723 votes to 270,420 for J. Lyter Donaldson, of Carrollton, Democratic nominee.

Following completion of the count, final tabulation of which was in Jefferson county, Mr. Donaldson released for publication a letter he had written congratulating Judge Willis. He also issued a statement, which reads:

"In keeping with the privileges of citizenship in a democracy, the people of Kentucky have chosen as their governor the Honorable Simeon S. Willis, thus defeating me as the Democratic nominee for governor.

"Though defeated, I continue to believe in the principles which I advocated as the nominee of the Democratic party, and in defeat I recognize my obligations and responsibilities to the more than 270,000 citizens of Kentucky who cast their votes for me and thus expressed their approval and interest in those principles which I advocated, and to protect and preserve those principles for future generations and the welfare of our people.

"My candidacy was submitted to the people on principles, and I shall continue to give of my time and my efforts to the defeat of reactionaryism and to the success of progressive government in keeping with our democratic principles of equal rights as opposed to special privileges.

"Together with the other nominees of the Democratic party for state offices, I shall always be grateful to the great numbers who so enthusiastically supported our candidacy and the principles which our party advocated, and I shall endeavor in my future activities to prove my worthiness of their support and the confidence thus imposed in us by continuing by efforts in behalf of the cause they supported."

WEED MEETING IS SCHEDULED

JOHN Y. SLEETE, FEDERAL TOBACCO GRADER WILL GIVE DEMONSTRATIONS IN COUNTY ON NOVEMBER 18TH.

Two tobacco stripping and grading demonstrations will be held in the county on Friday, November 18th, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. John Y. Sleete Federal tobacco grader will give the demonstrations.

The demonstrations will be given at the new stripping room on the farm of H. E. White of near Burlington at 10:00 a. m. and at the farm of Joseph A. Huey, of near Union at 1:30 p. m.

Tobacco stripping and grading demonstrations have been held in the county for a number of years. They offer tobacco growers an unusual opportunity to come together for a few minutes to discuss latest developments in marketing practices and prospects for the coming marketing season. Securing the full market value of the crop produced is one of the growers most important jobs. All who are interested in the production of tobacco are invited to attend one or both of the meetings.

WARTIME DAIRYING PLEASES FARMERS

Farmers in Hickman county, who last spring entered upon an increased milk production program to meet wartime needs, are well pleased with the results, according to Farm Agent Warren Thompson. At present they are selling 180,000 pound or about 22,000 gallons of whole milk per month to the Pet Milk Company. As a result of better sanitation methods, less than one percent of the milk is returned to the farmers because of souring.

MUCH BETTER

It's much better, we think, to maintain our own private display room, wherein those we serve may make their selections in complete privacy, and at any time that meets the family's convenience. The alternative, of course, is a manufacturer's public display room.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for November 14

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE SANCTITY OF THE HOME

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:14; Matthew 5:27-30; Mark 10:2-12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.—Matthew 5:8.

As the divinely appointed center of man's life, the home holds a place of such importance that it is the special target of Satan's offensive. That has always been true, but it seems that in recent years the onslaught against the home has been intensified.

Books, plays, movies, magazines, all contribute their filthy efforts to break down all sense of moral responsibility. Sex is magnified, and not in any useful or normal sense, but rather for the stimulating of unholy desires and purposes, the breaking down of Christian standards of living, and the ultimate prostitution of the most sacred of all human relationships to the lowest level of which animals might well be ashamed.

All this means that this lesson should be taught with a holy boldness and plainness which will make it effective for God in our homes.

We do not like to talk about adultery and related sins. We must speak with care and tact, but perhaps the time has come for some straightforward dealing with an unpleasant situation.

I. Protect the Purity of the Home (Exod. 20:14; Matt. 5:27-30).

Any violation of the divine plan for the marriage of one man and one woman, in loving communion for the founding and maintenance of the home, is a direct violation of the law of God.

It is also a violation of the law of man. It brings serious results in the destruction of the home, and in the ruin of individual life—physical, moral and spiritual.

The words of Jesus broaden the interpretation of the commandment to cover all sexual impurity in thought, word, or deed.

We are to be firm and definite in our dealing with this temptation to moral uncleanness even though it be as painful as tearing out an eye or losing a hand. The command here is not necessarily to be interpreted literally. Tearing out an eye will not help if there is lust in the heart. The point is, go to the root of the matter, and get rid of it even if it hurts. Most of us are far too easy on our sinful impulses. We dally with them when we should destroy them.

II. Recognize Marriage as a Divine Institution (Mark 10:2-8).

The Pharisees, who had devised some ingenious schemes for getting rid of an undesired wife, wanted to get Jesus involved in the question. They put him up against Moses who had allowed divorce.

Jesus made it clear that this was not in accord with God's plan and only took place because of their sinful hardheartedness.

As a proper background for the discussion of divorce He set up the divine origin of marriage. He made it clear that marriage was ordained by God, and that it involves a holy union of two individuals which makes them one.

All those who look forward to marriage should realize that it is not a casual thing, or a merely temporary legal contract. It is a union for life—be it for better or worse, in sickness or health, in prosperity or adversity. All who are married should highly regard their sacred vows.

The high place of marriage in Christian teaching dignifies that relationship and denies the misleading and destructive theories of men.

III. Follow God's Law on Divorce (Mark 10:9-12).

Failure to observe God's law in these matters may involve a person in the guilt of gross sin. This passage and others teach that divorce is to be permitted on the one ground of adultery (Matt. 5:32).

Divorce and remarriage other than on grounds permitted by God involves the parties in the sin of adultery. Men may make laws based on the civil contract of marriage which provide differently, but man cannot remove marriage from its place as a divine institution, nor can he add to or take away from God's law concerning it.

Aware, as we are, of the laxness of some branches of the church in such matters, and the almost entire lack of standards in the world, we cannot but present the plain teachings of our Lord and urge every reader to follow the commandment of God's Word.

There can be no question that divorce is a major evil in our day. Statistics are positively shocking, but they are cold and quickly forgotten. But who can fail to see, and who can forget, the awful woe brought into American home life by divorce.

Bad as it is, the awful effect on parents is nothing compared to the nervous, moral and spiritual shock which comes to children in broken homes. And that problem is everywhere.

Why Be Old At 40?

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

814-816 Madison, Covington

Do you have severe pains in the muscles of your legs?

Do you walk with toes pointed out?

Are you bedeviled by a thousand demons tearing at your back?

Do you hate to get up in the morning?

Do you experience foot pain when walking?

Can you be on your feet all day without fatigue?

Any or all of these conditions may indicate that one or more of the four arches of your feet are on the verge of collapse. There is really no end of the trouble that such a condition could cause. Around the bones and muscles of your feet are numerous nerves, all of which are directly connected with the nerve center. Severe pains in your feet are transmitted to every part of your body.

What can you do about it?

For years men and women have withstood the aches and misery due to some foot condition and have always decided "There is nothing you can do about it."

Now Comes a Sure Way to Relief for many aches and pains due to faulty foot condition. You will be eager to rise each morning and meet the conditions of the new day. You will have the springy active step of a youngster of eighteen. You will not be old at forty! There is no secret to it. You don't have to take a long rest, nor a change of climate. You need only to be correctly fitted in a pair of surgical shoes. You may think this is a simple way to end all of pain and misery, you have been suffering for a good many years, but after all don't the simplest things in life bring the greatest joy?

Resolve today that you will pronounce the death sentence on the misery, aches and pains due to foot trouble.—Adv.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

The following letter was received from Pfc. Paul L. Clore, stationed in North Africa:

"I thought I would write a few lines, as I have nothing else to do. This is Sunday night, and most of the boys went on pass today, but I've been writing letters.

"After you go to town once over here, there is nothing new to see—the same old things, streets full of Arabs. Some of them live in holes they have dug in the side of mountains, some have nothing much but rock piles to stay in, and some sleep on the sidewalks.

"The French are living like kings here, since we came over, for it we do buy anything, we pay 2 or 3 times what it's worth. They do our laundry for us, and do they soak you.

"My platoon moved out from the rest of our Company on a job this week—of course I can't say what. We like it fine out here, if it wasn't for these things we call mosquitoes, they are worse than P-38's. We are sleeping in tents, the same as we were in camp, with five men to a tent. There are Diego prisoners here, and they do whatever we (censored) words, they (censored). They have a barber shop in a tent, and they are really good barbers.

"We have hot showers here, the first I've had since I've been in North Africa. We've been having cold showers we made ourselves. When we first got over here it wasn't anything to see a fellow taking a bath in his helmet.

"Bob Stephens and George E. Black are still with me, and we really enjoy getting the Recorder. It's like a letter from home to hear what is going on in good old Boone County. Pete, I want to thank you again for all of us for The Recorder—it's a great little county paper. After we are finished with it, we pass it around and let the other boys read it.

"Some of the boys have a lot of fun out of the names in Boone County, especially Rabbit Hash, but being as that is where I'm from I stick up for it, as a true American citizen would.

"I guess the draft dodgers are having a pretty good time around Rabbit Hash and Big Bone. They may be having a good time, and they had better, for their fun will be over one of these days, when we all come home.

"I saw in The Recorder where Jack Clore is over here. A lot of the boys from Boone County are here someplace, but I haven't seen them as yet.

"Well, I will close for now, hoping to be marching down the streets of Berlin before long."

Stanley Tanner S/2-c, U. S. Naval Air Station, Sec. Dept. Barracks 66, Memphis, 15 Tenn., writes:

"I am stationed at the U. S. Naval Air Station here in Memphis Tenn. Like it swell too. Robert Sullivan and James Haynes are here with me. Robert Sullivan works in the A. & R. (assembling and repairing) of airplanes. James Haynes is in the chow house serving food, and me of all things. have Security Watch or as they call it here, Seaman Guard. I expect to be here from six months to a year longer as they ship only rated men and I am too dumb for that.

"Yesterday was Navy Day in Memphis and they marched and airplanes flew over in such a way as to spell out Navy. It took 36 planes to do it.

They have around 900 planes here. It is a new station, about a year old. It looks something like the airport near Florence, only it is more complete.

"What I wanted to write to you about was my new address, as we three miss The Recorder when it fails to arrive. We sure enjoyed the paper while in boot training."

Pfc. James E. Rogers, Jr., ASN 35675483, Co. A. 715th Tank Bn., Ft. Ord, Calif., writes the following letter:

"Wrote Carolyn and told her to tell you to stop sending the paper, as we were planning to move, so thought it best to wait until we got to where we were going, then write you. I would have written you myself but had so much to do, as I had several other letters to write. I do enjoy the paper a lot and am asking you to start sending it again, if you can.

"This place is a little better than Beale, I think, but we haven't started to work yet. They tell us we are going to draw some equipment tomorrow. We are still in tanks, but they are different. These are amphibian tanks. They are not as heavily armored as those mediums we used to have, only weighing 32,000 and the others weigh 66,000. We are going to start driving them next week. Don't have any idea as to how long we are going to be here, but if we are moved again I'll let you know as soon as I possibly can.

"They took us on a little hike this morning and we went to the coast. It isn't but five miles. Some of the boys had never seen the ocean—guess they thought it would be a good idea if they saw it. It is a lot rougher than the Atlantic, anyway it seemed that way to me. Remember when Grandad and I took that trip one summer, about a thousand years ago it seems? It will be eleven months the 31st since I came in and some of the boys haven't had a furlough yet.

"Week-end before last I went to see Ken and family. They live in San Rafael, 22 miles from Frisco. The baby sure is cute and is very good. He is nine months old. Ken gets to come home every night, and that sure makes it nice. I'm planning to see them again the week-end of the 6th.

"There isn't much to tell you for I haven't been here long, just since Friday evening, October 22. There are approximately 100,000 soldiers here now, but they are shipped out and in. Tell the family hello for me—oh, and tell 'Sickum' I'm going to write him some day. Just tell everyone I said hello.

"Again, I say thanks for the paper for I sure do enjoy reading it."

"Just a few lines to thank you for sending me The Recorder, which I enjoy reading very much. I read about all my friends and how and where they are. I think 'With Our Boys In Service' is read by every Boone County boy in service, with the same idea, that he will find some friend near his own station and to know where and how all his friends are.

"It makes a fellow feel pretty good to read in The Recorder where every Bond quota is filled and we know that we are being backed to the very limit. Boone County was never behind and never will be.

"My station here in Connecticut is a training base for very important work. I serve just a small part as an instructor in radio. We work a full week and ripe like all soldiers but we are behind those boys already over and down below horizon, one hundred percent.

"Connecticut is a very beautiful state but East is East and West is West, always home the best.

"Once again I want to thank you for sending me the paper and pray that soon we'll be receiving it at home and not all over the universe.

"Would like very much to hear from all my friends in and out of service."

Pfc. David A. Lucas 15118206, H. Q. Btry 302, AAA Bln. Bn. VLA, Camp Tyson, Tenn, writes:

"Just a few lines to thank you for The Recorder. I have been receiving the paper for quite sometime and wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your kindness in sending it to me, and want to tell you it sure means a lot to receive it, as I can hear from friends and neighbors, and what is going on in the county. Thank you again for The Recorder."

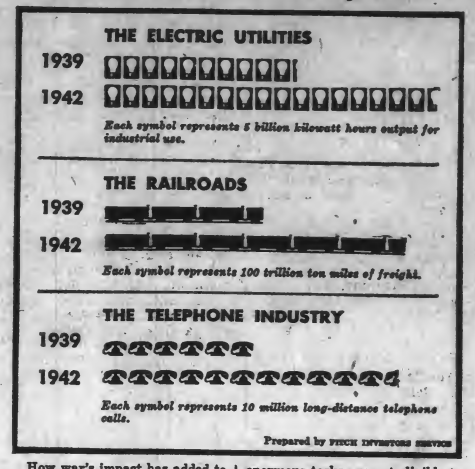
Ivan K. Norris who recently spent a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Norris, was accompanied to Gainesville, Fla., by his wife, who is now located near the University of Florida, where her husband is in training.

A new recruit at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Illinois, is Nicholas S. Furnish, 25, husband of Emily L. Furnish, Hebron, Ky.

Now undergoing "boot" training, he is being indoctrinated into Navy Life, and is being instructed in Seamanship, military drill, and naval procedure. Soon, he will be given a series of aptitude tests to determine whether he will be selected to attend one of the Navy's service schools, or will be assigned to active duty at sea.



Upon completion of his recruit training, he will be granted a nine-day leave.

Great Lakes, Ill., October 30—Ralph B. Sutter, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sutter, Kentaboo Drive, Florence, Ky., has won an early promotion in the Navy as result of his past civilian training. Because he has had sufficient experience in a trade essential in the Navy, he was advanced to the rating of Fireman, second class upon completing his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Station here.

Now home on leave, he will report back to the Station for reassignment to active duty aboard a naval warship or to some naval shore station.

Increased Demand Placed On Service Industries by War

How war's impact has added to the responsibilities of America's utility, railroad and telephone industries is shown graphically in the above chart.

The magnitude of the added volume of work placed upon the men and women of these great service industries is difficult for the layman to grasp. The chart is worthy of study.

In every instance these industries have met war's challenge while maintaining practically normal standards of service to the civilian population. The workers who have quietly carried on these enormous tasks are not eligible to receive official government awards for their truly great wartime accomplishments.

In an effort to give credit where credit is so obviously due, General Cable Corporation -- the nation's leading independent supplier of electrical wires and cables, -- has undertaken to publicize their records of accomplishment. An editorial from the New York Times calling attention to the patriotic contribution of these war workers, has been reproduced in a General Cable advertising release from Coast to Coast.

"BREEZY" PEOPLE WORK FOR HITLER

"Breezy" flock owners work for Hitler by frightening hens and reducing egg production, say poultry experts at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Persons who breeze through the laying house, slam door, "shoo" and carry on may reduce productio by a dozen eggs a hen a year, these men point out.

Kindness and gentleness serve as a feed "stretcher." Tame hens require less feed and lay more eggs. The secert is to move quietly and slowly among the hens. Knock gently on the door or whistle to let them know you are coming. Even a "Good morning, my friends" may be worthwhile.

DEAN COOPER DEPLORES LAND PRICE INFLATION

A statement deploring inflation in land prices has been issued by Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

Questions are constantly arising about land prices and whether they are responding to inflation, Dean Cooper said. Land is in strong demand, is selling rather readily and prices have risen considerably in the past two years, he added.

The two principal classes of buyers listed by Dean Cooper are farmers who purchase adjoining land, and city and town persons who buy land as a place to invest surplus funds. Many farmers buying land are placing themselves in a position to farm more efficiently, he believed.

"Great inflation in farm land prices is undesirable," Dean Cooper declared. "Persons who remember the last war readily understand the difficulties that inflation brings."

Farmers and others thinking about speculating in land might ponder a report which the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station made of the land boom in Central Kentucky after World War I. Approximately 7,000 farm sales were recorded in seven counties, and in 1920 alone nearly a fifth of all farms in these counties changed hands.

Here is what the Experiment Station report says about 167 transactions studied: "For the 167 purchases the average net worth at the time of the purchase during 1918 to 1922 was $18,179. Their average loss on the farm land during this period was 62.9 percent of the net worth, or $11,440."

The report says that many farmers who plunged in land did not have money enough to live on after they paid the interest on the mortgages.

It also pointed out that losses among farmers during the boom were not confined to land. There were "unsuccessful investments in village and city real estate and in stocks. Some farmers lost money in oil development companies . . ."

BURLINGTON HOMEMAKERS

The Burlington Homemakers met at the courthouse on Nov. 4th with 14 members present. Mrs. H. R. Forkner our president, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Courtney Kelly led us in our club collect. Our reading chairman, Mrs. Ora Yelton gave a very interesting description on Algeria. Mrs. Fannie Riley and Mrs. Vernon Pope gave us some very beneficial exercises and taught us how to relax, and then showed us how to prepare for work by sharpening our tools.

Very much interest was shown and everyone brought either scissors or knives to sharpen and learned to do the work themselves.

Everyone made silver polish cloths and took silver polish cream home with them.

Miss Gillaspie, H. D. A. gave some very interesting suggestions on Christmas gifts.

The club was invited to the home of Mrs. Catherine Easton for the December meeting. The lunch committee will be Mrs. Roscoe Akin, Mrs. Courtney Kelly, Mrs. O. D. Perkinson and Mrs. Catherine Easton. Everyone is invited to attend.

11 TONS OF LESPEDEZA HAY FROM 4½ ACRES

E. R. McKinney of Adair county, Kentucky, in September cut 11 tons of hay off of 4½ acres of lespedeza, according to County Agent R. B. Rankin. The field was in corn last year and was sowed to lespedeza in March, 50 pounds of seed being used alone. In April, 1,100 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate was spread on the 4½ acres.

PETERSBURG HOMEMAKERS

September 9th the Homemakers' Club met at the home of Mrs. Herma and Miss Laura Mae Matnews, with ten members and Miss Gillaspie present.

After a two months' vacation everyone seemed glad to be back to work and very glad to see Miss Gillaspie after an extended absence.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Mathews. The roll was called and minutes read by the secretary, Miss Johnnie Mae Terrill.

Miss Gillaspie gave the lesson on "Bringing Clothing Up To Date" which was very interesting. After the lesson several dresses were looked over and plans made to remodel them so they will look up to date.

The new officers were named to serve for the coming year as follows: President, Miss Gladys Klopp; vice president, Mrs. Lawrence Chambers; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Witham; publicity chairman, Mrs. Chas. Klopp.

Our October lesson will be "Conservation of Energy and Time." These lessons are interesting and well worth your time to hear them.

The club extends best wishes to Mrs. Moore and extend thanks to her for her untiring and effective cooperation with our club.

Our next meeting will be October 14th. All members are asked to be present.

Mrs. Klopp, Pub. Chm'n.

One Nelson county field of Kentucky 103 corn produced 107 bushels to the acre, and another field 98 bushels.

NAVAL APPOINTMENTS NOW OPEN, ACCORDING TO PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICER

Appointments as Cadet-Midshipmen in the United States Merchant Marine Cadet Corps with concurrent appointment as Midshipmen, U. S. Naval Reserve, are now open to young men of the state of Kentucky, according to Edward J. Moriarty, Public Relations Officer, War Shipping Administration, Cincinnati.

The appointments, eagerly sought by young men desiring careers at sea as officers in the U. S. Merchant Marine are subject to the following requirements for admission. To quality for appointment, a candidate must be:

(a) Unmarried

(b) Native born or naturalized at least 10 years previous to the date of application

(c) Between 17 years and 6 months to 23 years of age

(d) Possess 15 scholastic credits (mathematics and science are important)

(e) Be of good health and moral character

Appointees may choose either the deck or engineer departments. The first leads to eventual command of a vessel; the second, to chief engineer. It was emphasized that the engineering course offers many fine postwar opportunities afloat or ashore.

The training course has been reduced to eighteen months for the duration of the war and is divided into three phases. These consist of

(1) Basic or preliminary course of 3 months.

(2) Tour of sea duty aboard merchant ships for practical training of at least six months, and

(3) Advanced academic courses at the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy leading to graduation and examination for license as Third Mate or Third Assistant Engineer.

FARM MACHINERY OUTLOOK FOR 1944

Representatives of twenty-seven state and regional units affiliated with the National Retail Farm Equipment Association went on record at the National Food Producing Equipment Conference held in Chicago last week as being opposed to the unnecessary and unduly optimistic publicity being given out by government agencies for the coming year. Quite recently news releases covering the new rationing regulations have indicated that many items of farm equipment will be available in greatly increased quantities in the very near future.

While the farm equipment retailers in attendance at the conference were enthusiastic over the increased allotment of raw materials authorized by the War Production Board, they pointed out that many vital raw materials as well as component parts essential in a completed power farm machine would undoubtedly be slow in being delivered to the implement manufacturers which would result in further delayed deliveries of completed machines to farmers.

Dealers were urged by NRFEA President, Carl A. Nordlund of Auburn, Nebraska, to immediately contact their farmer customers and determine the quantities of repair parts that will be needed to keep existing machinery in operating condition throughout all of 1944. Close and complete cooperation between farmers and local service dealers will help assure adequate stocks of replacement parts.

Mr. M. Lee Marshall, Director of the Office of Materials and Facilities of the War Food Administration told the conference that "Present factors point to a better machinery situation in 1944—with more machinery available, more timely deliveries and better distribution." Mr. Marshall continued to say, "However, a word of caution is in order. We can expect some difficulties to remain. Limited plant capacity, together with the extremely heavy demand for similar parts for military use, for making component parts may, for example, delay the delivery of bearings, magnetos, transmissions, carburetors, connecting rods, crank shafts discs and other items that are needed to complete some types of equipment and get it into distribution channels. I think it is reasonably safe to say we will in general get the machinery authorized under L-257 but some difficulties will remain in machinery production as long as the war continues."

A resolution was presented by the representatives of the affiliated associations stressing the importance of making the greatest possible use of equipment already on American farms and urging that service dealers and farmers continue to repair and recondition present machines in order that there may be no deficiency in 1944 food production due to shortages of essential equipment.

Ration regulations have been relaxed for 1944 but controls are still retained on more than 70 percent of the dollar value of farm machinery authorized to be built in the coming year.

Help Reduce America's Waste Line

Our second article deals with the facts that show us how we waste food. For so many years we have had such an abundance of food that we have developed deeply ingrained habits of waste. For years we were plagued by farm surpluses. There was little incentive to eliminate waste. Some food was left rotting in the fields, some wasted in transit, some in warehouses, some in stores, and even more in restaurants and homes. And though rationing and higher prices have caused some reduction in waste, many of our wasteful peacetime practices and habits still persist. Twenty to thirty percent of the food we produce—approximately 1 pound in every 4—is allowed to spoil or is thrown away! One-quarter of our food production facilities working at top pressure to produce food that we never use!

America in the midst of a hungry world wasting the precious commodity every other nation lacks! There is a challenge we all must face.

Organizing an attack upon food waste is a new job for the American people. As individuals we may have been frugal in many respects, but our eating habits have been developed in a pattern of plenty. As compared with other nations we have never had to exercise unusual care to prevent leakages of food Usually food has been cheaper than labor, so we developed careless shortcuts in the handling of food which saved time at the expense of wasted supplies. We have scorned to harvest off-grade or low-quality crops. We have developed standards of retailing based upon "Sell the best, discard the rest." In our homes, we have guided our food managements by the rule of "Please the palate!" We have made our sinks and garbage cans the best fed members of the household. We have peeled, and sorted, and scrapped from our plates an average of 15 percent of all the food we have brought into our homes.

Yes, these are the facts. Let's examine the home food wastage more carefully to see how it occurs. The average housewife will claim in all good faith that she wastes practically no food at all.

Analytical studies of garbage collected in 247 cities show that the garbage contains an average of 300 pounds of food per person per year—an average waste of more than ¾ pound of food for each individual every day.

This amounts to roughly 20 percent of the food which is purchased by American householders. Adding such waste as fats and oils that are lost in careless cooking or poured down the sink, and subtracting inedible waste such as egg shells, coffee grounds, melon rinds, et cetera, we may reasonably estimate that about 15 percent of the edible food brought into American homes is wasted. This is equivalent to about 225 pounds of edible food waste per person per year, or about three-fifths pound per person per day. Raymond Pearl, Chief Statistician of the Food Administration in World War I estimated that the wastage of food in the home amounts to 5 percent of the protein, 25 percent of the fats, and 20 percent of carbohydrates—or an over-all waste of 19 percent of the calories. Of what does this food waste in the home consist? It is caused by:

1. Unplanned buying—resulting in too much of some kinds of food.

2. Improper storage—food stored at too high or too low a temperature will spoil easily.

3. Failure to plan use of left-overs—the refrigerator is often merely a "way station on the road to the garbage pail."

4. Unpalatable preparation of food.

5. Over-generous serving of food—especially to children and guests. "Company dinners" are typically wasteful.

6. Failure to utilize all portions of food, as:

a. Peeling potatoes results in the discard of from one-tenth to one-fourth of the weight and even more of the vitamin and mineral values.

b. The beet tops are more nutritious than the roots, yet are seldom used.

c. The most nourishing leaves of the cabbage and lettuce are the outer leaves—yet they are seldom used.

d. The skin of vegetables is palatable and nutritious, yet it is discarded and the less valuable inner parts are eaten.

e. Many people discard the heels of a loaf of bread—thus throwing away one-tenth of the loaf. Consider how much more bread is wasted by careless toasting, by bread mold, and by simply throwing away pieces which have been taken on the plate. If every American family wasted only one slice a week (and the real wastage is far greater) it would make 100 million loaves a year. Every religion includes a prayer for daily bread—yet we are very wasteful of it.

f. A little dab of butter here and there gets thrown away—never very much, but if every American civilian would save half an ounce of butter a week it would provide enough butter for our entire army as constituted in 1942.

9. How much needless food waste is caused by our rules of etiquette? Can we afford, in wartime, to refuse to let Johnny pick up the bone in his fingers and gnaw off the last shreds of meat? It is really good etiquette not to tip our soup bowl to get the last two or three spoonfuls? With a shortage of fats, what's wrong with using bread to sop up the gravy on the plate? Can we afford to prepare and serve more food than the guests will eat just to keep up the reputation of the "bountiful hostess?"

h. Squeeze your grapefruit dry! Just one cupful of grapefruit juice provides approximately a full day's requirement of vitamin C. When you fail to squeeze out the juice after eating the pulp as much as a quarter of the value you paid for may be wasted.

We can imagine the outcry that would ensue if all grocers required each shopper to throw 15 cents of every dollar into a hopper at the front of the store where it would be chewed up and discarded. Yet what actually happens is worse. The money is spent for food to be wasted. Labor is required to grow, harvest, and process that wasted food. Transportation and warehouse facilities are required to get it to market. Retail clerks must package, display, and sell it. Garbage trucks and men must be employed to pick it up and haul it away. Finally, where to put the garbage after it is collected has proved to be one of the major problems many cities have to solve. Stinking garbage piles greeting visitors on the outskirts of town—rivers polluted by spoiled food—or expensive incinerators for burning this wasted food are three possible results of buying food which is not eaten. The sights, smells, and facts relating to garbage are all unpleasant.

What kinds of food are thrown away? The Sanitary Engineering Research Laboratory of New York University in 1940 conducted a study of five refuse dumps in New York City, from August 3, 1939, to October 22, 1940, separating the garbage from the refuse as brought in by 168 truck loads, and analyzed the wast food to determine its contents. They found the following percentages, measured by weight:

Baked goods (bread, cake, pastry) 13.9 percent.

Vegetables (beet, carrot, potato, etc.) 27.0 percent.

Citrus fruit (grapefruit, lemon, orange, lime) 29.1 percent.

Meats, bones, fish 7.1 percent.

Our next article will deal with the way and means by which you and I can prevent the criminal waste of food.

COOKED A FINE DINNER; THEN THREW IT TO DOG

One lady recently stated that she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at anything to eat. She was swollen with gas, full of bloat, had headaches, felt worn out and was badly constipated. Finally she got ERB-HELP and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman" since taking this New Compound.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP! Dahlenburg's Drug Store, Erlanger.

The Church Council will meet for its regular business session at the church on Tuesday, Nov. 16, at 8:00 p. m.

STUDENTS PICK BEANS

High school students helped harvest 200 acres of green beans in Ballard county. School children and women were the only labor to be had for bean picking. Other commercial crops in Ballard county were tomatoes and sweet potatoes. Spring floods and summer drouth reduced yields.

GOOD CROPS IN RUSSELL

With the exception of fruit and melons, crops in Russell county were considered exceptionally good. Many farmers reported the best tobacco crop they ever produced. County Agent R. V. Trosper estimates that 1,000 farmers added to their incomes by priming tobacco. Women and children helped pull off the leaves on many farms.

LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF EVERY BAG

Feed is precious today. No right-minded feeder wants any part of avoidable waste in wartime feeding programs. That is why we suggest:

1. USE PASTURES. They reduce the amount of feed you need to buy.
2. PRACTICE GOOD MANAGEMENT. Live, thrifty well-bred stock pays best returns.
3. HANDLE WITH CARE. Be sure your stock gets all that's in the bag.
4. FEED WITH CARE. Extract the fullest worth of every bag in meat, milk or eggs.
5. GET RID OF RATS. They cost you money, waste feed, spread disease.

Your WAYNE Feed Dealer urges you to look on every bag of feed as a potential producer of FIGHTING FOOD . . . needed for VICTORY!

-- REGISTERED JERSEYS --

SELECTIVE REGISTRATION FOR BREED IMPROVEMENT

is simple in its operation, far reaching in its promise of benefits to the man making a living out of Jerseys. In the days when it was first proposed (this came from Jersey breeders as many as ten years ago) there were some who were dubious as to how it would effect registrations, the small breeder, or the large breeder. Research into the records set aside these fears and Selective Registration went into effect on January 1, 1942.

Wartime Lighting Suggestions

HOW TO GET MORE LIGHT FROM YOUR PRESENT EQUIPMENT

Rearrange Furniture to "Double Up" on Lamps

By arranging furniture and lamps carefully, you can often make one lamp do the work of two. An I.E.S. Lamp at the end of the divan, for example, can be moved to the center in back of the divan. Or two chairs or a chair and a divan can be grouped with a lamp to serve two persons with good light, as illustrated above. Be sure the lamp is close enough to both pieces of furniture, though. A difference of 12 inches can reduce the light you get by as much as 50 per cent.

OTHER WAYS TO CONSERVE LIGHT

1. Remove and clean lamp bowls and lamp bulbs regularly. Dry thoroughly before using again.
2. Keep shade linings light. Clean or brush regularly. Repaint or reline dark-colored paper or parchment shades.
3. Sit close enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes.
4. Avoid direct glare from lamp bulbs by using shades deep enough and wide enough.
5. Eliminate orange or flametint bulbs except for decorative use. Inside frosted white bulbs give more useful light.
6. Turn off lamps not in use. Lamp bulbs use critical materials... Make them last longer.

Electricity ...is vital to war production. Use all you need but don't waste it just because it's cheap and isn't rationed.

Town And Farm In Wartime

To Provide More Soap

An increase of about 9 percent in the nation's soap supply, without using additional fats and oil, is expected under adjusted soap formulas recently prescribed by the War Food Administration. The formulas call for a larger use of domestic non-fat materials, principally rosin, as a substitute for fats.

Buy Higher Analysis Fertilizers

Farmers purchasing mixed fertilizer can save money and at the same time contribute substantially to the war effort by buying higher analysis fertilizers, according to War Food Administration officials. Higher analysis fertilizers will cost more per 100 pounds than those of lower plant food content, but the cost per pound of plant food is lower. To help the fertilizer distribution program, farmers should apply for fertilizer needed for fall and next spring as soon as possible and take delivery of it during the fall and winter months.

Can Still Send Some Gifts

Christmas packages for soldiers overseas which have been returned to the sender because of an improper address still may be mailed, according to the War Department. The original wrapper, bearing the indorsement, "Return To Sender, Insufficient Address," must be submitted with the correctly addressed package to prove that it originally was mailed before the October 15 deadline. Christmas packages also may be mailed to soldiers going overseas between now and Christmas. When the sender presents his package to the post office for mailing he must bring the Change of Address Form containing the APO address to which the package is being sent.

Get Points To Send Food Overseas

Persons who wish to send a package of rationed food overseas may get the necessary points by applying to OPA. Those who wish to have the dealer from whom the food is bought arrange for shipment, may make the purchase without giving up ration stamps, since OPA will replace the point value of the foods the dealer exports. When extra ration points are issued, a copy of the Export Declaration or a Certificate of Mailing must be turned over to the OPA office which granted the points.

Return Ration Books in Mail

Finders of lost ration books may drop them in the mail without prepaying postage or enclosing them in envelopes, according to OPA. On payment of a five-cent postage-due charge, the Post Office Department will return the lost book to the person whose name and address appear on the cover. When the addressee cannot be found, the post office will forward the book to the nearest rationing board.

To Produce More Household Goods

Increased production of cast iron skillets, kettles, dutch ovens, and flat irons for household, institution, commercial, and other uses is permitted under a recent revision of WPB Order L-30-C.

To Collect Old Clothing, Rags

A nation-wide collection campaign for discarded clothing, used fabrics, and rags is being planned to meet heavy industrial and military requirements for wiping cloths, according to WPB. Officials emphasized that they do not want clothes that the owner will wear again or can use. The discarded clothing also will be used for local relief and relief and rehabilitation purposes abroad. Materials collected will be separated and classified for best possible use. It is expected that the collection program will be handled by individual states and communities.

Urges Farmers To Collect Scrap

In support of the all-out "Victory Scrap Bank" drive to collect iron and steel scrap, Marvin Jones War Food Administrator, has urged farmers to comb their farms for all possible scrap. Pointing out that next to industry, the greatest source of heavy scrap is the American farm. Mr. Jones said, "American farmers are doing the greatest food production job in history. However, if we are to insure ample steel for wartime production, millions of tons of scrap iron and steel must come from our farms in the next six weeks."

Tire Help For Truck Owners

Truck owners who have tire rationing certificates but are unable to get tires because local quotas are used up and those operators unable to get ration certificates because of depletion of quotas soon may get help through the Office of Defense Transportation. Instructions on procedure for reporting such cases soon will be issued to the 142 ODT district managers. After cases are reported ODT will clear shortages with the Office of the Rubber Director in an effort to get the necessary tires.

Corn Prices Set

Maximum prices for white ear corn are 2½ cents per bushel less than shelled yellow or white corn of like quality and grade, under a recent OPA ruling. White snapped corn is 3½ cents per bushel less. The Commodity Credit Corporation will continue to pay the corn producer for any advances in the maximum price of corn, through December 31, 1943.

Report On Third War Loan

Final figures for the Third War Loan showed $18,943,000,000 worth of bonds sold, Under Secretary of the Treasury, Daniel W. Bell reported recently. Sales to individuals, the first objective of the drive exceeded the five billion dollar quota by 377 million dollars.

Extra Ration Points For Some

Persons who reside in remote areas and are unable to obtain their minimum nutritional requirements of fresh milk will be eligible to receive extra ration points to purchase additional amounts of rationed meats, fats, and dairy products, according to OPA.

Use Synthetic Rubber for Elastic Thread

Synthetic rubber may eventually be used in garters, suspenders, foundation garments, and underwear. All restrictions on the manufacture of elastic thread made with synthetic rubber have been suspended by WPB until April 1, 1944.

Irrigate More Farm Land

War food production will be increased materially by 1945 through the extension of irrigation service to nearly 800,000 acres of land on 13 Bureau of Reclamation Projects in Arizona, California, Oregon, Colorado, Idaho, South Dakota, Utah, and Washington, the Secretary of the Interior announced recently.

More Paints For Civilians

Civilian requirements for essential paints and varnishes will be more nearly met as a result of the recent amendment of Food Distribution Order 42, the WPB has reported. The order increased from 50 percent to 60 percent the amount of drying oils that can be consumed in paints, varnishes, and lacquers.

56 Prisoner of War Camps

More than 140,000 prisoners of war are now held in 56 permanent camps in the U. S. the War Department has reported. The ratio of Germans to Italians is approximately three to one. In addition to the permanent camps, there are many temporary ones set up to house prisoners in areas with labor shortages. Agricultural work done by prisoners include harvesting fruit, tomatoes, potatoes, peanuts, cotton, sugar beets and corn. Only a few prisoners have escaped and every one of them has been recaptured in a few hours.

Potato Pickers Honored

About 500 farm workers from Kentucky, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and West Virginia credited with helping to save Maine's bumper potato crop, stopped in Washington, D. C., recently on their way home and received a vote of thanks on the Capitol steps from Senator Ralph O. Brewster of Maine. Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky responded for the states from which the workers came. Maine's potato crop this year reached an estimated 71 million bushels. This is 70 percent above normal and 15 percent of the country's total potato crop.

FAS Borrowers Repay Loans

Families buying farms under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act have repaid 26 percent more on their loans than the proportion necessary to pay out in full over the 40-year period, the War Food Administration has stated. These payments "ahead of schedule" are the result of a variable payment plan followed by 77 percent of the borrowers. Under this plan families are billed for smaller than average amounts in poor years, but are billed for larger than average payments when good incomes justify it.

Lawyers Aid Soldiers Recovery

Army and civilian lawyers are aiding Army Medical Officers in bringing about the speedy recovery of wounded troops by providing free legal advice which clears up perplexing financial problems and other difficulties which may confront the soldier. This service, provided overseas as well as at home, gives the soldier the peace of mind which is necessary for proper response to medical treatment, the War Department reports.

Will Have Enough Cigarettes

Supplies of cigarettes will continue to be sufficient in volume and quality to meet the demands of U. S. civilians, according to a recent report by the War Food Administration.

Mrs. Maggie Garnett, Mrs. Gladys Spencer, Louisville and Mrs. Nellie Garnett.

The telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. Shears follows:

"The Secretary of War desires that I tend his deep sympathy in the loss of your son Pvt. Robert G. Shears. Report received states that he was killed in action on the 13th of September in Italy. Letter follows. The Adjacent General."

Rev. Branham Resigns Post At Big Bone

Rev. S. L. Branham, pastor of Big Bone Baptist Church, tendered his resignation at the Sunday services, effective December 12th.

Rev. Branham will enter a new field as pastor of the Alexandria Baptist Church at that time, it was announced.

During his pastorate at Big Bone Rev. Branham has made many friends, who will regret to lose him from the church and the community.

OPA Places Ceiling On Boone County Corn

The District OPA Office notified the County Agent's office Monday that the Boone County OPA ceiling price which farmers may charge for No. 2 yellow corn shell is $1.18 per bushel. This price is based on $1.07 per bushel Chicago basis. White corn is rated 21 cents per bushel higher, ear corn 2½ cents per bushel less and snapped corn 3½ cents per bushel less.

For further information the letter advised to refer questions to the Lexington District OPA Office, 152 East Short Street. Lexington, 9 Kentucky.

575 CERTIFICATES GIVEN MEMBERS

OF BOONE COUNTY 4-H CLUBS—GIVEN FOR 1943 PROJECT ACCOMPLISHMENTS — A D U L T LEADERS TO BE HONORED.

Five hundred seventy-five 4-H club members are receiving 4-H wartime victory certificates for project accomplishments in 1943, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent and O. D. Perkinson, Assistant County Agent. Seventy-four adult leaders will also receive victory leadership certificates for their past year's service.

Two hundred and eighty-six boys and two hundred eighty-nine girls who completed 964 wartime food and fiber production projects will receive recognition in ten community club meetings to be held during the next two weeks. Achievement meetings to be held this week include Verona and Walton 4-H clubs on Wednesday, Burlington and Hamilton 4-H club on Thursday and Florence and New Haven clubs on Friday. Hebron club will hold its meeting in the near future. Petersburg, Grant and Constance clubs met the past week. Each club will be scored on its past year's achievement. The winning club will be awarded the Banks of Boone County trophy.

Hartman-Sutter

The marriage of Miss Mary Jane Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hartman, of Erlanger, to Fireman 2nd Class Ralph B. Sutter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sutter, of Florence, was solemnized at 8:30 on the morning of October 26th at St. Paul's Church, Florence, with Rev. Edwin Carlin, officiating.

The bride was radiant in her gown of ivory satin, with an extremely long train. Her long veil was held in place with a coronet of tiny seed pearls shaped into tiny hearts. She carried a lucious bouquet of white roses set off with an ivory satin ribbon.

Attendants of Miss Hartman were Miss Betty Hartman, maid of honor, Miss Helen Hartman, as bridesmaid, and Mrs. Jack Sutter, matron of honor. Mr. Edwin Kroger was best man.

The home of the parents on Erlanger Road was the setting for the wedding breakfast. Later in the evening the reception took place for more than 200 guests.

FOOD WILL FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

HOMEMAKERS ENLISTED TO USE EVER SCRAP OF LEFTOVER FOOD DURING WINTER MONTHS.

All housewives enlisted to make food fight for freedom will want to use every scrap of leftover food during the coming winter months. Leftover food can be made into attractive and nutritious dishes for the family, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

To help with food thrift, home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture offer the following suggestions:

1. Store leftovers, when practical, together in one dish.

2. Store leftover foods cold and covered, and use as soon as possible to save food values.

3. Learn many different appetizing ways to prepare leftovers so that the family will not tire of them.

4. When cooking foods that keep well, occassionally prepare enough for two meals and plan to use the food a different way at the second serving. This saves time and fuel.

5. Stale slices, dry crusts and other leftovers in the breadbox can make scores of delicious dishes. Bread is the most wasted food in American kitchens. Sliced bread too hard for the table can be made into one of several different kinds of toast. Melba toast is made simply by heating thin slices of bread in a slow oven until they are thoroughly dry and take on extra flavor. For cinnamon toast, a breakfast favorite, toast and butter lightly and sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. For french toast dip the bread slices in an egg and milk mixture, then brown on both sides in a little fat.

Crusts and other odds and ends of bread may be dried in a slow oven, then rolled to crumbs or run through the meat grinder. Keep crumbs covered and protected against dust and moisture. Dried crumbs may be used for coating foods for frying, topping dishes for baking, and stuffing vegetables or meat, crumb pastry for cream pies, crumb cake and crumb cookies.

Farm Of 179 Acres Sold Last Week

Paul Nead sold his farm of 179 acres four miles out on the Burlington-Belleview Highway and Woolper Road to Chester Lawson, last week. The deal included all live stock, farm implements, tobacco and feed.

Mr. Nead purchased this farm from Bernard Rogers two years ago. Mr. Lawson is from Williamsburg, Ky., but has been employed the past summer as tractor operator at the new airport.

Negotiations were handled thru A. B. Renaker.

John Haley

Services for John Haley, farmer and lifelong resident of Boone County, were held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Tharp and Stith funeral home, Florence. Burial was in Highland Cemetery.

Mr. Haley, who was 79 years old, died Friday at his home near Florence.

He is survived by a brother David Haley, of Covington and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Finn, of Ludlow.

Tharp & Stith, Florence funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

Growers Invited To Show Tobacco

Tobacco growers are invited to bring samples of their tobacco they have stripped out to the two tobacco stripping and grading meetings to be held in the County on Friday of this week, November 19th, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The Federal tobacco grader will judge the stripping work and will offer growers suggestions on the type of stripping work they have done. The stripping and grading demonstrations will be held at H. E. White's of near Burlington at 10:00 a. m. (CWT) and at Joseph A. Huey's of near Union at 1:15 p. m. (CWT).

Mrs. Russell Finn and Mrs. Bernard Sebree each purchased a fine broadbreasted turkey tom at the Brownfield turkey farm, Butler, Ky., Monday of last week.

Farm Labor Committee To Hold Planning Meeting

The Boone County Farm Labor Committee will hold a planning meeting at Burlington on Wednesday night of this week, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The committee will review the accomplishments to date and will make a study of possible future labor needs and what can be done toward securing farm labor.

W. M. Smith County Farm Labor Assistant reports that 117 farmers to date have been assisted in securing help. A total of 306 farm helpers have been placed since July 1st. Members of the county farm labor committee are C. Liston Hempfling, Joseph A. Huey, and H. E. White.

Mrs. Hazel Runion

Mrs. Hazel Elizabeth Runion, age 37, died late Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, following a long illness.

She is survived by her husband Ernest; six sons, John Nicholas, Billy, Joseph, Allan, Ronald, and Russell; one daughter, Evelyn; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Moore, Verona; three brothers, Milford of Beaver Lick, Butler of Verona, and Gussie, of Covington; 2 sisters, Mrs. Helen Pottinger, of Cincinnati and Mrs. Audrey Robertson, of Warsaw.

Tharp & Stith, Florence funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Hattie Berkshire

Mrs. Hattie Berkshire, lifelong resident of Boone County passed away Sunday at Jewish Hospital, Cincinnati, after an illness of several months. She was 74 years old.

Mrs. Berkshire had spent her entire life at the same home located near Constance. She was the widow of the late Elbert Berkshire.

Mrs. Berkshire is survived by a sister, Miss Laura McGlasson with whom she lived; four brothers, George E. McGlasson, Erlanger, and Harvey, Frank and Lloyd McGlasson, of Boone County.

She was a member of the Hopeful Lutheran Church.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger, with burial in Hebron Cemetery.

Benjamin L. Norman

Funeral services for Benjamin L. Norman, owner of a general store at Union, Ky., for many years, were held at Union Presbyterian Church at 3 o'clock Monday. Burial was in Union Cemetery.

Mr. Norman, who was 80 years old, died Saturday at his home, after a long illness. He was a member of Boone Union Lodge No. 304, F. and A. M., and of Union Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lulu Norman; four brothers, Patrick, Victor, Fielding and Ephriam Norman, and three sisters, Mrs. Maude Rachal, Mrs. Ben Houston and Mrs. W. G. Spears.

Funeral director Philip Taliaferro was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Charles Benson is visiting relatives in Covington and Erlanger, this week.

Homemakers' Club Is Organized At Rabbit Hash Last Week

Homemakers of the Rabbit Hash community reorganized their club last week at the home of Mrs. Adah Wilson. Mrs. Orville Kelly was elected president of the group. Other officers selected were, Mrs. James Wilson, vice president; Miss Anna Marie Ryle, secretary and treasurer; and Mrs. Vernon Stephens, program conductor.

Suggestions were given for remodeling several dresses and coats after the lesson on "Bringing Clothing Up To Date" had been given by Mrs. Vernon Pope and Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. This lesson was followed by a short discussion and display of practical Christmas gift suggestions.

The group selected the fourth Wednesday of every month for their regular meeting date. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, December 22nd at the home of Mrs. Ethel Wilson.

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND MEETING

OF PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION HELD AT WILLIAMSTOWN—13 CHARTER MEMBERS PRESENT.

Many P. C. A. members and farm people ate birthday cake at the tenth anniversary meeting of the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association held at the Idle Hour Theater building in Williamstown, November 12.

The cake-cutting ceremony was a highlight of the meeting. Wielding the knife was Anna Lou Gross, attractive ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gross, of Elliston. Mr. and Mrs. Gross are ten-year members of the association. The association honored the ten-year members and the original incorporators. There were thirteen of these present and each made a brief talk.

The secretary-treasurer, Leonard C. Taylor, pointed out to the original incorporators and others present that the association has served 1,564 different farmers since it was organized in early 1934. Their loans have totaled more than $2,-113,831.00. The farmer-members own capital stock, which is now $26,850 and they have built up $17,-877 in reserves to protect this stock and assure the continued operation of the cooperative.

Mr. A. T. Mills, speaking on behalf of the original incorporators and early members, contrasted the easy money situation with conditions seven to ten years ago when it was next to impossible for a farmer to get credit for farm operations. He listed five major improvements brought about by farmers themselves through their Production Credit Associations. Those listed were: 1. Full year's Production Credit needs provided with one application; 2, did away with age-old practice of having borrower to get "someone to go on his note" by accepting members' own security; 3. applications passed on by committee elected by members from membership; 4, part of nation-wide system through which ample funds are always available whether times are good or bad; 5, substituted service for profit motive by putting ownership of credit system in hands of farmers using it.

Dr. H. B. Price, Professor at the University of Kentucky, discussed "What's Ahead For the Farmer" by use of price graphs. His discussion dealt with prices of farm products since 1812 in this country. He showed how prices have spiraled during war times and crashed soon after cessation of hostilities. He pointed out some curbs to inflation being used at the present time and their probable effect. He stressed that control of inflation of farm lands and farm products rests mainly on the farmer and his willingness to cooperate with the curbs imposed by the government.

Mr. A. Threlkeld of Mason was re-elected as director for a three-year term. Mr. Threlkeld has been president of the Association since its organization.

Cake and cider were served to all present at the conclusion of the program.

Mr. C. Liston Hempfling, Vice President, presided over the meeting. E. R. Raymond and H. M. Heizer of the Production Credit Corporation of Louisville were present.

Ladies' Aid Will Meet

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Hopeful Lutheran Church will meet next Tuesday, November 23rd at Hopeful Church. At this time quilting will be done for several of the members and for anyone desiring this kind of work.

Six Vehicles Figure In Crash Near Florence

A school bus loaded with children narrowly escaped being involved in a collision on the Dixie Highway, near Florence Monday, involving a truck and five autos, according to Sheriff Jake Williams.

The bus was brought to a quick stop on the wet road. Two autos following it applied brakes rapidly and the truck, containing eggs, driving close behind, crashed into them. Three other autos crashed into the rear of the truck. The school bus was not damaged, Sheriff Williams said.

Clay Stephens, nephew of L. R. Barlow, of Union, was killed Tuesday in an airplane crash, according to a report received by relatives here, early Wednesday.

Army Plane Makes Landing On New Airport Near Hebron, Sunday

A twin-engine Army plane was the first to test the new runways of the Boone County Airport near Hebron.

The pilot, who had missed Lunken Airport where he had planned to refuel was forced to land on the new airport, due to shortage of gasoline. He was enroute to Bowman Field.

The plane circled the field twice, then came in for a landing. We were unable to obtain the pilot's name.

Thanksgiving Service Will Be Held At Local Methodist Church

A special Thanksgiving service, which has been an annual affair at Burlington, will be again observed this year.

The service will be held in the Methodist Church, Tuesday, November 23rd, at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Roy Johnson, pastor of the Baptist Church will be the speaker for this occasion. Special music and songs will be an interesting feature of the program.

We extend a cordial invitation to all to come and worship in this service. Special recognition will be given to our boys in the service. Surely every mother and father will want to join in prayer for them.

William O. Richey

William O. Richey, lifelong resident of Walton passed away at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Sunday, following a long illness.

Funeral services were conducted from Chambers & Grubbs funeral home Tuesday at 2 p. m. with Rev. W. H. Cardwell, pastor of Visalia Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in Independence Cemetery.

Mr. Richey is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ida F. Richey; four daughters, Mrs. John A. Roberts, Walton, Mrs. C. D. Hall, Covington, Mrs. John Stephenson, Walton, Mrs. Kermit Caloway, Cincinnati; 9 grandchildren; 5 great-grandchildren and 1 brother, Edward Richey, of Independence, Mo.

Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of arrangements.

DeLanie Roberts

Funeral services for DeLanie Roberts of Bullittsville, were conducted from Bullittsville Christian Church Saturday, November 13th at 2 p. m. Burial was in Richwood Cemetery.

Mr. Roberts passed away Thursday in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Engle, Bullittsville, after a brief illness. He was a native of Perry County and a former sheriff of that county.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Chas. Engle, Mrs. Sam Patrick; two sons, Samuel and Burnam Roberts, all of Boone County; 1 brother, Sewell Roberts of Lost Creek, Ky; four sisters, Mrs. Korolink, Lost Creek, Mrs. W. L. Campbell, Hazard, Mrs. Rebecca Allen, Buckhorn, Mrs. Serena Gillum, of Portsmouth and two grandchildren.

Chambers and Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Sunday, Nov. 21, Bible School at 10:00 a. m. Mr. Wm. Meier, Supt.

The Lutheran men of Greater Cincinnati will meet at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Newport, on Monday, Nov. 22, at 8:00 p. m. All men of the church cordially invited. Speaker, Rev. Joseph O'Morrow, pastor of Norwood Lutheran Church.

Service Men Will Be Honored Sunday

At a special service to be held Sunday, Nov. 21, 8:00 p. m., the Constance Christian Church will honor the service men in a special service to be conducted at the Church.

A service flag with some thirty or thirty-one stars will be unveiled. An appropriate program has been scheduled, and the committee hopes to have an accurate roll of all boys from the immediate community, at which time the roll will be presented. As a special feature of the program a special quartet from the Ludlow High School Band will be heard.

A special invitation is extended to everyone and especially to relatives and friends of boys in service who are from the immediate vicinity of the Constance Church.

WAR FUND DRIVE GOES OVER TOP

QUOTA IS EXCEEDED BY 15 PER CENT, ACCORDING TO REPORT —THANKS EXTENDED TO ALL WORKERS.

Boone County's quota in the War Fund Drive has been exceeded by more than 15 per cent, every precinct in the county raising more than its allotted quota except one.

Boone County quota was $3,023.11 and at a meeting held at Florence on October 8 when the drive was launched, Mr. Edward A. Vosmer, President of the First National Bank and Trust Co., of Covington, Ky., who was chairman of the Third War Bond Drive for the area including Boone County, together with Mr. Albert Reik, Assistant Vice President of the Fifth Third National Bank, Cincinnati, who was vice chairman of the same area and both of whom were present at the meeting at Florence, made the first subscription to the drive. This first subscription between these two gentlemen amounting to $23.11, leaving Boone County's balance an even sum of $3000,00.

In the same spirit which has heretofore characterized Boone County's citizenship, instead of raising $3,000.00, they raised practically $3500.00. The various precincts, the chairmen of the precincts, the quotas allotted to the precincts and actual amounts raised in the several precincts are as follows:

Precinct	Quota	Sub.
Beaver	$116.55	$153.60
Belleview	119.16	121.00
Bullittsville and Hebron	268.88	353.50
Burlington	414.07	506.39
Carlton	108.32	64.00
Constance	168.90	175.00
Florence	681.23	826.00
Hamilton	100.60	109.16
Petersburg	166.08	226.60
Union	245.29	278.75
Verona	149.16	150.00
Walton	484.87	527.00
Mr. Albert Reik and Mr. Edward A. Vosmer		23.11

Chairmen of the various precincts follows: Beaver, Mrs. Ruth Green; Belleview, R. S. Hensley; Bullittsville and Hebron, Charles W. Riley; Burlington, J. K. Cropper; Carlton, Reuben Kirtley; Constance, Mrs. George Kottmyer; Florence, W. R. Davis; Hamilton, William Walker; Petersburg, Mrs. Justin Dolph; Union, Mrs. Martha Huey; Verona, Fred Hamilton; Walton, Clinton F. Cleek.

This has been reported to Mr. Frank L. McVey, State Chairman and he is very hearty in his praise of the Boone County people. He says in part:

"The success of the drive points a lesson to all of us by showing what can be accomplished by joint action and cooperation. The results in your county will be a great stimulus to other counties in coming along with their drive."

John L. Vest, Boone County Chairman said: "Along with Mr. McVey as State Chairman, I want to thank every precinct chairman and every worker, no matter how small his or her contribution may have been, because it is this spirit of cooperation and unity which we must all put forth in order to bring this war to a close."

GOOD RECORD MADE BY DHIA

AVERAGE OF 457 POUNDS OF MILK PER COW RECORDED BY ASSOCIATION, ACCORDING TO TESTER.

The twenty-five members of the Northern Kentucky Dairy Herd Improvement Association did a good job in producing milk the past month, according to Wilson Short, cow tester for the association.

The twenty-five members owned an average of 18 cows per herd. The herds produced 457 pounds of milk per cow, which averaged 21.9 pounds of fat with a feed cost of $1.88 per hundred pounds or 39 cents per pound of butterfat. Ten members were feeding silage and four were feeding wet brewers grains. All but one member was feeding grain consentrate feeds which averaged 16.7 per cent protein.

The average production and profits per cow can not be judged from the DHIA members, in that this group represents the most efficient class of dairymen. Feed costs represents less than 60 per cent of the total costs of production.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for November 21

HONESTY IN ALL THINGS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:15; Leviticus 19:11, 13; Luke 19:1-10, 45, 46.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt not steal.—Exodus 20:15.

Honesty seems to be so obviously right that one might expect it always and everywhere—if bitter experience had not indicated the opposite to be true.

As a matter of fact, dishonesty has become so common that a person who is strictly honest is a bit of a novelty. Some even think he is peculiar.

Under such circumstances the Christian needs to be vigilant lest he also accommodate his own ideas of honesty and begin to justify little evasions rather than being absolutely upright.

The teaching of Scripture on this matter is very plain.

I. Honesty and Fair Dealing (Exod. 20:15; Lev. 19:11, 13).

The very commandment against stealing implies that men have a right to that which they have made, earned, or saved. If no one had property rights there could be no stealing. Some of our modern isms deny such rights, but their reasoning is clearly not biblical or Christian.

"Thou shalt not steal" forbids every kind of theft, and the passages from Leviticus indicate that this includes more than robbery or ordinary stealing.

It relates to every kind of false dealing with another, such as oppression or the withholding of just wages. That, too, is stealing in God's sight.

Perhaps we ought to be more specific and apply the truth to our own day. Stealing includes such things as loafing on one's job, "borrowing" money from the cash drawer, taking goods from the stock with which one is working, stealing another man's sermon and preaching it as one's own, "lifting" material out of another man's book without credit, contracting debts which one can never pay, using false weights and measures, adulterating food or other material, "watering" milk for sale, selling worthless stock, dodging taxes or lying to the tax assessor, or using a slug instead of a nickel in the telephone to escape proper payment.

One might add gambling (which is taking another man's property by skill or by chance), making an unduly large profit on the labor of another, making money out of the sorrows and failures of others, etc. To be honest means to be fair—and that has broad implications.

II. Honesty and Restoration (Luke 19:1-10).

The reality and thoroughness of Zacchaeus' conversion was indicated by his willingness to restore all the money he had unjustly (but legally, note that!) taken from his fellow citizens—and that in fourfold measure.

Insofar as it is possible to do so, the honest person will make right any known injustice. To be right with God must mean that we are to be right with men. The testimony of many Christians could be presented to show that they have only entered upon real peace and usefulness as they have made consistent effort to right every wrong, to pay every debt.

Often such actions open opportunities for Christian testimony and point others to the redemption in Christ, which makes a man live right as well as talk right.

III. Honesty and Religion (Luke 19:45, 46).

One might think it unnecessary to urge honesty upon religious folk. They ought to be honest. But here we see in sharp contrast to the quick honesty and restitution of Zacchaeus, the stubborn disobedience and dishonesty of the priests in the temple. Jesus had already cleansed the temple of the traffic in moneychanging and the sale of animals for sacrifice practiced there (see John 2:13-17). On that occasion He rebuked them because they made His Father's house "a house of merchandise."

Had they known the change of heart of a converted Zacchaeus they would have heeded His admonition. But they did not believe in Christ and went on with their ungodly desecration of the temple area until it became "a den of thieves" (v. 46).

What happened so long ago needs application to our present day. So apt is the quotation from the "Lesson Commentary" which we have used before that we repeat it now.

Speaking of "the goings on in our own churches" the writer says, "Is a church honest when it assumes obligations that it cannot meet, and is then forced to use all sorts of questionable means to raise money for the benefit of the church? Is a church honest when it turns a building consecrated to the worship of God into a restaurant or a theater, Is a church honest that turns its pulpit into a lecture platform for the discussion of current events or the review of popular books or plays?"

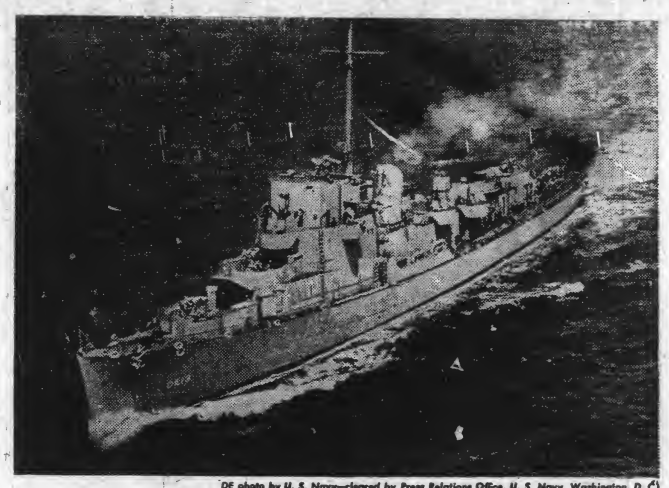
DESTROYER-ESCORT BUILT IN 25 DAYS

NEW WORLD'S RECORD IN SHIP CONSTRUCTION

Beats World War I Destroyer Time of 45½ Days—Bethlehem Set Both Marks



Has Large Gun-Power for Both Offensive and Defensive Service; Equipped for Surface, Depth Bomb and Anti-Aircraft Combat

Beating all prior records, the destroyer-escort Reynolds was completed and delivered Nov. 3 to the U. S. Navy, by the Bethlehem-Hingham Shipyard just 25 days after keel laying.

The Reynolds is a hard-hitting, fighting unit with great fire-power and speed, a bigger, more powerful ship than the destroyer Reid, which held the previous production record of being built in 45½ days, during World War I. Bethlehem built both ships.

The Reynolds has terrific battle armament for surface, depth bomb, or anti-aircraft combat. Her main battery has guns mounted in three turrets which can revolve in a complete circle to follow a target, and can be fired by a trained crew with amazing accuracy and rapidity. Aft is a 40-mm. Bofors gun, each barrel capable of firing 120 rounds of 2-pound projectiles per minute. She has numerous 20-mm. Oerlikon machine guns with a potential fire-power of nearly 400 shells every 60 seconds. Also, along port and starboard rails aft of amidships are a flock of K-guns which can toss out the famous 300-pound "ash cans" which make it unhealthy for any submarine within hundreds of yards.

designed by the Navy to drive the Nazi subs from the Atlantic and protect American convoys. She can deliver a terrific curtain of fire effective at 2500 yards against air or surface targets. Like some of her sister ships, she is one of Uncle Sam's contributions to the British fleet.

The next group in this class were built in 206 days.

Now the Reynolds has set the mark of 25 days.

And she is but one of hundreds of warships steaming out of the shipyards of America to speed the day of Victory.

without Newspapers?

Every hour of the day headline news of overwhelming interest to every person in Kentucky is being made all over the world. But without our modern communication systems and particularly our newspapers it would be next to impossible to find out what's going on.

Getting even closer to home, we wouldn't know what local boys are back on furlough—who's getting married and when—what's happening in the comic-strip world—what events are taking place all over town.

All of us should feel proud of the fine job newspapers are doing to keep Kentucky in touch with the times. It's a strong and free press, serving free people—one of the first things the dictators would suppress if they had the chance! And it would be hard to over-estimate the part played by Kentucky's 32 daily newspapers and 157 weekly newspapers in furthering the war effort. More than 700,000 people buy these papers—far greater numbers read them—the whole State relies upon them for information and inspiration.

For this reason Greyhound depends upon such newspapers as this one to carry its information on bus service to those Kentuckians who travel. Greyhound, in turn, carries many newspapers to rural areas not served by any other transportation system.

As fellow citizens of this State, the Greyhound Lines take much pleasure in helping to make near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities we serve in Kentucky — linking them to each other and to the rest of the country, as newspapers do.

GREYHOUND LINES

D-E "Reynolds" Completed In 25 Days By The Bethlehem-Hingman Yd.

A new World's record in ship construction was achieved November 3 by the Bethlehem-Hingham shipyard when it delivered the 1,-300-ton destroyer-escort "Reynolds" within 25 days of the time the keel was laid.

The ship, which will carry a completment of 185 officers and men and cost approximately $3,500-000 was delivered to the United States Navy, which in turn will place it in the service of the British Royal Navy for anti-U-boat and convoy duty in the Atlantic.

This record surpasses by more than 20 days the mark set by Bethlehem in the first world war when it delivered the destroyer "Reid" to the American Navy 45½ days after the laying of the keel, a new record up to that time.

The first group of the "Reynolds" type of ship built for this war by the Bethlehem-Hingham yard required 302 days to complete. The next group in her class required 296 days. The yard is busy constructing additional destroyer-escorts which will join the "Reynolds" in the British Navy.

The "Reynolds" will be turned over to Admiral H. T. Smith, Supervisor of Shipbuilding, U. S. N. Quincy, Mass., by General Manager W. H. Collins of the Bethlehem-Hingham yard.

Admiral Smith will then deliver the vessel to the British commanding officer and she will immediately become formally designated "H. M. S. Reynolds."

The "Reynolds," like her sister ships, is built for speed and quick-handling fire power. She has three revolving cannon, a 40-mm. Bofors gun, each barrel capable of 120 rounds of 2-pound projectiles per minute, effective at 2,500 yards against air or surface targets.

It also possesses numerous 20-mm Oerlikon machine guns with a potential fire-power of nearly 400 shells a minute. A potent feature of her armament are various K-guns for throwing down 300-pound "ash cans."

The "Reynolds" type of destroyer escort is 308 feet long and 36 feet in breadth and is known in Naval circles as the "Terrier of the Sea." Her superstructure has been described as a "cross between an overgrown submarine conning tower and a gigantic tank turret."

The wheel-house, bridge and charthouse are completely encased in protective steel armor. The two stepped-down gun platforms just forward are among the features which contribute to an altogether modern appearance.

Aft of the bridge are the short mast and the squat stack, flanked and followed by odd-shaped bulges, platforms and crannies which provide additional gun-mounts.

The vessel has been described by Naval men as being something between a corvette and a destroyer in size and Naval men pridefully declare that she can outrun the fastest corvette or submarine.

The design of the destroyer-escort was conveived three years ago by Admiral E. L. Cochrane, Chief of the Bureau of Ships, Washington, D. C. He concluded that a larger, faster and more heavily armed ship than the corvette was needed successfully to combat the growing U-boat menace along the Anglo-American convoy lanes. Navy ship designers and engineers then laid the plans for the construction of the destroyer-escort.

It includes the last word in marine innovations for both warfare and navigation—and it has been one of the important contributing factors in the successful Allied war against the Nazi undersea craft.

When the Navy first assigned the construction of escort-destroyers to the Bethlehem-Hingham yard, its officers planned that it would require four months to build, from keel-laying to launching.

The Bethlehem-Hingham yard quickly put into operation the latest assembly line methods for quantity production, and progressively whittled the construction time down, as pointed out above until this new world record was achieved.

BURLINGTON MAN FELT LIKE SWOLLEN BALLOON; FULL OF STOMACH GAS

Recently, a Burlington man stated that he used to feel like a swollen balloon after every meal. He would bloat full of gas and spit up acidulous liquids for hours after eating. Was terribly contipated. This man is one of the hundreds in this vicinity who now praise ERB-HELP. He states he was amazed at the results when he took this medicine. Now he eats what he wants without gas or bloating, and bowels are regular for the first time in years. He feels like a new man.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Dahlenburg's Drug Store, Erlanger.

LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF EVERY BAG

Feed is precious today. No right-minded feeder wants any part of avoidable waste in wartime feeding programs. That is why we suggest:
1. USE PASTURES. They reduce the amount of feed you need to buy.
2. PRACTICE GOOD MANAGEMENT. Live, thrifty well-bred stock pays best returns.
3. HANDLE WITH CARE. Be sure your stock gets all that's in the bag.
4. FEED WITH CARE. Extract the fullest worth of every bag in meat, milk or eggs.
5. GET RID OF RATS. They cost you money, waste feed, spread disease.
Your WAYNE Feed Dealer urges you to look on every bag of feed as a potential producer of FIGHTING FOOD ... needed for VICTORY!

WARTIME SAVINGS SUGGESTIONS for Electric Appliance Users

Nine Ways to Operate Your Refrigerator More Economically and Efficiently
- Defrost whenever frost reaches thickness of ¼-inch. Frost acts as an insulator — makes the motor run longer.
- Do not open door oftener than necessary—and close it quickly.
- Do not maintain colder temperature than necessary—40 to 42 degrees is safe.
- Do not overcrowd shelves. Circulation is needed for efficient refrigeration.
- Cover all liquids. Moisture drawn to freezer speeds formation of frost.
- Avoid quick freezing as much as possible.
- Keep condensor coils free of dirt and dust.
- Do not store hot foods—let them cool first.
- Oil open unit models periodically according to manufacturer's directions.

Uncle Sam Says:
Waste of anything in wartime is a crime. Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed. Wasting electricity involves a waste of fuel, transportation facilities, manpower and critical materials needed elsewhere in the war effort. Use all the electricity you need—but need what you use.

Cpl. Kenneth B. Cason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cason is spending a 12-day furlough with Boone county friends. He will leave for Ft. Dix, N. J., next week. Cpl. Cason just returned from the west coast after being stationed there for sometime with the U. S. Army.

Miss Volenna Tanner of Dudley Pike and Rev. Bruce Easterday, of Price Hill were visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tanner over the week-end. Miss Tanner remained several days this week, recovering from an injury she received several days ago.

CONSTANCE HOMEMAKERS

The Constance Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Dolwick on November 3 with seventeen members, six visitors and our H. D. A. present.

Our citizenship chairman gave a very good report. Miss Gillaspie gave us some very good hints on meat canning.

Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Ossman, of Florence, gave our lesson on "Conservation of Tools" which was very interesting.

Our door prize was won by Mrs. Dora Dolwick.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Dye, December 1st.

FARMERS GIVEN INFORMATION

Selective service registrants deferred by reason of being necessary men in seasonal occupations in war production or in support of the war effort, desiring to leave such occupations for a time and retain their original classifications, must obtain certifications from the County U. S. D. A. War Board, according to Frank D. Rash, State Director of Selective Service.

Registrants now in classes II-C or III-C or those who, through reclassification, become eligible for such classification and desire permission to leave the agricultural occupation for a short period of time will appear before the U. S. D. A. War Board for their certificate. The certification should contain the following information: (a) A definite statement that the man should or should not be granted permission to leave agriculture temporarily; (b) A definite recommendation of the time of such registrant's temporary absence from agriculture, that is, 30 days, 60 days, etc.

It is of the utmost importance that the existing supply of necessary men in agriculture be maintained, if the goals for Kentucky's 1944 agricultural production are to be attained, according to Frank D. Rash, State Director of Selective Service.

State Selective Headquarters has issued an opinion that registrants' requests to temporarily leave agriculture should not be acted upon favorably unless the County U. S. D. A. War Board has recommended such release.

Large Crowds Attend Revival Services At Methodist Church

A two-weeks series of revival services closed Sunday night at the Burlington Methodist Church, with the pastor directing the music and bringing the sermon each evening.

The meeting was well attended throughout, and the services were marked with very good singing. Special music was rendered by a young people's instrumental quartet, members of the Methodist Church, the Baptist Church, and others.

Sunday night marked the climax of the meeting with a personal committment service around the altar. A good number made a committment of themselves to the Lord. May God multiply the fruits of these labors.

The Methodist Church, with Rev. O. B. Thomas, pastor, wish to express their appreciation to the several merchants and businessmen in Burlington for closing their respective businesses for the hours of service during the recent revival. Thanks is also expressed to those who rendered their services in any way to make the revival a success.

TAX COLLECTOR TO VISIT COUNTY

WILL ASSIST FARMERS IN PREPARING DECEMBER 15TH RETURNS—MANY CHANGES ARE MADE IN ACT.

Collector of Internal Revenue, S. R. Glenn, announces that a deputy from his office will visit Burlington December 13th through 15, for the purpose of assisting farmers in preparing their December 15th declaration returns. Mr. Glenn says that the new Revenue Act is in many particulars different from the laws previously in effert. Special attention is called to farmers who will be required to file their declaration returns by December 15th, if 80 percent or more of their gross income is from farming activities and their income is sufficient from this source to require the filing of an income tax return.

The Collector says that the many changes made cannot be explained in a short notice, but that his deputy is familiar with the law and is being sent here to be of real service to the taxpaying public. The service is absolutely free. Collector Glenn urges the taxpayers of this county to see the deputy and let him help them with their income tax problems.

Holladay-Aylor

On Saturday evening, November 6th, the marriage of Miss Ellen Mayree Holladay, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Holladay, to Sgt. Melvin C. Aylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Aylor was solemnized at the Bullittsburg Baptist Church. White Chrysanthemums and ferns formed the alter background which was lighted by seven branched candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. E. A. Martin sang "At Dawning," and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Geo. Wohrley sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Because." They were accompanied by Mrs. Oscar Romanowitz of Covington, at the piano.

At the appointed hour Rev. J. W. Campbell, Rev. Leo Drake, Sgt. Aylor and his best man, Mr. Franklin Judy and Mr. Henry Holladay, the groomsman, took their places at the alter.

The bride entering on the arm of her father was preceded by Miss Elizabeth Bell, of Louisville, as bridesmaid, Mrs. Franklin Judy as matron of honor and little Miss Joanne Montgomery, of Cincinnati as flower girl.

The bride wore white satin with a fitted bodice with long tight-fitted sleeves and a full gathered skirt, which ended in a train. She wore a fingertip length veil of net edged with lace held by a tiara of [illegible] people. She carried an arm bouquet of white rose buds with a shower of satin ribbon.

The matron of honor wore a gown of blue satin and carried a colonial bouquet of pink chrysanthemums with matching flowers in her hair.

The bridesmaid wore a gown fashioned like that of the matron of honor except that it was pink. She carried orchid chrysanthemums with the same flower in her hair. The little flower girl wore a white party frock and carried a basket of rose petals.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Aylor chose as her going away costume, a blue velvet frock with which she wore a blue coat, fuchia hat, and a corsage of yellow roses.

Stephens-Dinser

Miss Aletha Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stephens, of Grant, and Cpl. Clifford Dinser, son of William Dinser, of Union, were united in marriage by Rev. Carl J. Wainscott, at his home at Waterloo, Wednesday, November 17th at 6 p. m.

Their only attendants were Mrs. Zophee Bagby, sister of the bride and Jesse Bagby.

We join their many friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous married life.

HOPEFUL LADIES MEET

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Hopeful Lutheran Church met last Tuesday with four guests, Mrs. Charles Boyd, Sr., Mrs. Charles Boyd, Jr., Mrs. Mary Stevens and son present. Members present were Mrs. Ben Dixon, Mrs. Rose Burkett. Mrs. Ella Weaver, Mrs. Edna Dickerson, Mrs. Addie Blankenbeker, Mrs. Alma Riley, Mrs. Fanny Utz, Mrs. John Cummers, Mrs. Ben Rouse, Mrs. Otie Barlow, Mrs. Jane Utz, Mrs. Annie Rouse, Mrs. Erma Popham and Mr. E. L. Tanner.

Many Items Omitted In This Issue Of Recorder

Many items arrived at this office too late for this issue, due to the paper going to press one day early, Tuesday, instead of Wednesday. This change was made due to Thanksgiving falling on Thursday, our regular publication day.

Owing to a heavy run of advertising during the past few weeks, we have been compelled to reduce the amount of reading matter in our paper and in many instances have cut items, giving only necessary information concerning meetings of homemakers, W. M. U. and 4-H clubs, in order to give all organizations a small amount of space. If this had not been done many of the items would have been omitted entirely.

We regret this situation, but ask that our subscribers will bear with us, until matters can be remedied, which we hope will not be far distant.

TRUCK BUYERS ISSUED WARNING

BY OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION—TRUCK BUYERS WILL SAVE TIME AND MONEY TO CONTACT ODT.

The Office of Defense Transportation today warned all persons contemplating the purchase of either new or used trucks for the purpose of inaugurating new operations or extending the area of present operations to contact the Cincinnati District ODT Office before taking such steps.

The warning came from Mr. Henry A. Leachman, District ODT Manager who stated that under ODT regulations inauguration of new operations or extension of present operations must first have the approval of ODT before they can be put into effect.

Mr. Leachman said that all prospective truck buyers would save themselves time and money if they contacted ODT first for approval.

Many buyers in the Cincinnati district have already met with disappointment, when after purchasing trucks, learned ODT would not approve their proposed operations.

"Trucks today," said Mr. Leachman, "are precious. The ODT is endeavoring to make sure that they are used only in the successful prosecution of the war effort or in an essential civilian activity.

"Considering the alarmingly critical situation facing the nation's motor transportation today, it is probable that many applications for new operations or extension of present operations will have to be denied.

"Stringent review of such applications is necessary in order to insure the continuation of our essential transportation for the duration."

The Cincinnati district ODT Office is located at 1537 Union Trust Bldg., and covers operations in the following counties: Hamilton, Clermont, Brown, Highland, Adams Pike, Scioto, Jackson, Gallia, Lawrence in Ohio, and Campbell, Kenton and Boone in Kentucky.

Burlington Youth Aboard Ship Sunk In South Pacific

Coxswain William M. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cad Sullivan of Burlington, was reported "alive" by the War Department, following a report that the ship on which he was bound for America from Australia was torpedoed and sunk. No further details have been received by the family.

Coxswain Sullivan has been a member of the Merchant Marine for approximately one year. He has made several trips across the Atlantic, but this was his first trip to the South Pacific.

Truck And Bus Owners Must Supply Information When Applying For License

To secure your 1944 truck or bus license, the War Department directs that all truck and bus owners furnish your County Court Clerk the following, in addition to the information shown on your 1943 receipt:

Number of axles, front number, size, if bus, give seating capacity; tires, rear number, size, spare number and size, total mileage driven since new; kind of truck, private, hire, common carrier, contract carrier, local; type of product chiefly hauled; refrigerated, yes or no; body dimensions, width, length and height, if tank, give gallons.

The above information must be complete when truck and bus owners apply for their 1944 license.

Farmers Urged To Treat Sheep

All sheepmen are urged to treat their flocks for intestinal parasites during the last part of November or early part of December, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Phenothiazine drench is the treatment recommended at this time.

This new treatment and parasite program has given excellent results and has gained wide favor among sheep raisers. The special drench for of Phenothiazine should be used as the ordinary form will not go into solution. General recommendations on the treatment are available at the county office. Local veterinarians have been using the Phenothiazine treatment for some time.

Burlington Boy Suffering With Malaria

Everett Cress, stationed somewhere in the Pacific with the U. S. Navy Seabees, is suffering from an attack of malaria. He writes that he has been ill for the past three months.

Everett has been a member of the Seabees for more than a year, and has been stationed in the South Pacific for sometime. He spent several months on Guadalcanal, but his location at this time is unknown.

In his letter he writes: "I understand Boone County went over the top again in the last bond drive. It looks like old Boone is holding up her end of the war. . . . I wish all you folks a big Christmas."

We join Everett's many friends in wishes for a very Merry Christmas. We appreciate the letter and card received from him last week.

Holiday Employees Must Have Social Security Numbers

Persons expecting to be employed during the holiday season to help take care of the rush in business must have social security account numbers. W. Leonard Eley, acting manager of the Covington field office of the Social Security Board, announced today.

"One reason this is so essential is that an account number and card assure the worker that all wages he receives, whether he works part time or full time, will be credited to his old-age and survivors insurance account. His account is kept by the Board according to the social security account number issued to him.

"Unless the worker has a job in view, however, he should not apply for a number. As soon as he is certain of going to work at an early date, he should go to the nearest Social Security Board office and put in his application for his account number.

"If he lives some distance from the field office, he may go to the nearest post office and secure Form SS-5, fill in the blanks, and send it to the Social Security Board. He will then receive the account number by mail.

"If he has lost an account number card, he should use the same form to apply for a duplicate.

"The account number is necessary because it should be presented to the employer before the worker goes onto a job."

Four Association Bulls Cost $816.00

The Boone County Jersey Bull Association last Thursday purchased four carefully selected herd sires at a total cost of $816.00 or an average cost of $204.00 per head. The bulls were carefully selected both as to type and production pedigrees. Their herd improvement value will be proven thru a long time cooperative breeding program.

Members of the Boone County Jersey Bull Association No. 1 are Robert Youell, Jesse Wilson, Grant Maddox, and Walter Scott. Robert Youell was elected chairman and Jesse Wilson secretary and treasurer of the association.

OFFICIALS MEET AT WARSAW WED.

TO DISCUSS CASE OF JOAN KIGER—EVIDENCE TO BE PRESENTED GRAND JURY DECEMBER 13TH.

Commonwealth Attorney Raymond L. Vincent, of Williamstown and Charles W. Riley, County Attorney of Boone County met with Circuit Judge Ward Yager at his home in Warsaw, last week, for a conference to discuss the case of 16-year-old Joan Kiger, charged with the slaying of her father, Carl C. Kiger and her 6-year-old brother, Jerry, in the family's summer home, "Rosegate" on Dixie Highway, five miles south of Florence, August 17th.

Other conferences are being held by officials in preparing evidence to be presented against the young Covington girl, who is free on $25,000 bond, pending action of the grand jury.

The Boone County grand jury will convene Monday, December 13th. If Miss Kiger is indicted the trial date will be announced later.

FORTY FARMERS ATTEND MEETING

TOBACCO GRADING AND DEMONSTRATIONS HELD IN COUNTY FRIDAY—GROWERS URGED TO USE CARE IN STRIPPING.

Forty farmers attended the two tobacco stripping and grading demonstrations held in the county last Friday, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The meetings were held at the farms of Hubert E. White, Burlington and Joseph A. Huey, of Union.

John Y. Steele, Federal grader recommended to growers that they use more care in stripping their tobacco more closely this year to grades, than in former years. Price ceilings according to government grades means that including mixed grades will force the tobacco to take the lower grade out, therefore lower price. The crops should have five distinct grades, flyings (granulated), trash (cigarette), lugs (cigarette), bright leaf (pipe), and red leaf and tips (chewing). The non-descrip damaged leaves on small crops may be grouped into two or three classes namely cigarette, pipe and chewing grades or flyings, trash, and lugs in one grade, bright leaf in another and the heavy red tobacco in another. Greatest care in stripping the entire crop should be not to mix bright leaf and lugs.

Mr. Steele at the conclusion of his talk of his demonstration recommended that growers keep their grades separate when loading for market and under no condition allow the warehouse to mix grades on baskets when putting the crop on the floor. Following such a program will enable the grower to get the high dollar for his crop.

Letters Deposited In Rural Boxes Should Have Stamps Affixed

In order to facilitate the collection and dispatch of mail matter on rural routes, all first- and third-class mail deposited in rural letter boxes for collection by the carrier should have stamps affixed at the proper rate of postage.

Postmasters and rural carriers urge patrons of the various rural routes to cooperate in this move in order that mail be handled as expeditiously as possible.

Feed Meeting To Be Held November 30th

The Colonial Coal & Supply Company, of Erlanger, distributors of Wayne Feeds for Northern Kentucky, is holding a feed meeting for their customers and friends at 7:45 on Tuesday evening, November 30 in their offices.

The highlight of the meeting is to be an address by Mr. I. E. Harrod. Mr. Harrod is in charge of the distribution of Wayne Feeds in Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri. He is one of the best qualified individuals in the midwest to discuss "Reasons for the Feed Shortage in 1943 and the Feed Outlook for '44." Movies will complete the program. All Wayne customers are cordially invited to attend.

Labor Committee Recommends Program

The Boone County Farm Labor Committee in a meeting at Burlington last Wednesday evening approved the progress of the labor program to date and recommended the program continue to be of all service possible to farmers, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The farm labor program has been one of the most difficult to carry out. Many phases of it have been practically impossible. The committee however, felt that the farm labor problem the coming year would be more serious and any help at all toward solving the farm labor problem was worthy of further trial. A total of 137 local farmers have been assisted in securing help under the farm labor program in the county during the past six months.

Mrs. Artie F. Conrad

Mrs. Artie Franks Conrad, Crittenden, Ky., member of a prominent Grant County family, passed away Monday, Nov. 15th at St. Elizabeth Hospital, following a brief illness. Mrs. Conrad was 77 years old.

Funeral services were conducted from Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Thursday, Nov. 18 with Rev. C. J. Alford, pastor of LaGrange Baptist Church officiating. Interment was in Mt. Zion Cemetery.

Mrs. Conrad is survived by her husband, W. W. Conrad, Crittenden; four sisters, Mrs. Ida Beach, Crittenden, Mrs. Lawrence Menefee, Crittenden, Mrs. Kate Noel, Walton, Mrs. Lulu Vest, Walton; one brother, B. W. Franks, Walton.

Chambers and Grubbs, were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mary E. Rogers

Funeral services for Miss Mary E. Rogers, were conducted from the Chambers and Grubbs funeral home Thursday, November 18th at 11 a. m., with Rev. R. F. Demoisey officiating. Burial was in Old Salem Cemetery.

Mrs. Rogers passed away in St. Elizabeth Hospital early Tuesday following a short illness. She and her sister, Miss Sally Rogers have lived in Walton for several years, moving there from Burlington.

Miss Rogers was a former County Clerk of this county.

She is survived by her sister Miss Sally Rogers, several nephews and nieces and other relatives.

Anthony C. Fisher

Anthony C. Fisher, aged 64 years died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Delta E. Staebler, 42 McAlpin Ave., Erlanger, after a short illness.

In addition to his daughter he is survived by one granddaughter.

Funeral services were conducted from the Taliaferro funeral home Monday at 8:30 a. m. with requiem high mass at St. Henry's Church at 9 a. m. by Rev. J. H. Egbring, pastor. Interment followed in St. Mary's Cemetery.

4-H Club Achievement Meetings Near Completion

Eight 4-H Club achievement meetings have been held in the county during the past two weeks, according to O. D. Perkinson Assistant County Agent.

Certificates of achievement or victory stickers were awarded to all 4-H club members completing a project. These meetings were held as general chapel programs in the school and were well attended by leaders and members. A very attractive program was rendered by 4-H club members. Reports on projects were given by one boy and one girl at each meeting and the girls put on a style show exhibiting the dresses made as 4-H club projects.

The 4-H club in Boone County is to be complimented on its very excellent record of 97 percent completion of all projects undertaken.

EAGLES TROUNCE HEBRON FRIDAY

IN OPENING GAME OF BASKETBALL SEASON—BURLINGTON INDEPENDENT TEAM DEFEAT HEBRON FIVE BY 26-25 COUNT.

The Burlington High School Eagles opened their basketball season at the local gymn Friday night by defeating the Hebron Cardinals in both first and second team games. The Eagles defeated the Cardinals by a score of 18 to 14.

Burlington took the lead in the first quarter and never was on the short end of the count during the remainder of the game. At the half the score was 11-6.

Presser was high point man for the winners with eight points, while Masters led the attack for the losers with six.

In the reserve game Burlington defeated Hebron by a score of 14 to 6.

Burlington's Independent five turned back the hard fighting Hebron Independents in one of the closest games witnessed on the local floor for sometime. The final count was Burlington 26, Hebron 25. The winner was in doubt until the final whistle.

Beechwood emerged on the long end of a 54-27 count, when they were entertained on the hardwood of Florence, Friday night in the opening game of the basketball season. The Florence five battled the strong Beechwood team to the very last, even though they were outclassed. Coach F. D. Caton, of Florence pitted his team against three veterans on the Beechwood squad.

Christmas Seal Sale Begins This Week

The Tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale will begin this week, according to R. V. Lents, executive secretary of the Boone County Tuberculosis Association. Mr. Lents stated that blocks of 200 seals are being mailed this week to many Boone County citizens. The school children are also selling the seals. Mr. Lents stated that it doesn't make any difference from whom you get the seals, buy from him through the mail or the school children because the money goes into the same treasury.

Prizes are given to the school children selling the most seals, and by purchasing through the mail be sure to state the school and child that gets credit for the sale.

Tuberculosis is a difficult disease to control; is easily communicable. Its ravages have sapped strength and lives of millions of persons. Since its early stages are difficult to recognize, expensive diagnosis often is necessary. Since it is so sweeping in character, all classes are susceptible, a broad program of prevention and treatment is needed.

It is to assure and to help in that broad program that the Christmas seals are sold each year. Buy as many of the seals as you can afford. The Christmas seal sale is the only means that the Tuberculosis Association has to raise funds to carry on its work.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

TRUTHFULNESS AT ALL TIMES

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:16; 23:1, 7; Matthew 5:33-37; John 8:42-45.
GOLDEN TEXT—Wherefore putting away lying speak every man truth with his neighbor: for we are members one of another.—Ephesians 4:25.

God hates all kinds of dishonesty—a fact which is emphasized by the additional commandment regarding truthfulness which is before us in this lesson.

God is truth, that is, the very essence of His nature is truth. In Him is no darkness at all (I John 1:5). Lying or false witness therefore reveals a character opposite to God. Hence we are not surprised to find in our lesson that Satan is a liar and the father of lies, and that liars are his children.

I. The Nature of a Lie (Exod. 20:16; 23:1, 7).

The commandment against false witness brings before us one form of lying—for it has to do with perjury, that is, the telling of an untruth in court.

This is one of the worst forms of lying, because it may result in the one against whom it is practiced losing his liberty, his life or his property. It may mean the destruction of his good reputation.

It is obvious, however, that the commandment covers all forms of lying, whether in business, in social contacts, in the home, or in the church. We might do well to consider what the Bible has to say about whisperers, talebearers, backbiters, and others (see Lev. 19:6; II Cor. 12:20). A man's reputation may be as easily ruined by a whispered lie over the back fence or the luncheon table as by formal perjury in the courtroom. "Thou shalt not bear false witness" at any time, anywhere, or in any way.

II. The Practice of Lying (Matt. 5:33-37).

The people of our Lord's day (and who can say that the custom has stopped) were in the habit of telling lies and then trying to make others believe them by an oath.

They would swear by heaven, or the throne of God, or some other sacred thing, and thus try to enforce their false word by some great authority.

The liar is always under necessity of doing something—perhaps telling another lie—to cover his falsehood. When his comfort or advantage seems to be endangered because he is not believed, he brings an oath to bear upon his statement.

Jesus taught the great virtue of simple living and simple speech. A plain "yes" or "no" is usually sufficient for the situation. Qualifying words are apt to lead us astray. The life of a Christian should be so true and above board that no oath should be needed to assure one of his sincerity and honesty.

Since not all are Christians, it is a necessity that men be placed under some kind of oath or affirmation in judicial matters. Hence we need not interpret this Scripture as forbidding an oath in court.

It may be well to say a word about swearing in general. It is all too common among men, women and children. No Christian should ever be guilty of it, or that which sounds like it. We need admonition and correction at that point.

III. The Source of All Lies (John 8:42-45).

The devil is a liar, and the father of lies. Liars are members of his family. Jesus said it, "Ye are of your father the devil."

Liars had better consider their "family tree" and see how they like their spiritual father. He is lustful, murderous, and there is no truth in him (v. 44). If you belong to that family would you not like to change families and be born again into God's family?

Sadly enough the constant lying of the world seems to have infected the minds and hearts of Christians. Instead of being cleansed from this worldly defilement they carry its awful tendencies into the church. Is it not too true that gossip (which is almost always lying), false witness, the tearing down of someone's good name, is all too common in the church?

The great lie within the church, and one of Satan's prize exhibits, is the falsehood of modern religious liberalism (so-called) which is essentially a denial of real New Testament Christianity. Jesus said (v. 42) that if God is our Father we will accept Him as the Christ. The one who speaks sweet words about the example, the manhood, the leadership of the Master and who denies Him His place as God is clearly in mind here as a follower of the father of lies.

Note that in verses 45-47 Jesus challenges His enemies to convict Him of sin or of falsehood. No one has ever been able to meet that challenge.

The claims he made for Himself as the Son of God and the Saviour of the world are plain and unmistakable. If we deny them we either make Jesus a liar, or we lie ourselves, and it is obvious that the latter is the case.

The following V-Mail letter was received from Pvt. Edward Stephens, stationed in Northern Ireland:

"You probably know by now I am in Northern Ireland, and you should see this country. It is the most beautiful I have ever seen. The grass is green all year round.

"I received my first copy of The Recorder since I have been here, and was I glad to read about all my old buddies in the service! I really enjoy The Recorder and appreciate your sending it. It boosts morale to get news of home. Say 'hello' to all my friends."

Elmer Tanner, formerly of Hebron, stationed at Green Bay Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., writes: "I have been at Green Bay Naval Training Camp, Great Lakes, Ill., for three weeks now—not long enough to know all of the activities, but long enough to learn some of the naval training. It will be an experience none of us will forget. I like it fine, and I know the training will be good for all of us.

They are doing a fine job here, and if every effort that is being made is as efficient and thorough both on the home front and fighting front as the navy training, I know we will win in a short time. . . . I want to thank you for The Recorder, I know I am going to get."

We are in receipt of the following letter from Sgt. David Setters, Btry D. 2, Nd., Bn., Ft. Eustis, Va.:

"I have been planning for sometime to drop you a line. but it seems as though there is always something to do. I wish to thank you for sending me The Recorder, it sure is nice to get all the news from home, and other than that the news from lots of friends in the service.

"I am still cooking in the same mess hall where I have been for the past 28 months, and I am very proud to say that we have the best mess hall on this Post.

"Tell all my friends I said hello and I hope all the boys can be home soon'."

Pvt. Richard Kottmyer, ASN 35873806 Co. 12, 1007th Q. M. Rescue Boat, O. T. U. (AVN) NOAAB, New Orleans, La., writes: "I am taking this time to thank you for sending me the Boone County Recorder. I am very happy to know I have friends in Boone County, like the staff of The Recorder, who helps soldiers and sailors to find hours of pleasure in reading The Recorder, also keeping in touch with friends from home. It's a great paper and I appreciate it a lot and certainly do look forward to receiveing it weekly."

Cpl. Millard E. Sullivan 35468794 93rd Gen. Hosp. (ASF), Ft. Geo. G. Meade, Maryland, writes:

"I guess you think I don't appreciate The Recorder much, because I haven't written sooner, but I do appreciate it very much. I have missed it very much since I've been here at Ft. Meade. The Recorder is very nice because it keeps the service men posted on what's happening back home.

"I was transferred to this Post October 5, 1943 as a Dental Lab. Tech. I graduated from the Dental Technical School of O'Reilly General Hospital, Springfield, Mo., in August 1943. My work is very interesting.

"If any of the other fellows from Boone County are here would you please put their address in The Recorder.

"Once again I wish to thank you for The Recorder and please send it to me here."

Ed. Note—In response to your your request we list the following: Pvt. James O. Cleek, A Battery 364, F. A. Bn., Ft. Meade, Md., and Pvt. Carroll C. Rice, 35680701 1322 Q. M. C. Det. No. 1 S. A. (W) Casual Section, Ft. Meade, Md.

The following letter was received from Pfc. Paul L. Clore, stationed in North Africa:

"Well, I will sit down once again and write you a few lines.

"How is everything getting along back there? I often think of the good times I have had there, and hope it won't be long until we are there again.

"This is Sunday, so some of the boys went on pass today. I didn't go, for there is not much to do, after you go to one of these towns, here, so I remained in camp and wrote letters and cleaned my rifle, for our rifles have to be shining at all times.

"We are rationed to five packs of cigarettes a week, and we have to have a ration ticket to get them, so it's somewhat like it is in the States.

"We get our mail very regularly over here. There is always a rush to see who can get in front when they have mail call, each fellow hoping he will get more letters than the next one, but they generally run about the same.

"There are three good things about the army, and they don't have to yell more than once to fall out either—that's mail call, chow call and pay day. No one is late then.

"Sgt. George E. Black, Pvt. Ralph Cain, Pvt. Robert Stephens and myself want to give our best regards to Boone County and to thank you again for the Boone County Recorder.

Many hemp crops in Jackson county are reported as being unusually good.

AGENT OPTIMISTIC IN TAYLOR COUNTY

An optimistic report is made by Farm Agent C. V. Bryan in Taylor county. "It is with satisfaction that I see most of the corn ground sowed to small grain," he says. "Twice as much crimson clover, vetch and rye grass was seeded, compared to previous years. Ninety percent of the corn in Taylor county was cut and shredded or will be used as rough feed. There is a large surplus of hay in the county. Hybrid corn is yielding as much as 50 percent more than local varieties."

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

Early-set tobacco in Green county made one of the best crops in years, both in yield and in quality.

Five farmers purchased 25 bus., of Thorne wheat seed, the first to grow this variety in Allen county.

Benny Pugh of Breathitt county and his 16-year-old son together made $25 a day picking up potatoes in Maine.

Meade county farmers paid 25 cents a shock or $5 a day plus board and room for corn cutting.

Two mechanical corn pickers helped harvest the corn crop in Bath county.

An unusually large number of Christian county farmers have purchased feeder cattle in Texas.

McLean county farmers who grew considerable acreages of corn will continue raising hogs.

Foreign Holdings Must Be Listed With Local Postmaster

Citizens of Burlington who own any property in foreign countries were notified by Postmaster Newton Sullivan today that they must file reports of their foreign holdings with the Treasury Department before December 1. The notice was given by means of a poster placed on display in the post offices.

Postmaster Sullivan points out that it is necessary for the government to have as complete information as possible on the American stake abroad to assist the military authorities and the civilian governments on the fighting fronts and to bring about sound solutions of the post-war problems.

Report forms, known as TFR-500, may be obtained through commercial banks, or from the nearest Federal Reserve Bank, the postmaster states. Penalties are provided for those who wilfully fail to file reports.

Merchant Marine Receiving Recruits According To Reports

Reports that enrollments in the U. S. Maritime Service for duty with the Merchant Marine have ceased were denied today by Ensign J. C. Jahn, enrolling officer, 204 Traction Building, Cincinnati. Ensign Jahn explained that quotas assigned his office have been lowered due to the large number of men now in training but applicants are still being enrolled and more will be needed in the near future.

"Men who are interested in serving with the Merchant Marine should apply immediately so their names may be placed on our eligible list," Ensign Jahn added.

The Maritime Service is particularly interested in men with previous deck or engine department experience in the Merchant Marines, Navy or Coast Guard, for officer training. Men with 14 months of such experience are being enrolled as chief petty officers for four months of training leading to commissions as deck or engineer officers.

High School graduates from 17½ to 23, single, an in excellent physical condition are needed for the Merchant Marine Cadet Corps, a 16-month course of training ashore and afloat which also leads to a commission in the Merchant Marine Reserve of the Naval Reserve. Application may be made at the Cincinnati office or by writing the Supervisor, Merchant Marine Cadet Corps, War Shipping Administration, Washington, D. C.

6,684 4-H'ERS HELP IN LABOR EMERGENCY

Going into the fields or taking over home work while their mothers helped out on the farm, 6,684 members of 4-H clubs in 105 Kentucky counties made an invaluable contribution to war food production this season, says a statement from the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

These patriotic youngsters, ranging in age from 10 to 20, contributed a total of 1,073,081 hours of emergency labor service, or over 100,000 ordinary farm work days. They did all kinds of farm and home work. Hundreds of girls took over house work, while their mothers worked outdoors. They prepared meals, cared for children, sewed, canned, worked in the garden, carried wood and did innumerable other jobs.

Also many 4-H club girls as well as boys worked in the fields this season. They drove tractors or ran other machinery, helped plant crops, helped harvest them, did the chores, tended livestock, and were general hands on hundreds of farms.

Ann Deutsch of Jefferson county worked 255 hours in the fields, helping her 20-year-old brother run the farm while their father worked in Louisville. She drove a tractor, planted and harvested crops, cut and baled hay, and worked in the garden and with the stock. Also, in her regular 4-H club project, she was clothing champion of Jefferson county.

Carlos R. Scott, 15, of Christian county worked the season through, a total of 1,057 hours, on the farm of M. F. Ashby. He did all kinds of farm work—prepared the land, set tobacco, planted corn, cultivated crops, cut alfalfa, fixed fence, did the chores, carried wood, and was a general all-round hand from April to October.

Similar samples o fthe contributions of 4-H club boys and girls to the war effort might be found in almost every county in Kentucky, says the college's statement.

One-third of all gasoline produced in the United States is now required for military purposes.

"WITH THESE PEOPLE WE'LL WIN THE WAR"

How a family in Webster county, Kentucky, works and lives under war conditions is told by J. E. Humphrey, an extension poultry man for the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

C. C. Dunville, Jr., and his sister own a certified hatchery. He does official blood testing and culling of flocks in the region while she looks after the hatchery. Their mother works in a war plant in Evansville, Ind., getting up a 3:30 a. m. and leaving Sebree at 5 a. m. Mrs. Gordon Hancock, another member of the family, has the same schedule in war work. Mr. Hancock farms, producing principally corn and hogs. They have two sons in the army. A grandmother helps about the place, seeing that younger children get off to school in time.

"Sure we'll win the war, with just such people as these," says Mr. Humphrey.

We Have Much To Be Thankful For

There was a pioneer Thanksgiving, when men and women rejoiced that the land was fruitfut, the harvest was good.

There was a Civil War Thanksgiving, when a President first asked this nation to pause and count its blessings.

There was a Thanksgiving in 1918, when the whole world rejoiced at the end of bitterness and bloodshed.

There was even a Thanksgiving in 1942 when the news, at long last, was good, and our own troops were sweeping the enemy before them.

This year we have more reason to be thankful!

Thankful that in a half-slave world, we are wholly free—in mind, in spirit, in deed.

Thankful that in a famished world, our land is still fruitful, our harvests are good.

Thankful that in a world of dictatorships, ours is still a government of, by and for the people.

Thankful that we can look back on a long string of successes—and look forward to the final victory we shall inevitably win.

Thankful, above all, that we are Americans!

Hebron's Mayor, Chas. Fowler states that the cows in his section may go on strike in the near future if one of their leading citizens continues to press them for production. The Mayor states that one of the leading citizens of his town has been milking his cows just after midnight, which practice he states must stop.

Drive Under Way To Collect Clothing

The nationwide drive for collection of discarded clothing and rags started November 22 and will continue through December 4. Only discarded clothing is wanted and all types are needed, according to WPB. Donors are requested to see that woolen garments are brushed and cotton garments and rags are clean. Mending is not required. Any unwearable clothing that can be reduced to rags is also desired.

Not wanted are shoes, rubbers, rubber boots, overshoes, galoshes, slippers, leather leggings, leather gloves, hats, caps, neckties, collars, garters, garter belts, suspenders, belts, girdles, corsets, brassieres, veils, spats, rubber coats, diapers, and masquerade costumes.

BOWEL CLEANING POWER OF ERB-HELP MEDICINE

One man recently took ERB-HELP three days and said afterward that he never would have believed his body contained so much filthy substance. He says his stomach, intestines, bowels and whole system were so thoroughly cleansed that his constant headaches came to an end, several pimply skin eruptions on his face dried up overnight, and even the rheumatic pains in his knee disappeared. At present he is an altogether different man, feeling fine in every way.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Dahlenburg's Drug Store, Erlanger.

SELECTIVE REGISTRATION FOR BREED IMPROVEMENT

is simple in its operation, far reaching in its promise of benefits to the man making a living out of Jerseys. In the days when it was first proposed (this came from Jersey breeders as many as ten years ago) there were some who were dubious as to how it would effect registrations, the small breeder, or the large breeder. Research into the records set aside these fears and Selective Registration went into effect on January 1, 1942.

NEWSBOYS HELP TO SAVE TOMATO CROP

Responding to the cry of extra help wanted, seven newsboys in Frankfort went to the rescue of farmer John M. Jones, president of the Franklin county Farm Bureau. Mr. Jones had 10 acres of tomatoes ripen at the same time that all of his labor was busy harvesting tobacco. Calling the office of Farm Agent R. M. Heath, he learned of the newsboys who had offered their services for such an emergency. During the next few hours, they saved a valuable food crop by picking 140 hampers of tomatoes.

Care Of The Feet

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

The human body, a wonderful structure of energy and beauty and, like an architectural structure, depends primarily on the strength of its foundation — the feet.

The feet are the most overworked part of the body, and functioning under unfavorable conditions, usually results in (1) weakening, (2) impairment and (3) discomfort.

Facts — Ninety per cent of all people in the country suffer from some kind of foot trouble, and many of them suffer all their lives without knowing the source of their ailments.

Just think, the skeleton or framework of the human foot contains 26 bones. (A person's foot contains more than one-fourth of the two hundred bones in the entire human frame.) When the bones become abnormally positioned as when the metatarsal bones or arches drop, it affects other component parts of the foot such as muscles, ligaments, tendons and nerves.

When you step on a hose it pinches it, and the flood water is stopped at the point of pressure.

The same applies when a bone is pressing on the blood vessels that traverse the foot. Then pains are the result of this pressure, they can and should be relieved.

Always remember this, painful feet interfere with one's work, discourage the exercise so vital to health, and spoil life's pleasures. —Adv.

Electric Range Economy Tips

- When you're roasting meat in the oven, bake potatoes, a pudding and a casserole dish of vegetables, too. Saves using top units.
- If you have sectional pans, cook two or more vegetables on one unit at same time.
- Switch the top units to low heat promptly when food comes to steam.
- Cook more one-dish meals, such as hash, Irish stew, etc.
- Use only enough water to prevent food from scorching. Some vegetables, like greens, need no water.
- Don't toast one or two slices of bread in oven. Broiler is economical only for toasting in quantity.
- Use well cooker for long, slow cooking operations, such as cooking dried beans. Plan more cooker meals.
- Use covered, flat-bottomed utensils that fit unit. Pans that are warped or too small waste electricity.
- Switch off surface units when food is nearly done and finish cooking on stored heat.
- Avoid excessive oven peeking.

Uncle Sam Says:

Waste of anything in wartime is a crime. Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed. Wasting electricity involves a waste of fuel, transportation facilities, manpower and critical materials needed elsewhere in the war effort. Use all the electricity you need — but need what you use.

CONSERVATION NEWS
By J. Casper Acree

Quite a noticeable improvement has been made on the Springlake Stud farm, formerly owned by T. H. McCaffey and now operated by Louis Nier, Walton. The first soil conservation agreement in the Boone County district was made on this farm. Mr. Nier has, by the use of a bulldozer, smoothed up the only rough field on the farm and now has it seeded to grass. He also has built another pond which will supply water to another field. The diversion ditches that were constructed last year have slowed down the runoff from excessive rains. This checking or holding back of water no doubt is one factor accounting for the heavy sod on this farm.

C. A. Coyle, of the Verona community, and another conservation-minded farmer, says that he thinks a lot of diversion ditches. He must, for he has built over a mile of diversion ditches this fall on his farm. Assistance was given him by the Boone County District laying out or running the grade for the ditches, but he and his boy built them with their team and the District Martin ditcher. Other conservation practices planned on his farm are the protection of a wildlife area, a planned rotation of row crops which will be planted and tilled on the contour, using only class I, III, and II land; conserving or protecting all manure and plant residue from the winter weather and spreading in the early sprint; and all grass seedings will be a mixture of grasses and legumes. Mr. Coyle has had constructed a pond or rather, reservoir that will furnish water to three fields. By building five small diversion ditches that empty into sodded areas above the reservoir, he will be able to control the filling up of his pond with soil.

Safety Hint: Don't try to start the water pump on your car if it froze up the night before by pulling the belt while the engine is running. It might start—mine did—half inch less finger. You might not be so lucky.

CARD OF THANKS

CHAS. RILEY WILL NOT ASSIST IN TRIAL

OF KIGER CASE DUE TO ILL HEALTH—JOHN L. VEST AND WALTER VEST TO ACT IN MR. RILEY'S ABSENCE.

County Attorney Charles W. Riley will not assist in the Kiger case which will be heard at the December term of Boone Circuit Court, according to an announcement made by County Judge C. L. Cropper, Monday. This announcement followed an order signed by Dr S. B. Nunnelley advising that Mr. Riley take no part in the prosecution due to the condition of his health.

Mr. Riley has been in ill health for several months, and has been unable to be at his office regularly.

After taking the matter before R. L. Vincent, Commonwealth Attorney, arrangements were made to obtain the services of Judge John L. Vest and Walter D. Vest of the firm of Vest & Vest, of Walton to act in Mr. Riley's absence before the grand jury and in the trial of the Kiger case.

The following letter was signed by S. B. Nunnelley, M. D.:

"To Whom it May Concern:

"Due to the condition of Mr. Chas. W. Riley's health I have advised him not to take any part in prosecution in the Kiger case.

S. B. Nunnelley, M. D.
Attending Physician."

The following order was signed by County Judge C. L. Cropper:

"Since Dr. S. B. Nunnelley has advised our County Attorney, Mr. Chas. W. Riley to take no part in the prosecution of the Kiger case, due to Mr. Riley's health, the matter was taken up with R. L. Vincent, Prosecuting Attorney, and arrangements have been made with Judge John L. Vest and Walter D. Vest of the firm of Vest & Vest, of Walton, Boone County, Kentucky, to act in Mr. Riley's place before the Grand Jury and in the trial of the Kiger case."

Verona Boy Awarded Good Conduct Medal

An 8th Bomber Command Station, England—Cpl. Albert Morgan, of Verona, Ky., has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal at this Eighth Air Force Flying Fortress Base for "faithful and exact performance of duty." Cpl. Morgan is the Mimeograph Machine Operator for Headquarters at this station.

Cpl. Morgan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Morgan, of Verona, Ky. Prior to his service in the Army Cpl. Morgan was employed as a farmer in Boone County.

FOUR LAND SALES REPORTED IN CO.

DURING PAST WEEK—INVOLVES THREE HUNDRED SEVENTY-TWO-ACRES OF LAND—A. B. RENAKER IS REALTOR.

Herb R. Wunder sold his farm of 160 acres opposite Lawrenceburg Ferry to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freund, of Hamersville, Ohio. A stone house built in 1804 is located on a high hill on this farm overlooking the Ohio River for many miles. This farm is known as the Platt farm. Possession will be given next Spring.

Dr. W. L. Schell, of Covington purchased the 50-acre farm known as the J. W. Goodridge farm, one-half mile out on the Burlington-Belleview Highway. This is a very desirable location with the large dwelling located on a high knoll, surrounded by large trees about 500 feet off the highway, reached by a winding tree-lined drive. This farm has about 18 acres in orchard consisting of apples, plums and grapes. Extensive improvements are planned by Dr. and Mrs. Schell. Possession will be given March 1st.

Charles Kelly sold his farm of 132 acres out East Bend Road to Herman Buckler, wife and son Joe and will give possession next taken good care of his farm and March. Mr. Kelly had always buildings and it is regarded as one of the best hill farms in that section.

Mrs. Addie Scott sold her farm of about 30 acres on the river below McVille to Charles Batchelor. Possession will be given next March. This farm adjoins Mr. Batchelor's farm.

Cincinnati Man Contributes To Fire Department

L. Henry Thomas, of Cincinnati, who owns several farms in Boone County was in Burlington Tuesday and volunteered a donation of $25.00 to the Burlington Volunteer Fire Department, saying that his Burlington friends had been so kind to him that he wanted to return the favor.

It will be recalled that Mr. Thomas volunteered a $25.00 donation to the Fair Grounds some months ago.

Men of this class are a valuable asset to Boone County and we hope Mr. Thomas will continue to retain his interests here.

HOPEFUL LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. H. M. Hauter, Pastor

Sunday, Dec. 5, Bible School at 10:00 a. m. Mr Wm. Meier, Supt.

The Luther League will hold their annual Christmas social on Tuesday, Dec. 7, at 8:00 p. m. at the parsonage. Everyone bring a gift for the "grab bag," the cost of which should not exceed 25c.

FARMERS MUST FILE STATEMENTS

NOT LATER THAN DECEMBER 15 UNLESS THEY COMPLIED WITH REQUIREMENT ON SEPTEMBER 15TH.

Farmers who have sufficient income to require filing a declaration of estimated 1943 income and Victory tax are required to file and make a payment on or before December 15, unless they complied with this requirement on the September 15 date that applied to most other persons, explains Robert E. Hannegan, Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Farmers and others making their first report this time will receive no declaration forms but must ask for them if they do not still have the forms mailed them in August.

Because of the difficulty farmers have in estimating their tax, they have been given until December 15 to file their declarations, whereas others were required to file September 15. Farmers are also given greater leeway in estimating and are not subject to penalty unless they underestimate their tax by more than 33 1-3 percent.

Those persons, including farmers, who must file on or before December 15 are:

1. Persons who did file on or before September 15 but who underestimated their tax by more than 20 percent (more than 33 1-3 percent in the case of farmers) and who should file "amended declarations" to avoid penalties.

2. Persons who did not file in September because their estimated income at that time was insufficient to require filing, but now meet with any on of the following requirements also determine which farmers have to file income declarations.

(a.) Anyone who expects to have during 1943 more than $100 gross income from a source outside of wages which are subject to withholding and who also expects sufficient gross income to require filing an income tax return ($500 for a single person, $1,200 for a married couple, or $624 for an individual married person).

(b.) Any single person expecting wages of more than $2,700 subject to withholding during the year.

(c.) Any married person or any married couple expecting individually or together more than $3,500 from wages subject to withholding during this year.

(d.) Any person who was required to file an income tax return for 1942 and who expects his wages in 1943 to be less than in 1942.

Persons who have questions should address them to their local Collector of Internal Revenue. Collectors' offices again will provide advice and technical assistance to taxpayers who request it. Local Collectors will send bills to taxpayers who filed declarations in September and who have an installment to pay December 15.

Fish And Game Club To Meet December 9

The Boone County Fish and Game Club will hold their regular meeting Thursday, December 9th at the club house. This will be the first meeting of the club for three months.

All members and friends of the organization are invited to attend this meeting.

TIMELY FARM INFORMATION

Timely information on important farm problems has been secured by the County Agent's office. Because making of regulations and the possibility of regulation changes the information is not submitted as official but the best available at the present time. The agency supplying information is given and this agency should be contacted for their official statements if additional information is desired.

Slaughtering Farm Meats

Agencies in charge: War Food Administration handles quotas and registering of slaughters. Mark Cook is chairman of the local committee. OPA is in charge of collecting ration points and prices.

Under Latest Rulings

1. Quotas are not in effect for the next ninety days. Any amount of farm slaughtered may be sold by farmers.

2. Farmers can buy his slaughter animals and kill them the same day if he so wishes. One who is not a farmer must own the animals sixty days on his property or put 35 percent of the total weight on the animals to be slaughtered.

3. If meat is sold ration points must be collected and turned in to the OPA office at Walton.

4. Farmers can go together, buy a beef and slaughter it cooperatively. This does not apply to non-farmers. No points are involved.

Corn Ceiling Prices

Agency in Charge: O. P. A. District office, 152 East Short Street, Lexington 9, Kentucky, or Walton OPA office.

Boone County ceiling price at which farmers may charge for No. 2 shelled yellow corn is $1.18 per bushel, ear corn $1.15½ per bushel, snapped corn $1.14½ per bushel. White corn is 21 cents per bushel higher.

Truckers or dealers' prices are figured on following schedule for No. 2 yellow corn:

(a) Ceiling price at purchase point.

(b) Transportation charges figured at less than carload rail rates plus 2 cents per bushel.

(c) To the price this established wholesalers may add 4 cents and retailers 8 cents per bushel plus 2 cents per sack by whomever performs this function plus replacement cost of bags if furnished by seller.

Dairy Subsidy Payments

Agency in charge locally: AAA office, Burlington.

A series of community sign-up meetings for dairymen to sign up for payments are scheduled as follows:

Florence, Nov. 29, Florence Bank, 9:00 to 3:00 (CWT)

Beaver and Union, Dec. 4, New Haven School 9:00 to 3:30 (CWT).

Dairymen not signing up for payment on their October sales should do so at one of the above meetings or as soon as possible.

AAA Tobacco Marketing Cards

Agency: Local AAA office, Burlington.

Tobacco marketing cards are now ready. They will be delivered at the above dairy sign-up meetings or may be received at the County AAA office.

Income Taxes

Agency in charge: Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service.

Zone Deputy Collector, Roy McPherron will be at Burlington, December 13th thru the 15th to assist farmers in filing their December 15th declaration returns, according to H. H. Childress, District Collector.

Most farmers will have to file income tax reports this year. It is the desire of the commissioner and collector to render all possible assistance to farmers in filing their December 15th declaration returns.

Twenty Blood Donors Wanted December 10th

An appointment has been made for twenty persons to give a pint of blood at the Blood Bank in Cincinnati, Friday, December 10th, at 10:30 a. m. All persons who plan to attend are requested not to eat four hours prior to giving blood.

Persons planning to be a donor are requested to be at the court house by 9:30 a. m. (CWT) where transportation will be available. Anyone desiring to donate a pint of blood to the Armed Forces is urged to notify Mrs. Lou Pope, Burlington, R. 1. or call Burlington 473.

Let's help the boys who are helping keep our country a free nation.

Robert Grant Enjoys Furlough With Parents

Robert Grant, Jr., Petty Officer third class, who has been stationed at the U. S. Naval Air Base at Alameda, Calif., for over a year, spent an enjoyable furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant near Burlington.

Mrs. Grant entertained last Sunday in his honor. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers, Jr., and daughter Ella Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Hensley and daughter, of Ft. Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Montgomery and family and Barrott Grant, of Cincinnati. Callers in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hensley, of Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Kirtley McWethy.

ASSESSMENT IS COMPLETED

BY TAX COMMISSIONER, WILTON STEPHENS—REAL ESTATE LISTED AT APPROXIMATELY SAME AS LAST YEAR.

Wilton Stephens, Boone County Tax Commissioner has just completed the first recapitulation of his 1943 assessment. He states that this year's assessment on the various kinds of property is approximately the same as last year, with the exception of intangibles which are about $600,000 higher. This is said to be due to the higher quotation on stocks and bonds.

The county lost approximately 900 acres to the airport, but the increase on transferred property more than offset the loss.

Recapitulation for the county is as follows:

Town lots	$1,982,805
Farm land	6,961,450
Automobiles	460,455
Household	644,160
Personal	128,525
Farm Implements	215,615
Livestock	947,530
Bank Shares	393,420
Intangibles	2,289,115

TIMBER NEEDED IN WAR EFFORT

Farmers with timber suitable for lumber and pulpwood can make a valuable contribution to the war effort this winter by cutting and selling usable trees, says G. C. Ransom, secretary of the Boone County Soil Conservation Service District.

War needs for wood are daily becoming more and more pressing. However, if farm woodland owners would cut and sell their marketable trees this winter it would go a long way toward helping relieve the critical wood situation.

It is estimated that in the South 45 percent of the sawlog production comes from farms. Likewise, a survey by the War Production Board indicates that farm woodland produces 38 percent of the supply of pulpwood.

With the timber industry hampered by labor and equipment shortages, farm woodlands will have to produce a large part of the growing needs for wood and wood products.

However, Mr. Ransom cautions against ruthless clear cutting of woodland. Woodland owners are being asked to cut and sell their timber now while the need is urgent, he says, but they are also being asked to observe good forestry practices while cutting it.

The Boone County Soil Conservation District urges farmers to cut their trees on a selective basis, removing only mature trees, and diseased, limby, and knotty ones. Such a cutting system will leave ample growing stock for future timber crops.

Farmers no doubt are concerned about the sale of lumber. Listed below are a number of log dealers that the Boone County Soil Conservation District have catalogued:

Black Walnut

Cincinnati Veneer Co., Cincinnati, Ohio; Acme Veneer & Lumber Co., 8th St., Cincinnati, Ohio; Ohio Veneer Co., 2624 Colerain Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio; The Shoe Boehn Walnut Co., Cincinnati, Ohio; Woods Mosair Co., Louisville, Ky.

General Buyers

C. C. Dunlap & Son, Delaware, Ohio; Piqua Handle Co., Piqua, O.; Lawrence Thomas, Lebanon, O.; E. E. Blottler, Clearington, Ohio.

The conservation office also has a list of buyers of white oak, white ash, and other general buyers.

No doubt there will never be a time during this generation more profitable to sell your timber, if it is ready for sale. It would be good business to contact some of these buyers. Recently a farmer had some walnut timber sawed so he could make some gates. Walnut makes fair gates, but no doubt the logs would have brought him enough to purchase several ready-made gates.

Florence Baptist Church To Conduct School Of Missions December 6

There will be a special church school of Missions conducted by the Florence Baptist Church on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 6, 7 and 8th, beginning each evening at 7:15 p. m. (CWT) at the church building.

On Monday evening, Rev. Robert Bratcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bratcher, Missionaries to Brazil, will give a talk on his work in Brazil. There will be classes each evening for the men, women, intermediates and juniors.

An invitation is extended to all churches throughout the county to take part in these educational classes.

Lt. And Mrs. Frank B. Helms Spending Ten Days With Relatives

Lieut. and Mrs. Frank B. Helms are spending ten days with their parents, Mrs. N. J. Helms and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hodges, of Petersburg.

Lieut. Helms just completed a specialized course of instruction in the Administrative Inspector's School at Denver. While in school Mrs. Helms enjoyed a 30-day sightseeing tour in and around Denver.

Lieut. Helms is proceeding to Washington, D. C., then back to Brazil, South America on November 30th.

Fifty Farm Reservoirs Built During Past Month

There have been approximately fifty farm reservoirs or lakes built in the County with bulldozers or power equipment the past month, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Eighteen of these ponds were built in Florence and Burlington communities by the W. L. Harper Construction Company of Cincinnati. The John G. Exterkamp Company of Covington and Vest of Cincinnati have also been operating in Verona, Walton and Union communities. Large numbers of applications of pond building work in Hebron, Constance and Petersburg communities are on file.

Farm reservoirs, lakes or ponds have proven the cheapest and most practical source of livestock water. All lakes should be constructed with a water-tight clay core and should take care of not less than seven feet of water. Small deep lakes are usually more economical than large lakes. A bulletin on farm reservoir construction is available at the county agent's office.

Muskrats have been found damaging a number of lakes in the county. Great damages to the dam will result unless these rodents are eliminated.

LLOYD SOCIETY TO MEET

The Lloyd Society will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Town Hall, Florence, Saturday, December 4th.

Farm Slaughtering Important Home Food Supply, Is Report

The farm slaughtered home meat supply is one of the most important parts of the "Live at Home" or "Make the Farm Feed the Family" program recommended to all farm families last spring, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Those farm families who have not grown their own meat supply should buy their animals for slaughter now while the markets are over supplied and prices are relatively low.

Every farm slaughter should use every means to see that meat products are not wasted. Food is important to the war effort. Those who have surplus meat products of any kind should sell them. OPA ration points are to be collected when meat is sold.

The College of Agriculture Circular No. 261, on Killing, Cutting and Curing Pork is available at the County Agent's Office on request.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Crisler and daughter, of Covington, spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clore and son.

LLOYD McGLASSON DIES AT AGE 65

WAS ONE OF COUNTY'S MOST PROMINENT FARMERS—SERVICES HELD TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

Lloyd D. McGlasson, one of Boone County's most prominent farmers passed away at his home near Constance, Ky., Friday after a short illness.

Mr. McGlasson, 65, was born in Boone County and had spent the greater part of his life on his farm near Constance.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Pearl McGlasson; two sons, Ben, Baltimore, Md., and Paul, of Constance; one grandson, Carrol McGlasson; a sister, Miss Laura McGlasson; three brothers, George, Harvey and Frank McGlasson, all of this county.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon at the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger. Burial was in Petersburg Cemetery.

Philip Taliaferro, Erlanger funeral director was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Emma Green

Mrs. Emma Green was born July 23, 1865, at Bloomfield, Crawford County Ohio, and passed away at her home in North Bend Bottoms after a prolonged illness on Wednesday, November 24. She was one of the eleven children of Jacob and Helena Utzinger.

She was married to the late John Green on April 18, 1883. To this union seven children were born, of which three sons and three daughters survive. They are Mrs. Elizabeth Bradley, Cincinnati, Mrs. Ida Seawan, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., Walter C. Green, of Covington, John, Joseph and Irene at home. She is also survived by four granddaughters, 2 grandsons, 3 great-grandsons, three brothers, John, Valentine and Julius Utzinger and one sister, Mrs. Walter Ogden.

Mrs. Green was loved and respected by all who knew her and will be greatly missed by her many relatives and neighbors.

Funeral services were held at Bullittsburg Church, Friday, Nov. 26, with burial at Bullittsburg Cemetery.

Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of arrangements.

J. D. Smith

Funeral services for J. D. Smith, proprietor of Duck Head Inn, U. S. Highway 42, were conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday at Hughes Chapel. Burial was in Hughes Chapel Cemetery.

Mr. Smith died at his home Saturday of injuries said to have been received in a boiler explosion on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad last August. He was 48 years old.

He was a member of American Legion Post No. 4, Burlington.

Mr. Smith is survived by his widow, Mrs. Clara Smith; a sister, Mrs. Emma Wallick, and one brother, Frank Smith.

The Hamilton funeral home, Verona was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Lizzie Duncan spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Kirtley Cropper and family.

BURLINGTON BOY MISSING IN ACTION

SINCE NOVEMBER 18TH—WAS FIRST RADIOMAN AND SECOND GUNNER WITH AMERICAN AIR FORCE IN ENGLAND.

Tech. Sgt. Wilford C. Sullivan, of the American Air Force now stationed in England, has been reported missing in action somewhere over Norway since November 18th, according to a telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cad Sullivan, Burlington.

Tech. Sgt. Sullivan entered the armed service June 19, 1941 and was attached to the American Air Force, serving on a Flying Fortress. He is a graduate of the Burlington High School in the class of 1927 and had made his home here until recent years, having moved to Cincinnati, where he was employed at the time he entered the service. His wife and six-year-old daughter Patricia Ann reside in Cincinnati at present.

According to his parents, they received a letter from Sgt. Sullivan written on November 15th, just three days prior to his being reported missing in action.

The following telegram was received Tuesday by his parents from the War Department, Washington, D. C.:

"Mrs. Virgie L. Sullivan
Burlington, Ky.
Route No. 1

"Secretary of War desires me to express his regret that your son Tech. Sgt. Wilford C. Sullivan has been reported missing in action since November 19, over Norway. If further details or other information are received you will be promptly notified.

Ulio, Adj. General."

This is the second misfortune to come to the Sullivan home within two weeks, as their other son, Coxswain William M. "Bill" Sullivan was reported alive by the War Department, following a report that the ship on which he was bound for America from Australia was torpedoed and sunk. No further details have been received as to his whereabouts, according to the parents.

Immunization Clinics Completed In County

Under the auspicies of P. T. Associations, two large immunization clinics have just been held at New Haven and Hebron schools by Dr. H. R. Daugherty at New Haven and Dr. S. B. Nunnelley at Hebron. Nearly two hundred children were immunized against diphtheria and smallpox. Members of P.-T. A.'s and Boone County Red Cross Nurse assisted the doctors.

GOOD COWS PAY BEST DIVIDENDS

LOW PRODUCERS WILL LOSE MONEY FOR DAIRYMEN, ACCORDING TO O. D. PERKINSON, ASSISTANT COUNTY AGENT.

"The good cow is best in good times or bad." This statement has proved its worth a number of times in the past. With the feed situation what it is, the good cow will return a profit when fed properly, but the low producer is apt to lose money for the dairyman when fed liberally on the present high priced feed, according to O. D. Perkinson, Assistant County Agent. When the supply of grain is limited it is good business to feed most of the grain while the cow is fresh and in flush production.

The dairy business cannot be profitable over a period of years in the persence of Bang's disease, Mastitis, etc., and ever known practical method should be employed to keep the herd healthy.

Water is the dairymen's cheapest feed. A milking cow when allowed free access to water will drink from 9 to 14 gallons daily. Cows average 3.75 gallons of water for each gallon of milk produced.

Regularity of milking is important. Delaying milking for an hour or two lowers production for several days.

Shelter is necessary for high producing cows especially in cold and stormy weather. Elaborate equipment is not necessary, but cows housed and well bedded produce more.

Breed efficiency is one of the most important factors affecting production. A ten-month lactation a two-month dry period and a calf every twelve months should be every dairymen's goal.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

THE SIN OF COVETOUSNESS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:17; Luke 12: 13-25.

GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt not covet . . . anything that is thy neighbor's.—Exodus 20:17.

The Ten Commandments (the last one of which we study today) are characterized by their brevity, their comprehensive touch with all of life, and fidelity to the right. But they are also unique and different from all other laws in that they reach into the inner recesses of a man's heart, a realm where only God can judge and act.

This last commandment (against covetousness) emphasizes that point, for it does not expressly require or forbid any act, but deals with the motive of man's action. Man can judge another man's acts, but he cannot judge his motives, desires, or thoughts. God must do that.

But man can, by the grace of God, control his motives; and hence we have this commandment and its interpretation.

I. The Sin—Covetousness (Ex. 20:17).

It may be a surprise to many to learn that coveting—or desiring what belongs to another—is a sin. It has become one of the "respectable sins" accepted in the best circles and practiced by many church people.

As a matter of fact, this sin underlies all the other sins against which the commandments speak. He who has a love for money and an evil desire to have his neighbor's possessions will hate, lie, steal, cheat, kill, in fact, as Dr. Morgan says, "The whole realm of human interrelations is disorganized and broken up by the dishonoring of the tenth commandment."

If you have become a lover of money, or one who longs to have what your friends own, beware. You are in real danger.

II. The Result — A Ruined Life (Luke 12: 13-21).

To have such a spirit makes a man greedy (v. 13), callous and selfish (vv. 17-19), and foolish (v. 20), both regarding this life and that which is to come.

The yardstick of success in the world—for an individual, an organization, or a nation; yes, even for many a church—is the possession of wealth, or property, or other "things." Write it in large letters on the hearts and minds of our boys and girls, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" (v. 15).

The one who was known to his friends (and to himself) as "a rich man" (v. 16), but whom God knew as a "fool" (v. 20), had more than he could use for himself. He had to build new and bigger barns, and could not see the "barns" that were already prepared, for, as Ambrose says, "Thou hast barns—the bosoms of the needy, the houses of widows, the mouths of orphans and infants."

He was a fool who loved money for himself. One wonders what he had to say for himself when that very night he was called into the presence of God to give an account of his stewardship (v. 20). If you are similarly situated and have the same attitude, what will you say in that day?

An important point which we must note is that Jesus expressly repudiated the connecting of His name with the so-called "social gospel" in His reply (v. 14).

III. The Cure—Trust in God (Luke 12:22-25).

Because covetousness destroys the best in life, we ought to shun it like poison. The best antidote (or cure) if we have been poisoned by it is to go all-out in our trust and confidence in God.

We who are children of God are to take no anxious thought for the morrow. This does not forbid proper preparation and forethought, but it does rule out fretful anxiety. The reasons are very clear and cogent.

First of all, while food and clothing are important, they are not of first importance. The vital thing is that one have life. Otherwise things are useless (v. 23). We must keep our sense of proportion, of relative values.

Then too, God is the One who must care for every one of us. And He does care for us! Why not trust Him? He cares for all creation; can He not care for you? If then you trust the all-powerful One, what occasion is there for worry, or covetousness?

And finally comes the devastating argument. Worry never accomplished anything. Anxiety does not help anyone, anytime, anywhere. So why be anxious?

It is clear then that a desire for that which belongs to others is a sin which destroys man's happiness and usefulness. It is needless—as is all anxiety—because only God can provide, and He will provide if we trust Him.

Life becomes simple, pleasant, useful, confident, yes, really Christian, when we get our eyes off things and on the Lord.

The following letter was received from Pvt. L. E. Rose, 7th D. B., Sea Coast Artillery, care Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif:

"Just a few lines to thank you for sending the Boone County Recorder. You haven't failed a time for almost a year. I really enjoy it especially the service men news. It keeps me up on what's what."

"I can't say much about where I am or what I'm doing but I can say, its somewhere in the Pacific and the reputation of the Marine Corp will give you an idea that it's not exactly a rest cure.

"Well, I guess I had better shove of. Tell Boone County 'Merry Christmas' for me."

We appreciate this letter and we are sure that Pvt. Rose is in there pitching for the home team.

The following letter was received from Geo. E. Black, stationed with U. S. Army in North Africa:

"Here's hoping these few lines find you and all my Boone County friends well. I'm swell and still sweating out this tropical rainfall which appears to be endless.

"Once again I want to thank you for The Boone County Recorder. Seems as though it is our only means of gathering the accounts of all happenings throughout Boone, which are too numerous for our friends and parents to relate. By reading The Recorder we find we are located within a few minutes' ride from one of our Boone boys—this happened on several occasions.

"We are located near a swell town once again—the nearest things to the states that can be found over here. Paul Clore and Ralph Cain are still with me."

Sgt. Robt. McWethy, Btry B. 771st F. A. Bn., APO 403A, care Postmaster, Shreveport, La., writes: "Just a few lines of appreciation and thanks for The Recorder. I have been in the service of the United States for six months now and I have looked forward to that good news every week . . . I have been made Radio Sergeant and am radio repairman of our battery. It is a swell job and am learning a lot. I am leaving on maneuvers soon and would like to have my Recorder forwarded to my new address."

"I want to thank you for sending me The Recorder. I have been receiving it for about six weeks, now, and it certainly helps me keep in touch with the things that are happening in Boone County.

"As far as I know there are no other Boone County boys on this field. As a matter of fact there are very few Kentuckians here, so The Recorder and letters from home are my only contacts with Northern Kentucky.

"The Recorder has been in existence a long time and has served the people of Boone County well, but it seems to me that it is rendering a greater service now than ever before. I know that hundreds of Boone County boys enjoy it as much as I do and that they look forward to its arrival with the same amount of anticipation that I do.

"Again let me thank you and I hope The Recorder will be able to follow me wherever I may be stationed."

Thanks for the letter Lt. Mahan, and we assure you The Recorder will follow you wherever you may be stationed.

Pvt. Harry F. Scroggin, Plt. No. 957 R. D. M. C. B., San Diego, Calif., writes: "I wish to thank you for sending me The Recorder. I received my first copy the 17th. Was sure glad to hear from Boone County. I have read it through several times, and the other boys in my platoon gets a kick out of reading it too . . . I've been here in California for three weeks now. I don't care much for California, much rather be in good old Kentucky. . . . I wish to thank you again and I am sure all of the other boys all over the world appreciate it as much as I do."

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED-- DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contans 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Dahlenburg's Drug Store, Erlanger.

WIFE DOES FARMING WHILE HUSBAND ILL

How Mrs. Gus Shelburne of Anderson county, the mother of three children under 6 years, and a member of the Women's Land Army, carried on the work on their 165-acre farm while her husband was in the hospital, is told by Home Agent Elizabeth Donnell. In the spring, Mrs. Shelburne drove the tractor and disked the ground for 6 acres of tobacco, then drove the horses for setting the tobacco. Exchanging places with one of the setters, she helped set plants. When the hay was ready, this farmer's wife rode the mowing machine to cut 12 acres, drove the rake, helped in baling by punching and tying wires, and assisted in putting the hay into the barn by driving the car to work the pulley.

Besides all this, there were three cows to milk, 250 chickens to care for, a sick calf to nurse, and the dogs go into the sheep. Then she kept house, cared for the convalescent husband, and was a blood donor for the Red Cross.

Feed and labor costs in Bullitt county forced the sale of three dairy herds in one month.

Program Announced For December Meetings

Citizenship will be the major theme for the December meeting of Homemakers' Clubs in Boone County. Each of the twelve clubs have made plans to make at least one afghan for convalescent soldiers in hospitals. Homemakers under the guidance of their local citizenship chairmen will also plan to help the needy at Christmas and bring cheer to shut-ins.

An exchange of inexpensive gifts, preferably homemade, will be a feature of the Christmas program.

Homemakers and visitors attending December meetings are urged to bring scissors to be sharpened, clean and pressed old woolen scraps or new woolen scraps for afghan and crochet hook, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Following is the schedule of December meetings:

Dec. 1, Constance, Mrs. James Dye, 10:30.
Dec. 2, Burlington, Mrs. Wendell Easton, 10:30.
Dec. 8, Hebron, Mrs. Ed Peel 10:30
Dec. 9, Petersburg, schoolhouse, 10:30.
Dec. 10, Walton, Mrs. Allan Gaines, 10:30.
Dec. 20, Verona, Mrs. Walter Renaker, 10:30.
Dec. 14, Grant, Mrs. Leon Ryle, 2:00.

HISTORY—Mrs. G. E. M. suffered headaches and neckaches. Her neck ached so intensely at the base of the skull she could hardly see. Days at a time she could not get out of bed because of the severity of the pains. She read one of our ads, telling of the good work we were doing, and decided to see what we could do for her. After a very short time wearing surgical shoes, pain in the head and neck lessened till finally it disappeared entirely and she is well and happy. It is now possible for her to do her own work even when it is necessary for her to climb stepladders. Surgical shoes seemingly worked miracles for her.

COMMENT—Strain on ligaments and tendons naturally has a weakening effect upon muscles. Continued neglect of these conditions may be the cause of your aches and pains in the neck and back and if you have been unable to get relief, come in and let us see what we can do for you.

If your ankles are weak and you are constantly rolling them, surgical shoes are defenitely the answer to your problem.—Adv.

Help Reduce America's Waste Line

It is obvious that a vigorous and concerted drive is needed to reduce this criminal wastage of food. The biggest objective of this food conservation campaign is to make every one of us realize the importance of the little bits and driblets of food we waste. Few families throw food away in pound or quart or bushel lots. Because our food waste is divided into such small quantities and is concealed in our food-management practices, we are likely to over-look our own share of responsibility for it. But our garbage cans tell the tale. Week after week they continue to fill up. And every family knows the problem that results if the garbage collection should be a day or so late. Only by preventing food waste in ounces can we save the millions of tons they cumulatively represent.

The over-all national drive against food waste is just getting under way. It will undoubtedly change, develop, and expand as it goes on. Since food conservation is something new on the American scene, the methods have to be worked out and refined as the problems are met. Every community will have its own problems of food waste, and it will be up to local leaders to devise solutions that will work. Meanwhile, there are various food conservation projects in which every local community has a part to play.

The Clean Plate Club

Test campaigns are being conducted in some sections of the country to develop a "clean plate pledge" campaign. Local clubs can lend their support by giving it publicity and by pledging their membership to clean up their plates at every meal. Essay contests and radio programs may become integral parts of this campaign in many areas. These contests and programs will need to be organized and sponsored by responsible clubs.

School Food Conservation Program

Through the U. S. Office of Education and State departments of education, elementary and high schools all over the country are being asked to introduce into the curriculum, wherever they properly can, studies of food wastage and food conservation measures. Elementary and high school pupils will be making food conservation posters, writing essays, and giving speeches on how to have food, and producing food conservation plays and programs. There will be many ways in which clubs can encourage and assist the schools in making these projects effective.

Rodent and Insect Control

Rats are estimated to destroy 189 million dollars' worth of food every year. They are also a constant threat as disease carriers. Insects are reported to damage growing crops and food in storage (including food in the pantries of homes) to the extent of well over a billion dollars a year. The posions and insecticides with which these pests are commonly attacked are considerably reduced because of the war. For this reason there must be an intensification of trapping, rat-proofing, and sanitation efforts to deal with these menaces to health and food supplies. Representatives of the United States Bureau of Entomology, Extension Service, Fish and Wild Life Service and Public Health Service have long waged war on these pests. Now they are intensifying their program of eradication and are calling upon youth groups especially to aid them in reducing this cause of food loss to the minimum. Local clubs can support this work.

Adjustment of Wasteful Eating Habits

Food prejudices, dislike of "leftovers," and even our table manners result in much food waste. These problems are largely individual matters, but they are matters in which the individual needs to be supported by general agreement. Under present circumstances, in a public eating place, or as a guest in someone's home, it takes courage to squeeze your grapefruit, or tip your soup bowl to get the last drops, or pursue the last peas with a teaspoon, or mop up the meat juices with a piece of bread, or pick up a bone to gnaw off the last shreds of meat. Yet by a concerted attack upon the social prohibitions, such practices can become normal wartime table manners.

Food Conservation Information

Many housewives need instruction in the best means of storing, preparing, and service food, in menu planning, and in wise buying. Increasingly such food conservation information is appearing women's magazines, in the food columns of daily newspapers, and in the advertising of food companies. Home economists and food demonstration agents are doing much to educate housewives along these lines. Many clubs may well make such food conservation topics the basis for study and discussion groups. Members may exchange information and economy tips. Lecturers may be invied to address public meetings. Clubs may sponsor demonstrations of proper methods of preparing nutritious meals and of storing, preparing, cooking, and serving food in order to prevent waste. Literature may be obtained from the food Distribution Administration, War Food Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

Harvesting Crops

The shortage of farm labor makes it virtually certain that some of our 1943 food production will go unharvested unless the problem is met vigorously in every community. Local clubs can aid greatly by encouraging their members to enlist in this work for as many days or weeks as possible. Many will want to join the United States Crop Corps. Berries and fruits growing wild on vacant lots are another potential source of food which requires organized action to recover effectively. Clubs can take on this work. The School-Lunch program is a worthwhile outlet for crops that are in plentiful supply and which housewives can pick and preserve cooperatively. It is one way to assure the youngsters food for their lunches next year. In all these activities the general rule should be to see to it that every scrap of usable food is harvested and utilized.

We hope that these articles have been of some value and that perhaps a few leaders of clubs, etc., in our county will take to heart some of the suggestions that have been made, in order that Boone County may do its share. If there is any way in which the Nutrition Committee can be of any help, please contact the Chairman. We are out to win this war!

The Present for The Future

HERE'S ONE GIFT that won't be returned or exchanged, one gift that's "just what everyone wants."

It says "Well done" to your secretary, "I miss you" to your mother, and "I love you" to your wife. It's as sentimental as moonlight, as practical as a pillow, as well-bred as a calling card.

It takes only a minute to buy . . . and we always have plenty in stock. And if some one else thinks of the same thing, that's fine. Everyone collects them.

There is a size to fit everyone . . . a price for every purse. Its color is a cheerful Christmas-y green . . . universally becoming to young and old. It will be especially engraved with name and address (at no extra charge), and is made from the finest materials . . . guaranteed to last ten years . . . and much longer.

It is one of those rare gifts that grow more valuable with the passing years.

Best of all, it helps pay for a soldier's Christmas . . . for the ships that bring him food and clothing and weapons, for the planes that watch over him, for the science and skill that guard his life. It's the gift that will bring peace on earth, good will to men . . . sooner.

YES, THIS CHRISTMAS, THERE'S NO FINER PRESENT THAN A WAR BOND FOR EVERY ONE ON YOUR LIST!

WARTIME SAVINGS SUGGESTIONS for Electric Appliance Users

Six Ways to Avoid Waste in the Use of Your Electric Washer and Iron
- Disconnect iron at wall outlet when called to door or telephone or whenever ironing is interrupted by other duties.
- Sprinkle clothes lightly — just enough to permit easy ironing out of wrinkles. Excessive dampening wastes heat and electricity.
- Set heat control of iron at correct temperature for each type of fabric and avoid using higher temperature than necessary.
- Plan washing so full capacity of washer is used once rather than partial capacity a number of times. But be careful not to overload. Overloading wastes electricity and results in a loss of efficiency.
- Turn off washer completely when not in use. Do not let it continue to run while you prepare next load.

Uncle Sam Says:
Waste of anything in wartime is a crime. Do not waste electricity just because it isn't rationed. Wasting electricity involves a waste of fuel, transportation facilities, manpower and critical materials needed elsewhere in the war effort. Use all the electricity you need but need what you use.

Gayety Theatre

TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

"Watch on the Rhine," Warner Bros.' new film based upon Lillian Hellman's famous play of the same name, will be shown at the Gayety.

The picture tells of the selfless heroism of human beings in their fight against the forces of evil.

Starred in the film are Bette Davis, one of Hollywood's foremost dramatic actresses, and Paul Lukas who scored in the Broadway hit which ran for over a year.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

James Craig, husky ex-football star, who distinguished himself in "Kitty Foyle" and "The Human Comedy" is teamed with Ann Sothern for the first time, playing her test pilot sweetheart in M-G-M's "Swing Shift Maisie," latest adventure of the glamorous showgirl.

In the latest of the series Miss Sothern abandons a vaudeville act to don overalls as a worker in a great airplane factory. The picture shows graphically the part women are playing in the war industry today. Comedy, romance and thrills blend to add entertainment to inspiration.

TUESDAY

The fictional story of young Russian guerrillas helping repel the Nazis, "The Boy from Stalingrad," has won new substantiation from an unexpected quarter.

In a recent issue of Liberty, an article by Ella Winter, "Russian Children Fight," tells how a 12-year-old Soviet youth gave his life for his country.

Left behind by retreating guerillas when the Germans took his village, the boy went to Nazi headquarters and said he wanted to report the whereabouts of the Soviet fighters who had deserted him. Once in the room with the German Commander, the boy pulled a hand grenade from his coat and destroyed the headquarters, killing himself.

For a climatic scene in the photoplay, filmed weeks before, precisely the same thing was done with one of the boy actors, Steven Muller, as the principal!

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Lucille Ball played the most difficult role of her career when she appeared as the guest star, none other than herself in M-G-M's Technicolor musical "Best Foot Forward." After winning the critics' plaudits as the night-club queen in "Du Barry Was A Lady" her next role was that of a movie queen, "the bathing suit" girl herself. Lucille appears as Lucille Ball at Winsocki Prep School at the invitation of Tommy Dix as a publicity stunt only to find herself spending most of her time avoiding people.

Also in the all-star cast are William Gaxton and Virginia Weidler.

A CHRISTMAS PRAYER

Once more when gleaming Christmas star,
Its wonderous beauty yields
Lord grant its radiance falls afar,
On distant battlefields.

And may its age-old story,
With the meaning it imparts,
Bring the peace of Yuletide glory
To their weary homesick hearts.

O'er windswept graves where heroes sleep
Where brave and noble fell,
Its softly starlit nightwatch keep,
A silent silvery sentinel.

Though far from home where 'ere they go
Please let them see its light—
And hearts and lips again echo,
The pure sweet strains of "Holy Night."

Then too, when all of war is o'er
And peace again shall reign,
Lord hear our humble prayers once more,
Please bring them safely home again.

CONSERVATION NEWS
By J. Casper Acree

One of the outstanding hill farms where conservation farming has been practiced for years is the Gid Kite farm at Waterloo, operated by Purdy and Kite. It has been stated that if you want to build your farm, turn it into a dairy farm. That will help, but other factors such as mowing machines, a well-kept sod made up of several grasses, and good judgment are very important. All of these factors have been used on this farm.

A practice that Kite and Purdy expect to do more of, is pasture rotation, (changing stock from field to field at intervals during the pasture season. A seven-year rotation is set up on the crop land area, consisting of one year row crop, one year grain and five years of meadow. Only enough ground will be plowed each year to set their tobacco acreage and enough corn to fill their silo. These row crops will be planted and set on the contour. Mr. Purdy plans on fencing off the eroded area above the reservoir, smoothing down the gullies, treating with lime and phosphate and seeding to grass. If available the Boone County District will furnish him several Kudzu crowns to set in this area.

The prize conservation story of the week goes to Rev. Noble Lucas of Petersburg. Rev. Lucas states that an American asked a Britisher, visiting this country, how it was that over in England they had such beautiful lawns, meadows and pastures. That is very simple," the Britisher replied. 'We prepare a good seed bed, sow a heavy seeding of grasses and let it lay for three hundred years."

It is estimated that 20,000 acres of Thorne wheat will be planted in Logan county next year, or 10 times the amount seeded in 1943.

Interesting Letter Received From Former Boone County Man

The following letter was received from W. W. Gaines, of Atlanta, Ga.:

"Editor Boone County Recorder
"Burlington, Ky.

"Dear Mr. Editor: :

"Enclosed find my remittance for another year's subscription. I have been in Atlanta now 52 years, and have been a subscriber to the Boone County Recorder all of that time. I would not think of doing without it. I look forward to its coming every week. I read it almost from beginning to end. It is, indeed, like one of the family.

"Some of your older readers may recall that in my youth I was your correspondent from the Bullittsville neighborhood. So, you see, I have been somewhat identified with The Recorder nearly all of my life.

"Atlanta has been good to me in many ways. I came here just after finishing my college courses. Atlanta is one of the nation's great cities, it's a great Southeastern metropolis. It is a city of many advantages. It is probably four times as large today as it was when I came. I am glad I came here, though, in the first instance, I came somewhat blindly.

But I am, if anything, prouder still of the fact that I was originally a country boy, reared in good old Boone County, Kentucky, in the Bullittsville neighborhood, and on a farm. I look back upon those first days with much satisfaction. That portion of Boone County was a fine section, inhabited for the most part by well-to-do farmers. Let me recall some of the family names: Watts, Corn, Stephens, Cropper, Graddy, Walton, Kirtley, Holton, Duncan, Grant, Graves, Riley, Chambers, Baisly, Gaines. And what a delightful group of young people there were, lovely girls, fine young men. And what good times we did have together. And then there were the two splendid neighborhood churches, the Bullittsburg Baptist Church, and the Bullittsville Christian Church. These churches were great gathering places, for young and old. I am happy these churches are still functioning today as finely as ever.

I treasure all of my recollections of Boone County, and I am happy that through the years I have been able to make occasional return trips to my home community and to renew old and prized associations. The Boone County Recorder helps me to keep up with my native local Kentucky folks and things. It comes like a comprehensive, newsy, letter every week.

W. W. Gaines."

WEATHERPROOFED HOUSES SAVE OIL AND COAL

More than 44,250,000 gallons of oil and more than a million tons of coal can be released for war, if only three percent more homes heated with these fuels are completely weatherproofed before next winter, according to study by the Federal Housing Administration.

Each gallon of oil and ton of coal not used to heat a home can be diverted almost gallon for gallon and ton for ton directly into winning the war—fuel for tanks and ships, gasoline for airplanes, and chemicals and other essential derivatives from oil and coal, according to the Solid Fuels and Petroleum Administration. Huge amount of these diminishing resources are wasted every winter because an estimated 75 percent of the houses in the country are still not weatherproofed.

Can Save Fuel

The FHA study shows that a home-owner or tenant can keep warm next winter with 60 percent as much oil or about two-thirds as much coal if he prepares now to install storm windows, calk and weatherstrip cracks, and insulates walls and ceilings.

Savings in fuel will repay the cost of complete weatherproofing in five to ten years, depending upon the size of the house and the kind of fuel. FHA is insuring three-year loans up to $2,500 for this purpose, and both the Federal Reserve restriction on consumer credit and the War Production Board limitation on the use of critical materials specifically exempt weatherproofing from their provisions.

Mrs. U. E. Hinton of Muhlenberg county canned two years' supply of vegetables and fruits, for her family of six. In 21 years she has never been without a variety of home-canned products. She also helps with a truck garden, dairying, livestock and poultry.

County Agent P. R. Watlington says Bourbon county farmers would apply 125,000 tons of limestone yet this year, if they took advantage of the grant-of-aid provision made by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency. They have been using about 15,000 tons a year.

TWO SUFFER SEVERE BURNS

IN FIRE NEAR CONSTANCE SATURDAY—REPORTED IN FAIR CONDITION AT BOOTH HOSPITAL

Hezekiah Said, 63 years old, and his grandson Wilbur Said, 18, who suffered severe burns early Saturday when their home was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning were reported as fair by attaches of Booth Hospital.

Said, his wife, Mrs. Grace Said, and the grandson were awakened by flames consuming their bed clothing. Mrs. Said was awakened first when she became aware that her hair was afire. She immediately aroused the others.

It was while attempting to subdue the blaze with buckets of water that Said suffered second and third degree burns. Wilbur Said also suffered first and second degree face, hand and neck burns. Mrs. Said was treated for face and hand burns by Dr. S. B. Nunnelley.

Mr. Said barely escaped death when he collapsed in the burning building. He was dragged from danger by Mrs. Said and his grandson.

After escaping from the house, a two-room structure, which was burned beyond saving, the couple and their grandson walked more than a mile and a half to the farm of William Kennedy for assistance. Mrs. Said was treated at the Kennedy home and the others were taken to the hospital in ambulance of the Catherman funeral home, Ludlow.

Earl Aylor, Chief of Hebron Volunteer Fire Department stated that the cause of the fire could not be determined, due to the house being burned to the ground.

Eighty-Nine Sheepmen Insure Sheep In Local Organization

Eighty-nine farmers owning approximately 4000 sheep have taken membership since September 1st in the Boone County Sheep Protective Association, according to J. W. Connley, secretary of the organization. This number is ahead of last year's membership at this time. The membership year is from September 1st to August 31st.

H. E. White president of the Association advises that many of last year's members are not aware that all membership of the past year closes on September 1st and the next year's membership dues are to be paid before October 1st. The membership fees are 10 cents per head whether the sheep owner signs up on September 1st and receives 12 months' protection or signs up later in the year. The association protection to members, however, does not start until the new membership dues are paid.

The association has successfully operated the past five years. It has built up a substantial reserve and is rendering a valuable insurance protection for farmers against sheep losses from dogs.

BURLEY PRICE IS BOOSTED

TO CEILING OF $42 A HUNDRED FOR CHOICE GRADES AS HIGH MARKET IS ANTICIPATED—AUCTIONS UNDER WAY.

The price scale of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, released at Lexington last Thursday night by Secretary Frank C. Taylor, ranges about $2 a hundredweight higher in most grades than the association scale of a a year ago in anticipation of a high market.

The Burley Cooperative provides a sort of "floor" price for growers who may be dissatisfied with the price offered at auction for their product. Growers receiving bids lower than that designated in the association price scale for that grade may reject such bids and consign their tobacco to the cooperative pool and receive its "floor" price.

The association's new price scale ranges up to $42 a hundred pounds for some of the choice grades (A1L, A1F) and up to $40 a hundredweight for several other grades.

Opening sales were held at the Lexington market Monday, with other warehouses in the burley belt having their first sales Tuesday.

Former Burlington Man Sends Donation To Fire Department

The Burlington Volunteer Fire Department is in receipt of a check for $10.00 from Arthur B. Rouse, who is Clerk of the U. S. District Court, and now resides in Lexington.

Mr. Rouse, it will be remembered, was born and reared in Burlington and for several years was a member of Congress from this district. He still has a warm spot in his heart for his old home town and his favorite expression when referring to Burlington is that it is the "Garden Spot of the World."

Mr. Rouse's contribution came unsolicited and is much appreciated by his many Burlington friends, who are trying to provide fire protection for this community.

The fire department is still short of funds to complete their equipment and any one desiring to make a contribution to this worthy cause may do so, with the satisfaction of knowing that they may be having a part in saving the home of some relative, friend or neighbor.

Clements Herbers

Clements Herbers, age 39, passed away at his home near Visalia, early Friday, following a long illness. Mr. Herbers was a native of Cleveland, Ohio, having moved here about five years ago.

He is survived by his widow, Katherine Herbers; one daughter, Emma; one brother Roy Herbers, Cincinnati, O., and his step-father E. Cesseman, of Visalia.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Cecelia Church, Independence, Monday at nine o'clock, with burial in St. Cecilia Cemetery.

Chambers and Grubbs were in charge of arrangements.

NEW HAVEN FIVE DEFEAT KNIGHTS

IN LOPSIDED GAME BY SCORE OF 47-11—WALTON TROUNCE BURLINGTON 37-18 ON WALTON FLOOR.

The New Haven Tigers downed the Florence Knights in a doubleheader Friday evening, December 3 at New Haven. The Tigers forged ahead in the first quarter to run the score to 18 to 4. They held the lead throughout the game and piled up 47 points against 11 for their opponents before the final whistle sounded. Good team work, fast passing, and accurate shooting were displayed in the winning team.

The following boys represented New Haven: Judge, Moore, Wharton, Ferguson, L. Shields, Dickerson and V. Shields. Florence was represented by Shields, Reynolds, Carpenter, Houston, Crouch, Grayson, Sebree, and Youell.

The New Haven "B" team defeated the Florence "B" team by a score of 22 to 15.

Burlington's first line five took a severe trouncing Friday night, when they were entertained by the Walton Bearcats. The final score was Walton 37, Burlington 18. Elliott was high point man for the Walton five with 13.

In one of the best reserve games ever witnessed on any floor in the county, Burlington chalked up a victory over Walton after three overtime periods. Burlington collected a field goal in the third quarter to emerge on the long end of a 16-14 count.

Gullion-Ryle

A wedding of much interest to their friends of Union and surrounding communities, was that of Miss Anita Gullion, of Rice Pike and Pvt. Robert C. Ryle, Radio Technician, Air Force, Washington, D. C., both graduates of New Haven High School.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Beach in the parol of the Baptist parsonage, Union, at six o'clock, Friday, December 3rd.

The wedding party included Miss Anna Jean Love and Mr. Shirley Gruelle, attendants.

The bride was lovely in her blue frock with wine accessories. Miss Love wore a wine colored dress with blue accessories.

After a short visit with their relatives, Mr. Ryle and his bride will return to Washington, to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ryle and a friend of Mrs. Ryle's of Louisville, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Manley Ryle.

RESTAURANT PRICES FROZEN

AT HIGHEST PRICES CHARGED BEGINNING APRIL 4 AND ENDING APRIL 10, 1943—EFFECTIVE DECEMBER 10TH.

Starting December 10, 1943, all restaurants, hotels, cafes, bars, delicatessens, soda fountains, boarding houses and other eating and drinking establishments are frozen at the highest prices charged for food items and meals served during the seven-day period beginning April 4th and ending April 10, 1943, according to H. P. Baker, Chairman of the Boone County Price Panel.

The Maximum Price Regulation 3-10, which states the facts of this Restaurant Order, have been mailed to all establishments which it includes. This order does not include eating and drinking places operated by any school, college or university, which is a non-profit institution.

It is advisable for all restaurant operators, etc., to familiarize themselves with his regulation and from time to time there will be a check-up made by the Price Panel or their assistants to help with your problems.

Boone Countians Urged To Buy Christmas Seals

Buy as many Tuberculosis Christmas Seals that you feel you can, because every cent of the proceeds of the sale is used for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis. This is the only means of collecting funds used for tuberculosis work.

Sixty-five percent of the sales in Boone County will be used in the county. The remainder goes to the State and National organizations to carry on research work.

R. V. Lents, executive secretary of the Boone County Tuberculosis Association, reports that more than $140 was spent on two patients in the county and smaller amounts on several others in the past year. A clinic was held at Florence, and many X-rays were made at a greatly reduced rate. Several of these X-rays were financed by the Boone County Tuberculosis Association.

Mr. Lents also stated that there is now a patient in the county who needs an operation and hospital care that will cost more than $300. He refused to mention the patient's name to avoid embarassment to the person, but said that the patient will receive all the aid the county organization can afford. There are other tuberculars in the county needing aid, and Mr. Lents has promised that everything possible will be done to aid them.

The amount of aid given to the cases mentioned will depend upon the amount of seals that you buy. Buy now!

1300 BUSHELS HYBRID SEED

PRODUCED BY BOONE COUNTY GROWERS—WILL BENEFIT COUNTY'S FEED PRODUCTION PROGRAM NEXT YEAR.

Two Boone County hybrid seed corn producers the past year have produced 1300 bushels of certified seed corn for planting in 1944. The varieties are Kentucky and Boone County adapted. This valuable local source of seed will be a great aid to the county's feed production program next year.

The local growers are Wilton Stephens of Burlington who has 300 bushels of certified U. S. 13 seed. Lloyd Siekman of Petersburg has 700 bushels of Ky. 103 (yellow) and 300 bushels of Kentucky white hybrids Nos. 201 and 212.

It is estimated that there were 11,900 acres of hybrid field corn grown in the county the past years. Many growers estimated that they got as high as fifty percent more bushels of corn as a result of adapted hybrid seed. An estimated 100 bushels per acre increase would equal 119,000 more bushels of corn valued at more than $119,000.00 more dollars or extra feed crops for the war effort.

Boone County farmers in all probability must raise more corn in 1944 to meet local livestock feed requirements. Growers are urged to plant only locally proven adapted hybrids. Orders for seed should be placed early to guarantee that the local supply will be adequate.

Ida Virginia English

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Virginia English, of Walton were conducted from Walton Baptist church Tuesday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. C. J. Alford, former pastor officiating. Burial was in Walton Cemetery.

Mrs. English was an active member of Walton Baptist Church until her recent illness. Her husband John English, deceased was killed in a train and truck accident 14 years ago.

Mrs. English died Sunday, following a short illness.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth E. Robinson, Walton, several nephews, and nieces.

Chambers and Grubbs, Walton funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

Frederick B. Haskell

Frederick B. Haskell, passed away Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Houston, 37 Forest Avenue, Erlanger, after a long illness.

Mr. Haskell, who was 87 years old, had lived in Erlanger for 37 years. He was a charter member of Phoenix Council No. 85, Junior Order United American Mechanics.

Surviving him besides Mrs. Houston, are four other daughters, Mrs. Thomas Buchanan, Cincinnati, Mrs. Mildred Broughton, Erlanger, Mrs. William Boucher, Evansville, Ind., and Mrs. Vernice Chipman, Dayton, Ohio; three sons, Epes E. Haskell and Everett W. Haskell of Erlanger and Alden H. Haskell, of Louisville; 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 Saturday at the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger. Burial was in Highland Cemetery.

Utopia Club Hold Christmas Program

The Boone County Utopia Club will hold a special Christmas program meeting at Burlington on Thursday evening, December 16th at 7:30 p. m., according to Lucian Bradford, president.

A special program committee will be in charge. Special remembrance will be made for each member now in the Service. All who are interested in Utopia club work are invited to attend and take part in the meeting.

"Dude Ranch" To Be Presented Friday At Burlington School

"Dude Ranch" will be presented by the senior class of the Burlington high school, Friday evening, December 10th, at 8:00 (CWT), it was announced this week. Mrs. Lula Tolin is the director.

The plot concerns Aunt Sue McGonigle, who runs the "Circle X" Ranch, somewhere west of the Rockies. Due to a series of misfortunes, things have gone very badly for Aunt Sue, and she finally decides to turn the place into a dude ranch, which she does with the aid of her foreman, Sorghum Sam Smith, and Lung Shy, the Chinese cook. The dude ranch is not too successful at first, but then Aunt Sue has a stroke of luck; a reservation is received from Muriel Harcourt the famous canned-soup heiress. Her presence at the "Circle X" and the attendant publicity, Aunt Sue hopes, will put the ranch over with a bang. At the same time she is visited by her nephew from the East, Larry McGonigle, the radio crooner who has just lost his contract. Aunt Sue conceives the idea of making a "singing cowboy" out of him and, as Larry has never even been on a horse in his life, it can be imagined that hilarious complications ensue. It is the job of Larry and Aunt Sue to keep the soup heiress interested so that she will not get bored and leave, thus putting a crimp in the publicity campaign. To do this, Larry concocts a scheme for impersonating Wyoming Bill, a notorious bad man of the district, and simulating a hold-up. But Larry has not reckoned with Wyoming Bill himself, who chooses that very day for a raid on the "Circle X." At the same time, a neighboring rancher exercises his legal rights and shuts off Aunt Sue's water supply, and nothing but disaster seems in store for her. But then Larry rides to the rescue—literally—and with the aid of Princess Quick Rabbit, Aunt Sue's charming little half-Indian ward, saves the situation in an amusing and exciting climax.

INAUGURATION WELL ATTENDED

TUESDAY WHEN SIMEON S. WILLIS TAKES OFFICE OF GOVERNOR—FRANK RASH REAPPOINTED.

Simeon S. Willis, successful Republican candidate who defeated J. Lyter Donaldson for the office of governor in the regular November election took over the reigns of state government Tuesday, to become the commonwealth's 49th Governor.

Gov. Willis' first official act was appointment of Ralph A. Homan, young Louisville attorney, as his executive secretary. He then issued orders continuing Colonel Frank Rash of Louisville as Director State Selective Service, and State Adjutant General John A. Polin in his post.

Governor Willis said it might be several days before he made other changes among the numerous appointive officials whom he declared more than a week ago he intended to replace with men of his own choosing

Taking over with $10,301,799 cash balance in the state general fund—a fact which retiring Governor Johnson said he mentioned with "pardonable pride" Willis had indicated in his campaign he intended to ask the Legislature to abolish the state income tax which brings in around $7,000,000 to $8,000,000 annually.

Friendly raillery between the outgoing Democrats and in the incoming Republican that brought shouts of laughter again and again from the huge crowd massed in front of the long steps of the State Capitol was typical of the American way of life.

The throngs cheered in their pride as armored infantry and huge wheeled engines of war from Fort Knox marched by in strength of approximately 700 men.

Petersburg Youth Wounded In Action

Tech. Wilson J. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Edwards, of Petersburg, was wounded in action in Italy, according to an announcement received by his parents from the War Department.

Tech. Edwards entered the U. S. Army February 4, 1943 and received his basic training at Ft. McClelland, Ala. He attended grade school at Petersburg and attended the Hebron high school three years, prior to his induction.

He is in a general hospital somewhere in North Africa. He has received the Purple Heart award.

The telegram received from the War Department follows:

"Claude Edwards,
Petersburg, Ky.

"Regret to inform you your son Technician Fifth Grade Wilson J. Edwards was on November 4th, slightly wounded in action in Italy. You will be advised as reports are received.

Ulio, Adjutant General"

RESTRICTIONS ARE LIFTED

TEMPORARILY ON PRESSURE COOKERS FOR INDIVIDUALS ACCORDING TO U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Rationing regulations on pressure cookers have been temporarily relaxed to facilitate quick distribution to individuals of pressure cookers which have accumulated, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board in Kentucky. Pressure cookers are being shipped in larger quantities to all states. It is no longer necessary that a canner be located before issuing purchase certificate, neither is it necessary that canners be used by several families or organizations. Canners may be bought for individual home use.

Families in Boone County interested in purchasing pressure canners for meat canning and for next year, are urged to send for an application soon from the Farm Rationing Committee in Burlington. After the application has been filled it should be returned to Burlington Board. When it is approved a purchase order will be sent the individual desiring the cooker. The Conrad Hardware Store of Walton report that they have fifteen pressure cookers on hand, both 7 and 14 quart size. Several stores in the city have pressure cookers on hand at the present time.

Anyone desiring information on pressure cookers may contact the Home Demonstration Agent, Burlington 412.

Morehead Professor Gives Demonstration At Boone Co. Schools

Dr. F. A. Riedel, professor of chemistry at Morehead Teachers College, Morehead, Ky., gave a very interesting demonstration in chemistry and radio at the Hebron, Burlington and Florence schools Friday, Dec. 3.

Dr. Riedel showed how the English made the famous incendiary "calling cards" later dropped over Germany, creating explosions, mixing beautiful colors with mysterious colorless chemicals and white powders, and demonstrating the marvels of radio control of pilotless planes, and so on. Dr. Riedel delighted the pupils.

As he made no charge for the program, the schools are especially grateful to Dr. Riedel and to Morehead Teachers' College, which he represented.

John Edward Morris

Requiem High Mass for John Edward Morris, Price Pike, Florence, was sung at St. Paul Church, Florence at 9 a. m. Monday, following prayers at the home. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery. He was 59.

Mr. Morris, a bachelor, died suddenly Friday at his home. He was found dead by Dr. Harry Daugherty, Florence, who had been called to the home. Mr. Morris had collapsed in a barn on his farm. H. E. White, acting coroner, said death was caused by a heart attack.

Philip Taliaferro, Erlanger funeral director was in charge of arrangements.

CALL MEETING SCHEDULED MON.

TRUCKING SITUATION WILL BE EXPLAINED AND PLANS DEVELOPED FOR CONSERVATION OF TRUCK FACILITIES.

The Cincinnati Area Livestock Transportation Committee is calling a meeting of all truck owners and livestock producers in the county for this coming Monday night, December 13th at 7:30 p. m., according to H. R. Forkner, county agent. The meeting will be held at the County Agent's office in Burlington.

The farm to market truck situation looks particularly bad for this coming year. The purpose of the meeting will be to explain the trucking situation and to develop plans for conservation of local truck facilities. A county committee of three truckmen and three farmers will be appointed to assist in working out a solution to the trucking problems that are developing.

Elmer Hinkle of the Cincinnati Livestock Yards is chairman of the Area Committee. He urges that all owners of trucks for hire and interested farmers attend the meeting. Representatives of the area committee, the Office of Defense Transportation and the College will be present at the meeting.

WAYMAN SALES

Mrs. G. Wilson sold her farm on Decoursey Pike to Mrs. L. Hite, of Blanchester, Ohio.

Frank Northcutt, of Covington, sold his 60-acre farm at Piner, Ky., to Porter Chapman, of Covington.

These sales were made by Rel C. Wayman, Covington real estate agent.

Sgt. Ralph G. Maurer, stationed at Camp Maxey, Texas, is spending a brief furlough with relatives and friends in Boone County. He arrived here Sunday morning.

WIDOW OF CARL C. KIGER ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH MURDERING HER HUSBAND AND SON AND WITH CONSPIRING TO COMMIT MURDER.

Mrs. Jennie Kiger, 49, widow of Carl C. Kiger, who was murdered last August 17th at his home, Rosegate near Devon, was arrested Monday by Sheriff J. T. Williams, charged with murdering her husband and her son, Jerry, 6, and with conspiring to commit murder.

Sheriff Williams reported that Mrs. Kiger said nothing Monday afternoon when he appeared at the home of her brother-in-law and informed her that he had a warrant charging her with murder. Sawyer Smith, Mrs. Kiger's attorney and Fred Williamson, Ft. Mitchell, brother-in-law of Mrs. Kiger signed the $25,000 bond which permitted the accused woman to remain at Williamson's home after the murder warrant was served upon her there.

Mrs. Kiger will be arraigned before Judge Carroll Cropper in Boone County Court next Monday—the day on which the grand jury is to consider charges against Joan Kiger, her daughter. Mrs. Kiger's case probably will be considered at the same time.

Judge Cropper said that Sheriff Jake Williams, Raymond L. Vincent, Commonwealth Attorney and others interested in the prosecution had intended all along to accuse Mrs. Kiger in the double slaying.

He said they waited until almost time for the grand jury to meet because the widow was under subpoena as a witness anyway and the state could place her under arrest at any time.

Commonwealth Attorney Vincent said the affidavit against Mrs. Kiger accused her and the girl of conspiring to kill Kiger and his son. He declared that one aided and abetted the other in carrying out the crime—he didn't know which.

The part of the affidavit charging a murder plot said:

"The other of said defendants, being then and there present, aiding, abetting, counseling and advising the same, the exact manner whereof is unknown to affiant, and which did the shooting, the said Joan Kiger or Jennie Kiger, or which aided, abetted, counseled and advised the same, is unknown to the affiant."

The affidavit was signed by Vincent. The warrant issued by Judge Cropper was against Mrs. Kiger only, Joan previously having been accused and freed under $25,000 bond.

If the jury indicts Joan and her mother or either of them, the trial probably will start December 16 before Judge Ward Yager in Boone Circuit Court.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Faulkner, of Hebron, Ky., announce the engagement of their daughter Shirley Jane to P. F. C. David Allen Lucas, son of Rev. and Mrs. Noble Lucas, of Petersburg, Ky.

The wedding will be an event of the holiday season.

AIRPORT HIGHWAY COMPLETED FRIDAY

CONCRETE ROAD WILL BE OPEN TO TRAFFIC IN FEW WEEKS, ACCORDING TO REPORTS—SIDE LANES TO BE FINISHED.

The new concrete highway between Erlanger and the Boone County Airport near Hebron was completed at noon Friday, and will be open to travel within two or three weeks.

Cost of the highway when completed will be $300,000. Paving on the project was done by the F. M. D. Construction Co., of Frankfort.

Construction of four-foot side lanes, and curbs and gutters along 3000 feet of the highway within the limits of Erlanger, are yet to be completed. This work, however, will not interfere with opening of the road for travel as soon as the concrete pavement has conditioned suitably.

The highway is named in honor of former Highway Commissioner J. Lyter Donaldson, of Carrollton, who assured authorities sponsoring the construction of the airport early in their efforts that such a road would be built if the airport project was obtained.

CLEAN OWN HOUSE FIRST

The most popular political pastime today is planning a new postwar world.

But before the United States can take any great part in such a world, it will have to set its own house in order.

Large, continuing production is the only basis for financing our government and maintaining adequate living standards and a feeling of personal security. In the United States, under a private enterprise system, living standards reached a world peak and provided real independence and security for a greater population than in other countries.

So, while planning the postwar world, our planners might as well get down to earth, and consider practical plans for encouraging expansion of private enterprise at home.

Only a policy of moderate taxation after the war will encourage individual initiative. Exorbitant taxes add to the price of goods, depress employment and deter investment and risk taking.

"Moderate business taxes," says Harley L. Lutz, professor of public finance, Princeton University, in the Tax Review" that would release the full driving power of production at adequate wages and profits, mean that as soon as the war is over the excess profits tax and the surtax should be repealed, the normal rate should be reduced to some point within the range applied from 1918 to 1932. In no case should the tax rate exceed 20 per cent."

RATIONING ALONE NO REMEDY FOR SCARCITY

England has been experiencing a bad coal strike. In our country the Federal director of coal mines estimates that strikes have cost the United States 25,000,000 tons of coal this year. It now develops that coal must be shipped for use of the Army in keeping Italian utilities, ships, locomotives, factories and other facilities going.

In the meantime, the question of how cold American homes will be this winter will depend on weather, with which neither the government nor labor unions have any influence.

A discussion is now underway as to whether the work week in coal mines shall be extended from 42 to 48 hours, which would involve more pay and a little higher price for coal. When the work week was extended from 35 to 42 hours, price increases of 14 cents a ton were approved which, according to simple arithmetic, meant $1.40 price increase for ten tons of coal. The average family would be glad to pay another 14 cents a ton price increase to offset wage increases, if by so doing homes could be kept warm this winter.

It would seem like the value of rationing and price ceilings of commodities is virtually nil if the net result of such policies is scarcities which denude the market of supplies. Eventually this nation must adopt a program that encourages bountiful production as a sound curb on inflation which is caused by scarcities.

PRICES MUST INEVITABLY FOLLOW WAGES

With the milk, butter and cheese situation daily becoming more critical, not to mention many other agricultural crops, Fred H. Sexauer, President of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, says:

"Food scarcity could have been avoided had the government treated the problem as realistically as it has the problem of producing tanks, planes and ships.

"To obtain the materials for war, the government has followed a policy of paying prices for equipment that encourage manufacturers to expand their facilities and production. In the case of agriculture, particularly dairying, the policy has been just the opposite.

"Limiting milk sales will not cause any increase in production. The only way that a greater reduction in the supply of milk can be prevented is through a price to producers that will enable them to meet steadily rising costs of production."

CLEARING THE TRACK

It has remained for Joseph B. Eastman, Director of the Office of Defense Transportation for the government, to recognize officially the fact that a lot of our manpower shortage is the result of rules and regulations that were often devised for the specific purpose of making two jobs where one was sufficient.

Unless vigorous remedies are undertaken at once, the country is headed for a crisis in railroad manpower, says Mr. Eastman. In a 13-point program to forestall such a crisis, he recommends as an important essential the suspension for the duration in certain circumstances of full crew laws and engine mileage limitations.

Mr. Eastman recognizes that the railroads have gone the limit in expanding service under many restrictions, and that the time has come to remove any artificial barriers which block the fullest use of available manpower and equipment in this critical period.

This should be hailed by both labor and management as an opportunity to once more demonstrate that America's rail transportation system and its workers can and will conquer problems as they arise. As a war emergency, it is to be hoped the suggestion of Mr. Eastman will be considered in this light.

CHRIST'S NEW COMMANDMENT

LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:28-34; John 13: 34, 35; 15:10-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.—John 13:34.

The "new commandment" of love which Christ gave was not new in the sense of then first being known, but new in its application (John 13:34). Only since Christ had come did men know how to love in truth.

This commandment of love was also first in time, being given before the Ten Commandments (see Lev. 19:18). Then, too, it declared the fundamental of all spiritual life, the first thing man needed to know, that God is love.

It also must take first place in man's thinking, for even as the Decalogue (Ten Commandments) is the heart of all moral law, so love for God and our fellow man is that which makes the Decalogue effective in our lives. Love and obedience go together (John 15:10).

Our lesson teaches us four things—

I. Love God (Mark 12:28-30).

Because "God is love" (I John 4:8) He desires man's perfect love toward Him. Because the essence of His being is love, He loves us, and enables us to love Him.

There is more here than a commandment or the performing of a duty. There is the recognition of a controlling principle of all life. In a day of multiplication of powerful machines and organizations, when man is "power conscious" in an unusual way, it is well to recall that the greatest power in all the world is the power of love.

Then let us not forget that all true love should rest upon fellowship with God. It has no real foundation if it does not.

II. Love Your Neighbor (Mark 12:31-34).

Everything about our relationship to Christ and to God expresses itself in our living. No spiritual truth is simply to be admired, or kept on a shelf as a cherished possession. It is to be put to work in the affairs of life.

Love for God means love for our neighbor. If we do not love our neighbor (and that means our fellow man—Luke 10:25-42) how then does the love of God abide in our hearts?

It is worthy of note that the recognition and appreciation of this truth on the part of the scribe brought him near to the kingdom of God, but not into it. He was "not far from," but he was not in it. It is terrifying to think how close men may come to entering without doing so. Reader, have you entered into eternal life through Jesus Christ?

III. Love Your Brethren (John 13:34, 35).

Here we come within the circle of believers and see that the distinctive thing about their fellowship should be love for one another.

The old commandment of love becomes a new one because Christ shows that the measure of that love is to be His great love for us. How did Christ love us? With a perfect, unselfish and thoughtful devotion, which so deeply desired the very most and best for us that He was willing to lay down His holy life as our Saviour from sin.

The thing which marked the early church with glorious distinction was that in a world that hated, they loved one another, and in a world that killed and destroyed, they were even willing to die for their brethren. Tertullian of Carthage (Tunis) said, in the second century, that the enemies of Christianity said of the Christians, "See how they love one another."

IV. Love is Obedient, Joyful and Sacrificial (John 15:10-14).

Love is not an impulsive, erratic movement of man's nature which tries to make up for neglect and unkindness by occasional displays of generosity and thoughtfulness. No indeed. Love walks the straight and steady way of obedience to God's commandments.

Keeping God's law is not accomplished by reading it, or talking about it, or even learning it by heart, but by definitely practicing its precepts.

This brings joy into our lives—the real and perfect joy of Christ. How little we appreciate what this means. Our fellowship with the Lord calls for obedience and sacrifice, but that is not a burdensome, dull, distressing experience. It is a joyful one. Who counts it a trial to do that which pleases a loved one? Do we really love God? Then we will rejoice in our response to His will, yes, in any possible act of devotion.

Love draws no limiting line beyond which it will not go. Love says: "I count not my life dear, if in giving it I may bring deliverance to my friends."

We shall not question His guidance nor blush to own His name, even though the testimony may mean our death. This we shall do for Christ's sake, and for the sake of a suffering humanity.

GREEN BEANS PAY

From three acres of beans, Cecil Beardsley of Ballard county realized $1,088, shipping 469 bushels from the field at an average price of $2.32 per bushel. Frost on Oct. 17 ended Ballard county's green bean harvest, and ruined about 3,000 acres of beans. In spite of this the crop was a success, as about 100,000 pounds of beans had been sent to canneries, and 3,000 bushels shipped to market.

BURLINGTON LADY SPIT UP ACID LIQUIDS FOR HOURS AFTER EATING

Four hours after every meal, a Burlington lady used to spit up a strong, acidulous liquid mixed with pieces of half-digested food. She says it was awful. At times she would nearly strangle. She had stomach bloat, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Today, this lady eats her meals and enjoys them. And she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her food agrees with her. No. gas, bloat or spitting up after eating. She is also free of headaches now, and bowels are regular, thanks to this Remarkable New Compound.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Dahlenburg's Drug Store, Erlanger.

BELLEVIEW CHURCH OF CHRIST
Sam Hamilton, Minister

Bible School 10:00 a. m. (CWT)., Tommie Stephens, Supt.

Worship Service 11:00.

The parts for the Christmas drama have nearly all been assigned and we shall begin practice for this event on Saturday night of this week, Dec. 11, 7:30. The drama will be presented on Sunday evening December 19th.

The annual election of church officers will be conducted Sunday morning, December 12th at the regular worship service. All the offices will be subject to election. All members are urged to be present at and participate in this matter. Please have your choices in mind so as to speed up the process of election. Three elders, five deacons, nine deaconnesses and the clerk and treasurer, will be elected at this time.

CONSTANCE HOMEMAKERS

The Constance Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. James Dye, December 1st for their regular meeting and Christmas party. There were 15 members, six visitors and our H. D. A. Miss Gillaspie present. Due to our president being absent the meeting was called to order by our vice president.

Mrs. Alice Kenyon opened our meeting by singing, "Holy Night," The various committee chairmen made their reports and the reading chairman gave an interesting reading.

Miss Gillaspie gave a lesson on how to make Afghans for our boys in service and asked each club in the county to make at least one.

After the business meeting a delicious Xmas dinner was served. The afternoon was spent in playing games and exchanging gifts.

Miss Gillaspie won the club prize and the door prize was won by Mrs. Pearl Tunning.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lena Fritz, January 5th.

TOBACCO STALKS GOOD FERTILIZER

Full use of the stalks from this year's tobacco crop would add $2,000,000 worth of crop production in Kentucky in 1944, in the opinion of S. C. Jones, a soils and crops man at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington.

He says there will be about 60,000 tons of stalks, and that the fertilizer in a ton would cost $12 to $15, if bought in commercial fertilizer. A ton of tobacco stalks contains 60 to 65 pounds of each nitrogen and potassium, about six pound of phosphorus, and 30 to 35 pounds of calcium or the equivalent of about 100 pounds of ground limestone. A ton of unleached tobacco stalks contains as much fertilizer as five to six loads of manure.

Much of the fertilizer elements is lost when the stalks remain out in the rain. They should be kept inside during the fall and winter and spread in spring. If they can't be protected from the weather they should be spread thinly on pasture and small grains as the tobacco is stripped.

THIS 4-H CLUB BOY KEEPS BUSY

The production of a variety of foods in the war effort has been the aim of Johnnie Green Pace, 4-H club member of Livingston county, during the past year. In his poultry project, he won the district award, with a record of having brooded 400 chicks and of selling 280 fryers for a profit of $62.50 above cost of feed, chicks and the building of a brick brooder. He also remodeled his laying house. Then he grew a Victory garden 40 by 60 feet with 20 varieties of vegetables and canned 374 quarts of fruits and vegetables. In his F. F. A. project, Johnnie cared for his registered sow and eight pigs. He also sold $6,000 worth of war bonds and stamps in the recent drive.

WELL-BRED CALVES PROVE PROFITABLE

Walton Fulton and son Stanley, who operate a large farm in Robertson and Fleming counties, recently sold 23 fat calves for $2,093. Averaging 60 pounds, the calves brought $14 per hundred weight. These stock producers, according to Farm Agent A. A. Williams, are using an extra good herd of beef cows of high-milking ability and smooth, compact registered beef bulls to produce quality baby beef calves. With 56 breeding cows, their calves averaged more than $80 per head in 1942. Stanley Fulton says that the difference in the value of a calf sired by an ordinary bull and a good registered animal is $20 at the age of 8 months.

GROWS 36 KINDS OF GARDEN CROPS

Twelve hundred quarts of food were canned by Mrs. Ed Jelf of Anderson county this year, including 200 quarts of fruit grown on the farm. Mrs. Jelf grew 36 varieties of vegetables which she canned, then stored 18 bushels of potatoes and a considerable variety of other root crops. Chickens, hogs and sheep will provide a supply of meat for this farm family. Approximately 73,380 quarts of food were canned by Anderson county homemakers.

1,100 WOMEN JOIN STATE'S LAND ARMY

Approximately 1,100 women signed up in the Women's Land Army to help plant, tend and harvest Kentucky's war crops, or assist for at least one month in numerous other farm jobs in the labor shortage during the past year. Registered with their county agricultural or home agents as members of the WLA, many women devoted as much as half or three-fourths of their time to out-door tasks. Ranking highest in the number of women registered is Anderson county, with 158. Logan county has 117, and McCracken and Oldham counties each 75.

IMPROVED WHEAT SEEDED

Approximately 3,450 bushels of Thorne wheat were sown in Christian county this fall, all of the seed having been produced from the 300 bushels of certified seed brought into the county last spring by the Farm Bureau. Farmers were pleased with the way this variety of wheat stood up for combining, as well as the increased yield of approximately 15 percent.

Gayety Theatre

SATURDAY

Henry Aldrich is having his troubles again at the Gayety, in Paramount's amusing comedy, "Henry Aldrich Swings It," with Jimmy Lydon playing that bewildered, bedeviled youngster in his usual fine style.

Henry gets into a jam when he accidentally exchanges his cheap fiddle for a $10,000 Stradivarius belonging to a concert artist who visits Centerville High School. Henry's life is complicated by the fact that he leads a swing band at a shady night club and when the place is raided he leaves the expensive instrument behind him in his rush to get away. With him as usual, is Charles Smith in the role of "Dizzy."

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

"The fightin'est men in the world"—the United States Marines—saluted actor Wallace Beery on the 167th anniversary of the leatherneck corps.

Major John S. Winch, public relations director of the Western recruiting division, U. S. M. C., presented Beery with a large scroll, a certificate of appreciation for his fine portrayal of a Marine top sergeant in M-G-M's "Salute to the Marines," a two-fisted, daring and thrilling film.

The picture marked the first time he has played a Marine, although he has portrayed a member of every other branch of the service, from submarine sailor to Naval flier.

TUESDAY

Both Johnny Mack Brown and Jennifer Holt, his leading lady in Universal's outdoor adventure drama, "The Old Chisholm Trail" are part Indian.

Jennifer, who is said to have her most interesting role in the new film, derives her Indian blood from the family of her father, Jack Holt. Brown's great-great-grandmother was an Indian princess.

Co-starring with Brown in "The Old Chisholm Trail," is Tex Ritter. Fuzzy Knight and the Jimmy Wakely Trio are featured prominently.

Also

Revelry, rhythm and romance, plus a galaxy of well known entertainers, are impressively featured in Universal's "Follow the Band" Winning approval in the large cast are such favorites as Leo Carrillo, Leon Errol, Mary Beth Hughes, Eddie Quillan and Anne Rooney.

Seen and heard to advantage are Frances Langford, Alvino Rey and the King Sisters, Ray Eberle, The Bombardiers, Hilo Hattie, The King's Men and Skinnay Ennis and the Groove Boys.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

The travels of Rose Franken's unpredictable heroine, "Claudia," have set something of a record.

Now, on the screen—the 20th Century-Fox filmization featuring Dorothy McGuire, Robert Young and Ina Claire, is slated for the Gayety. "Claudia" first appeared on the pages of Redbook Magazine.

Within a short time after her appearance there, a new edition appeared as a novel, and "Claudia" became a best-seller overnight.

Pfc. Charles J. King stationed somewhere in the Southwest Pacific writes the following letter:

"It gives me great pleasure to write a letter for an issue in our domestic paper. I want to thank you and your fellow employees for your kind and efficient work in making it possible for us boys who are in the armed forces to receive news from the home front.

"I'm proud to receive my county paper, and I'm delighted to know what activities, etc., are going on back there. Even though I'm far away, I'm proud to know I'm a citizen of the county, and to know I'll be welcomed along with the other fellows returning there in the near future. I know from the articles which I recently read in your paper and the letters I've received from my good friend Abbie Weaver, that all of you back there are doing a magnificent job toward the war effort. The things I just mentioned are sure a morale booster. The only paper we receive here is the "Gulena Gold," which is published here on the island. That is news! But in general, the Boone County Recorder is best, as far as news is concerned.

"I received my first copy of your paper yesterday since I have been in the Southwest Pacific. It was dated August 19th. Taking everything in consideration, that was fairly good time, compared with a couple of letters I received a few days ago, which were dated September 4 and 14th respectively. The mail is somewhat delayed due to military purposes, so we more or less get our mail in bunches.

"The climate here is very uncomfortable, as it is very hot and dry, but when it does rain, it pours.

"There are quite a few natives here, most of whom are very friendly. Some of them can speak fairly good english, and they are more amusing than the others.

"As it is permissable, I can say that four other fellows and myself have had a lot of remarkable experiences with the enemy and jungle life.

"Well, I think I've taken up enough of your time, so will close. I am well and happy. Thanks again for the paper."

Pfc. Charles J. King's address is ASN 35460845, 1131st M. P. Co., AVN, APO 713 (Unit I) care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

James O. Dudgeon, stationed somewhere in England writes: "I had a nice trip over but I did get a little sea sick. This is a swell place and we are treated very nice by the English people. Some of the customs are strange, but we're getting accustomed to them. . . . Since I arrived here my address has been changed to 208th Q. M. Bkry. Co., APO 815, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y. . . . I really don't have much I can say now, but I will write a long letter the first chance I get. I'm hoping to run across some of the Boone County boys over here, so far I haven't had much lunch. . . . The paper hasn't caught up with me yet. . . . Tell all my friends in Boone hello."

The Recorder is in receipt of the following letter from Pfc. Bernard L. Marshall, stationed somewhere overseas:

"I have been wanting to write and thank you for your paper for sometime, but it seems that I have been so busy and just couldn't get around to it. I have been receiving The Recorder ever since I have been overseas, and it is greatly appreciated. I look forward to it each week.

"I am enjoying the best of health and getting plenty to eat.

"We are on the move most of the time and working every day. We are sleeping in a school house now. We can't have any lights at nights unless we black out the building. The windows and doors are so big that we don't have anything to cover them. We have moved about two or three times within the last two weeks. By the time we get in from work at nights and eat supper it is dark.

"I have been all though North Africa and through Sicily. I would like to tell where I am now but can't.

"This is all I can write now. There are many interesting places I would like to write about if I could. Maybe I will be able to write about them later."

Pfc. Bernard L. Marshall's address is ASN 35133440, 321st Service Sqdn, 332nd Service Group, APO 528, care Postmaster, New York City, N. Y.

"Now that I have a little time on my hands will try to write you so that you may change the address of my Recorder.

"I left Louisville at 0805 Sunday, Nov. 21, by Penn. R. R. through Indianapolis to Chicago, arriving there 1523 that afternoon. As I had three hours between trains I walked down into the business district. I visited the Trades Building, Chicago's Wall Street, the State St., business section and on into the show district then over to Michigan Ave., next to the Lake where I visited a 12 floor U. S. O. Chicago is a service man's paradise. Everything there may be obtained free. I just missed seeing Glenn Miller's band at the U. S. O.

"Back to the station and caught the CMSTP & PRR train at 1815, due west through Dubuque and Sioux City, Iowa then north to Sioux Falls, S. Dak., arriving here at 1115 Monday. Walked down into the business section of the town, about 23,000 people, and had a delicious steak dinner for only 65c. There seems to be plenty of meat here.

"I went on out to the field and checked in. I was assigned to the 809th Technical School Squadron, Barrack 517. Since my throat had been bothering me for several days I went on sick call Tuesday morning and wound up in the hospital with Vincent's infection of the tonsils. Am about well now and hope to get out Saturday or Sunday so I can start to Radio School. We had a grand turkey dinner here for Thanksgiving.

"When school starts we will be on duty from 0800 to 1700, six day a week, four hours will be radio theory and the other four hours radio operation and mechanics.

"Well, Pete, tell all the Boone County folks hello and will see you again sometime. So-long for now."

The following letter was received from J. D. Riddle, who is now stationed somewhere in the Aleutians. The letter was addressed to his mother:

"Well, Mother I have another address, but I think I'll keep this one for a while. I understand we are assigned to this outfit for the duration and then some, I suppose.

"You can have Pete Stephens change my address again and maybe he won't have to change it any more for a while.

"I did not write yesterday as I was not feeling so good. I am confined to quarters for a couple of days on account of a cold. A number of the boys here have colds. Once you get one it's pretty hard to get rid of.

"I am working from 6:00 p. m. until 1:00 a. m. and that is seven days a week.

"I had a letter from you, Lillian and Bro. Helton yesterday. Sure glad to get mail.

"We are having church services on Sunday again now. I didn't get to go yesterday as we had just moved and I had to work.

"I met a Sergeant yesterday who is from Cincinnati, and he knows a lot of people I know. His name is Hays, but he is not related to Butch. He used to work at a foundry with Bill Beacom, Sr. He knows Jim Dye, Miles Berry and family and Irvin Kenton.

"I bought a radio the other day which cost me $35.00. I don't think I'll keep it very long as I have been offered $75.00 for it. A good radio here will bring $200.00 or $300.00. Mine is a portable G. E., electric or battery.

"Tell Truman and all 'hello.'"

The following letters was received from Pvt. James G. Bullock, ASN 35876035, 2nd Plat., 974th Engr. Maint. Co., Camp Maxey, Texas:

"I have been in the army eight weeks and have been receiving The Recorder regularly ever since I've been down here at Camp Maxey, so I think it is about time I wrote you a letter thanking you, and telling you how much I appreciate it. I look forward every week to receiving news from the folks at home and I especially enjoy reading the section 'Our Boys In The Service' because that is where most of my friends are.

"Chester Grant is down here and lives right across the street from me. It makes it nice for two boys from one town to be together.

"We have been getting plenty to eat and also plenty of work.

"I am getting accustomed to army life and like it more every day.

"I am sending my address and will appreciate hearing from any if not all of my Boone County friends."

Soil Conservation

Diversion Ditches

Diversion ditches, similar to the above photograph, were constructed on the Geo. Walton farm near Rabbit Hash, the V. D. Gaines farm, Bullittsburg, and G. C. Ransom farm at Verona during the last week. The diversion ditches built on the Walton farm will stop the flow of water from running the long way of the field. By using these ditches as guide rows, the corn rows next year can be laid off on the contour. Mr. Walton has built several other ditches on this farm this fall. Next week he plans to build a diversion that will carry the runoff water from four acres, emptying it into a large pond which up to the present time hasn't had enough drainage area.

Other improvements planned by Mr. Walton is placing a pipe thru the pond dam, running it under the road, supplying water to two other fields. Concrete troughs will be built in each of the fields for stock to drink from.

Although it might not have returned dollars and cents to Mr. Walton for doing such a good job cleaning out his fence rows it no doubt makes him have more pride in his farming operations. Then too, who knows, this work might have prevented several wrecks.

The ditches built for Mr. Gaines will protect the hill in front of his home. Excess water from the garden had already started erosion.

The diversion built on the G. C. Ransom farm will prevent barn water seapage from running into his new pond built last week by the Vest Construction Co.

Two pond sites were located on the Chester Grant farm and the Harper Construction Co. will build them next week.

Soil survey maps were made on the following farms last week: Rev. W. M. Smith of Belleview; Ware Bros., formerly Williams Bros. farm from Bullittsville. John Crigler farm East Bend Road; D. J. Mahaney farm, Big Bone Road; V. D. Gaines farm Bullittsville, and John Boyers, Verona.

Application for complete farm plans were requested by Mr. Mahaney and Mr. Ware.

Will they thank you for good strong feet?

Oh, you mother of a child—you want his manners to be nice, you want his brain to be quick, you want his hands to be agile—but don't you want his feet to be sturdy and true, well shaped and graceful? Are those of your daughter?

You mother of a child, twenty years from now his feet will be walking up to get a diploma, or confidently marching in to get a job, maybe walking up to an old church altar to meet a bride in white. (Or it may be the bride herself). Your child may never thank you for good strong feet, he'll take them as a matter of fact. But what will he think if they're not good strong feet? Sure, he'll still love you—but "why didn't mother make sure I was growing up right?"

It is a responsibility, just one of the many a mother takes on when she brings a child into the world.—Adv.

Thirty-four days after turning vetch and sowing turnips, Henry Riekert of Boyd county was selling turnips. When plowing under the vetch he thought he would never sow any again, it was so hard to handle. But he changed his mind when turnips did well, in face of dry weather.

NO LACK OF IODINE IN KENTUCKY SOILS

There is not much goiter among the people of Kentucky, due in part to the fact that the soils of the state are well supplied with iodine, according to a new bulletin of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky.

Under the leadership of Dr. J. S. McHargue, head of the Experiment Station's research chemistry department, an investigation was made of the iodine in soils, waters and farm products of Kentucky.

As a whole, the soils and farm products of Kentucky were found to have a good supply of iodine. Soil in the eastern coal fields had the least of any of the six areas into which the state was divided.

Nearly all of the natural waters of Kentucky were found to be well supplied with iodine.

"From the results contained in this investigation, there is no evidence of marked iodine-deficient areas in Kentucky," says the bulletin, "but there is a small percentage of the population all areas of the state that are affected with thyroid trouble. Some of these persons have come to Kentucky from other parts of the country and some are native inhabitants. However, very few people in Kentucky live entirely on foods produced in their locality. Present general use of iodized salt, oysters and other sea food rich in iodine, as well as fruits and vegetables produced in many parts of the country, should reduce goiter and thyroid troubles among the younger generation of today."

LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF EVERY BAG

Feed is precious today. No right-minded feeder wants any part of avoidable waste in wartime feeding programs. That is why we suggest:

1. USE PASTURES. They reduce the amount of feed you need to buy.
2. PRACTICE GOOD MANAGEMENT. Live, thrifty well-bred stock pays best returns.
3. HANDLE WITH CARE. Be sure your stock gets all that's in the bag.
4. FEED WITH CARE. Extract the fullest worth of every bag in meat, milk or eggs.

WARTIME SAVINGS SUGGESTIONS for Electric Appliance Users

Seven Ways to Eliminate Waste in Home Lighting

- Turn off lights in unoccupied rooms. Wasting light not only wastes electricity but critical materials used in manufacturing lamp bulbs as well.
- Watch lights in closets, attic, porches, basement and garage. It's easy to forget and leave them burning.
- Rearrange furniture so one reading lamp can serve two or more people at the same time. But be sure lamp is not too far away from either person.
- Eliminate use of wall brackets and other strictly ornamental lighting.
- Switch three-light lamps to lowest level when not being used for reading, sewing or other close visual tasks.
- Use low-wattage bulbs in closets, halls and other places where bright light is not needed.
- Keep bulbs, shades and diffusing bowls clean. Dust and dirt waste light.

Uncle Sam Says:

Waste of anything in wartime is a crime. Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed. Wasting electricity involves a waste of fuel, transportation facilities, manpower and critical materials needed elsewhere in the war effort. Use all the electricity you need—but need what you use.

Pointers Given On Meat Canning

Many farm families are planning to can meat this fall and winter. Meat canning requires more care than other canning, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. One must remember that canned meat is thru cooked and will not be juicy like freshly cooked meat.

Any meat for canning should be well aired and chilled. Can in pint and quart jars. Heat may not penetrate thoroughly in meat in a half gallon jar. One pound of meat is allowed per pint. Jars and lids used in canning should be sterilized 15 minutes in steam or boiling water. The U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends that all meat be precooked sufficiently to brown before placing in sterile jars. This precooking heats the meat (which makes it come to boiling point quicker in jar) and causing shrinkage. After adding 1 teaspoon of salt to each pint of meat the edge of jar should be cleaned throughly with a soft sterile cloth. No liquid is added to the meat in the jar. After leaving a heading of 1 to 1½ inches the jar should be sealed according to directions of the lid.

Meat should be processed according to directions of a pressure cooker or three and one-half hours in a hot water bath.

Users of home canned meat should always heat the meat uncovered 15 minutes at the boiling point to kill any possible botulinous poisoning before serving to members of the family.

A government meat canning bulletin published by a jar firm should aways be used when canning meat.

Announcement Of Interest To Ladies

An announcement of special interest to the lady readers of The Recorder should be that of Montgomery Ward, 727 Madison Ave., Covington, to the effect that the store offers a large stock of misses' and women's dresses—values up to $7.98 for only $1.88 and $2.88.

All these dresses are of desirable styles and are in extra sizes. This unusual bargain for thrifty women is due to the fact that the store must clear its racks of these dresses to make room for Christmas merchandise. Early shoppers will have choice selection.

Green county farmers sowed 20,000 pounds of vetch, 15,000 pounds of crimson clover and a large acreage of wheat, balbo rye and other small grains.

In Christian county, members of colored homemakers' clubs have doubled the usual amount canned to make 45,967 quarts.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this means of thanking everyone who helped in the corn gathering at my place on November 30th and December 1st. It was a great help to me. I don't think I ever had a greater work done in the same length of time.

Very Respectfuly,

KIGER MURDER TRIAL OPENS TODAY

ELSMERE GIRL KILLED BY TRAIN

SUNDAY AFTERNOON ON CINCINNATI SOUTHERN RAILROAD RIGHT-OF-WAY NEAR GARVEY AVENUE.

Shirley Brewer, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Alma Werry, East Buckner Street, Elsmere was killed Sunday afternoon on the Cincinnati Southern Railroad right-of-way near the Garvey Avenue overpass, Elsmere, when she was struck by a passenger train.

She was standing on the ties watching a freight rolling along the adjoining track, and the noise of the southbound freight probably accounted for the girl not hearing the northbound passenger train in time for her to leap to safety.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by Coroner Riffe.

The child's mangled body lay at the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger for more than hour before it was identified. The girl left home shortly before noon to go to a movie with a playmate, Helen Moore. When Mrs. Moore, Helen's mother, heard a child had been hit she hastened to the theater, fearing the victim might have been her daughter. Helen was safe, but her mother went to the funeral home. Then Mrs. Werry was called and identified the body.

The couple were attended by Miss Catherine Carroll and William T. Woods.

Miss Dorothy Shields rendered the Wedding March and Miss Shields and Miss Mary Lou Jones sang, "I Love You Truly."

Other guests included Mrs. Harry Huff and children, Rev. and Mrs. S. B. Godby, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ross and the bride's parents.

A lovely dinner was served by Mrs. Black.

Much happiness is extended to this couple for a long and prosperous life together.

Mrs. Proctor Brothers entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams, Sunday evening at a birthday dinner given in honor of Mr. Brothers.

BURLEY AVERAGES $47.61 PAST WEEK

OF OPENING SALES ON COVINGTON MARKET — LEXINGTON AVERAGES $47.84 FIRST WEEK OF SALES.

Burley tobacco averaged $47.61 per hundred the first week of sales on the Covington market, it was reported. Sales for the opening week totaled 77,690 pounds, with receipts of $36,988.27.

An average of $47.84 was reported for the first week's sales on the Lexington market, the world's largest. The average was $7.44 above the opening week's average last year.

Dry weather which has prevailed throughout the burley belt for the past several weeks, prevented growers from stripping their tobacco and getting it ready to market. Recent showers have helped farmers to get their tobacco ready for the market, and many crops are now being placed on the various markets in this section.

Carrollton led all Kentucky markets for opening week burley prices with an average of $48.97. The lowest average, $43.21 was recorded at the Hopkinsville auctions.

Kentucky's sales for the first week totaled 29,317,943 pounds for an average of $46.66, the State Department of Agriculture reported. Growers were paid $13,679,697.32. Kentucky's average was $6.17 higher than the first week of 1942.

The WFA reported price increases by grades ranged from $1.50 to $10 a hundredweight. Averages were steady at ceiling levels throughout the week with only a few baskets of mixed and green grades which sold below the maximum price.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Williams spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams and family. They left Saturday morning for Los Angeles, Calif., planning to spend a few days in Herrington, Kansas with their son Pfc. Harold R. Williams.

Sgt. Therman L. Wolfe Receives Third Award

Sgt. Therman L. Wolfe, stationed with the United States Army air forces in the South Pacific received his third award, an Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal. He also has the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Sgt. Wolfe is well known in Boone County, having resided at Walton, prior to entering the United States Army.

The award was made by Lieutenant General Millard F. Harmon, commanding the United States Army in the South Pacific.

Cincinnati Man Fined On Game Violation

Jack Wooley, Cincinnati, O., was fined $29.50 in Judge Cropper's court recently on a charge of hunting without a license. Wooley was arrested near the Stephenson-Mill Road by Conservation Officer, Edwin Johnson.

TREATMENT GIVEN BY CO. SHEEPMEN

FOR CONTROL OF WORMS IN FLOCK—FARM MEAT SUPPLY AND DISEASES DISCUSSED BY COUNTY AGENT.

Sheepmen are treating this month large numbers of flocks with Phenothiazine for control of worms. This recommendation is receiving the most widespread adoption of any new livestock practices in recent years, according to H. R. Forkner County Agent. Research results and local farmers' reports indicate most satisfactory results are being secured. The two treatments, one now, or during early December and the other soon after lambing time are most important. Dr. K. W. Ryle, Veterinarian of Burlington has been using this treatment for the past two or three years and reports excellent results.

Horses

Now is the time to treat horses for Bots and intestinal worms. The services of a good veterinarian should be employed in this work. Considerable saving in feed and condition of work stock will result. Act now and save feed.

Farm Meat Supply

Breakfast bacon of high quality can be cured on the farm thru use of bacon box for putting the sides under pressure. Franklin Maurer, of Burlington used one of these boxes last year and reports fine breakfast bacon produced. Plans are available at the County Agent's office.

Diseases

Hog Cholera and Black Leg in cattle have caused considerable losses in the County the past two months. A few farmers have lost large parts of their herds. These two diseases can easily be controlled thru immunization or vaccination. The loss of one animal will often pay for several years' treatment of herds. Farmers who are in doubt should contact their veterinarian.

Lack of feed or bad quality of feed is the most serious livestock disease. We are now faced with the four most expensive feeding months of the year. Good management will do much to lower costs of production.

Mrs. Mary Bradford

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Bradford, a resident of Erlanger for many years, were held at 3:00 Monday in the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger. Burial was in Florence Cemetery.

Mrs. Bradford died Saturday, after a brief illness at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington. She was 76. She resided at 7 Rosebud Avenue, Erlanger.

Mrs. Bradford was the mother of the late Jack Bradford, owner of a cafe on Dixie Highway. A sister and a niece, both of whom reside in Dayton, Ohio, survive her.

Mrs. Lavina Kirkpatrick and daughter Bess, attended the funeral of her sister at Mhan, Ind., last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lillian Sullivan spent Monday of this week in Cincinnati, shopping.

DEVON BOY KILLED IN ACCIDENT TUES.

CRUSHED TO DEATH IN ELEVATOR ACCIDENT IN COPPIN BUILDING—SERVICES WILL BE HELD FRIDAY.

Eugene Hetzel, 15 years old, son of Eugene Hetzel, Devon, one of the star witnesses in the Kiger case, was crushed to death Tuesday afternoon by a freight elevator in the John R. Coppin Company department store, Seventh Street and Madison Avenue, Covington.

The youth, employed as a wrapper at the store, apparently was about to board the elevator on the third floor when someone pulled the starting cable.

The youth's body was pinned between the elevator and the flooring. His head was almost severed, according to reports. Firemen used ladders and ropes to remove the body. He was removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital, but was dead on arrival.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday at Erlanger Christian Church. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Erlanger.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hetzel, and a brother, Kenneth Hetzel.

Collett Released On Manslaughter Charge

James Collett, Covington, held on a manslaughter charge. was dismissed this week, after an investigation by the Boone County grand jury. According to reports, no evidence was produced before the grand jury to warrant an indictment.

Collett was charged with driving a car which struck Gilbert Tombragel, causing his death. The accident occurred near Boone-Kenton line, Florence.

Books Added To Homemakers' Library

Thirteen modern books have been added to the Boone Homemakers' library, according to Mrs. Alexander Yelton, County reading chairman. Homemakers now have 108 books in the library purchased from collected dues or donated by friends.

Any one interested in reading may obtain books from the library located in the office of the Home Demonstration Agent. Homemakers may keep a book for a month for a five-cent fee, while non-homemakers may borrow a book for two weeks for the same fee.

Over one hundred books have been taken from the library and read since September 1st.

Mrs. Ann Steward, a Boone Countian has given an autographed copy of her new book "Take Nothing for Your Journey" to the library. "Who Walk Alone" by Perry Burges was given by the Leonard Wood Memorial. Books recently purchased are:

Short Days Ago—Renee Brand.

Bombs Burst Once—Granville Church.

Thorn Apple Tree—Grace Campbell.

The Dam—Jerome Ellison.

Port Arthur—Pierre Frondaire.

Hartman-Sutter

Miss Mary Jane Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hartman, Erlanger, Ky., and Fireman Second Class Ralph B. Sutter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sutter, of Florence, were married recently in Kroger was best man.

Miss Betty Hartman was maid of honor, Miss Helen Hartman was bridesmaid and Mrs. Jack Sutton was matron of honor. Edwin Kroger was best.

School Band To Sing Christmas Carols Tuesday, December 21

The Boone County School Band will contribute their share to the Christmas spirit by singing and playing Christmas carols on the courthouse steps Tuesday. December 21 at 8 p. m. Anyone in the county who wishes to join them in the singing, is heartily welcomed. Everyone invited.

This program will climax a very successful year's work by the band, and in giving this program they wish to show their appreciation to the parents and other friends who have helped make the work a success.

The band has increased steadily in numbers and quality, even though some very faithful members have been lost to the armed forces and other work. Mr. Bloss and the band are well pleased with the accomplishments of the past year and are looking forward to other equally successful years.

FARM BUREAU WILL HEAR DIRECTOR

AT MEETING JANUARY 3RD—BOONE COUNTY FARMERS ARE URGED BY PRESIDENT OF ORGANIZTION TO ATTEND.

J. E. Stanford, State Secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation will address Boone County farmers in a meeting at Burlington courthouse, Monday, January 3rd, according to Lloyd Siekman, president of the county organization.

Fifty-five farmers paid membership into the new county farm bureau organized the past year. The goal for 1944 is 100 members.

The county organization the past year threw its full support to the State and National organizations. These organizations have been the most powerful workers toward a more satisfactory agriculture.

There has been much adverse publicity to the farmer in our National war program, according to Siekman. The Farm Bureau, the Grange and national organization of cooperatives have been attempting to correct this situation. Most of this adverse publicity has been due to lack of understanding by non-farm people of the actual farm situation. It is hoped that every farmer who possible can will attend the next meeting of his county Farm Bureau and lend his support for the coming year.

Tanner-Easterday

Miss Volenna Tanner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Tanner, of Florence and Rev. Bruce E. Easterday were quietly married Friday, December 3rd at the Erlanger Christian Church with Rev. Hossom officiating.

The bride was dressed in lovebird green, brown gloves and shoes. The bridesmaid Mrs. Clifford Collett wore black and biege. Both wore an orchid corsage.

The groom was dressed in dark brown, and the best man John Caldon was dressed in brown.

After the ceremony the happy coupled repaired to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John Caldon, 18 Graves Ave., where a number of relatives and friends had assembled to extend congratulations. Guests were Mrs. Louis Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Collett and daughter Joyce Ann, Mrs. Arthur Betts, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Mortimer Moss, Mrs. Mattie Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Easterday and daughter, of Akron, O., Mrs. Ella Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Linnie Busby and daughter Bettie Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. John Caldon, Rev. Elmer Kidwell and Mrs. Harry Rivard.

A shower was given by Mrs. Ruth Busby, Mrs. Harry L. Tanner and ladies of the Florence Methodist Church, from which they received many beautiful and useful presents.

Mrs. Sarah Louise Davis was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Acra and family.

Wife and Daughter of Victim Indicted on Charge Of First Degree Murder

Prosecution Will Seek Extreme Penalty, According To Raymond L. Vincent, Commonwealth Attorney

The first murder trial to be heard in the Boone County court in many years opened this morning (Thursday) when Mrs. Jenny Kiger, 49, and her daughter Joan, 16, go on trial in the slayings of Carl C. Kiger 49, and his son, Jerry, 7.

The formal indictments charging Mrs. Kiger and her daughter Joan with the murders of the husband and father and his six-year-old son Jerry, were returned Tuesday at 10 a. m. to Judge Ward Yager in the Boone County Circuit Court, Burlington in the absence of the defendants.

Sawyer A. Smith, attorney for the Kigers, appeared in their behalf and waived their preliminary arraignment on the indictments. The $25,000 bonds on which the defendants are now at liberty remain in force until they answer to the indictments today.

Little delay is expected in the start of the trial. Jurors will be selected today, and the trial will following immediately following the qualification of 12 jurors.

Sawyer Smith, defense counsel indicated that the pleas in both cases would be "not guilty." Each of the two indictments returned name both Mrs. Kiger and her daughter in the two slayings and both are charged as aiders and abetters. There was no attempt made to charge a particular person with having fired the gun.

Commonwealth Attorney, Raymond L. Vincent declared that "it will be in the discretion of the trial jury to find first-degree or lesser verdicts in both cases, but the prosecution will seek the extreme penalty."

The grand jury returning the indictments against Mrs. Kiger and her daughter was composed of the following men: Wilford Dixon, Joseph Huey, Charles Klopp, Henry Sebastian, Cad Sullivan, Carlos Cason, Paul Poston, T. M. Black, Franklin Maurer, Kenneth Easton, E. A. Martin and J. Bedinger.

The question of bond for Mrs. Kiger and her daughter Joan, rests entirely with Judge Yager. First-degree murder in Kentucky is not bondable unless so designated by the court. Commonwealth Attorney Vincent has not indicated if he will oppose bond for the mother and daughter.

Text of indictments handed in by the grand jury follows:

"The grand jury of the county of Boone, in the name and by the authority of the commnwealth of Kentucky, accuse Joan Kiger and Jennie Kiger of the crime of willful murder, committee in manner and forms as follows, to-wit:

"The said Joan Kiger and Jennie Kiger, in the said county of Boone, on a day in August, 1943, and before the finding of this indictment, did unlawfully, willfully, maliciously, feloniously and of malice aforethought, kill, slay and murder Carl Kiger, by one or the other, the said Joan Kiger or Jennie Kiger, with a pistol loaded with gun powder and bullets and other hard and combustible substances, a deadly weapon, shooting and wounding said Carl Kiger on and upon the head, bodys, arms, limbs and person, from which said shooting and wounding the said Carl Kiger did then and there die, the other of said defendants being then and there present, aiding, abetting and counselling and advising the same, the exact manner whereof is unknown to the grand jurors, and which did the shooting, said Joan Kiger or Jennie Kiger, or which aided, abetted, counselled and advised the same is unknown to the grand jurors.

"The said defendant, Joan Kiger, at the time of the commission of the crime and felony herein set out, being a female under 18 years of age, and she having been brought thereafter before Hon. C. L. Cropper, county judge of Boone county, Ky., and judge of Juvenile Court of said county, and by said Juvenile Court judge, duly ordered to be proceeded against in accordance with the criminal laws of this state, and the charge against said defendant, Joan Kiger, being referred by said Juvenile Court judge, to the Boone Circuit Court and the grand jury thereof, for prosecution by indictment, as is more fully set out in the certified orders of said Juvenile Court attached here to and made a part hereof, said crime and felony here in charged being contrary to the form of the statutes in such cases made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the commonwealth of Kentucky.

(Signed) "R. L. Vincent, Commonwealth Attorney, 15th Circuit Court District of Kentucky."

The trial of Joan and her mother which opens today is expected to draw one of the largest crowds ever to visit the county seat.

Rev. O. M. Huey Surprised By Friends

Rev. O. M. Huey, of Lloyd Ave., Florence, was surprised beyond expression Monday morning, by a visit from one of Santa Claus' agents, Rev. Roy Johnson, bringing him a handsome wheelchair, given by the Boone County Ministers' Conference, the Big Bone Baptist Church and a number of personal friends.

Mr. Huey has not been able to walk for almost a year, as the result of a fractured hip, and the chair will be not only a help to him, but a joy. He returns thanks for the love and kind thoughts of so many friends.

R. V. LENTS WRITES PERSONAL LETTER

REGARDING CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN—PROCEEDS USED IN COUNTY TO HELP TUBERCULARS.

R. V. Lents, Executive Secretary of the Boone County Tuberculosis Association writes a personal message to the readers of this paper. Mr. Lents' message follows:

"I have been asked many times why I am willing to spend so much of my time selling and promoting the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. I do devote a lot of time to this great cause and without a cent of compensation, but it gives me a great pleasure to help those who have tuberculosis.

"I know how tuberculars suffer and linger, because I had a grandfather, grandmother, uncle, aunt, and sister to die of tuberculosis, and another sister who was confined to a sanitarium for three years. I do not have the disease myself, and I am so thankful that I do not have it that I am willing to help those who have it and prevent others from taking the plague.

"Surely it is not asking too much of the people to purchase all the Christmas Seals they can afford to buy, because the net proceeds of the sale will be used to help those who have tuberculosis and need aid. Heretofore we have not been sufficiently financed to pay for all the needs of any tubercular patient, but we have aided as many as we could and as much as our finances would permit. The more seals you buy the more we can aid others. We could spend as much as $300 now on one patient in the county, but our finances will not permit it. We want to help all patients as much as we can and not spend all the money on one or two patients and have nothing at all for the others. Buy Christmas Seals today!

R. V. Lents,
Exec. Sec'y."

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Taken alone, either Monty Woolley or Gracie Fields would more than hold up their end of the fun-making in a picture. But when they're teamed, as they are in "Holy Matrimony," the uproarious new 20th Century-Fox comedy due at the Gayety Sunday and Monday, they're in there pitching all the time—both wit and woo!

The featured cast of "Holy Matrimony," which was produced and written for the screen by Nunnally Johnson, includes Laird Cregar, Una O'Connor, Alan Mowbray, Melville Cooper and Franklin Pangborn.

TUES., WED., AND THURSDAY

Lena Horne, sensational singing discovery, with Bill Robinson and Cab Calloway, heads the featured cast of 20th Century-Fox's hit filmusical, "Stormy Weather," which will be at the Gayety, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Katherine Dunham and her ballet group, Fats Waller, the Nicholas Brothers and many other top-notch entertainers are to be seen in the film.

From 400 hens, Chas. W. Probus of Grayson county has made a profit of $2,500 the past year on broilers, eggs and old hens sold.

IN MEMORY OF JOHN E. (BUD) MORRIS

We thank, with all our heart, the kindness expressed by words and deeds to us in the loss of our brother, Bud.

Perhaps, just now we cannot see our way
So dark the cloud of selfish grief oppress,
But there is peace and sunshine, for today
We know that he has found eternal rest.
Our Bud, dear old kindly Bud who took so much away
But left behind so great a heritage, the best he had,
His understanding faith in human kind—his will.
He left host of memories,
An old farm house,
A creek, a hill,
A barn, a field of corn are ours
And mute reminders of him still.

Sadly missed by his sister, Mabel and Brother, Will Morris. 1t-p

LADY'S STOMACH WAS LIKE A GAS FACTORY; MEALS TURNED TO GAS

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory!" That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE of STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloat after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh! what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get Erb-Help?"

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Dahlenburg's Drug Store, Erlanger.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for December 19

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

CHRIST THE FULFILLMENT OF THE LAW

LESSON TEXT—Hebrews 1:1-9; Romans 10:4-10.

GOLDEN TEXT—God . . . hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son.—Hebrews 1:1,2.

The center of all Christian thinking is the fact that God has revealed Himself to man. This revelation is found in the Bible, for it is the Word of God. That is why the commandments which we have studied in recent weeks speak to us with such authority. They are not the expression of human opinion of how we should live. They are God's command which we are to obey.

The great and final revelation of God and His love was not the written Word—the Bible—but the Living Word—His Son. The coming of Christ is our lesson for next week, on Christmas Sunday. But this week we want to learn a little more of what His coming into the world meant. He was—

I. God's Last Word (Heb. 1:1-3).

Through the ages God had been speaking through the prophets, constantly revealing Himself as a God of power, justice, holiness, truth and mercy.

In different ways and at various times (v. 1) He spoke through them, but always there was a pointing forward to the One who should come. Abraham was called out to found the nation (Gen. 12), and Jacob the family or tribe (Gen. 49), in which He should come. He was to be a prophet like Moses (Deut. 18) and of the kingly house of David (II Sam. 7). All the offerings of Leviticus spoke of His priestly service. Isaiah saw Him as both the reigning and the suffering Messiah (Isa. 53).

All this was incomplete until He came; and when He did, He revealed all the glory of God. He made the perfect and final sacrifice for sin, and sat down (His work was finished) at God's right hand (the place of power).

Let us be clear about this: in Christ God's revelation is perfect and complete. We need look for nothing more. The claims of those who appear with a "new light" or some mysterious hidden power are so obviously untrue that we ought not to be at all interested.

But not only is Christ God's final Word, He is—

II. God's Best Word (Heb. 1:4-9).

The prophets and their messages thrill our souls and move us to more earnest living. But the Christ is our very life as well as our Redeemer.

The angels are God's messengers—mighty and magnificent beings, superior in their way to man (Ps. 8:5). The early church made too much of angels (as do some groups today), but Protestantism of our day has made too little of them. They are great and powerful beings who minister on our behalf and who are honored in the loyal service they do for God.

But when they stand beside the Son of God, it becomes evident that He holds a place of incomparable glory and majesty. He is the highest revelation of God, the best Word that God could have spoken to needy and sinful humanity.

We do well to think of who Christ is and what He has done. Just in this passage from Hebrews we find that He is the express image of all of God's glory; He is the upholder of all creation; He has the place of honor and power at God's right hand; He is the only begotten of the Father; His throne has been established forever, and so on.

How well nigh unbelievable that this glorious One is also our Saviour. This is stated in verse 3, but is developed in our next point.

III. God's Saving Word (Rom. 10: 4-10).

If sinful man were only permitted to look on His glory it would be a great privilege, but it would not help him in his desire for holiness and eternal joy. There was a "great gulf fixed" between sinful man and a holy God until the Son of glory became the God-man, when the eternal Word became "flesh and dwelt among us" (Luke 2:14).

Christ as our Saviour is the "end of the law" to the believer (v. 4), not in the sense that He terminates the law by setting it aside, but by completing or fulfilling all of its requirements.

Just so the Christian is set free from the law, not in order that he may disobey it, but that he may keep it in the power and grace which Christ gives him. The Ten Commandments are the law of life for the Christian because he loves the Lord Jesus Christ and wants to obey Him. We do the things which the Decalogue require not to be saved thereby, but because we thereby honor the name of our Saviour.

The unbeliever, struggling under the burden of sin, says, "How can I come to know Him?" and we find the answer in verses 8-10. It is "by faith."

Weak Feet Affect Body

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

814-816 Madison, Covington

When feet are permitted to pronate inwardly, the bony structure of the foot goes down, shutting off the nerve and blood supply in the bottom of the foot. When you cramp or choke the blood stream and slow up circulation; there is a lack of bone repair; chemical deposits, or waste matter form at the joints. Next inflammation sets in at these joints causing pain. That inflammation is often mistaken for rheumatism, arthritis and many other ailments. Altho when you cramp the blood supply you shut off the food supply to the nerves.

When nerves are impoverished, muscle tone is impaired because sensory nerves indirectly control motor nerves which in turn control the muscles. When muscles in the feet have lost their tonicity due to impoverishment of the nerves, feet are no longer subconsciously held in normal position.

Surgical shoes give support to the vital arches in the feet releasing cramped nerves and blood vessels to promote better circulation. Gradually as circulation improves, muscles grow strong and regain their tonicity.

With foot health improved the person feels better all over. Research has shown that no less than eighty-seven diseases are indirectly caused by bad feet.

Don't take chances with your health, happiness and peace of mind. With foot comfort you'll live longer and feel better.—Adv.

RIVER VIEW

Butchering and stripping tobacco seems to be the order of the day at present.

Misses Thelma and Wilma Hodges spent the day Sunday with Miss Dorothy Delph.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Isaacs and family entertained at dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Black and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith and W. B. Stephens.

Henry Black, Ryle Isaacs, Conner Carroll, A. G. Hodges, I. D. Isaacs were in Carrollton this week.

Miss Gladys Isaacs spent Saturday night with Miss Velma Black.

Delbert Hubbard, first class Marine, who has been overseas for the past two years is expected home December 18th for an extended furlough.

A. G. Hodges called on his brother J. E. Hodges, Sunday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Noell has accepted a position in Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Black, Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Isaacs and son made a business trip to Burlington, Monday.

Harry Acra made a business trip to Rising Sun, Saturday.

Through The Recorder I desire to wish Paul Clore, Pete Black, Bob Stephens, John E. Ryan and Dale Williamson, who are overseas, the Merriest Xmas and may God bless them and bring them safely home.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe Noell and daughter were visiting in Walton, Sunday.

Ryle Isaacs and Henry Black called on their friend M. C. Carroll, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shinkle and family entertained guests Sunday.

Tobacco stripped this year in Clark county weighed considerably more per acre than that of last year and showed few signs of house burn.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our deepest appreciation and sincest thanks to all our many relatives, friends, and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and expression of sympathy shown to us during the illness and passing of our aunt,

Katherine Geisler

Especially do we thank Rev. Wm. Hauser for his consoling words; Dr. E. J. Love for his services; for the pallbearers and Fitch Bros., for the manner in which they conducted the funeral. 1t-pd.

RABBIT HASH

Folks are very busy getting their tobacco ready for market. Some have sold their crops and received good prices.

Services will be conducted during the winter months at the M. E. Church at East Bend at two o'clock slow time in the afternoons.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mike Bailey, of Rising Sun. He was 83 years of age. He was a former resident of this community. Funeral services were held at Rising Sun, Friday.

Thursday, Dec. 9th was Deloris Jane Wilson's 14th birthday.

Ryle Brothers butchered a beef last week.

Mrs. Minette Stephens returned home Friday, after being in Erlanger two weeks.

R. M. Wilson isn't so well at this writing.

Harry Acra was 77 years of age December 14th. It was also his grandson Ival E. Acra's 3rd birthday.

MUCH BETTER
It's much better, we think, to maintain our own private display room, wherein those we serve may make their selections in complete privacy, and at any time that meets the family's convenience. The alternative, of course, is a manufacturer's public display room.

Can You Picture KENTUCKY without its Industries?

All of us who live in Kentucky—no matter what our jobs may be—would have a hard time even imagining this State of ours without its great industries in operation. In peacetime they wrote a big chapter in the history of America's industrial progress — now in wartime they are one of the most powerful "arsenals of Democracy"!

In the last peacetime count, 1640 individual manufacturing establishments were employing nearly seventy-five thousand fellow citizens of Kentucky to turn out goods valued at nearly a half billion dollars yearly. Today many of these plants are manufacturing products far removed from their usual merchandise — building well the tools of total war for use on fighting front and home front alike.

These great industries — some of the largest among them being the steel, meat packing, petroleum refining, and flour industries—directly or indirectly affect us all. They give jobs to people we know, utilize the services of thousands of others, use the produce of our State, pay taxes—and provide the things we, our armed forces and our Allies need.

We who keep Greyhound buses rolling across our State take pride in the industrial achievements of our fellow citizens of Kentucky — and take part in them too! Our job is a big one—transporting Kentucky's manpower to factories, foundries and farms, keeping essential wartime travel on the move, making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities our buses serve in Kentucky.

Dad has put down his paper and gone to supper without turning off his reading lamp. In ordinary times this wouldn't matter much, but in wartime waste of any kind is a luxury that can well be dispensed with. Wasting light wastes electricity which in turn involves a waste of fuel, manpower, transportation and critical materials needed elsewhere in the war effort.
So here's a suggestion. Appoint yourself the light and power warden of your home. See that lights are turned off in unoccupied rooms and that the radio and other appliances are disconnected when not in actual use. There's ample electricity for all essential needs, but please don't waste it just because it's cheap and isn't rationed. Uncle Sam says use what you need, but need what you use.

Food And Home Notes

Methods of saving on food and clothing will take a lot of the busy housewives time for the duration.

A new meat canning bulletin written by Miss Florence Imlay and Pearl J. Haak, Foods specialist, University of Kentucky has just been received in the Home Agent's office in Burlington, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, H. D. A. Anyone desiring a copy may call Burlington 412 or write Miss Gillaspie.

Following are some food and home notes given by U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Care for Shine

Sandpapering and sponging are two of the treatments for shine on wool clothes found successful by clothing specialists. smooth, shiny place on the seat of trousers, or back or sleeves of a coat can make the garment look shabby but cleaning and then gently roughing up the nap is often all that is necessary to extinguish that shine and give the garment a new lease on life. Soil combined with wearing and matting of the wool fiber produces the shine. Sponging with cleaning fluid will remove much of the soil; sponging with water containing a few drops of ammonia or vinegar may help brighten the color. The nap may then be lifted by brisk brushing or even by fine sandpapering.

Leftover Vegetables Are Good Mixers

Here are a few of the ways to put vegetable leftovers to good use: 1. Reheat mixed vegetables, such as peas, turnips, carrots, corn, and serve with hot white sauce. Or, for added flavor dress up a plain white sauce with bits of meat, fish, or grated cheese. Give pep to the sauce with a dash of Worcestershire sauce or horseradish. 2. Combine leftover vegetables with cooked or canned tomatoes and bring to a boil. Then pour into a baking dish and cover with biscuit rounds. Bake in a hot oven until biscuits are nicely brown. 3 Make a vegetable scallop by mixing vegetables with a white sauce or tomato sauce onion flavored. Top with bread crumbs and bake until bubbling and brown. 4. Make colorful salads of cold vegetables such as green peas, beans, yellow or white turnips, red beets and orange carrots. Mix with French dressing about half an hour before serving and keep cold for crispness, add pickle or chopped green pepper.

Nuts to Scratches

Small scratches on furniture often disappear if they are rubbed with nut meats, according to wood experts of U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. The oil in the nuts darkens and conceals the scratches. An oily nut like a peacon or butternut is best. Cut kernel with a knife and rub cut side into scratch. A mixture of two thirds linseed oil and one-third turpentine is also good for rubbing scratches out of sight.

Care According to Container

Now that cooking fats, salad oils, coffee, shelled nuts and other fatty foods are selling in glass instead of tin, they need to be kept in a place that is dark as well as cool to hold their good flavor. Very often foods in paper containers will keep better if they are removed from paper package and put in tightly covered tins or glass jars.

Water For A Safe Christmas Tree

Families that have a Christmas tree are urged to be very careful of all fire hazards while the tree is in the house, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. Trees soon become very dry when in a heated room.

After testing the many different chemicals and methods that have been suggested for fireproofing the Christmas tree, wood experts of the Forest Service of U. S. Department of Agriculture conclude that keeping the tree standing in water is still the most practical and convenient way to make it fire resistant and also to prevent the needles from discoloring or falling.

The fresher the tree, the more easily it takes up water, so the experts advise getting it in water as soon as possible after cutting. Cut off the end of the trunk diagonally at least an inch above the original cut end. Stand the tree at once in a container of water and keep the level of the water above the cut surface during the entire time the tree is in the house. If the tree is not to be set up for several days, keep it in water in a cool place while it waits.

Acts On Livestock Feed

As part of the government program to conserve livestock feed and make the best use of available supplies in producing the maximum volume of livestock products, WFA has taken the following steps: (1) Elimination of the subsidy the Commodity Credit Corporation has been paying on corn moving from surplus to eastern and southern deficit areas; (2) An increase of 20 cents a bushel in the price of feed wheat on and after December 6; (3) An offer to buy corn during the remainder of this month at the old ceiling price in approximately 150 counties on the fringe of the corn belt where the new ceiling on corn(effective December 6) represents a reduction in prices. OPA raised the maximum price of corn 9 cents a bushel at Chicago to correct inequities in the previous regulation. At the same time, the prices of oats, barley, and sorghum grains were "frozen" at the highest prices of the five-day period, November 29 to December 3, pending issuance within 60 days of a permanent regulation on these feeds.

TRIAL NEARS END IN KIGER SLAYING

Girl Testifies In Own Behalf Monday—Says "It Must Have Been a Nightmare"—Mother On Witness Stand Tuesday

Joan Kiger, sixteen-year-old high school girl took the witness stand in her own defense, Monday, after Sawyer A. Smith, her attorney, had told the jurors that he would show she was not responsible for what she did the morning of the shooting, claiming that Joan was in a nightmare during the time of the shooting at the Kiger home, Rosegate, near Devon.

Smith told how Kiger had terrible nightmares in which he fancied himself being chased by robbers and intruders and said this affliction was handed on to his daughter.

Joan in her testimony stated, "It must have been a nightmare." She claimed to have had nightmares for the past four years.

Before Joan was called to the witness stand, the state had set up in the court room the bed in which Kiger was killed and the mattress on which Jerry was lying when he was slain. Pillows and bedclothing on both were covered with dried blood. Smith objected to their exhibition on the ground that the display was designed to "inflame and influence" the minds of the jurors, but Judge Yager overruled him.

After the beds were removed, Smith stated his case to the jury and called upon Joan to testify. The girl started her hour and a half of testimony by declaring she "always played with Jerry and taught him to walk."

The night of the slaying Joan said she remained downstairs after the family had retired because she wished to hear a certain radio program. She stated she didn't go upstairs until approximately 10:45. She insisted that she did go to bed, although the state has introduced witnesses who said her bed had not been slept in when they arrived after the killings.

Joan explained the presence of an iron bar in a chest of drawers by saying she used it to prop open a window on which a patented prop was broken.

"Shortly after midnight on the morning of August 17," the girl said, "I thought I heard a shot. I thought I heard my mother call, 'Joan! Joan!'

"I got up and went to the door and saw a form—a figure—standing in the doorway of mother and daddy's bedroom. I thought someone was robbing or hurting father.

"As I went downstairs to get two of daddy's guns, which were in the kitchen, I thought I heard a shot. It has been said here that no bullets were found on the stairway so it must have been a dream."

Joan said that when she came back upstairs, carrying the two revolvers, she thought she saw someone choking her father in his bed.

"It looked like somebody wrestling on the bed," she continued. "I shot at the man, who was on top of daddy, and then took the pistol from under daddy's pillow so the man who was choking him wouldn't get it. Then I fired again.

"I never knew all that they said here until I heard it. I thought there was a man in that room.

"Mother wanted me to go in and get Jerry, but I told her I was scared, and I was. I think I fired a shot into Jerry's room. Yes, I did tell the officers afterward that I thought I fired several times into the room.

"I thought I was protecting my father and I had no reason to kill Jerry.

"Then mother shook me and said: 'Did you do this in another nightmare?'

"I told her I didn't do it. That there was a man there. I planned at first to crawl out the window and go for help. Mother and I decided against that and she told me not to expose myself by standing and calling on the phone.

"Then I said I would go to Mr. Mayo's and get help. I left one gun with mother so she would have protection. I thought it had some bullets in it.

"When I went downstairs I found that all the bullets had been fired in the guns. I had cocked one of them so it would be ready to shoot because it was hard to pull the trigger.

"Then I saw the cistern and decided I had better throw the guns in there so that if the robber got hold of them he couldn't put more bullets in them and use them. I also threw six empty cartridges in the cistern."

In reply to a question asked by Raymond L. Vincent regarding the slayings:

"I thought I was shooting at a robber. I think I must have had a nightmare."

Asked about the shooting of Jerry, the girl said:

"At that time I never knew that I shot him and I don't know now if I did."

"If you shot Jerry, then it must have been a nightmare?" Vincent asked.

"Yes, it must have been a nightmare."

"Do you have nightmares in the daytime?"

"I feel bad during the day, but don't have nightmares in daytime." Smith had elicited from the girl a statement that she had had nightmares every month from the time four years ago, when she began approaching maturity. She said her periodic functions always were associated with the nightmares.

"At the time of the tragedy you thought there was a man in the house, is that right?" Vincent pursued on cross-examination.

"Yes, but after hearing all of this I figure it must have been a nightmare."

"When did you decide it was a nightmare?"

"About a month ago."

"Was that when you talked to Mr. Smith?"

"No."

She was not sure about how many shots were fired from each revolver, in what order the revolvers were fired or how many bullets she fired into Jerry's room. Neither could she say whether she still was in a nightmare when she talked with her mother about going for help.

"Are you in a nightmare now?" Vincent asked.

"I don't think so," was the reply.

"You say now that if you killed little Jerry you didn't do it with criminal intent?"

"Yes, sir. I don't think I killed Jerry. I believed I was shooting at robbers."

The girl testified that the first person to whom she confided that she had had a nightmare the night of the killings was a priest in the Confessional. Then she told her uncle, Fred Williamson, 32 East Orchard Road, Fort Mitchell, with whom she and her mother have been staying, she testified.

She was followed on the stand by Williamson and her two brothers, who testified that Kiger had a fear of robbers and always was having nightmares in which he imagined that people were chasing him. They said there was no trouble between members of the Kiger family.

Mrs. Jennie Kiger, Joan's mother was placed on the stand Tuesday and testified in defense of her daughter. Her testimony was similar to that of her daughter's given Monday.

DECLINE NOTED IN WEED SALES

LOWER QUALITY GRADES OFFERED, ACCORDING TO REPORT—FIVE MARKETS HAVE AVERAGE OF OVER $47.

Sales of burley in the eight state marketing area for the first two weeks of the 1943 season totaled 116,863,533 pounds for an average of $46.76 a hundredweight, the War Food Administration reported.

Although prices by grades continued steady at maximum levels during the second week of sales, the WFA said, the general average dropped 66 cents from the first week's level due to an increase in the proportion of lower quality grades offered.

Kentucky's sales showed a decrease of 317,671 pounds from the first week's totals and a corresponding average price drop of 86 cents, the State Department of Agriculture said. A total of 41, 838,691 pounds were auctioned to bring the seasons total of 71,156,-362 pounds. The second week's average was listed at $45.78 and the season's average at $46.14.

The department said that so far this season $32,829,122.27 had been paid to Kentucky growers.

Five Kentucky markets—Carrollton, Covington, Danville, Lexington and Greensburg—have season averages of over $47, the department said, with an average of $47.81 at Carrollton leading the centers.

The offerings the past week consisted principally of fair and good leaf, flyings and lugs, and fair quality tips, the WFA said. The proportion of nondescript tobaccos remained unusually small.

SETS QUOTA FOR COUNTY SEAL SALE

GOAL IS SET AT $735, ACCORDING TO FIGURES RELEASED BY R. V. LENTS, EXECUTIVE SECRETARY.

The Boone County Tuberculosis Association has set the 1943 Christmas Seal sale at $725 for Boone County, according to figures released by R. V. Lents, Executive Secretary of the Association. Mr. Lents also stated that only 30 per cent of the quota has been reached. The quota for each community as set by the association is as follows:

Belleview	$ 50.00
Burlington	100.00
Constance	50.00
Florence	125.00
Hamilton	30.00
Hebron	125.00
Petersburg	40.00
Union	50.00
Verona	30.00
Walton	125.00

Help your community to reach its quota by purchasing as many Christmas Seals as you can afford to buy. Fight Hitler with Christmas Seals, and help to wipe out tuberculosis, one of our greatest enemies.

Prompt Payment Of Street Lights Will Provide Reduction

The Community Public Service Company has volunteered to reduce the street light rate in Burlington from $30.00 per light to $18.00 per year provided the money is paid to the company by January 10th of each year so that all street light money will be paid in at a uniform time.

This is quite a saving, and the money should be subscribed without delay.

It is possible that additional street lights in Burlington could be arranged now that the cost is so reasonable.

Get busy and pay in your street light money to the bank.

More Shotgun Shells Are Urged

The War Pr[illegible]tion Board said last week it wi[illegible]tiating plans to make more liberal allotment of shotgun shells to civilians for the 1944 hunting season.

The House Committee on Conservation of Wildlife Resources several weeks ago asked WPB to step up shell production.

C. W. Bishop of the WPB, said the Army had no objection to the converting of small plants to the point where they could produce shotgun shells and cartridges for civilian use, since its requirements in small arms ammunition were met.

Mr. Bishop said the WPB informed the committee there was not sufficient time to convert plants for production this year but that next year there would be "plenty of shells."

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Smith were dinner guests Sunday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frieking, of Cincinnati.

Mr. Lee Huey was ill over the week-end.

ROAD DEDICATION SET FOR DEC. 30

MANY NOTABLES EXTENDED INVITATION TO ATTEND AIRPORT ROAD OPENING—AUTO CLUB PLANS PROGRAM.

Dedication services for the new airport road extending from the new airport to Erlanger, connecting with U. S. 25 at Commonwealth Avenue will be held December 30th, according to reports.

Invitations to attend as honor guests have been extended to high officials of Kentucky and Ohio. Heading this group of dignitaries will be Senators Alben W. Barkley and Albert B. Chandler, of Kentucky, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, former Gov. Keen Johnson and Governor Simeon S. Willis of Kentucky, Rep. Brent Spence, Ft. Thomas, Representatives William Hess and Charles H. Elston, of Cincinnati.

Dedicatory details were completed Friday night by the executive committee which met at the Kentucky Motor Club, Covington, which will be assisted by other organizations in sponsoring the ceremonies.

The committee voted to give a dinner at the Lookout House at 1 p. m., following an inspection at 10:30 of those parts of the airport which have been finished.

Eddie Smith Enjoying Furlough At Home

Seaman Smith has just completed his boot training. He related some of his experiences while at "boot" camp, some of which were interesting and amusing.

During the past few days, Eddie has enjoyed his favorite sport, "bird hunting." We wish you lots of luck, Eddie.

William Huey, of Camp Peary, Va., is spending a ten-day leave with his wife, here. Bill has completed his "boot" training at Camp Peary with the Seabees.

Howard Ryle, of Great Lakes, Ill., was calling on friends and relatives here, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Oldham and daughter, of Danville, were guests of Mrs. J. W. Goodridge and Mr. and Mrs. William Rudicill and son, last Tuesday night and Wednesday.

PLAN COMMUNITY MEETINGS SOON

PURPOSE OF MEETINGS WILL BE TO DISCUSS 1944 PLANS AND ORGANIZE EFFECTIVE PRACTICES.

Boone County farmers will hold a series of community agricultural improvement program planning meetings beginning after the first of the year, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The purpose of these meetings will be to discuss with farmers their 1944 plans and to organize the most effective improved farm practice program for the coming year.

Plans for 1944 will probably involve many radical changes both in production and wartime adjustments. Farmers the coming year will be forced in a large degree to adjust livestock and crop production more closely to the land and equipment available on the particular farm. The crops which this land will produce well more than ever before determine the livestock that will be kept.

Tobacco, the county's largest cash crop will undergo the most radical crop production change. Many farmers will try out production practices that will under normal weather conditions produce a ton or more of high quality leaf per acre. These new practices will involve new varieties and heavier application of fertilizer than has previously been tried in the county.

The dates of the planning meetings will be announced soon after January 1st. All farmers are invited to attend.

Twenty-Eight Men Sent To Induction Center December 14

Burlington Chalk Up Victory Over Florence Knights Friday Night

Burlington chalked up another victory Friday night when they turned the Florence Knight hoopsters back by a count of 31-27. Florence took an early lead in the game with the half finding Burlington on the short end of a 21-16 count. The Burlington boys staged a rally in the third frame and at the bell the score stood Burlington 27, Florence 23. Shields led the attack for the Knights with sixteen points, while Presser was high point man for Burlington with 12.

In a preliminary game Florence downed the Burlington boys by a score of 14-9.

Hambrick Buys Interest In Burlington Trucking Concern

It was officially announced this week that Ted Hambrick, Burlington, has purchased one-half interest in Sam Ryle's trucking business and that the new business will be known as Ryle & Hambrick.

Mr. Ryle has built a very fine business in trucking in the last few years, and now is further benefitted by taking in as a partner, another man with a lot of trucking experience and business ability. Prior to this partnership, Mr. Hambrick was employed by Huey Express, Florence, as well as other well known trucking concerns in Covington and Cincinnati.

The new partnership invites your patronage and will be at your command with prompt and courteous service at all times.

Pfc. Nell King, of Camp Breckinridge, Ky., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. King.

Mary Clore has been very ill with flu since last Saturday.

TRUCK WRECKS BARN SUNDAY

NEAR CONSTANCE — TRUCK OVERTURNS FOLLOWING ACCIDENT, ACCORDING TO IRVIN ROUSE, DEPUTY SHERIFF.

A large six-wheeled trailer truck crashed into the barn owned by Louis and Alfred Dolwick, near Constance, Sunday when descending the hill just south of Constance, causing damage estimated at $800.00.

The truck remained overturned beneath the wreckage of the barn, awaiting insurance companies' permission to move it. The truck was said to be driven by Chester Starosta, 31. Metropole Hotel, Cincinnati, and had been used by the Crysler Lake Trucking Co. in building operations at the airport.

Mr. Starosta was removed to Booth Hospital, Covington, following the accident, according to Deputy Sheriff, Irvin Rouse. He was released after examination.

The truck was being returned to Theodore Sweeney, Chicago, Ill., its owner, when the brakes locked on the down grade, throwing the truck off the left side of the road and into the barn.

Oak Leaf Cluster Awarded Local Boy

The oak leaf cluster has recently been added to the air medal which was awarded to Sgt. James S. Pierce, last August. Jimmie is based in Sicily, which he says is very beautiful. His address is Sgt. James S. Pierce, AAR, ASN 3526-7925, 47th T. C. Squadron, 313 Carrier Group, APO 760, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pierce of near Hebron.

Another son, John H. Pierce was promoted to Sergeant in the Transportation Corps and transferred to an Eeastern port. His address will appear in this paper later.

George Heist

Funeral services for George Heist, 75, who died Wednesday at the home of his daugher, Mrs. Clyde Barlow, Hebron, were held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Constance Christian Church.

Besides his daughter with whom he was living at the time of his death, he leaves his wife, Mrs. Maggie Heist, two sons, Frank and Virgil Heist, and 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The Catherman funeral home, Ludlow, was in charge of arrangements.

RECORD SET BY BOONE CO. FLOCK

AVERAGE OF 224.9 EGGS PER BIRD RECORDED BY FLOCK OF GRANT MADDOX, LOCAL POULTRYMAN.

Grant Maddox of Florence has the honor of having one of the largest and highest producing flocks in the county, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Maddox started the year with 2150 laying birds and finished the year ending October 1st with an average of 1445 birds that averaged laying 224.9 eggs per bird, a county record for this size flock.

The October record, the first month for the new poultry year rates equally good on the above flock. The past October was a low production month for most farms. This flock averaging 2138 birds produced a total of 33,289 eggs or an average of 15.48 eggs per hen.

The above record shows that good production can be secured provided good breeding stock and good poultry management is followed. Usually it is much more difficult to handle a large flock than it is a small flock.

Many poultry flocks today are giving poor production because they are over crowded or are not culled close. From 3½ to four square feet floor space per bird should be allowed in the poultry laying house if maximum production is to be secured. The poorly developed late birds seldom pay for their feed especially when they overcrowd the good birds.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Huey and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huey were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Huey.

THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS, dominating the world stage, once more has incredibly rolled aside the clouds of war. There is still beauty in common things, still good in the world, and we are all grateful for the glowing interval of Yuletide.

As for ourselves, we are also grateful for your loyalty to us during 1943, and extend the season's best wishes to all.

H. R. FORKNER
COUNTY AGENT BURLINGTON, KY.

★ Above the clangor of the midnight bells one might hear the ringing of another Bell, whose chimes mean "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

In your pursuit of happiness during 1944 we wish for you the fullest measure of attainment.

R. B. TAYLOR
FLORENCE, KY.

With the Hun on the way out, there is unusual cause for rejoicing this New Year of 1944. So, let us make merry in the fullest sense of the word.

We wish you a Happy New Year, and look forward to greater service to all of you in 1944.

Joseph A. Kuchle & Co.
YOUR FORD DEALER ERLANGER, KY.

TO the far corners of the globe go the Christmas wishes and packages to our boys in the service. With the new world of the future in the making we look forward hopefully to the Christmas of tomorrow, while wishing you the happiest of Christmases today.

"I was so full of gas I was afraid I'd burst. Sour, bitter substance rose up in my throat from my upset stomach after meals. I got ERB-HELP, and it worked inches of gas and bloat from me. Waistline is way down now. Meals are a pleasure. I praise Erb-Help to the sky."—This is an actual signed testimonial from a man living right here in Burlington.

Just Let Me Tell You A Few Facts About Walking, So You'll Realize Just How Much It Can Do For You

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

814-816 Madison, Covington

The normal heart, you know, beats about seventy-two times a minute and pumps about six ounces of blood with each beat. Now, in fast walking, or at the rate of four miles an hour—(which is how fast you should walk to do you some good)—you'll find the normal heart will INCREASE its beat ten times to the minute, pumping six ounces of blood at each beat, gives sixty ounces per minute or 3600 an hour, which is 225 pounds. You can easily see that 225 ADDITIONAL pounds of blood pumped DAILY through your veins means just that much more life to your whole body.

There's no use of my telling you to get out and walk if you are having trouble with your feet, because I know you won't do it, BUT—if I tell you how to get rid of those aching, paining feet, first—then there's nothing to keep you from walking every day and benefitting your health by this wonderful exercise.

It has also been found that millions suffer without knowing the reason why—those headaches, those leg pains, and even sleepless nights may be caused by the shoes you are wearing.—Adv.

Santa may have new modes of transportation in his bag of tricks, but our wish is that his 1943 pack include a great big package of old-time Christmas cheer, addressed to you, dear friend—to YOU.

REMEMBER when you could walk into our office at this time of the year and see row on row of gleaming appliances on display . . . ready to bring joy and happiness to many a home on Christmas Day?

It's a different story now. Our sales floor is empty because electrical appliances have gone to war. But they'll be back some day—better than ever—to again occupy the spotlight of favor at Christmastime.

Until then, buy War Bonds—the most timely and thoughtful gift of all. Help speed Victory and the return of our fighting men to their homes. The more bonds you buy, the sooner the war will end and the sooner you can enjoy the better electrical appliances and better electrical living to come.

Give the Present with a Future . . . Give War Bonds . . . so there will always be a Christmas!

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

'twas the night before Christmas

And all through America, little sleepyheads lay tumbled in their cribs dreaming of the morrow. Here and there a mother bends over her child, her hands still holding bits of half-forgotten tinsel, her eyes straying to the silver-framed picture of a soldier.

"'This is the Christmas we planned, your daddy and I, not so long ago. And we planned to make it star-bright and shining the way a baby's first Christmas should be—with an orange in the toe of your stocking, and an angel on the top of the tree.

"I am gladder than you know, my darling, that it will come true for you in a few short hours. And even though daddy is far away, he'll be with us in a hundred different ways. People who love each other very much are always together.

"He'll be here when you first see the Teddy Bear he is giving you—here when we sing the carols he loved best—here when we drink his health and safe return in bumpers of milk—here when we sit in front of the fire and watch theflame pictures until it gets dark.

"And when daddy does come home, your brave, handsome, wonderful daddy—there'll be the rest of our lives together, a whole host of glorious Christmases in the braver, brighter, better world he is fighting for!"

Nothing we can say or do can make this a normal Christmas. But we can make it a Merry Christmas—with a glittering tree, a walloping turkey and a host of holiday-wrapped surprises. Let's keep the spirit alive for those whose own make-believe worlds are so small and fragile. Let's keep faith with our children this Christmas and every Christmas!

HARLAN MAN BUILDS STONE BROODER HOUSE

Emmitt Blair of Harlan county has recently completed one of the most modern brooder plants in that section of the state. Constructed of stone, it is 32 by 24 feet in size and heated with crude oil. Mr. Blair plans to use battery brooders. Some of the 950 chicks on hand now are fryers. Gray H. Williams, county agent, notes that poultrymen in the county are optimistic over egg production prospects this winter.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

William J. Craig who is serving with the Seabees, is now stationed at Co. D. PLA 2 SP. Draft 3002, Camp Peary, Va. He expects to be home sometime during the Christmas holidays.

The following letter was received from Pvt. Ben R. Stephens, Co. K, 149th Infantry, APO 38, Camp Livingstan, La.:

"Just a line to let all of you know I haven't forgotten any of you. I am sure looking forward to the day when all of us boys will be back home again, and have a new country to live in once more, in peace.

"I guess all of you wonder why I have been in the States so long. That is something I can't do anything about. I know I should have been across long ago, and know I haven't done anything toward winning this war. I sure hate to see all of my pals going over and me being left here. I would much rather go over there than go through with what we are contending with each day here.

"You people back home may think we don't do anything but lay in our huts, but you are wrong there. We are on the go about 12 hours a day and sometimes half of the night.

"I am worn out after two and a half years of this life. I think I have aged 15 years since I have been in the service.

"What makes me want to go across is to hear of some of my buddies being killed—that sure makes a man want to do something but hands are tied.

"All of you boys overseas write me and I will answer your letters as fast as I get them—that is all I can do for you now. Jay, Hoots, Bob, Paul Black and Cress boys, all of you, I hope are not having it too hard over there. Some day we will all be back together, and that before long I think."

"The weather is fine here. I don't know if I will get home for Xmas or not."

"Pete, thanks for sending me the Recorder. I look forward to getting it every Friday, and it sure helps out a lot.

"Here's wishing all of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pvt. James G. Smith 58th Training Group, Class 129, Keesler Field, Miss.:

"I am enclosing my address so that I can take advantage of your generous offer to send The Recorder to the boys in the service. I'm sure that receiving your paper will mean a lot to me. It doesn't take long to learn how much that news from home means to the boys in camp.

"Two boys from Boone County, Omer Dolwick and George McCanahan are in the same room with me. The other boys with us are from Georgia and Alabama. We are taking Air Corps basic training here. In a few days we will take a series of tests to determine what training we will take up after completing basic.

"I will appreciate hearing from my friends in Boone County and will do my best to answer them.

"Thanks in advance for sending the paper."

Dear Friends, Relatives and Boone County Neighbors

When it came time for Christmas cards this year, we thought quite a bit about it. We knew that people were busy, that a lot of the boys were away and that Christmas this year would be a more sober-restrained holiday than those of past care free years.

We're asking your humble pardon for not sending Christmas cards to you all this year, for in place of doing so we are writing this open letter to all the boys in the camps and on the front, that since the "Recorder" reaches practically all of them, our poor efforts might bring a word of cheer and a touch of home to those far away.

Sincerely
MR. AND MRS. NOEL WALTON.

TO THE BOYS AND GIRLS AT THE FRONT AND IN THE CAMPS—XMAS GREETINGS ALL OF YOU:

We hope that this finds all of you well and in the best of spirits. Whether you be Soldier, Sailor, Marine, WAC, WAVE, or nurse all of you are busy in there looking after Uncle's Sam's interests, but you're still thinking a little about Xmas. Things here in old Boone County Kentucky are fine, that is as fine as they could be with the best of our people away at war. We've had a fairly decent winter up to now as far as temperature is concerned, (just one little cold snap that lasted about four days), but it's been so darned dry that the crawfish have all left for Florida and the Gulf of Mexico. Really it's been so dry that very little tobacco was bulked down until a few days ago, and the markets have had just a few little sales and are now closing up for the holidays with very little sold. At that people got enough sold for a little Xmas money. The market is very good, ranging from good lugs selling at 60 cents to those old green tips you used to throw on the stalk pile at 20 cents.

One thing we're glad to be able to tell you about is the spirit of your people. Every last mother, father, brother, wife and sweetheart seems to always be thinking of you and build toward that day when you all will be home again, and if maybe the "Sarge" has been a little tough some morning or the pile of potatoes to be peeled a little high just remember that we're all thinking of you and plugging for you.

Some of us old plugs may be along to join you in a few months if we hear right. So when that happens you can figure it's about over because when Hitler sticks his head out of a hole (if he ever does) to see what's coming along he won't be able to stand the sight of us.

As I look thru my field books I see the names of many of you who have gone out on surveys with me in the past few years. I want to especially say hello to you all and hope that some of that experience may have been valuable to you now.

As you know the great Republican drouth has just struck Kentucky and most of us figure that the reason it happened you all couldn't be here to help us out. However, we'll get along as best we can and when you all get back, (soon we hope) you can right the situation. Well, my string has about run out so I'll have to close. Hope every one of you get to come home for Christmas or else get to come home to stay soon. We'd like to have you here, but if we can't we can and are doing our best to back you up, more War bonds, more food raised and saved and tires and gas saved. So hope you have a slam-bang Xmas wherever you are.

So long,
NOEL WALTON.
